Heat Here Within 3 Degrees of All-Time Record—Wave Ends in Some Sections.

The temperature yesterday was within three degrees of the highest ever recorded by the Government Weather Bureau here and there was no relief in sight before this afternoon when thunder showers are expected.

The high for the day was reached at 5 P. M. when the official thermometer on top of the Whitehall Building stopped its day-long climb at 99 degrees, setting a record for the Summer of 1930 and establishing a new record for July 21.

Twelve deaths and thirty-eight prostrations were reported during the day in and around the city. Eight persons were drowned in near-by waters.

The end of the nearly nation-wide heat wave was predicted by the Weather Bureau in Washington last night with indications that the break would spread as far east as the Appalachian Mountains by today and to the Middle and North Atlantic States tonight, The Associated Press reported.

While New York and most of the Eastern seaboard wilted and suffered under the record-breaking heat, The Associated Press reported from Chicago that the hot wave in the North Central States had abated somewhat and in parts of Montana October temperatures were recorded. In the Corn Belt, with its crops withering from drought, rain fell and saved the day for the farmers.

Boston had a sunless day but the heat continued there with a high degree of humidity, so that the air was thick and stifling. Cleveland, Pittsburgh and Baltimore continued to report deaths and prostrations.

Heat of 103 in Washington.

Washington, D. C., was one of the hottest places in the country, with the temperature at 103. Departments housed in temporary structures, at the mercy of the beating waves of the sun, let their workers go at 1 P. M.

Because of the lack of official reports from many places suffering under record-breaking temperatures, it was impossible to compile an accurate list of the deaths resulting from the heat throughout the country. From reports furnished by The Associated Press, however, it appeared that more than fifty died.

The hourly temperatures, as reported by the Weather Bureau, follow:

As an emergency measure of relief Mayor Walker, for the first time in two years, ordered the police to allow those who wished to sleep in the parks and upon municipal beaches. He also directed that street sprinklers be installed and turned on for the benefit of children in the congested tenement districts.

The weather took a freakish turn last night at Seaside Park, in Barnegat Bay. There a miniature cyclone, extending for 800 feet along the shoreline, lifted small boats out of the water and hurled them across a 100-foot boulevard and caused considerable property damage on shore.

A porch was torn from the yacht club, two chimneys were torn from the cottage of Robert Westenholme, screens and awnings were wrenched from their fastenings and a large

Heat Expands Harlem Bridges; Open Spans Tie Up Traffic

Two drawbridges over the Harlem River expanded so much from the heat yesterday that a quarter of an inch of their steelwork had to be burned off with acetylene torches before they could be closed again.

The almost unprecedented mishaps occurred on the bridges which span the Harlem River at 146th Street and at 207th Street and caused a two-hour delay to thousands of motorists waiting to cross them. An emergency crew from the Department of Plant and Structures was summoned to perform the operation which enabled them to be closed.

Higgins Begins Task of Sifting 10,000 Cases Handled by Appeals Board Since 1925.

TUTTLE AND CRAIN HELP

Commissioner Also to Confer With Kings Prosecutor—Pier Lease Data Sought.

James A. Higgins, Commissioner of Accounts, began yesterday the inquiry ordered by Mayor Walker into the Dock Department and the Board of Standards and Appeals by asking both departments to cooperate with investigators who are expected to be assigned there today or tomorrow.

William V. O'Gorman, secretary of the Board of Standards and Appeals, said he had promised full cooperation in furnishing records and information to Mr. Higgins. The Board of Standards and Appeals holds its last meeting of the Summer today and will not convene again until Sept. 9. Customarily the office force has taken its vacations in August, leaving only a skeletonized staff at work. Because of the investigation, however, Mr. O'Gorman said the normal vacation schedule would have to be changed.

Commissioner Higgins has said that he would go over the board's cases back to 1925, or earlier if necessary. In the last six years the board has decided an average of about 1,700 cases a year, making a total of more than 10,000 in that period.

Minutes Not Transcribed.

The minutes of these cases have not been transcribed, except by special request, or when the case was reviewed under a writ of certiorari, Mr. O'Gorman said. If Commissioner Higgins wants complete transcripts of the 10,000 cases, the secretary declared, the board's stenographic force would have to be doubled. In any case, he said, the task of going through all the cases would require months of hard work. Mr. O'Gorman recalled that investigators working under District Attorney Crain had gone through the records for three months and had covered cases extending back about half a year.

Commissioner Higgins said he would make use of the information gathered by District Attorney Crain, United States Attorney Tuttle and District Attorney Brower of Kings. This data, he hopes, may give him definite leads on which to work, and his task would be greatly simplified if he could examine individual cases instead of going through the entire number. Commissioner Higgins said he would confer with the three District Attorneys.

Pending the completion of a program now being mapped out by the Mayor Charges in Radio Talk Republicans Have Aroused Hysteria to Get an Issue.

DENIES "WHITEWASH" PLAN

Declares Dishonest Officials Cannot Escape or Be Excused —Explains Inquiry Delay.

Stresses Fact That Few of Men Under Fire Were Controlled by Him—Cites Achievements.

In a plain talk to the heads and deputies of the city's thirty-eight departments, delivered last night in the Board of Estimate chamber at City Hall and broadcast over three radio stations, Mayor Walker vigorously defended his administration from the charge of scandal and accused the Republican party of the State of attempting to drag the city's good name into the mud because it lacked an issue with which to go into the next campaign.

At the same time he served notice upon his subordinates—and called upon the radio audience to witness his warning—that corruption, irregularity and dishonesty would not be tolerated, regardless of the offender's political connections or the ties of personal friendship.

In addition to the department heads and their aides Mayor Walker's audience included Chief Magistrate Joseph E. Corrigan, Chief Justice Frederic Kernochan of the Court of Special Sessions; President Justice Timothy A. Leary of the Municipal Courts and Franklin Chase Hoyt, presiding justice of the Children's Court.

Many telegrams arrived at City Hall within an hour after the Mayor's address had been broadcast. It was said that they were mainly in praise of his defense of the City Administration, but their contents were not made public last night.

Before Mayor Walker began his talk Mr. McAndrews called the roll of department heads. As each official responded he named the number of deputies who were present with him. When the Mayor opened his address about 125 of his official subordinates occupied the benches in the Board of Estimate chamber.

Mayor Walker's talk was in substance a reply to an editorial entitled "The City Scandals," published in THE NEW YORK TIMES on July 9 and opening with the declaration that "Indictment of another local judicial officer will add to the public belief that the morale of the Walker Administration is sinking lower." He denied emphatically that there was any decline in administration morale and countered by recounting the accomplishments of the various departments and declaring that with the possible exception of two now being investigated by James A. Higgins, Commissioner of Accounts, their records showed not the slightest scintilla of scandal or corruption.

Aides Applaud Speech.

Mayor Walker's address was delivered to an audience which followed his every word with intense concentration. There were only two demonstrations, one a low rumble of laughter at a characteristic humorous sally and the other a short burst of enthusiastic applause as he finished his talk.

The address began promptly at 7:45 P. M., the various commissioners and deputy commissioners having quietly assembled in the Board of Estimate chamber at 7:30. Upon the Mayor's right sat Charles F. Kerrigan, assistant to the Mayor. At his left was his secretary, Thomas F. McAndrews.

Mayor Walker began his "plain talk" in quiet tones, but his utter-

Narragansett Pier Is Saved From Fire Sweep By Home-Made Water Tower and Old Pumper

By The Associated Press.

NARRAGANSETT, R. I., July 21.—A home-made water tower and a 30-year-old steam pumper, manned by volunteer firemen, saved fashionable Narragansett Pier from a general fire this afternoon when flames, which demolished the Surf Hotel, on Beach Street, were halted before they could spread to adjacent frame structures. Damage was estimated at $50,000.

The fire started suddenly in a delicatessen store in the hotel building at 2:10 o'clock. A series of explosions originating in an oil stove preceded a burst of smoke and flame through the windows of the shop. The hotel was soon a mass of flames.

The steam pumper kept a stream of water pouring into the east end of the hotel. Meanwhile, the flames had gained such headway in the front and over the delicatessen shop that efforts to save the building itself were useless, but the fire had to be fought to save the rest of the business portion of the town.

The home-made water tower, a product of Yankee ingenuity, saved the day. The tower had been constructed by the pier fire department during the Winter, with a ladder, a hose and the universal joint of a junked automobile as its chief parts. The hose rose over the roof of the hotel and poured down a steady stream of water.

The pumper at one end of the block and the water tower at the other brought the fire under control by 4 o'clock.

The roof of the cupola at the west end of the hotel collapsed, almost striking five of the fire fighters, and a 40-foot flagpole which had surmounted the hotel toppled across a 4,000-volt high-tension wire in the street, bringing down a sputtering, melting mass of wire.

Trunk-line telephone connections to Providence were disrupted for about three hours by the fall of wires.

Food Cost for Family of Four Is Put at $13.72 Weekly Now

CHICAGO, July 21 (AP).—A family of four may eat well this Summer for $13.72 a week, according to a Summer food budget based on current prices, made public today by the American Research Foundation.

"An average of $13.72 a week spent for food will provide the family of four with all the nutritional elements necessary to physical well-being and yield intriguing Summer menus," says a bulletin.

"Many staples are from 20 to 40 per cent below their 1929 level, while fresh fruits and vegetables offer chances to trim tidy sums off the food budget."

INDICT 17 IN LOOTING OF THREE L. I. BANKS

BIG NOTES CALLED FAKES

L. I. National of Astoria, Elmhurst National and Bellport National Rehabilitated.

The funds of three Long Island banks were systematically looted and used by bank officials for stock speculation in 1928 and 1929, it was charged yesterday in twenty indictments, involving fifteen former bank employes and officials, a note broker and a former employe of a brokerage house, handed up to Federal Judge Robert A. Inch in Brooklyn by the June grand jury, which has been held over three weeks into July hearing the evidence submitted against the bankers.

Federal officials asserted that all the banks involved are in good condition under their present management and that their funds have not been impaired.

Most of those indicted were at one time heads and employes of the Long Island National Bank of Astoria, which made public yesterday a resolution by the shareholders commending the progressive and responsible management of the institution since its reorganization last October.

The other banks that had been affected were the Elmhurst National Bank and the Bellport National Bank. The former presidents of both of these banks, as well as the former president, two former vice presidents and several directors of the Long Island National Bank were among those indicted. The indictments charge that the officials misapplied the bank funds for their own personal profit and that they used the mails to defraud, created dummy accounts for fictitious depositors, forged promissory notes and discounted notes illegally.

Most of Losses Recovered.

Most of the deposits appropriated, according to a statement released by James E. Wilkinson, Assistant United States Attorney, have been recovered and the rest are covered by insurance. Considerable sums were drawn out for use in speculation and returned after a quick profit had been realized, according to the statement.

The Long Island National Bank, Federal officials said, lost about $140,000 through manipulation but recovered all but about $45,000, of which $35,000 is covered by insurance. The Elmhurst and Bellport banks, though they lost about $75,000 each, have recovered all, but the Bellport Securities Corporation, affiliated with the Bellport National Bank, lost about $225,000, it is said.

Besides the bank frauds, forged promissory notes for about $500,000 were sold to Elmhurst and Bellport residents by the indicted former officials of the banks there, the indictment recites.

"I wish to state," said Howard W Ameli, United States Attorney, "that in these banking cases we will not brook any attempt to effect a so-called 'restitution,' with the end in view that prosecution might be dropped or minimized. I am determined to see that violators of the Federal banking laws are speedily punished."

Seventeen Persons Indicted.

The persons indicted were:

WILLIAM H. SIEBRECHT Jr., former president of the Long Island National Bank.
EDWARD F. WAGNER, former vice president.
ALBERT R. ALLEN, former vice president.
FRANK X. ONGARO, former cashier.
HAROLD CASNER, former assistant cashier.

NONE ESCAPES IN TRAGEDY

Mrs. Loeffler, Social Leader, a Passenger; Lieut. Col. Henderson, Pilot, and C. Shearing, His Aide.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, July 21.—Following a mysterious explosion in midair over Meopham, Kent, an air-taxi flung six persons to their death this afternoon. Four of the victims were members of the British aristocracy who were passengers aboard the plane and were returning from Le Touquet, France, where they had spent the week-end.

THE DEAD.

Viscountess EDNAM.
The MARQUESS of DUFFERIN and AVA.
Mrs. HENRIK LOEFFLER.
Sir EDWARD SIMONS WARD.
Lieut. Col. G. L. P. HENDERSON, pilot.
CHARLES SHEARING, assistant pilot.

Viscountess Ednam, who was a close friend of the Prince of Wales, had spent the week-end with her mother-in-law, the Countess of Dudley, at the latter's villa in Le Touquet, the Chalet du Bois, near the golf course. The Viscountess had accepted an offer of a vacant seat in the plane. The other passengers had spent the week-end at Mrs. Loeffler's villa.

Eyewitnesses Describe Crash.

Eyewitnesses of the accident said the machine, which left Berck Airdrome near the fashionable French resort just after 1 P. M. for Croydon, was rent to pieces in the air and crashed in an orchard adjoining the village of Greentop. A physician, called immediately to the scene, pronounced all six of the persons dead.

"The fuselage of the plane came down near the village green," a Meopham resident said in describing the tragedy, "and parts of the machine were scattered over the green. One wing landed about a mile away, the engine a quarter of a mile away and the tail 300 yards away. As far as I could see the plane came to pieces in midair.

"It fell out of a cloud and I saw one wing and the tail floating clear. The fuselage crashed more heavily, direct to the ground. There were dark objects in the air which turned over and over. They were the passengers. Some jumped and others fell out of the plane as it came to pieces."

The pilot was the only one of the six who was not instantly killed. He was taken to a near-by house, but he lived only for a few minutes and was unable to speak.

The craft was so badly smashed that only pieces of the registration letters remained. It did not burst into flames, however, and there has been no explanation as to the cause of the disaster. The plane was a single-engined Junker craft and belonged to the Henderson Aviation Bureau, of which Colonel Henderson, the dead pilot, was the head. It had been lent to the Walcott Airline as traffic from Le Touquet today was particularly heavy.

This trip was Colonel Henderson's second from Le Touquet to Croydon today. He had arrived this morning with one group of passengers and then had flown back to the French resort.

Colonel Henderson, who was 42 years old, was principal of the Hen-

Student Shoots Dr. Angelescu Five Times; Ex-Envoy Floors Assailant; Likely to Live

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BUCHAREST, July 21.—Entering the Minister's room on the heels of a student deputation, George Beza, Macedonian youth, today fired five shots at Constantin Angelescu, Under-Secretary of the Interior and former Minister to Washington. Although all the shots took effect, M. Angelescu made a desperate fight for his life and threw his attacker to the floor. The Minister is now in a hospital and has every prospect of surviving his five wounds, according to a statement from his physicians.

The fact that Beza belonged to the anti-Semitic "Iron Guard" led to reports that his deed was intended as a protest against the severe measures taken recently by the Minister of the Interior against anti-Semitism among Rumanian students. He explained after his arrest today, however, that his action was inspired by a desire to demonstrate against the government's alleged ill treatment of Macedonians in Dobrudja.

Two representatives of the League for Awakening Rumanian Youth had received appointments with M. Angelescu. Thrusting the doorkeeper aside, Beza followed and fired, wounding the minister in the face. M. Angelescu threw the telephone receiver at him and then grappled with him and threw him to the floor. During the fighting the official received four more wounds, but he prevented the firing of a sixth shot.

Clerks and officials rushed in and overpowered Beza, and the two students who had fled when the shooting began were captured on a back staircase of the building. They deny all knowledge of the affair.

Beza declared calmly that he was prepared to suffer for his act, which has excited general indignation in this country, where political assassination is rare.

VIENNA, July 21 (AP).—A situation reminiscent of the war days prevails on the principal roads and highways of the Maramuresh and South Bukowina districts leading to Bessarabia, the Jewish Telegraphic Agency reported today.

Strong military detachments are arriving in connection with the anti-Semitic peasants' movement, which is spreading from Bukowina to Bessarabia, and the march of the anti-Semitic youth organization, the Iron Guard.

SENATE RATIFIES NAVAL TREATY, 58-9; ONLY NORRIS RESERVATION IS ACCEPTED; EXTRA SESSION THEN QUICKLY ADJOURNS

Hoover and Aides Pleased at Ratifying of Treaty; White House Comment on Pact Expected Today.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—Less than a minute after the Senate ratified the London Naval Treaty President Hoover received word of that action from a White House telephone operator. Immediately afterward one of the Presidential secretaries handed the Executive the list of nine Senators who voted against the pact.

While no doubt existed that the President was gratified over the ending of the long fight, both he and his staff refrained from comment, it being understood that if Mr. Hoover had any remarks to make, he would make them at his press conference tomorrow.

Satisfaction at the ratifying of the treaty and at the dropping of Congressional operations, which have been almost continuous since April, 1929, was obvious at the White House.

Secretary Stimson had nothing to say about the Senate's action. With a broad smile on his face he went to the south lawn of the White House to join Secretary Adams in a tennis match. Mr. Adams waved his tennis racquet and spoke fervently, but would not be quoted.

Colonel Edwin P. Thayer, secretary of the Senate, brought to the Executive Offices the resolution of ratification, which was turned over to the State Department. Secretary Stimson will prepare the instrument of ratification, which the President will sign. The American delegates to London and administration officials will probably watch Mr. Hoover affix his signature.

With the Senate adjourned, President Hoover still has considerable legislative business to attend to, and the prospects are that he will not start on his Western trip until between Aug. 5 and 15.

Wagner Makes Final Speech for Treaty—Nebraskan's Proposal on Open Covenants Unopposed.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—Without changing a word in the draft as signed at London by the American delegates, the Senate this afternoon, by a vote of 58 to 9, ratified the naval treaty. With the treaty, the Senate adopted but one of the many reservations and resolutions relating to it, that of Senator Norris of Nebraska against "secret understandings."

Then, after confirming a few of the Presidential nominations before it and putting the rest over to the regular session in December, the Senate adjourned its special session sine die at 5:02 P. M., Eastern Standard Time (6:02 P. M., New York Daylight Saving Time).

The final day of the treaty fight found seventy of the ninety-six members of the Senate in their seats, of whom fifty-eight were for the treaty and twelve in opposition, three of the latter not figuring in the poll because of pairs.

With the opposition wilted by fatigue and the heat, the pro-treaty lines held. Senators, who in Woodrow Wilson's time had fought the League of Nations, refused to vote for a reservation, submitted by Senator Johnson, which would have rendered the treaty null and void in the event the United States entered the League or became a member of the World Court. Some of the friends of the treaty smiled when Senator Borah voted "No" on this reservation.

Last-Minute Changes in Line-Up.

Three last-minute switches were made in the line-up. Senator Thomas, Democrat, of Oklahoma, returned to the treaty camp, and Senators Walsh, Democrat, of Massachusetts, and Pine, Republican, of Oklahoma, who had been listed for the treaty, voted against the resolution of ratification.

Senator Walsh made his change after his separate resolution, which called for building up the United States Navy to full treaty strength within the life of the treaty, namely, by Dec. 31, 1935, was defeated by 54 to 11.

After the Norris and Walsh motions, the Senate rapidly disposed of twelve reservations remaining before it. Five were defeated on roll-calls and five by viva voce vote. Two were withdrawn.

The Norris reservation was acceptable to the pro-treaty forces after Mr. Norris had agreed to the elimination of a preamble commenting on President Hoover's refusal to give the Senate confidential documents relating to the treaty negotiations. The President has stated there were no secret commitments in connection with the treaty. The Senate majority took the position that the Norris motion was innocuous, and it was adopted viva voce.

The Norris reservation as adopted reads:

> Resolved, That, in ratifying said treaty, the Senate does so with the distinct and explicit understanding that there are no secret files, documents, letters, understandings or agreements which in any way, directly or indirectly, modify, change, add to or take from any of the stipulations, agreements or statements in said treaty; and that the Senate ratifies said treaty with the distinct and explicit understanding that, excepting the agreement brought about through exchange of notes between the governments of the United States, Great Britain and Japan having reference to Article 19, there is no agreement, secret or otherwise, expressed or implied, between any of the parties to said treaty as to any construction that shall hereafter be given to any statement or provision contained therein.

Just before Vice President Curtis called for the roll-call on ratification, Senator Johnson took the floor to fire the last gun for the opposition. He said he was proud that he and his colleagues had at least made a case against the treaty. Perhaps their arguments would benefit the Suez Asks Reinforcements—Disorders in Port Said—Wafdists Petition King.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

CAIRO, Egypt, July 21.—Since early morning Cairo has been like a war-stricken city. In Port Said and Suez there were smaller disturbances—all, it seems, in consequence of the announcement that Wafdist Senators and Deputies intended to force their way into the Parliament buildings in Cairo and hold a session despite its closing by King Fuad. This did not occur.

Some riots here were so serious that the police, backed by Egyptian soldiery, opened fire. In this way four men were killed. A fifth was killed by a ricochet from the accidental discharge of an Egyptian soldier's rifle.

In all it appears that eighty-seven persons among the crowd were injured in the more serious rioting. Three police officers and forty men were injured here. Most of the damage was done by crowds of boys of 14 years of age and under.

As far as is known no foreigners were injured, but a Greek shopkeeper, in a moment of panic, drew a pistol and shot an Egyptian in the stomach. He was saved from lynching by the intervention of a British officer, who harangued the crowd in Arabic and lodged him safely in a police station.

The streets, some of them in the best part of the European quarter, which the young rioters chose for their disturbance tonight are littered with trees uprooted from sidewalks and lamp posts hurled pell-mell from their positions.

Until the police gained ascendancy and cleared the way for the fire

LEGGE CALLS FUROR OVER WHEAT 'BUNK'

Politicians and Chambers of Commerce Denounced by Farm Board Chairman.

SAYS FARMER ISN'T MISLED

Predicts Plan for Limitation of Acreage Will Be Followed by Growers This Fall.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—Alexander Legge returned to the capital today from a tour of the principal wheat-growing States and promptly denounced politicians in general, chambers of commerce and the Democratic National Committee for issuing "bunk" about the Federal Farm Board and the wheat situation.

Without mincing his words, and in language as plain as that characterizing his speeches in the West, the chairman of the board said, in a formal statement and in a long informal conference, that regulated production provides the only solution of the wheat growers' problem.

Efforts toward price stabilization through the purchase of grain by the Government and its withdrawal from the market will not supply the remedy, Mr. Legge said, although he defended the purchase of 69,000,000 bushels of wheat by the Grain Stabilization Corporation last year as a necessary measure to relieve the situation that had been developing for four years.

"Stabilization will work admirably on seasonal surpluses," Mr. Legge said, "but it cannot be made to work on permanent cumulative surpluses."

Mr. Legge's statement was interpreted as final confirmation that more wheat would be bought by the Stabilization Corporation.

Confident of Limitation.

Wheat farmers are alive to the need of regulating their production, Mr. Legge continued, predicting that the limitation of acreage would be noticeable in the planting of the Winter crop in all areas.

The chairman of the board, who has had the unqualified backing of President Hoover in anything that he and the Farm Board undertakes, made a statement last week calling for more optimism in regard to the wheat situation. One indication of better times ahead for the grower, he said, is the fact that world production this year appears to be about 150,000,000 bushels under that of last year.

Also, he pointed out, droughts now prevalent may reduce the production of other grains and provide an outlet for some of the surplus wheat. However, he discountenanced any effort to divert wheat into channels now served by other grains, as each has its own place in the scheme of things, and the board will undertake no action that would aid one commodity grower at the expense of another.

While Mr. Legge was expressing these opinions, Senator Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma made public a letter to President Hoover in which he advocated a world conference to work out methods of controlling the world wheat surplus.

Incidentally, Chairman Legge paid tribute to the Oklahoma farmers, saying they were among the most

United States when another naval limitation conference was called in 1935, he said.

Senators Reed of Pennsylvania and Robinson of Arkansas, who, as delegates, signed the treaty and who led in the battle for ratification in the Committee on Foreign Relations, and on the floor of the Senate, entered the chamber a few minutes before the Senate convened. They appeared very tired.

Senators Johnson, Moses, McKellar, Copeland, Robinson of Indiana, Bingham, Shipstead, Hale, Pittman, Walsh of Massachusetts, Pine and Oddie, the opposing group, looked more fit.

Ratifying Motion Is Read.

The vote on the resolution of ratification was reached at 4:14 P. M., when the Vice President directed the clerk to read the resolution, the passage of which gave to the United States the distinction of being the first of five nations, signatory to the treaty, to ratify. Great Britain and Japan must ratify before the treaty is effective.

The resolution, previously introduced by Senator Borah as Chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations, is:

> Resolved (two-thirds of the Senators present concurring therein), That the Senate advise and consent to the ratification of Executive 1, Seventy-first Congress, second session, a Treaty for the Limitation and Reduction of Naval Armament, signed at London, April 22, 1930.

The roll-call lasted nine minutes. Senator Allen of Kansas led off with a booming "aye" for the treaty and was followed by no less than a hearty "no" on the part of Senator Bingham of Connecticut.

When Senator Copeland's name was called he announced that he was sorry, but he was paired and the only reason he did not vote "no" was because he couldn't. From Senator Bingham to Hale there was not a single negative vote, and there were six more "ayes" before Johnson added the third "no" to the record. So it continued to the end, ten or twelve affirmatives and then the break in the monotony when one of opposition added his "no" to the tally sheet.

The completed roll-call was handed to Vice President Curtis at 4:23 P. M., Eastern Standard Time.

The Vote on Ratification.

The roll-call on ratification of the treaty was:

Absent and Unpaired.

Democrats—Barkley, Blease, Connally, Heflin, Ransdell, Steck, Smith.

Of the absentees, it was announced from the floor, Senators Baird, Cutting, Frazier, Goff, Grundy, Nye, Norbeck, Barkley, Connally, Ransdell, Steck and Smith, had they been present, would have voted for the treaty. The position of Senators Blease and Heflin was not disclosed, although Mr. Heflin has been listed for the treaty.

"It was a great British victory," Senator Johnson said to the newspaper correspondents as he left the Chamber. He did not wait for the final adjournment announcement and he missed a "swan song" speech on the tariff by Senator Harrison of Mississippi, which immediately preceded adjournment.

Wagner Opens the Debate.

The final phase of the battle began with Senator Wagner of New York making a plea for ratification. He said that in passing judgment on the treaty the opinions of the American delegates should, in his opinion, carry weight.

"Nations have in the past always gambled on war and they have had it," said Senator Wagner. "I believe the people of these United States, in common with every free people on earth, are ready to gamble on peace, and having a stake in peace, they will do more than they have in the past to see to it that peace rather than war shall win the race.

"What should be our final conclusion? I believe that we should ratify this treaty. The question of security has been raised, but I cannot understand how we can possibly be less secure with the larger treaty fleet, when the fleets of the other nations are limited, than we are at present with a smaller fleet and other nations unlimited in their construction.

"This treaty leaves the world with a burden of too many guns and too many ships, rather than too few. The tremendous $2,000,000,000 armadas which the treaty sets up somehow do not click with the professed objectives of the disarmament conference.

"It is a feeble treaty, a weak and insufficient instrument; but it is better than competitive building. If it does not carry us forward far toward the goal of disarmament, at least it applies the brakes against the rapid backsliding which had already begun.

"If I could choose the world I would live in, I would rather have a world of small navies than a world of big navies. If the big navies had to be, I would rather that relative sizes were the subject of agreement rather than established by competition. If limitation, too, were to be abandoned, I would rather that each nation gave to the others notice of its prospective construction than that it built its ships secretly and surreptitiously.

"The treaty does at least that, and it also provides for limitation. Its rejection will multiply the ill-will, the suspicions and fears, those seeds of war of which there is ever a surplus. Ratification will facilitate future agreements of actual reduction. The balance of advantage is on the side of the treaty and is, therefore, entitled to the consent of the Senate.

"America, leader in the pursuit of peace, should not refuse to join in an effort toward its realization."

Vote on Walsh Resolution.

With the conclusion of Senator Wagner's speech, which was the shortest of any delivered in the course of the treaty fight, the consideration of reservations was in order. The Norris reservation was taken up first. Then came the first test of strength in the roll call on the Walsh resolution for a policy of a "full strength" navy.

The vote on the resolution was:

Senators Copeland, Pittman and Shipstead of the opposition were present and paired and, therefore, not permitted to vote. This was the only roll-call on which Senators Kendrick, Overman and Thomas of Oklahoma strayed from the treaty fold. It was also the one on which Senator Pine failed to register with the opposition.

Action on Rest of Reservations.

The swift action which the Senate took on the remaining reservations, in summary, was:

By Senator McKellar; providing for "freedom of the seas"; defeated, 58 to 9.

By Senator McKellar; providing that, in the event of war, the United States and Great Britain may not arm more than thirty merchant ships and Japan, France and Italy not more than twenty; defeated by viva voce.

By Senator McKellar; providing for imposing a fine of $1,000,000,000 on any signatory nation which violates the Briand-Kellogg anti-war pact; defeated, viva voce.

By Senator Johnson; permitting construction of 8-inch-gun cruisers without respect to limitation of construction of these vessels by periods of years; defeated, 57 to 9.

By Senator Bingham; providing that, if any non-signatory nation exceed building restrictions imposed on the United States, Great Britain and Japan, a signatory nation would be permitted to use its 6-inch cruiser tonnage in construction of 8-inch-gun cruisers; defeated, 54 to 10.

For Changing Restrictions.

By Senator Moses; reserving the right of the United States to change restrictions on building so as to construct vessels proportionate to building undertaken by other nations in excess of the treaty provisions; defeated viva voce.

By Senator Johnson; to permit the United States to utilize its cruiser tonnage in constructing vessels in either 8-inch gun or 6-inch gun classes as it sees fit; defeated, 57 to 8.

By Senator Johnson; to adhere to the traditional policy of the United States to avoid entangling foreign alliances; defeated, viva voce.

By Senator Johnson; making the treaty null and void if the United States should enter the League of Nations or ally itself with the World Court or any branch of the League; defeated, 58 to 8.

By Senator Johnson; providing that the United States understands that the combined total tonnage of naval auxiliary combatant vessels to be used as a basis for effecting limitation at any international conference held within the life of the London treaty shall not be counted as proportionately lower than the combined aggregate tonnage of these classes in existence on Jan. 1, 1930; defeated, viva voce.

By Senator Hale; the United States to maintain that dividing cruisers into 8-inch gun and 6-inch gun classes is only a temporary expedient and to adhere to the principle that it may distribute its total tonnage as it seems desirable; withdrawn.

By Senator Hale; providing that with the expiration of the treaty, the 5-3 ratio between the United States and Japan shall be restored; withdrawn.

The final reservation was disposed of at 4:10 P. M. Senator Johnson then took the floor to say the final word for the opposition. Everybody on the floor and in the galleries realized the end was at hand, and the roll-call came when he sat down.

Final Speech by Johnson.

"The last chapter has been written," said Senator Johnson in the course of his speech. "We are now about to vote for ratification of the treaty. I cannot permit it to be ratified, however, without saying a word concerning those few individuals who have stood by my side in the last few weeks in an endeavor to prevent its ratification.

"It has been by no means a useless contest. Out of it only good can come. From it a very small minority of the American people have been taught what this instrument is and what it means in the future. If only that has been accomplished, the contest has not been in vain.

"In this contest we have prepared perhaps for another conference in 1935, and perhaps we have been able in the preparation to prevent some of the mistakes which had been made in London.

"It is not uncomplimentary to say to any of the individuals who were a part of the London conference that they erred or to disagree with them. That sort of thing we saw in 1922. Four of the greatest men that lived in this country, Elihu Root, Charles Evans Hughes, Henry Cabot Lodge and Oscar Underwood, sat for us in 1922 and wrote the treaty of the Washington conference.

"I have said before upon this floor and I say again there are none so poor today to do reverence to that document. It is conceded now practically that Hughes and Root were outwitted by Mr. Balfour. And that being conceded, why should we accept without question or demur everything that might have been done at the London conference in 1930?

"This has been a very sacred cause, and in bidding good-bye to it tonight I am doing it with my head in the air. Thank God it has not bowed to any power on earth. There has not been in the struggle enough influence or enough of political ambition to make me swerve a single iota from the line which was marked out at the beginning of this fight. The men with me fought in like fashion. They fought the good fight for the good cause."

Nation's Press Applauds Treaty Victory

Following are representative views of the press of the country on the ratification of the naval treaty:

NEW YORK.

Finds Senate Has Regained Respect.

From The Herald Tribune.

There is ample credit for every one concerned in the passage of the London treaty. The Senate has regained a claim to public respect by its stanch refusal to be terrified by a few grim obstructionists. The intelligent support of Senator Robinson of Arkansas counted heavily on the Democratic side of the chamber and contributed greatly to the final success. Here is plainly no partisan victory.

Yet the major personal triumph obviously belongs to President Hoover. He it was who announced his purpose in the early days of his administration and pursued his goal persistently, with every resource of imagination and ingenuity.

Calls Objections Trivial.

From The World.

The vote in the Senate for ratification of the London naval treaty was overwhelming. Only 9 votes were recorded against the treaty in a total of 67. This means that the treaty was ratified by a good deal more than four-fifths, whereas the Constitution requires only two-thirds.

The collapse of the opposition was due fundamentally to the fact that it made no case against the treaty. Its objections to the treaty were confined to comparatively trivial details, and it is very evident that public opinion throughout the country was wholly unimpressed.

WASHINGTON.

Holds "Adequate" Navy Possible.

From The Post.

This treaty gives the United States the right to come nearer to equality with Great Britain in sea power. Therefore, it reduces the danger of aggression upon American commerce in case Great Britain should be involved in war with other powers. But the right to parity means nothing unless the United States builds ships. They can have adequate naval defense under this treaty and afterward if they desire it.

BOSTON.

Way Paved for Bigger Treaty.

(From The Herald.)

It has been obvious for a long time that the overwhelming judgment of the country and of the Senate was for ratification. The general feeling seemed to be that whether the treaty was a long step forward or not, certainly it was not a step backward. Just as the Geneva conference paved the way for the London document, London has prepared the way for another treaty, big with possibilities, when the present arrangement ends.

PHILADELPHIA.

Says Weather Forced Issue.

From The Enquirer.

Had Johnson, Moses, McKellar and company been dealt with aggressively all this suffering of the past few days might have been avoided. The weather undoubtedly has had more to do with forcing the issue to a final vote than all the threats uttered by Senator Watson. The treaty has been ratified and the Senate has shut up shop. So it would seem that even superheated atmosphere—at least in Washington—is not without its uses.

BALTIMORE.

A "Relief" From Speeches.

From The Sun.

It is a relief to have an end of a string of hollow, insincere speeches by the Johnson-Moses-Hale crew, and it is a pleasure to know that when the end of the string was reached the vote for the treaty was better than six to one.

Only nine Senators voted against the treaty, and it is extremely doubtful that with the most careful selection it would be possible to find any other group of nine whose opinion would weigh less in the nation's scales of judgment.

RICHMOND, VA.

"A Step in the Right Direction."

From The Times Despatch.

This treaty may not be tremendous accomplishment, but it is at least a step in the right direction and in concordance with the spirit of international cooperation which had its beginnings with the end of the World War.

Its ratification by an overwhelming vote is a credit to the leadership of both major parties. It was never in any sense a partisan measure.

CHATTANOOGA.

Sees End of Armament Race.

From The Times.

The treaty is perhaps not all that could be desired, apparently it will not result in as great a reduction of naval armaments as had been hoped for, but it is generally realized that it will prevent, for a term of years at least, a naval armament race and that its acceptance by all the negotiating powers will further the cause of international good-will and cooperation for the maintenance of peace.

CHARLOTTE, N. C.

"Is Mighty Well Worth While."

From The Observer.

The Senate did only what it should have done long ago, without forcing a special session. Nobody regards the treaty as a guarantee of permanent peace among the nations, but it is a step in that direction and certainly it can have no tendency to promote war. There is plenty of ground for the belief that it will have a tendency to promote peace, and, therefore, is mighty well worth while.

ATLANTA.

Called a Strong Step.

From The Constitution.

The fight made by a few jingo Senators against ratification was so absurd as to aggravate public sentiment, which so expressed itself as to cause the threatened filibuster to rapidly weaken and peter out, as it did yesterday. The treaty may not be as full and radical in the way of naval retrenchment as could be wished, but it is a long and strong step toward the goal that may yet be reached—"When navies are forgotten and fleets are useless things."

MEMPHIS.

Holds Great Principle Established.

From The Commercial Appeal.

The London treaty accomplishes little by way of actual reduction of fleets, but the treaty accomplished much in the establishment of a great principle. For the first time since the rise of modern nationalism the leading naval powers have by solemn agreement set limitations on the construction of maritime engines of war. This is a precedent of supreme importance.

CLEVELAND.

Victory for Good Understanding.

From The Plain Dealer.

By a top-heavy majority, the pact is ratified. It is news on three continents this morning.

With a single reservation, the harmless one urged by Mr. Norris, the limitation agreement is given the Senate's sanction. It is a victory for Herbert Hoover. More important, it is a victory for better understanding among the powers.

PITTSBURGH.

Congratulates Hoover on Outcome.

From The Post Gazette.

The overwhelming manner in which the London naval pact was ratified by the Senate should have a heartening effect upon world statesmanship. Its exceptional value lies in its unquestioned reflection of public opinions.

For the outcome, President Hoover in particular is entitled to congratulations. He put his country in a clear position of leadership in the great undertaking, and now it maintains it by being the first of the three powers principally concerned to ratify.

CINCINNATI.

Saves States Huge Sums.

From The Enquirer.

The treaty is not all that was hoped for when the London parley opened. It does, however, mark another step toward naval restriction as an antidote to fear between nations. It saves the contracting States huge sums of money. Since the ideal of naval balance cannot be reached in a day, or in a single conference, it must be reached through the sensible approach of which the ratified pact is a part.

DALLAS.

Helpful If Not "Ideal."

From The News.

No one pretends for a moment that the naval treaty is ideal and that doves of peace will from now on build their homes in the mouths of cannon. But the treaty is a step in the right direction.

It is a formal admission of the parity in naval strength of the United States and Great Britain; it gives Japan security in the Northern Pacific; it insures the domination of the American fleet in the waters of the Americas.

SALT LAKE CITY.

Sees Hoover's Standing Enhanced.

From The Tribune.

Opposition to the treaty, in the public mind, has long since been regarded as more rebellious than real, and because of that no surprise is caused by the overwhelming vote in its behalf. Senate approval of the document must serve to enhance the political standing of President Hoover. The special session and the determined manner in which his supporters rejected complicating amendments add something of determination to the leadership of the President.

SAN FRANCISCO.

Hailed as "Great Achievement."

From The Chronicle.

The public is satisfied that this is a great achievement. It is.

The heartiest congratulations are due to President Hoover, Secretaries Stimson and Adams, Ambassadors Dawes, Gibson and Morrow, and Senators Reed and Robinson, who negotiated the treaty, and to the Senate, which stood behind them so solidly—and without regard to party lines.

Congratulating them, we congratulate the nation.

LOS ANGELES.

Has Removed Suspicion.

From The Times.

The treaty is one of the greatest forward steps that has been taken in a generation toward international peace, stability and prosperity. It measurably aids in reducing the likelihood of war, and it is unsatisfactory only because it does not go further. It has stopped for years naval competition between the three principal naval powers. It has removed suspicion; it has assured the national defense for a moderate expenditure.

TACOMA.

Holds Pacts Never in Danger.

From The Ledger.

The pact was never seriously in danger. Chalk up another Hoover victory to add to the long list gained since he became President. The Senate did not approve any secret agreement or understanding which might exist relating to the pact. In effect it said: "We believe this man Hoover is honest, but we want to be sure of it." Perhaps we have the Washington weather to thank for the Senate vote yesterday, though the pact victory had been forecast from the first.

PACT LIMITS NAVIES FOR THE FIRST TIME

British and American Parity Is Considered in Capital the Main Feature.

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP).—The London naval treaty of 1930 to which the Senate today voted its consent to ratification by President Hoover, will limit for the first time in history all categories of fighting ships for the three major powers of the world.

Outstanding so far as the American Navy is concerned is the recognition of the theory of parity or naval equality in all classes of ships, between the British and American Navies. Japan obtains parity in submarines with Great Britain and the United States and higher ratios than the five-five-three of the Washington arms treaty in categories of auxiliary vessels.

After a brief and conventional preamble, the London treaty provides for the non-replacement of capital ships permitted the three major naval powers under the Washington agreement. France and Italy, however, are permitted the replacement tonnage they were entitled to lay down in 1927 and 1929. Great Britain shall dispose of five capital ships, the United States three and Japan one under the terms of article two to reach the parity of the Washington pact at once instead of in 1942.

Each, however, may retain one vessel for training purposes. Aircraft carriers partly limited under the Washington agreement, will now also be limited under 10,000 tons. The Washington limitation applied only to carriers of above 10,000 tons.

The size of submarines, with the exception of three for each power, which may total 2,800 tons, is limited by the treaty to 2,000 tons. Small ships of under 600 tons, and ships the fittings of which make them of little combat value, are exempted from limitation. A considerable part of the treaty is given to the citation of rules for the replacement of ships, disposals, scrapping and dismantling to provide ships for training purposes.

One of the most important provisions of the treaty is contained in Article 1, the so-called "escalator clause," stipulating the contingencies under which one of the contracting parties may exceed the limitations of the treaty. The clause was written mainly at the request of Great Britain, which feared the possibility of excessive building by her neighbor, France.

The clause provides that when any signatory finds its security threatened by such building it may notify the other signatories of the amount which must be built to overcome the advantage and may then proceed with construction. The other two powers shall then be entitled to construct, within the limits of their ratios, ships in the same category.

Under Article 18 of the pact the United States is permitted to transfer a total of 30,000 tons from the 8-inch to the 6-inch cruiser category at the rate of 15,166 tons of the latter for each 10,000 tons of the former. Should the United States not elect to exercise the option of this clause the treaty fleets and ratios between the American, British and Japanese Navies would be as follows:

Aircraft carriers...	135,400	135,000	81,000
Cruisers over 6-in. guns	180,000	146,800	108,400
Cruisers 6-in. guns.	143,500	192,200	100,450
Destroyers	150,000	150,000	105,500
Submarines	52,700	52,700	52,700

If the United States exercises the option, the treaty fleets would be as follows:

Craft.	United States. Tons.	Great Britain. Tons.	Japan. Tons.
Cruisers over 6-in. guns	150,000	146,800	108,400
Cruiser 6-in. guns.	189,000	192,200	100,450
Destroyers	150,000	150,000	105,500
Submarines	52,700	52,700	52,700

A carrying out of the battleship modernization program of the Navy Department would bring the American tonnage in capital ships above that of Great Britain.

One provision to which all five of the participating nations subscribed and all other nations of the world are invited to adhere to is that for the so-called humanization of the submarine. Under this article submarines are limited to the same rules of war as apply to surface vessels and must insure the safety of the passengers and crew of an attacked surface vessel before sending it to the bottom.

COMMONS UPHOLDS PROGRAM FOR NAVY

Premier Says Senate's Action Puts America in Place She Is Out to Occupy.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, July 21.—The MacDonald Government's program of naval construction came under a raking fire from two sides of the House of Commons today, but in the exchange of broadsides Mr. MacDonald recorded a victory which figured in the division lobby at 239 votes to 27 in the action to the Left and 219 votes to 125 in that to the Right.

On the Left were the pacifists who said the program was provocative, and on the Right were the Conservatives urging it was inadequate. The usual anti-armament group was reinforced on this occasion by Lieut. Commander J. M. Kenworthy, Laborite, who introduced a motion for the reduction of the estimates. He hurled against his own government the arguments used by Mr. MacDonald against the British program of 1925.

Commander Kenworthy protested against even a partial surrender to the theory that national safety depended on armaments and to its corollary, that the peace pacts were practically useless. When German naval competition was at its height, he said, the British naval estimates varied from $215,000,000 to $235,000,000. Now, when there was no enemy, they were nearly $260,000,000.

A. V. Alexander, First Lord of the Admiralty, asked whether the Commander was "trying to prevent ratification of the London naval treaty by other countries?"

Commander Kenworthy retorted that the First Lord had not waited until the treaty had been ratified by America and Japan before issuing his naval estimates. He said he wanted to see the treaty radically revised by another conference within the next few years.

"It will take the United States four to five years to build her ration of 8-inch gun cruisers," he said. "In the meantime, the British Admiralty is starting a new type of heavy 6-inch gun cruiser which completely outclasses the old cruisers they are replacing. Once more the United States will see us speeding ahead in modern, fast ocean-going cruisers. With the residue of $20,000,000 from the Conservative program which the present government inserted, we have a total of $75,000,000 since the naval program for this year was declared to the House of Commons for news shipbuilding by the Labor Government."

Winston Churchill, proposing that Britain should reclaim her liberty to build "types of ships suited to her special needs," said, "We should estimate those needs by reference to European trade routes and then tell the United States to build up to any interpretation of parity which their experts care to advance.

"What we have done is to condemn ourselves to build a conventional fleet of cruisers inferior in fighting power to those being laid down by others and not only useless, but so expensive as to frustrate economy. When all the building permitted by the treaty has been carried out, we shall be more defenseless than at any time since the days of Charles II."

Mr. Alexander pointed out that Mr. Churchill was asking for the complete abandonment of the policy of disarmament by agreement which had been followed even by the Conservative government. He said Britain was only concentrating on 6-inch gun cruisers because her complement of 8-inch gun cruisers would be completed this Summer.

A second motion to reduce the estimates was introduced by Commander A. R. T. Southley, Conservative, and also suffered defeat.

Premier Lauds Senate Action.

LONDON, July 21 (AP).—As the rebate in the House of Commons on the naval estimates was drawing to a close, the news was flashed to the House that the United States Senate had ratified the naval treaty.

Premier MacDonald, on learing it, exclaimed, "Splendid! I am tremendously pleased. This puts America in the place she is out to occupy in these matters. The decision is most timely."

A. V. Alexander exhibited great delight and quickly passed on the news of the Senate's decision to the other Cabinet Ministers and the members of the House.

TOKYO NAVY CHIEFS SPLIT ON PACT ISSUE

Togo Insists Military Council Shall Report London Treaty Inadequate for Defense.

TANIGUCHI DEFENDS PLANS

Finding Unfavorable to Treaty Is Likely—Premier Expects to Submit Pact Within Week.

By WILFRID FLEISHER.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

TOKYO, July 21.—An informal meeting of the naval members of the Supreme Military Council, held at the official residence of the Minister of the Navy today, led to an understanding being reached among the members that the report to be formulated concerning the new defense plans should be unanimous, so as to avoid any disagreement among the navy leaders being recorded which might constitute a blot on the Japanese navy.

The members of the council failed to reach any agreement regarding the report itself and another meeting will be held tomorrow. Today's meeting, which was attended by six members of the council, brought about the expected division of opinion, with Admiral Takarabe, Minister of the Navy, and Admiral Taniguchi, author of the new defense plans, favoring them, and Fleet Admiral Togo, Japan's senior naval officer, and Admiral Kanji Kato, former Chief of the Naval General Staff, opposing them. Prince Fushimi, president of the council, did not enter the debate, but he is known to side with Admiral Togo and Admiral Kato.

Admiral Togo insisted the Supreme Military Council should make an official report to the effect that the London naval treaty was defective in providing for the national defense. This view was espoused by Admiral Kato. Admiral Okado expressed the opinion that the treaty did not itself adequately provide for the national defense, but he said he believed the Taniguchi defense plan would compensate the necessary deficit in naval strength.

Admiral Takarabe opposed wording the report in such a manner as to convey the impression that the treaty was "defective." Admiral Taniguchi defended his plans. The meeting, it is understood, left these divergent view points unreconciled.

The purpose of the meeting was to discuss the situation in regard to national defense resulting from the London naval treaty and the means for strengthening it. While it is difficult to forecast what decision the council will ultimately reach, since the situation changes almost hourly as a result of the numerous informal conversations which are constantly going on among the high naval officers and the officials, it is considered likely the council will go on record as finding the national defense has been impaired by the London treaty and requires reorganization.

It is hoped the second informal meeting tomorrow will enable a conclusion to be reached upon the report, and if not other meetings must necessarily follow.

It has been decided that all the meetings shall be confined to the navy, so the army will not be consulted. The army leaders, whose prerogatives have always been greater than those of the navy leaders, the army being the older branch of the services, are anxious to remain aloof from the controversy.

Premier Hamaguchi, in an interview today, expressed the opinion that the government would soon be able to proceed with the plans for the ratification of the treaty. He emphasized that it was not necessary under the Constitution for the government to obtain the views of the Supreme Military Council before submitting the treaty to the Privy Council, but he said this was being done owing to political considerations so as to expedite the course of the treaty in the Privy Council. He said he expected the treaty would reach the Privy Council "within a week."

TILSON SAYS CONGRESS MET HOOVER'S PLEDGES

Disposal of Muscle Shoals the Only Unfulfilled Aim, House Leader Asserts.

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP).—Representative Tilson of Connecticut, Republican floor leader of the House, today said Congress, in cooperation with President Hoover, had fulfilled every major promise to the people in the 1928 Presidential campaign. The Republican party, he said, had been in power, "with comparatively brief exceptions, for a period of seventy years, because when it makes promises it keeps them."

Mr. Tilson added that every specific recommendation made by President Hoover in his annual message to Congress had been complied with, except for the disposal of the Muscle Shoals project.

"These specific party pledges," Mr. Tilton continued, "have been redeemed by, first, reduction of taxes collectible during the current year in the amount of $160,000,000; second, enactment of the new tariff law, the revision being a modified revision, exactly along the lines promised; third, creation of the Federal Farm Board, with a $500,000,000 revolving fund and increased tariff protection for agricultural products; fourth, approval of the French debt settlement; and fifth, increase of pensions and compensation for veterans and widows of veterans, since and including the Civil War."

Other party accomplishments, Mr. Tilson added, included reapportionment of the house membership, settlement of the German war debt, increased retirement benefits for government employes, transfer of prohibition enforcement to the Department of Justice relief of crowded prison conditions by the authorization of wto Federal prisons and a hospital for delinquents, and revision of air mail contracts on a more liberal basis.

Aid to employment also was provided, he said, through a "very substantial increase in the government building program to a total of $553,000,000, and the approval of a much increased program for the development of rivers, harbors and inland waterways, the present Congress having authorized additional rivers and harbors expenditures of $145,000,000."

Increased hospital facilities for war veterans, coordination of all veteran activities, reorganization of the Federal Radio and Power Commissions, and an increased authorization of $55,000,000 annually for public roads were referred to by the floor leader.

"I challenge the production of a better record anywhere in all our Congressional history," he asserted.

99-DEGREE HEAT KILLS 12 IN CITY

tree was uprooted to crash like a battering ram against the walls of Bayview Inn. A pleasure boat overturned in the bay but the captain, crew and three passengers were rescued and the craft was salvaged.

Uncounted thousands took advantage of the Mayor's order. Trains leading to the beaches were crowded with men, women and children, with pillows and comforters and quilts and lunch boxes. Record-breaking week-day crowds had been reported at Coney Island, Brighton Beach, the Rockaways and other near-by resorts. It was estimated that 300,000 visited the Rockaways while Coney Island entertained 450,000, a good-sized crowd for an ordinary Sunday. About 35,000 were reported spending the night on the sand at Coney Island.

Warns on Wasting Water.

The city's sweltering millions, according to John J. Dietz, Commissioner of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity, have been using 100,000,000 more gallons of water daily than normally at this time of year in their efforts to cool off. This has caused the water pressure to fall about three pounds, Chief Engineer William W. Brush declared. While there is no immediate danger of a water shortage, Mr. Dietz warned against wasting water and said that holders of hose permits found using forbidden types of lawn sprinklers were likely to have their permits revoked.

Without relaxing their own black-robed dignity, judges in the courts of the city allowed spectators and jurors to remove their coats, loosen their neckties and roll up their sleeves, and even then in many cases it was found advisable to adjourn before the usual hour.

Summer School Moves Outdoors.

At Rutgers University nearly all Summer school classes were held outdoors beneath the shade of the trees of Queens Campus, and at Columbia University Dean Young B. Smith allowed his classes in the Law School to smoke in order to distract their attention from the topic of the weather.

In Wall Street some financial writers attributed to the excessive heat what ordinarily would have been described as a "technical setback" or a "corrective reaction." The Stock Exchange itself, with its air-cooling system, was as cool as any refrigerated motion picture house, but brokerage offices generally scrapped their usual schedule of working hours and let their employes escape as soon as their work permitted. After the word had been passed around, it was noted that tasks which usually took on hour or more to accomplish were finished in fifteen or twenty minutes.

The official thermometer carefully protected from the sun in its breeze-swept aerie overlooking the bay gave no real indication of the heat that beat down from the heavens, came up from the pavements and blew across Manhattan like a simoom from a sun-baked desert.

For example, at 3:30 P. M., nearly two hours before the high record for the day was reached, David R. Morris, junior meteorologist in charge of the New York Meteorological Observatory in Central Park, placed a thermometer in the sun and watched it climb. The red line of mercury stopped at 137 degrees, which was hot enough but still short of the all-time record which was established July 26, 1885, when the sun temperature was 149

Mercury at 100 in Queens.

S. K. Pearson, weather observer for the government at Plainfield, N. J., reported that at 4 P. M. his instruments measured the heat at 102 degrees in the shade. Harold Duflocq, the official representative of the Weather Bureau in Queens, said the high point in his territory was reached at 2:06 P. M., when the thermometer registered 100.1 degrees in the shade, nine-tenths of a degree from the highest temperature ever recorded in the borough.

Meanwhile farmers in New Jersey were casting anxious eyes upon the fields, where their thirsty crops struggled to survive in the endurance contest with the sun. The tomato crop has suffered so severely that a 50 per cent harvest would be looked upon as a stroke of good fortune, it was reported, while berries are maturing so rapidly that they will be poor in quality, it is feared. In some quarters a return of recent brush fires was feared unless rain falls soon.

From Georgia came a story via The Associated Press about corn popping on the stalk. Mrs. Claude Phillips, a resident of Quitman, Ga., was said to have gone into her garden during the hot part of the day to find her growing corn bursting white like cotton, all ready for the butter and salt. Mrs. Albert Howell of the same town, which seems to be vying with Winsted, Conn., for tall tales of nature's freaks, said that one of her hens deserted a nest because of the heat. Two days later, she said, the eggs were hatched. It was very hot in Georgia.

New Yorkers began the day weakened by a sleepless night with the temperature never much below 80 from midnight until dawn. From 8 o'clock until evening the mercury continued to rise one degree or more an hour until at 5 o'clock the high for the day was reached, and slowly, reluctantly, the mercury receded. The 5 o'clock temperature was only 3 degrees lower than that of Aug. 7 1918, the hottest day on the records of the Weather Bureau. Last Saturday's record of 96 was equaled by 2 P. M.

The humidity, relatively high in the forenoon, dropped to 50 at noon as the sun's heat swallowed up the moisture in the air. The humidity was greatest at 9 o'clock with the thermometer at 80. Then the atmosphere was 68 per cent moisture. But by 5 o'clock it had dropped to less than half that figure.

Eighteen Horses Prostrated.

Man and beast suffered alike in the tropic heat. The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals reported that eighteen horses were prostrated, one of them so badly that it had to be destroyed. Officers of the society patroled districts where horse-drawn traffic is heavy and summoned ambulances to carry away the animals which fell.

Dr. Raymond J. Garbutt, chief veterinarian of the society, said that if the heat continued today drivers of horses would be forced to load lighter and pay greater attention to the well-being of their animals. He advised drivers to bathe the heads of the animals as frequently as possible.

The six polar bears in the Bronx Zoological Gardens probably suffered more than any other animals there, with the exception of Silver Queen, the dowager of them all. She has survived twenty-three New York Summers and has a private swimming bath of her own. The other five, none of them more than four years old, bellowed their disapproval of local weather conditions and crowded each other out of their community tank, which is twenty-five feet square.

Dead.

AHO, EMILE, 35 years old, of 2,461 Second Avenue; removed from his home suffering from heat prostration complicated with stomach trouble; died in Bellevue Hospital.

Unidentified man, about 50 years old; found by Patrolman Terence Gerraghty of the Miller Avenue Station on Euclid Avenue, Brooklyn. In Kings County Hospital.

For thousands of commuters the day started with an enervating experience in stuffy, crowded trains. In the midst of the morning rush hour a contact shoe on a Long Island Railroad train bound for the Atlantic Avenue station in Brooklyn was broken when the train was at Warwick Street. Everything behind it was stalled for from five to twenty-six minutes.

Engineers said the third rail had been bent out of guage probably by the heat. The contact shoe caught and broke at 9:02.

The decision to allow the parks and beaches to be used for sleeping was reached by Mayor Walker after a conference which the Mayor held in the afternoon with Park Commissioner Walter Herrick and Police Commissioner Mulrooney. Soon afterward Dr. William Shroeder, Commissioner of Sanitation, announced that 176 sprinklers would be thrown into use in congested sections of the city with the cooperation of the Fire Department. Mr. Mulrooney promised protection for the outdoor sleepers and immediately issued orders to permit all-night sleepers.

Wave Passes in Chicago.

CHICAGO, July 21 (AP).—Moderate Summer weather today relieved the Central States of the intense heat that had prevailed for three days, with temperatures of 100 and more.

Generally, the thermometer registered in the 70s today, and in the Western edge of the Plain States it was lower. The hot wave had swept on to the East, leaving many deaths and much material damage in its wake. There were reports of rain in several regions.

Wind Breaks Heat in Boston.

Special to The New York Times.

BOSTON, July 21.—Boston's trick east wind off the ocean put in an unpredicted appearance today to break the back of the hot wave. While the rest of the country sweltered, Boston suffered nothing worse than a maximum of 79 degrees at 3 P. M. Heavy thunder showers early tonight brought added relief.

Boston apparently has escaped the worst of the hot weather which has gripped the rest of the country, and although maxima of better than 90 degrees were recorded last week, Sunday saw the thermometer return to the low eighties while the east wind this morning sent the glass down from a reading of 76 at 1 A. M., to 69 at 7 A. M.

99 Sets Albany Record.

ALBANY, July 21 (AP).—After a cool morning, the mercury took a sharp upward turn toward noon today in up-State New York, and by 2 o'clock in the afternoon had reached 99, the highest mark of the season.

A drop was expected to follow thunder showers, predicted for tonight.

Ten Die in Philadelphia Area.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., July 21.—Ten persons in the Philadelphia area died from the effects of heat today as the temperature soared to 103 degrees at 2:45 this afternoon, giving the city its hottest day in twelve years. A ten-mile northwesterly breeze and clouds which partly obscured the sun kept the mercury from climbing still higher.

The deaths listed in the metropolitan area were:

MURPHY, PHILIP, 50, 630 Beaver Street, Bristol.

FEDRICK, JAMES S., 90, Williamstown, N.J.

In Columbia, Pa., the 6-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bowers died from the heat and three persons were overcome as the temperature soared to 104.

A score of other persons were prostrated. Harris Bizonette, 40, of Gloucester, N. J., collapsed at the Atlantic Refining Company and was taken to the University Hospital in a critical condition. Charles Laib, 30, 76 South Twenty-fourth Street, Camden, was picked up unconscious on a Camden street and taken to the West Jersey Homeopathic Hospital in a serious condition.

All of Pennsylvania was in the grip of the heat wave and numerous prostrations were reported from other sections.

In Southern New Jersey the hot weather was reported to have ruined a large part of the early tomato crop, the loss in Gloucester, Cumberland and Salem Counties being estimated at $100,000 or more.

Ohio Record Heat Kills Thirty.

CLEVELAND, July 21 (AP).—The record-breaking heat wave continued throughout Ohio for the fourth day today with little prospect of immediate relief. Official temperatures as high as 106 degrees were experienced in several localities yesterday when three deaths, thirteen drownings and many prostrations were recorded.

Maryland Fights Water Famine.

BALTIMORE, July 21 (AP).—The specter of water famine and forest fires stalked across sun-baked Maryland today as temperatures all over the State mounted above 100, and reached their peak at Hagerstown with an unofficial reading of 112. Three deaths and scores of prostrations marked the day.

Baltimore felt the touch of water shortage which already has hit other sections of the State, with city officials issuing orders to police to enforce restrictions on water use. Rockville brought its fire department into use to pump water from near-by streams into the municipal reservoir.

Maryland officials estimated half of the Summer crops had been burned up and wells and cisterns in many parts of the State were dry. In Western Maryland scores of men were fighting half a dozen forest fires, the largest of which was out of control after burning over 1,000 acres near Clear Spring.

25 Dead in Pittsburgh Region.

PITTSBURGH, July 21 (AP).—A toll of more than twenty-five lives had been taken in Western Pennsylvania and West Virginia today by a week-end heat wave that sent thermometers soaring to a regional peak of unofficial 112 degrees at Charleston, W. Va. Weather forecasters predicted cooling rains, but temperatures through the region climbed up and up.

At 2:30 P. M. Donora, Pa., near Pittsburgh, recorded probably the highest temperature in the States, 105. Greenville, Pa., was second with an official 100 degrees. Pittsburgh at 2 P. M. recorded 95, three degrees higher than at the same hour yesterday.

Meanwhile, the threat of drought became more acute throughout the district. In Pittsburgh, and Martinsburg, W. Va., efforts were made to curtail the sprinkling of lawns and streets to conserve impaired water supplies.

4 Die, 8 Drowned in St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, July 21 (AP).—Four deaths attributed to heat prostrations were reported here today after three successive days of maximum temperatures of 100 or more. Swimming pools and river beaches were crowded over the week-end and eight drownings were reported in the St. Louis area. Relief was forecast for tonight or tomorrow, with thunder showers and lower temperatures.

Cool Rain Relieves Kansas.

KANSAS CITY, July 21 (AP).—A cool wave was creeping eastward over the Kansas plains today on the heels of temperatures which reached 107 at McPherson, Manhattan and Emporia yesterday. Accompanying rains broke a period of drouth which caused serious crop damage. The rainfall was 1.71 inches at Norton.

Southern Drought Continues.

ATLANTA, Ga., July 21 (AP).—Temperatures regarded as "normal" for July prevailed in most of the South today, while Western Tennessee, Arkansas and Mississippi suffered from continued drought.

Surgeon General Prescribes For Hot Weather Comfort

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP).—Surgeon General Cumming of the United States Public Health Service prepared today a hot weather comfort prescription with ten ingredients:

"Dress as lightly as possible.

"Imbibe long, cool drinks.

"Keep your temper.

"Keep windows closed.

"Use discretion in getting out of the heat.

"Keep the spinal cord protected; wear hats outdoors.

"Use discretion about work and exercise in the heat.

"Eat what you please, but don't overeat.

"Guard against infected food.

WASHINGTON HEAT CHECKED.

Clouds Bring Relief to Capital, With Temperature at 103.2.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—Clouds this afternoon checked at 103.2 degrees the record-breaking heat which this morning promised to send the mercury even higher than the point reached yesterday, when Washington, with an official temperature of 105.6, was the second hottest city in the United States, Red Bluff, Cal., at 108, being reported as the hottest.

According to officials of the Weather Bureau, the early indications were that the heat record established yesterday would be broken today, as the mercury rose from 91 at 9 A. M. to 97 at 11 A. M., and at noon had reached 100 and was still climbing. At 2:15, however, with the pointer at 103 degrees, clouds came between the sun and the sweltering city and the pointer dropped to 102 degrees. The slight relief was temporary, and by 4:15 o'clock this afternoon the mercury had risen to 103.2. That, however, was the peak for the day. By 5 o'clock the official reading was again 102, and as the sun set the temperature slowly but steadily dropped.

Weather Bureau officials ascribed to a disturbance over the lower Great Lake region the clouds that temporarily obscured somewhat the direct rays of the sun this afternoon, but said that while thunder showers were expected tomorrow afternoon, no real relief would be afforded until winds from the north came to bring cooler weather to the capital. A break in the heat wave is expected by Weather Bureau officials with the hoped for arrival of cooler air from the northwest tomorrow afternoon or Wednesday. Temporary relief, if any, is looked for from the thunder showers expected tomorrow.

So great was the heat this morning that nearly all the government departments closed by 1 o'clock. Offices housed in the wartime temporary buildings, where conditions in the Summer are more trying than in any of the permanent office buildings, began to close at noon, the employes being ordered out at 12, 12:15 and 12:30.

Men in charge of steel-erection work on the Potomac Electric Power Company's new building at Tenth and C Street quit work before noon. They said the metal had become so hot they couldn't handle it.

EIGHT BATHERS DROWN IN METROPOLITAN AREA

Bodies of Four Others, Who Were Lost on Previous Days, Are Recovered.

Eight persons were drowned yesterday in waters in the metropolitan area and the bodies of four persons who drowned on previous days were recovered.

Drowned.

DUBROW, WILLIAM, 18, of 1,034 Baldwin Street, New Brunswick, N. J., who was drowned in Lake Manalapan at Jamesburg, N. J., early yesterday afternoon.

HIGGINS, JAMES, 35, of 64 Hackensack Avenue, Hackensack, N. J., who was drowned in Clay Pits pond where he had gone for relief from the heat early yesterday morning.

KOREY, JOHN, 11, of 802 Palisade Avenue, West New York, drowned in the Ramapo River when he lost his grip on an inflated automobile tire on which he was floating. His body was recovered.

McGINTY, GEORGE, 16, of 560 West Fifty-fourth Street, dived off the end of Pier 94, at the foot of West Fifty-fourth Street, and did not come to the surface; he is believed to have struck a submerged log. John Lynch, a boatman, recovered the body.

O'DONNELL, THOMAS, 17, of 136 Lewis Avenue, Brooklyn; drowned while swimming in Jamaica Bay at the foot of Rockaway Avenue, Brooklyn.

ERIENWOOD, GEORGE, 17, of Hillsborough Township, N. J.; drowned at South Branch, near Somerville, N. J., when he became panic stricken after getting into deep water.

Bodies Recovered.

HYMAN, FREDERICK Jr., 21, of 336 Fiftieth Street, Brooklyn, who disappeared on Sunday while swimming at Beach 129th Street, was recovered yesterday at Beach 15th Street, Neponsit, L. I.

RIMSA, MICHAEL, 23, of Harrison, N. J., who was drowned in the Passaic River on Saturday.

WILLIAMS, ELEANOR, 14, of Old Egg Harbor Road, Port Republic, N. J. Reported missing late Sunday night. A search revealed her clothing on the bank of a creek. The body was recovered yesterday.

WURTH, PAUL, 40, of Bernardsville, N. J. Tentatively identified through naturalization papers in his pocket. Body recovered yesterday from the North River by Patrolman McGarry of the West Twentieth Street station.

RECORD RAIN LOOMS FOR JULY IN FRANCE

Crops Are Damaged and Coste's Atlantic Flight Faces New Delays.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, July 21.—While the United States is suffering from a heat wave France is having the unpleasant experience of a July, which seems likely to win a record for rainfall.

Out of the twenty-one days of this month it has rained on seventeen, and on most these seventeen it rained heavily. Records for the past sixty years show no such occurrence and the prospects for any improvement seem extremely small.

The whole of France and the Atlantic as far as the Azores, the Meteorological Office says, is suffering from perturbation and it will be some days before fair weather can be expected.

In these circumstances the transatlantic flight of Dieudonné Coste and Maurice Bellonte seems certain to be dalayed for some time.

Great damage has been done by the recent rains and high winds to crops, and the outlook, which was poor in June, is now regarded as serious for the farmers.

Today heavy rain fell in Paris and the whole of Northern France all morning, with a high northwest wind. The temperature is 68. Slight improvement is expected tomorrow.

OLD ESKIMO HOMES FOUND BY BARTLETT

Seven Huts Are Huddled in an Ice-Bound Village, Over a Century Old.

TWO OLDER ONES NEAR BY

BIG TASK OF DIGGING AHEAD

Relics Throwing Light on the Vanished Tribes Are Likely to Be Uncovered.

By CAPT. ROBERT A. BARTLETT, Leader of the Bartlett Northeast Greenland Expedition.

Copyright. All Rights Reserved.
Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

ON BOARD THE SCHOONER MORRISSEY, off Northeast Greenland, July 21.—We came today upon a rare find, two groups of very ancient Eskimo dwellings buried deep in the ice. We have not been able to determine, as yet, exactly how old they are—that must be decided when we dig them completely out—but it is evident from what we have already seen that they are more than a century old.

We have had to work mighty hard to get to them, but it was worth it. The unusually heavy ice kept the Morrissey seven miles off the coast, and that increased the sledging distance for the archaeological party, which is in charge of Junius Bird of Rye, who represents the Museum of the American Indian in New York.

The first time that the supply party to Bird left the Morrissey they took too heavy a load and had to turn back. Then, on the second start, they got through. The men had to canoe about two miles to the edge of the Winter ice, and they coasted along it until they found a place to land.

They found Bird and his aides had moved their camp about three miles west, to the river bottom, and were hard at work digging out the huts, quite excited with their find.

Seven Houses Huddled Together.

One group of huts appears to be made up of seven Eskimo Winter houses huddled close together and covered with moss, all very ancient. And a short distance away we found two more houses that seem to be even more ancient. As Bird pointed them out his eyes stuck out like automobile lamps.

If we are not mistaken in our belief, this little Eskimo village is the very thing we came so far to find. We expect that when we get inside of the huts there will be many relics which will throw light on how the people lived in this far corner of the world. You know, there are no Eskimos in this district now and, so far as the records show, there have been none in the past century. The tribes either migrated or perished.

There probably will be enough work here to keep us busy for months. The ground is frozen solid, even though it is Summer in the Arctic, and the interior of the huts will not be readily accessible. We will have to thaw part of it out before we begin to dig. Some of the things we already have found are mighty interesting and will make rare exhibits for the museum.

Probably at 75 Degrees North.

Although Captain Bartlett's message did not give his exact position off the coast of Greenland, he is probably somewhere near 75 degrees north. Messages that came through from the Morrissey last week told how the schooner was slowly fighting its way southward from Shannon Island through fog and cross-seas, encountering unusually heavy ice all the way.

Mr. Bird said before the expedition left New York on June 5 that he would concentrate his search for the villages of the extinct tribes of Northeast Greenland in the neighborhood of 75 degrees, for it was there that Captain Clavering, with his crew of the Griper in 1823, reported meeting Eskimos. Since that time, however, no Eskimos have been seen in that vicinity.

Captain Bartlett's party is the first American archaeological expedition to visit the region. Virtually no one has been there within the last century, except perhaps occasional sealers or whalers, and Mr. Bird was confident when he left New York that he would locate rich archaeological materials there.

CREW SAVES WOMAN WHO LEAPS INTO SEA

Minnekahda's Lifeboats Picks Up Detroit Passenger After Fifteen Minutes.

The story of how a 24-year-old American girl was rescued at sea in fifteen minutes after she had jumped overboard was related last night when the Atlantic Transport liner Minnekahda arrived from London via Boulogne, by Captain Johan Jensen, the master. The passenger, Miss Marion Herbert of 718 Glynn Court, Detroit, Mich., jumped over the side early Saturday morning when the vessel was 950 miles east of the Ambrose Lightship.

She had been placed in the care of Miss Mary Rabe, a stewardess, in the belief that she was suffering from a mild form of neurasthenia.

The stewardess followed her patient on deck in time to see the young woman go overboard and sent a sailor up to the bridge to give the alarm. Captain Jensen stopped the starboard engine so that the Minnekahda swung around without endangering Miss Herbert, who could be seen treading water and swimming a little, as if she had changed her mind and wanted to live. Two lifeboats were lowered and as one of them, in charge of Third Officer Hans Hanley, reached Miss Herbert she was comfortably floating on her back. She climbed the rope ladder up the side of the Minnekahda unaided and was in a berth in the ship's hospital within a quarter of an hour after her attempt to end her life. She apologized yesterday to Captain Jensen for the trouble she had given him and his crew and said "I don't know what made me jump into the water. I often do silly things like that."

GRACE'S 1929 BONUS REACHED $1,623,753

Total for Last Five Years Was $5,431,684, Plus His Annual Salary of $12,000.

VARIED WITH NET EARNINGS

In 1929, the Peak Year, Bethlehem President Tells the Court, He Got 3.319 Per Cent.

Special to The New York Times.

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, July 21.—Eugene G. Grace, president of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, testified this morning, in the trial by which the C. S. Eaton interests seek to block the Bethlehem-Youngstown Sheet and Tube steel merger, that his 1929 bonus amounted to $1,623,753, which was in addition to his annual salary of $12,000. Mr. Grace pointed out that it was the largest bonus he had ever received and was based on the high earnings of the company last year.

The testimony followed a decision by Judge David G. Jenkins overruling objections by counsel for the defense against the admissibility of testimony relating to the compensation of Bethlehem executives.

F. N. Wood, counsel for Bethlehem, offered, before the court's opinion was given, to introduce as testimony the sums paid by Bethlehem in bonuses since 1911, in lump amounts. President Grace also offered to disclose the amount of his bonus to date this year, but attorneys for the plaintiff did not ask for this information.

It is Mr. Eaton's contention in the controversy that the high bonuses and compensation paid to Bethlehem officials militate against the best interest of shareholders, by withdrawing large sums from the company's capital structure, and that Sheet and Tube shareholders, in accepting Bethlehem common stock in exchange for their holdings, will be affected, proportionately, when they become stockholders in Bethlehem.

Bonus of 3.319 Per Cent Since 1925.

Mr. Grace informed the court that since 1925 he had been paid annually 3.319 per cent of the total fund on which Bethlehem bonuses are calculated. This fund is the net earnings which remain after fixed charges and an amount equal to the preferred dividends are deducted, but before depreciation is calculated. In 1929 it was about $49,000,000 and thus Mr. Grace's bonus for that year was $1,623,753.

Mr. Grace testified that he had received $5,431,684 in bonuses during the past five years. Of this amount, $701,968 was paid in the first six months of this year and $4,729,716 in the five years from 1925 to 1929, inclusive.

The addition of his salary, at the rate of $12,000 a year, brings his total compensation during the five and one-half years beginning Jan. 1, 1925, to $5,497,684.

He gave his bonus payments as follows: $700,473 in 1925, $825,160 in 1926, $721,885 in 1927, $831,445 in 1928 and $1,623,753 in the peak year of 1929.

Total Bonus $36,493,668 in 19 Years.

Mr. Grace has testified that the total bonus distribution is divided among "fourteen or fifteen" men. The payments to all sharing under the bonus plan from 1911 to 1929, inclusive, according to a table prepared by Bethlehem counsel, aggregates $35,103,561. This table also adds $1,390,107 paid in the first six months of 1930, making a total of $36,493,668. The tabulation, released this morning by order of Mr. Grace, follows:

1912	130,575.00	4.03
1913	524,506.00	8.16
1914	603,236.00	827.
1915	1,897,493.00	8.13
1916	4,748,044.00	7.70
1917	3,913,833.00	8.24
1918	3,826,033.00	8.00
1919	2,059,742.00	7.76
1920	2,152,133.00	7.94
1921	1,017,987.00	7.32
1922	607,290.00	7.54
1923	1,800,972.00	7.99
1924	1,477,375.00	7.37
1925	1,750,498.00	7.66
1926	1,793,855.00	6.53
1927	1,489,972.00	6.41
1928	1,766,199.00	6.59
1929	3,425,306.00	6.54
1930, first quarter	802,600.00	6.8017
1930, second quarter	587,507.00	6.2835

Mr. Wood, of Bethlehem counsel, suggested to the court that these figures, if held competent as evidence, would serve the purposes of the inquiry without "parading individual figures for idle curiosity," which, he added, would "break down Bethlehem's morale."

Bonus Rise for Grace Argued.

Luther Day of Cleveland, chief of the Eaton counsel, contested this point of view, asserting that Sheet and Tube stockholders, who would be Bethlehem stockholders if the merger were consummated, were entitled to know not only the general arrangement of the bonus plan but also the figures paid to individuals under it.

Arguing that the personal figures were particularly competent because Mr. Grace had had an active part in arranging the terms of the merger, Mr. Day said:

"Mr. Grace's bonus will be increased as result of this merger."

Mr. Day charged that Mr. Grace had arranged a loan of $800,000 to Pickands, Mather & Co., an ore firm, to finance the buying of Sheet and Tube stock in the proxy battle before the merger ratification.

Under cross-examination by Mr. Day, Mr. Grace offered the explanation that he called back this loan because he was "afraid the Federal Government might have misunderstood the loan."

Questioned by Mr. Day regarding salary and bonus payments, Mr. Grace denied receiving a check for $12,500 each month, stating that on the first of every month he received his regular salary check of $1,000, and later, when calculated, his bonus check.

As to Purnell's Eventual Bonus.

Asked how much bonus would accrue to President Frank Purnell of Sheet and Tube if the merger was completed and he became a vice president of Bethlehem, Mr. Grace said he had not yet been able to get figures on what bonus Bethlehem vice presidents receive.

Mr. Day asked whether Mr. Purnell's salary and bonus would total $300,000 a year, but Mr. Grace replied that he did not know.

Mr. Purnell, following Mr. Grace on the witness stand, admitted, in reply to questions put by Judge Jenkins, that when the directors of Sheet and Tube approved, on March 12, the contract for merger with Bethlehem, they did not have before them any itemized figures relating to Bethlehem's bonus payments, and they had not previously received such information.

EUROPA PASSENGERS SWELTER ON ARRIVAL

The North German Lloyd liner Europa arrived four hours late yesterday after feeling its way through fog with 1,390 passengers. The passengers experienced great discomfort in the temperature of 99 degrees after periods on the voyage when the thermometer registered as low as 40 degrees.

Captain N. Johnsen, commodore of the company's fleet and master of the Europa, said the last spell of cold weather was on Sunday off St. George's shoals east of Nantucket, when the passengers wore overcoats. Yesterday morning, however, many of the women and children were on the sun deck in bathing costumes. The liner encountered rough seas with head winds and rainstorms the first half of the voyage and overcast skies with westerly swells the latter part, ending in fog as they approached New York.

Among the passengers was United States Senator David Baird Jr. of Camden, N. J., who said he would go to Washington today.

Another passenger was H. Van Dam Mauermmels, owner of two diamond cutting plants in Amsterdam, Holland. He said that a better diamond market is anticipated next Fall.

The Europa made the passage of 3,143 miles in 4 days 23 hours and 30 minutes at an average speed of 26.27 knots.

BACK SUNDAY BASEBALL.

100 South Orange Business Men Oppose Fight on Games There.

Special to The New York Times.

SOUTH ORANGE, N. J., July 21.—Petitions were presented to the South Orange Village Board of Trustees tonight signed by 100 business men and members of the Kiwanis, Rotary and Savyola Clubs, requesting that the baseball team created by the recreation commission be allowed to continue to play on Sundays. The petitions are in answer to a letter sent to the trustees by William T. Baird, who sold the village the property now known as Cameron Field, on which the games are played.

It was Mr. Baird's contention that the terms of the sale do not provide for Sunday baseball for which admission is charged. The team has not canceled the game scheduled for next Sunday, and according to officials, it will be played. A petition signed by 700 residents had been previously received by the trustees.

Thomas E. Fitzsimmons, village counsel, declared that the recreation board was within the law in charging admission to the games for adults, even though the field is a public one. Mr. Baird could not be reached tonight for a statement.

CHURCH BLAST KILLS CHILD.

Gasoline Light Explosion In Alabama Injures Fourteen.

ASHEVILLE, Ala., July 21 (AP).—The explosion of a gasoline lighting system in a country church five miles from here last night caused the death of a child, serious burns to two adults and minor injuries to a dozen others in a stampede for the exits.

The child, Curtis Simmons, 9, was covered with the flaming fuel and died early today.

About thirty persons had entered when some one tried to light one of the gasoline lamps. As the flame neared the burner there was an explosion.

Senator Thomas, in his letter, criticized this effort toward a solution on the ground that a reduction of acreage sufficient to eliminate the surplus would have a bad effect on all business.

Board Not for Politics, He Says.

Chairman Legge's statement was as follows:

"The Farm Board was created to assist the farmer and not for politics. From now until November politicians will be so busy saving the farmer it might be just as well to take a vacation, although if we are expected to resume that burden after election perhaps a little progress can be made by carrying on in the meantime.

"I notice the Democratic National Committee has adopted as a slogan, 'The Failure of the Farm Board.' This seems to be copied almost word for word from the grain dealers and the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. Concurrently, I notice that certain of the chambers of commerce, particularly in some of the grain markets, are making an effort to substantially increase their dues for the avowed purpose of propaganda to protect their present position.

"Certain interests which seem to feel they have a God-given right to handle the products of the farmers, and who have accumulated immense fortunes in doing so, may be depended upon to continue their fight against most any program directed toward improving the farmer's position, and doubtless will be easy picking for any politician of any party who is willing to play their game.

"However, farmers as a class are doing a lot of thinking for themselves these days, and many of them seem to be aware that their present unhappy condition is a result of long years of unregulated production, while they listened to gigantic schemes that high-powered statesmen have had to offer, rather than of any action of this board.

Calls It "More of the Same Bunk."

"Present and future orations, written by the Democratic National Committee and fathered by various orators, to broadcast the alleged failures of the Farm Board are only more of the same kind of political bunk, by virtue of which the farmer arrived at his present position.

"The farmer's problem is an economic one that will never be solved by any political remedies. If the present drought continues much longer there probably will be a large reduction in the wheat surplus, due to substitution for feed grains. Probably these politicians who are blaming the board for declining prices brought about by excessive production will try to give the board credit for any relief from the wheat surplus brought about by the drought —and with equal reason.

"Such a happening, however, will not affect the fundamental trouble. The one thing that would do the most good to improve the condition of the wheat grower is recognition on the part of the buying public that the grower himself is ready to take the necessary action to prevent a recurrence in the future, and thus put an end to the continued accumulation of stocks which has been going on for the past four years.

"Only through collective action can growers accomplish this result. In the year since it was created, the Farm Board at all times has placed first emphasis on the importance of farmers organizing so they will be in position to control the production and marketing of their crops. In that time, we have given growers every possible assistance authorized by the agricultural marketing act in developing their cooperative program, and propose to continue doing so, notwithstanding attacks from politicians and others who, in the guise of helping the farmer, but in reality to promote their own selfish ends, are trying to discredit the effort to put agriculture on a sound financial basis."

Has Not Seen the President.

Chairman Legge said he had not consulted with the President since returning to the capital, but he added:

"The Farm Board is not going to hide behind the President's skirts, or those of any one else. If he wants to see me, he knows where to find me. Otherwise, business is going on as usual."

Stating definitely that the Farm Board could see no reason at present for buying into the 1930 wheat crop through the Grain Stabilization Corporation, Mr. Legge said that the same applied to cotton. He pointed out also that whatever the board might buy it must sell at some future date.

Taking the same point of view as that previously expressed by Samuel R. McKelvie, member of the board, who now is in the West, Mr. Legge said:

"Anything done must be done on the part of the farmer, as we have no authority to make them do anything, and wouldn't exercise that authority if we did."

"We can apply a pulmotor and give temporary aid," he continued, "but we are looking for a more permanent remedy, which implies cooperation on the part of the producers. We are very hopeful of getting that."

Asked if he thought his statement issued today would stop "political attacks," Mr. Legge answered:

"The Farm Board is not in politics."

In response to another question, the chairman said he had not seen Senator Capper, who is advocating that the board buy 100,000,000 bushels of wheat. The Senator is scheduled to call on Mr. Legge tomorrow. The interview today suggested that the visit may not terminate satisfactorily for the Kansas Senator, whose colleague, Senator Allen, has joined him in the demand.

As for foreign markets for American wheat, Mr. Legge was not particularly optimistic, pointing out that this crop is grown in virtually every part of the world and that almost every country which might provide a market has its own problem in the world-wide depression obtaining now.

Thomas's Letter to President.

The letter written to President Hoover by Senator Thomas follows:

To the President of the United States:

The suggestions herein made are intended to be constructive and in no sense critical. The papers are carrying news items to the effect that the Farm Board will buy no more wheat and that the government will give no assurance that it will interest itself in recurring wheat surpluses, and, further, that other than a reduction of wheat acreage and the curtailment of wheat production, the government has no remedy to offer the wheat farmers.

On July 17 Chairman Legge made an address at Fargo, N. D., in which he recommended the balancing of domestic production of wheat with the domestic consumption. Such a policy, if successful, will mean a reduction of acreage of some 25 per cent, and a consequent curtailment of production of some two hundred million bushels.

I do not oppose the curtailment program, provided other wheat-growing countries are solicited and urged to join in such a general curtailment plan. I am of the opinion that an American program of curtailment will have the effect of stimulating the production of wheat in Canada, Argentina, Brazil, Australia and other wheat-growing countries.

A reduction of production of 25 per cent, or 200,000,000 bushels, thus balancing production with consumption, means a loss of the revenue to be derived from the sale of some 200,000,000 bushels of American wheat. Such a loss would be felt severely in many sections, and incidentally all over the entire United States. Such a program will mean a further migration of our farm population to the cities, to the injury of all of our population.

Says More Money Is Needed.

The Congress authorized the Farm Board to spend any part or all of $500,000,000 to assist the farmers in stabilizing commodity prices and in marketing their crops. This bill was passed in a most prosperous time, when no one could possibly foresee the distress that has come to our people within less than one year.

If $500,000,000 was thought necessary at such time, now, under present conditions, I suggest that the expenditure of all the funds authorized in order to help approximately one-third of our population would not be irrational or unwarranted.

The recent session made a direct contribution in the sum of $160,000,000 in the nature of tax refunds to only a few of our people, without, so far as I know, a request therefor or evidence of a need for the money. The reported announcement just made that the board is about to abandon this part of the original farm program is, in my opinion, most injurious to the already very low morale of the farmers of the country.

Sees Bankruptcy for Farmers.

With wheat and cotton selling for about one-half the price the same commodities brought when the board was created, such a threatened abandonment of assistance only adds to the misery of our farm population. At present prices, a number of farm commodities will not sell for enough to pay the cost of production. With taxes and mortgage interest due, farmers are threatened with foreclosure and bankruptcy already exists.

I realize and am glad to admit that the activities of the Farm Board have been of very great benefit to very many of our farmers, but at the present time I suggest that every possible ray of hope be extended to those so greatly in need of help.

Instead of the announcement that the board is not to buy any more wheat and is not to interest itself in the disposition of any further farm surpluses, I suggest that an announcement be made that the government will give every possible assistance, financially and otherwise, to help the farmers in their present distress.

I suggest, further, that the announcement be made that the program for restriction of commodity production is an additional plan for remedy, and not a new and amended one; that, in the matter of curtailment of wheat production, other wheat-growing countries are to be asked to join in the program to the end that the world's surplus of wheat may be reduced uniformly, so that the farmers of all countries may be helped simultaneously.

I suggest that a special international conference of representatives of wheat-growing countries be called to consider a plan of crop reporting and a plan for bringing about a general curtailment of wheat production.

Respectfully submitted,
ELMER THOMAS.

Advances for Cotton Growers.

A refutation of published reports that cotton cooperatives might be limited to small advances to growers of that commodity this year was made today in a statement issued by Carl Williams, a member of the board, who said:

"My attention has been called to statements appearing in Southern newspapers and cotton trade journals to the effect that the cotton cooperatives will be able to advance not more than 6 cents a pound to their members this Fall. The statements doubtless have been innocently made, but if allowed to stand the effect would be to discourage participation by cotton farmers in the cooperative movement.

"Final determination of the amount of advance at time of delivery throughout the cotton belt has not been made. Certainly, however, it will be not less than 65 per cent of the market value of the cotton. It may be more. The Texas cooperative, which is now receiving cotton in great volume from the Southern end of that State, is advancing 9 cents on unclassed cotton at time of delivery by the member. All cooperatives may be expected to advance to their members the largest possible amount that is consistent with safety.

"The Federal Farm Board will work with the cotton cooperatives to that end."

Light Rain Inadequate in Mid-West as Drought Hits Milk Supply.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, July 21.—Light rains over parts of the Middle West today were described as inadequate to stay the damage to crops from the heat, while dried up pastures have cut the milk output in the Chicago region to the danger line.

"Reports to the Illinois Agricultural Association indicate serious firing of cornfields, particularly south of Springfield," stated George Metger, secretary. "Tassels turned white as fast as the heat brought them out, while in some sections of Iowa I visited during the hot spell, fields of early corn were showing losses of as much as twenty bushels to the acre. Late oats are also permanently damaged."

General rains over the corn belt would materially check the ravages of 100-degree weather, according to Nat Murray, Chicago crop analyst. He issued today "a guess," based on reports from correspondents, that the government estimate of the corn crop on July 1 of 2,803,000,000 bushels for the nation would be cut to 2,750,000,000 bushels. This is slightly less than the government estimate of Aug. 1 last year of 2,741,000,000. The corn crop has lost as much in recent days as it gained in July last year, Mr. Murray believes, and the situation remains critical unless general rains and cooler weather follow soon.

Chicago's milk supply dropped during the hot spell at least one-fifth, officials reported tonight. Don Geyer, manager of the Pure Milk Association, said the reduction would continue for several weeks. Most farmers are buying feeds until the green corn is ready in August to check the sudden drop in milk supply caused by the unusually early drying of pastures.

—still the most modern partition

IN 1909 office interiors were predominantly oak. Today the modern office demands walnut. For example the new Irving Trust Company Building—Number One Wall Street—is among the latest to standardize on walnut Telesco Partition.

Hundreds of leading offices—like the Travelers Insurance Co.; the U. S. Tobacco Co.; the Hoffmann Beverage Co. etc., etc.—have adopted walnut Telesco, too. For only Telesco Partition gives you beautiful walnut wood—not painted or stained or faked imitations—in a modern design, at a moderate price. Only Telesco combines such practical advantages as screw-type construction, the telescoping post, the scratchless lacquer finish, the mop proof base.

ROOSEVELT PARLEY TO NAME BOARDS

Governor, Knight and McGinnies Will Centre on Three Major State Commissions.

POWER BODY IS SELECTED

Executive Will Disclose His Choice of Personnel—City Inquiry Issue Now Far in Background.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., July 21.—Governor Roosevelt prepared today to make the naming of three important commissions the principal item of business at his conference with the Republican legislative leaders tomorrow, since all parties to the meeting have apparently abandoned the idea of a special legislative session to investigate the administration of New York City.

The commissions are the law procedure, taxation and prison survey bodies created at the regular session of the Legislature. By the end of this week the Governor will also announce the make-up of the water power commission, whose five members, all to be named by the executive, will be charged with the duty of planning the hydroelectric development of the St. Lawrence River, long a major subject of political dispute.

Members of the Governor's party who journeyed with him here today from Watkins Glen in a continuation of his State tour of inspection accepted without question the reported statements of John Knight, Senate leader, and Joseph A. McGinnies, Speaker of the Assembly, that they had no undisclosed evidence of wrongdoing in the city administration or of failure of the local prosecuting authorities to fulfill their duties.

This, according to the Governor's friends, was what he had anticipated, although his letter to the Republican leaders, which he had made public yesterday, virtually challenged them to produce new proof of misconduct. In the absence of such evidence, the Governor had clearly indicated that he will not call a special session.

Democrats Back Governor's Stand.

Among Democratic leaders, including State Chairman M. William Bray and the party executives of Rochester and Buffalo, who met with the Governor tonight, there was only approval of the Governor's stand.

Told that the Republican leaders were "disappointed" over his letter, the Governor contented himself with saying: "We will talk about that tomorrow."

When his attention was called to the report that the legislative chiefs had no new evidence of derelictions in office, the Governor smiled and said: "Well, anything they might have I'll be glad to get from them, of course."

Of the commissions which will be chosen at the conference two are to be appointed by the Governor and the legislative chiefs jointly.

One of these is the tax commission of nine members with an appropriation of $75,000 to overhaul State and local taxation methods and principles with a view to equalizing the burdens.

The other is the commission of seven members with an appropriation of $10,000 to map a policy for prison building and the encouragement of prison industries.

The third commission, with a $60,000 appropriation, is to survey the administration of justice and simplify and speed the processes of the law. It is to have ten members, including two Senators, two Assemblymen and six persons appointed by the Governor, of whom four will be laymen.

The Governor said that he had no candidates for membership on the various commissions, but that he did have a large folder containing many suggestions made by interested persons and a list of 150 recommended names. He did not believe that commission personnels would be given out tomorrow even if all were selected, because it would be necessary to get the consent of the chosen members to serve.

Settled on Waterpower Body.

The Executive said that his waterpower commission was practically complete and the members of it would be announced within two or three days after his return to Albany on Wednesday. Former Governor Alfred E. Smith and Julius Henry Cohen, counsel to the Port of New York Authority, have been mentioned as possible members of the planning body.

Governor Roosevelt said that he expected to meet the members of this commission when he tours the St. Lawrence at the end of August. The meeting place may be the proposed site of the hydroelectric development at the Long Sault Rapids

Governor's Boat Drifts Aground.

The Governor said farewell to his Barge Canal cruiser the Inspector at Watkins Glen this morning after its companion State boat, the Chief, had rescued it from a stranded position off Hector Falls on Seneca Lake. While the Governor and his crew were sleeping on the Inspector, it drifted three miles to the north and went aground. The Chief was signaled and tugged the Inspector free.

By automobile the Governor and his party visited Keuka Lake and lunched with the Rotary-Exchange Club at Canandaigua. The Governor, in a brief talk, lauded the scenic site and civic spirit of the town and praised the work of the Finger Lakes State Park Commission.

On the way to Rochester he visited several other lakes and talked with officials at the Rochester State Hospital. Many of the villages on the route had crowds waiting to greet the executive and there were two bands in the Canandaigua parade.

As the guest of Donald A. Dailey, Rochester Commissioner of Public Safety, the Governor dined tonight with a group of private citizens and political leaders. Among them were George Eastman, Controller Morris S. Tremaine, John Henry and Harlan Rippey, Rochester Democratic leaders ;Harry J. Bareham, Rochester Republican leader; Norman Mack, Democratic National Committeeman, and Democratic State Chairman Bray.

Governor Acclaims Cooperation.

At the dinner tonight Governor Roosevelt predicted that his luncheon with the legislative leaders tomorrow for the discussion of State commissions and the proposed special legislative session would be a genial affair.

"It will not be a beer garden or a fist fight," he said with a laugh, adding that his personal relations with the Republican legislators were most friendly.

Welcoming non-partisan cooperation in other State matters, he referred to his pleasure over the statement of William J. Maier, the Republican State Chairman, endorsing the $50,000,000 bond issue proposal for hospitals and prisons.

The Governor, from his observation on this inspection trip, lauded the management of the Barge Canal and said it was "a model of public administration."

Stating that the canal should be turned over to the Federal Government only if the latter would guarantee its maintenance, he added:

"A great many of us believe that there will come a day, and within our lifetime, when there will be a great ship canal through New York State."

New York as "Big Builder."

The building program of the State, he went on, now embraced actual construction of building under 374 contracts, calling for the expenditure of $109,000,000.

The biggest builder in the country except for the Federal Government, the State was authorized in appropriations by the 1930 Legislature alone to spend $90,000,000 in various kinds of new construction, he said.

He concluded with a plea for a display of popular interest in governmental affairs. The only real danger in the United States, he said, was from a possible "era of dictatorship" induced by the indifference of citizens.

VANCE M'CORMICK BOLTS TO PINCHOT

Democratic Leader's Newspapers Assail the Party's Wet Platform and Candidate.

DENOUNCE DRY LAW FIGHT

"Threat of Philadelphia Gang to Get Control" Is Held an "Acute Issue."

Special to The New York Times.

HARRISBURG, Pa., July 21.—The Patriot and The Evening News, newspapers published by Vance C. McCormick, former chairman of the Democratic National Committee, today bolted the Democratic State platform and John M. Hemphill, the party's nominee for Governor, and announced their support of Gifford Pinchot, the dry Republican nominee.

Mr. McCormick has been long active in the dry wing of the Democratic party, while this year the Democratic State Committee adopted a platform calling for repeal of State and national prohibition laws. Mr. Hemphill is campaigning as a wet and is expected by many to be announced formally as the candidate of the Liberal party, backed by the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment. Mr. McCormick's newspapers in 1928 refused to support former Governor Smith for President, although they made no announcement in favor of Herbert Hoover.

"The greatest issue before the nation today is law enforcement," said The Patriot's editorial. "The integrity of the Constitution and the insistence upon law and order are the first essentials of an enduring government. Nullification or anything else that encourages the lawbreaker is a menace all good citizens must and do resent."

The editorial denounced the action of the Democratic State Committee in drafting a prohibition repeal platform, which, it says, is the equivalent of a notice to all lawbreakers that they may do as they please and the government of Pennsylvania will not interfere.

Mr. Hemphill's candidacy on a wet platform, "not only without protests but with full approval, will not have the support of this newspaper," The Patriot added.

Four reasons for supporting Mr. Pinchot were given:

"Gifford Pinchot not only believes in law enforcement but insists upon it. His administration four years ago is proof of it; further, he is a consistent and vigorous battler for clean elections; what is more, he knows that the public is being imposed upon by the public utilities and pledges himself to protect the people from this oppressive master.

"All these are important issues, but perhaps most acute is the threat of the Philadelphia gang to get control of our State Government.

"Nothing could be more unfortunate and downright injurious to Pennsylvanians than to have the corruption and graft of the Philadelphia brand spread all over the State. The only hopeful way, under present circumstances, of stopping this gang in its tracks is through the candidacy of Pinchot. He did it in the primaries. He can do it again."

258 DEAD, 253 MISSING AFTER STORM IN KOREA

Official Figures Show That 5,410 Houses Were Razed There—62 Killed in Japan.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

TOKYO, July 21.—With transmission and communication facilities completely restored in the storm areas of Southern Japan and Korea, official figures given out by the Home Ministry at noon today show that the death and destruction were greatest in Korea, where the number of dead is placed at 258, the injured at 155 and the missing at 253. The number of houses destroyed in Korea was 5,410.

The damage from the typhoon in Southern Japan is placed at about 100,000,000 yen [about $50,000,000], the greatest damage being in the prefecture of Nagasaki, which suffered $10,000,000 damage. The total number of deaths in Japan is reported as sixty-two, with 268 injured and twenty-six missing. The number of houses completely destroyed was 4,982 and the number of others damaged 5,604.

fighters, the city was in danger of a conflagration. The fire was believed to have started at broken gas mains, which the youths ignited. The whole city, in fact, reeked with gas and at one time several flimsy houses were aflame.

When one surveys the wreckage—overturned tramway cars and streets strewn with broken glass and stones—he wonders that the casualties were not heavier.

The street battles began at dawn, when hordes of riffraff from the labyrinth of streets in the lowest quarter of town invaded the boulevards. This much may be said for the rioters, that foreigners were not molested. The majority were boys, cobblers' apprentices, tailors' assistants out of work and hawkers who are unemployed owing to the suppression of certain native newspapers. They commenced operations by uprooting trees to impede traffic, then smashed lamp-posts and shop windows, tore down lamp-posts and fired escaping gas. The police, of whom 1,500 were on duty, supported by 2,000 Egyptian troops, took the offensive early against the crowd. Consequently the situation at no time was as serious as in Alexandria last Thursday. Never did the Cairene mob get a chance to chase policemen, as did the Alexandrian. On the contrary, the police, showing great courage, often singly hunted the rioters down in side streets, forcing their way into houses to arrest men who had been throwing stones from windows and roofs.

Many streets were kept clear by Egyptian cavalry patrols.

Report has it that Nahas Pasha and his Wafdist leaders kept indoors all day. Having sent their petition to King Fuad to call an emergency meeting of Parliament, they abandoned their intention of forcing way into the Parliament building this evening. Premier Sidky's Government had prepared against their trying to repeat the performance of June 23, when they forced the gates, by attaching sixty special Parliamentary police to the regular Cairene force and sending away on two months leave officer Atef Bey Barakat, the late Zaghlul Pasha's grand nephew, who had on that occasion broken open the gates of Parliament at the order of the President of the Chamber to admit them contrary to the instructions of the government.

In an official bulletin issued tonight Premier Sidky says that in view of the threatened disturbances the government had taken every precaution to protect communications, property and lives of foreigners. It runs:

"All parts of Egypt, from Alexandria to Assuan, have been quiet, with the exception of Cairo, Port Said and Suez, where there have been demonstrations composed of the lowest members of society, who have no conception of the meaning of the Constitution."

After giving a list of casualties somewhat lower than those obtained by your correspondent, namely, four dead and forty-four dangerously injured, Premier Sidky assures the public that no damage has been done to the persons and property of foreigners.

"This," he says, "makes evident the truth of what I have repeatedly declared, that these movements are 'artificial.'"

When trouble began this afternoon at Port Said the military was guarding the foreign quarters while the Arab quarter was fired. One civilian was killed and twenty-four were wounded, with thirty police casualties.

Trouble started at Suez this evening and the authorities there asked Cairo to send reinforcements, which were dispatched by auto under British officers. The situation, although in hand, threatened danger, owing, according to the government, to the Wafdists having aroused the lowest elements. Foreigners are imperiled, not by Wafdists, but by mobsmen taking advantage of the excitement aroused by Wafdists.

British troops thus far have been confined to barracks.

The petition of the Wafdist Senators and Deputies submitted to King Fuad today recounts various ways in which the petitioners consider the government has acted unconstitutionally, and contains a passage in which the government again is accused of having attempted the life of Nahas Pasha at Mansura on July 8. The petitioners complain that Premier Sidky's no-party Cabinet "has resolved to undertake legislation of the highest importance, notably modification of the electoral law, as can be interpreted from its last note to the British, about which it has no right to legislate in the name of the Egyptian nation."

They then invite King Fuad to summon an extraordinary session of Parliament to enable it to ask the Cabinet to give account of its actions and give the Chamber of Deputies an opportunity to vote on a motion of confidence in the Ministry.

Well-informed quarters expect the reply will be negative.

EVENTS TO GUIDE LONDON.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, July 21.—British policy in Egypt, which came under review in the House of Commons at question time today, is "to be guided by the future court of events."

Foreign Secretary Arthur Henderson, when asked whether he was still prepared to negotiate with the Egyptian Government on the basis of the draft treaty, said there was no change in the attitude of the British Government, but "in view of recent happenings the government, of course, must be guided by events."

No official diplomatic representation, he added, thus far has been made regarding the protection of foreign nationals in Egypt, "although certain representatives of foreign governments have made inquiries at the Foreign Offices and have intimated their anxiety regarding the situation."

Mr. Henderson gave the following as the latest list of casualties, not including today's: Nineteen persons killed, including one Italian; ten police and fifty-three civilians still in hospital; while thirty-nine police and sixty-five civilians are outpatients.

The Egyptian army, he said reported four officers and four men wounded, of whom one officer was seriously hurt.

"No British troops were employed in connection with these disturbances," he added, "and no request for further military assistance has been received from Egypt."

MOSES TO CONTINUE AS CAMPAIGN CHIEF

He Denies Plan to Quit as Head of Republican Senatorial Group Because of Criticism.

TO DRAW UP PLANS TODAY

After Meeting of Committee Moses and Steiwar Will Tour Western States.

DOUBT HUSTON RESIGNATION

Party Leader's Friends Predict He Will Await Public Request From Hoover.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—Senator George H. Moses will carry on as chairman of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee, he said today in denying printed reports that he would resign the chairmanship. He said that he had no intention of being influenced by criticism made against him by some of the insurgent Republican Senators.

The Senatorial campaign will be mapped out at a meeting called by Senator Moses for tomorrow morning. He will go over with the committee the conditions in each State having Senatorial contests and will receive suggestions as to the methods to be followed.

Division of Campaign Territory.

After this meeting, Senator Moses will take a brief vacation in New Hampshire and then will join Senator Steiwer of Oregon, vice chairman, for a tour of Western States. Following this survey Senator Steiwer will conduct the campaign west of the Mississippi, while Senator Moses will have charge in the East.

In answer to reports that insurgent Senators were after his scalp, Senator Moses said that he had been invited to enter three Western States and would do so.

There has been a strong demand for Senator Moses's resignation by the so-called "Young Guardsmen" in the Senate as well as by a number of Republican insurgent Senators, which arose after he had labeled the Western Senators fighting the tariff as "sons of the wild jackass." The bitter feeling caused among Republicans in the West by this remark was intensified when Senator Moses announced the selection of Otto H. Kahn of New York as treasurer of the Senatorial Campaign Committee.

Gary Appointment Was Forced.

The reaction against Mr. Kahn was prompt and was inspired by Western Senators. Mr. Kahn declined to serve and the opposition forced the appointment of Theodore Gary of Missouri as treasurer, as well as the appointment of Senator Steiwer as vice chairman.

Opposition to Senator Moses subsided until he announced his antagonism to the London naval treaty. Then the "Young Guard" and insurgent Senators renewed their demand that he retire, and were joined by some Republican regulars, including a few Easterners. They informed Senator Watson, the Republican floor leader, who had appointed Senator Moses as chairman of the Senatorial campaign committee, that Senator Moses's record was such as to impair his usefulness. Senator Watson advised the protestants to drop their opposition for the good of the party. He pointed out that it would be bad politics to have another row over a party chairmanship.

Apparently Mr. Moses's opponents have decided to go along with his régime provided Senator Steiwer shall be in charge of the campaign in that part of the country.

Claudius H. Huston, chairman of the Republican National Committee, who is expected to resign as head of the party organization soon, was not in Washington today. According to some of his friends, his resignation was not imminent and predicted that there would be no developments until late in August. Recently Mr. Huston denied giving assurance to the party leaders that he would voluntarily resign. Some party leaders believe that he will do so at his leisure but will not be forced out with the appearance of haste. Some of his associates still persist in saying, however, that Mr. Huston will not resign except upon a public request from President Hoover.

PLANS MINIATURE GOLF FOR EMPTY THEATRES

Fox Manager Tests Project in Kew Gardens—Old Car Barn Course Opens Today.

Miniature golf has become so popular that one of the movie companies is now considering turning over its vacant theatres to that pastime. This was learned yesterday when the Fox Theatres Corporation announced that plans are being drawn for a course within the Fox Kew Gardens, now dark.

Harry Arthur, general manager of the theatres, said that when the plans and estimates of cost are submitted the theatrical officials will arrive at their decision. If they decide in favor of the project, the course—which is on Queens Boulevard—will be ready in about three weeks.

Mr. Arthur said that if the Kew Gardens residents patronized the new amusement sufficiently, the scheme might be tried out in other locations. There are at the moment about twenty Fox houses which are untenanted by the movies and are suitable for miniature golf courses.

It is understood the plans provide that the course shall run down the main hallways of the renovated theatres. On the sides and in the balconies other adjuncts of country club life will be placed. The courses in theatres have the asset of being available all through the year.

So far as could be learned, the Fox interests are making the experimental step alone. Representatives of Warner Brothers, Paramount-Publix and the Loew interests denied that they are taking similar steps at this time.

PEOPLE'S LOBBY MEETS TODAY ON JOBLESS

Causes of unemployment and poverty, the relationship between public works and unemployment, company unemployment insurance and related topics will be the subjects of an all-day conference today of the People's Lobby at the Civic Club, 18 East Tenth Street. The general title of the meeting is "A Conference on America's National Sins—Unemployment and Poverty."

The conference will be divided into three sessions. It will be opened at 10 A. M. by Professor Harry Elmer Barnes, who will speak on unemployment and poverty. Others who will speak at the morning session are Darwin J. Meserole, president, National Unemployment League, and John B. Andrews, secretary, American Association for Labor Legislation and Unemployment Insurance.

The afternoon will be devoted to addresses by Robert W. Dunn, secretary, Labor Research Association; Robert W. Bagnall, director of branches, National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, and J. B. S. Hardman, editor.

At the evening session Louis Waldman, Socialist nominee for Governor, will speak on "How Socialists Would End Unemployment," and Benjamin C. Marsh, secretary, the People's Lobby, will speak on a phase of unemployment.

Julius H. Barnes, chairman of the board of directors of the United States Chamber of Commerce, in a letter made public yesterday by the People's Lobby, declined an invitation to address the conference on a subject suggested to him, "Why Has Business Broken Down?" Mr. Barnes declared the implication in the title is "manifestly an exaggeration and thus unfair to a great section of business leadership that is devotedly trying to improve progressively and stabilize business, particularly in its aspect of employment."

BROKER IS ARRESTED WATCHING VAUSE TRIAL

Detective Recognizes Man Wanted on Stock Theft Charge Among Spectators.

Carl Melin, 50 years old, of 654 Danforth Avenue, Jersey City, who described himself as a broker, was an interested spectator in one of the front rows yesterday at the Federal court trial of former Judge W. Bernard Vause and others, when Detective Sergeant William Sullivan of District Attorney Crain's office recognized Melin as a man he had been seeking on a bench warrant.

Sullivan tapped Melin on the shoulder and invited him to accompany him to the corridor outside the courtroom.

"Aren't you Carl Melin, a broker?" Sullivan asked the man.

"Why, yes," was the reply. "Why do you ask?"

"Well, I must place you under arrest," declared the detective. Melin was arrested on a bench warrant issued July 2 after the county grand jury returned two grand larceny indictments against him in connection with stock transactions.

"Oh, I knew about them," Melin was reported to have said to Sullivan, as the latter led him to the Criminal Courts Building and reported the arrest to Assistant District Attorney Harold W. Hastings, who had presented the evidence on which the indictments were returned.

"I just happened to drop into the Vause trial to listen to a little of the evidence," Sullivan informed the prosecutor, "when I spied Melin. I let him sit among the spectators until I got in touch with the District Attorney's office by telephone and had the warrant sent to me."

Melin was taken to the Tombs and locked up for the night on the specific charge of stealing $600 in stock from Oscar W. Kearney of 86-04 Ninety-sixth Street, Woodhaven.

VAUSE NOT TO TAKE STAND DURING TRIAL

Attorney Announces Health Will Not Permit Ex-Judge to Testify for Defense.

JUROR PROTESTS DELAY

Declares Lengthy Cross-Examinations Waste Time—Comment of Another Arouses Lawyer.

W. Bernard Vause, former Kings County judge, will not take the stand in his own defense in the Federal court, where he is on trial with six others for using the mails to defraud, Nathan D. Perlman, his counsel, announced yesterday as the trial entered its sixth week.

The physical condition of the ex-jurist will not permit him to appear as a witness, Mr. Perlman asserted during a shirt-sleeved session in which jurors complained that lengthy questioning of witnesses was protracting the case unduly. Two more defendants spent the day in the witness chair attempting to clear themselves of the mail fraud charges growing out of the failure of the Columbia Finance Corporation. The comment of a juror, considered derogatory to the defense, brought objection from Vause's counsel.

"Judge Vause," said Mr. Perlman, "does not seem to have made any improvement in his mental condition since the trial began. I have not been able to confer with him since and I don't think it would be wise to put him on the stand. He would go all to pieces. If he collapsed in the witness chair I'm afraid the jury would think that it was staged to create sympathy and the situation might react against the judge. I will call other witnesses to counteract the government's testimony. We had thought of calling Mrs. Vause to testify for the defense, but for the same reason, namely, that the jury might think he was trying to hide behind a woman's skirts, we decided against it."

Mr. Perlman's statement was prompted by the objection offered by Hugh Hemingway, Juror No. 6, to the close cross-examination of the witnesses. Generally viewed as a reproof to the defense, Mr. Hemingway's declaration was:

"I feel, and I believe that I speak for my colleagues, that hours and hours have been wasted in unnecessary cross-examination and too much time has been spent in discrediting witnesses for no reason. We of the jury are perfectly capable of determining credibility ourselves. We do not feel that an effort has been made to bring the trial to a conclusion and hope that it will be speeded up."

It was during the examination of Samuel Schuchman, a defendant, that Thomas James, juror No. 2, openly expressed his doubt about the good faith of the Columbia officials. Schuchman, testifying about the sale of preferred stock, said that none had been purchased until the night the Grand Street offices were opened, when eighty-four shares were sold. Max Schlivek, his counsel, put the receipt book in evidence, and when it was passed to the jury for examination Mr. James noted that the receipts bore numbers starting with 3,100.

"Was that done for the purpose of deceiving the purchasers by making them think that much stock had been sold before the opening?" he asked.

Schuchman insisted that it had not and said that the receipt numbers were only for office identification.

"I don't think the answer is very satisfactory," said Mr. James. "I can't see the purpose of starting at 3,100 unless it was to deceive the people."

NOW HOLDS EWALD DID NOT FAKE TRIAL

BRIBERY CASE WEAKENED

But Evidence Will Be Given to the County Grand Jury—Maier Admits Asking Favors.

Assistant District Attorney Harold W. Hastings said yesterday that he had decided that former Magistrate George F. Ewald actually held a hearing before dismissing a third-offense speeding charge against William F. Badger. The Federal indictment against Ewald, who has since resigned from the bench, recited that Ewald dismissed the charge, without an actual hearing, after Abe April, friend of Badger's, had purchased $1,000 worth of Cotter Butte stock from Ewald.

The testimony of Motorcycle Policeman Edward J. Heffernan before the Federal grand jury, which indicted Ewald for use of the mails to defraud in connection with the Cotter Butte Mines, Inc., was that he had been asked one or two questions by Magistrate Ewald at a private session in chambers without a stenographer being present.

Heffernan and C. C. Cromien, court stenographer, were questioned yesterday by Hastings, as was David Maier, politician, whose letters were found in Ewald's files.

Produces Stenographic Notes.

Cromien produced his stenographic notes and the court record of the hearing given by Ewald in the Badger case, showing that Heffernan was asked to identify the defendant, and then was asked about the accuracy of his speedometer. The record did not show how long Heffernan was present. The latter's previous testimony was that after being asked the questions, he was told to wait outside, and later was told by a court attendant that the case was dismissed.

The court attendant, Walters, will be called later this week, Mr. Hastings said yesterday, and the question of whether there are grounds for indictment on a charge of bribery will be left to the grand jury when the case is presented there. Doubt was expressed in the Criminal Court Building yesterday that the evidence of bribery is sufficient to warrant an indictment.

Cromien said that the hearing given by the magistrate was regular, except that it was held in chambers. Usually, he said, the only cases heard in chambers are those in which the defendants arrive after court has adjourned. His record, he said, showed the Badger case was heard before court adjourned.

The contention of Abe April and Badger has been that they went to the magistrate's chambers only to have the case expedited, and not to obtain leniency. April, while admitting the purchase of stock from Ewald on the same day, said that the stock purchase was what had brought him to court, and that it was merely a coincidence that he met Badger there and helped him with his case.

Badger was booked for speeding at thirty-two miles an hour through Central Park, the court records show.

Maier Tells of Letters.

David Maier, whose name figures in letters found in Ewald's files, and who has already been before Federal Attorney Charles H. Tuttle, appeared at Mr. Hastings's office and admitted that on several occasions he had written to Magistrate Ewald concerning cases in traffic court. He said the letters were written for friends of his in the Steuben Society and that in no instance did he receive money for asking leniency. He said he was guided entirely by motives of politics or friendship.

Patrolman Heffernan, after hearing the record read by Cromien yesterday, said he remembered being asked those questions and making the answers recorded, but did not remember the presence of the stenographer.

Mr. Hastings announced that he will ask United States Attorney Tuttle for permission to inspect the minutes of the Federal grand jury that indicted Ewald before taking the case before the county grand jury.

HELD IN FIREMAN'S DEATH.

Driver of Auto in Bronx Crash to Have Hearing on Aug. 12.

Anthony Dalo of 849 East 219th Street, the Bronx, was held in $2,500 bail yesterday by Magistrate Dodge in Bronx Homicide Court to await a hearing on Aug. 12 in connection with the death of Fireman Joseph Sullivan, 35 years old, of 630 East 221st Street, the Bronx, attached to Engine Company No. 62.

An automobile driven by Dalo was in collision with the car of George Eichler, acting battalion chief, at White Plains Avenue and 213th Street. The chief's car, driven by Sullivan, crashed into an elevated pillar. Sullivan was killed and Chief Eichler was slightly injured. Dalo escaped without hurt.

ACCEPTS COAL AMENDMENT.

Labor Government Allows Change Insisted On by House of Lords.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, July 21.—The government saved what remained of its coal bill tonight by accepting in its essentials the House of Lords amendment, which the House of Commons had previously twice rejected.

The bill in its original form provided for a seven and a half hour day in the mines. The Peers insisted on an amendment which suggested the working of a fortnight of ninety hours, thus spreading the time over a limited period, giving an eight-hour day and a longer week-end break.

The House of Commons tonight accepted this, subject to the stipulation that the consent of the national bodies of both miners and mine owners should be obtained in each district for the "spread-over" to operate.

SHOT GOING TO TRIAL AS COUNTERFEITER

James De Sapio, Alleged Ring Member, Wounded in Brooklyn, Is Near Death.

WAS FEARED AS INFORMER

Louis Amberg Is Shot by Auto Gunmen in Feud Said to Have Started in Prison.

An hour or so before he was to go on trial in Brooklyn Federal Court with six other men on a counterfeiting charge, James De Sapio was shot and seriously wounded yesterday by an assailant who escaped in a battered old sedan without any license plates.

Some time ago a government witness in the case, whose name was not revealed, was shot and killed by an assassin who never was caught. After yesterday's shooting, which took place at Ocean View and Coney Island Avenues, Brooklyn, Federal Judge William G. Sheppard, upon the motion of James E. Wilkerson, Assistant United States Attorney, ordered the nominal bail in which the other defendants were being held, increased tentatively to $50,000. Later it was reduced to the original amount.

Henry G. Singer, another Assistant United States Attorney, rushed to the Coney Island Hospital, where De Sapio was believed to be dying, and took a statement from him. The results of the questioning were not made public. Mr. Singer, however, said he was convinced that De Sapio had been shot by some one who feared his testimony at the coming trial.

Russo's Bail Increased.

Late in the afternoon Mr. Singer appeared before Judge Sheppard and asked that bail for James Russo, 1,073 Willoughby Avenue, Brooklyn, the only defendant in the case other than De Sapio at liberty under bond, be increased from $15,000 to $20,000. Judge Sheppard granted the motion in Russo's case, but declined to increase the bail for John Chicarella, 999 Lorimer Street, Brooklyn, who had been unable to provide $20,000, the amount set originally.

The Assistant United States Attorney then requested that the trial, scheduled originally to open at 11 A. M. yesterday, be put on the calendar for tomorrow with the understanding that an adjournment will be taken then unless De Sapio dies of his wounds. The court complied.

De Sapio, who posed as a United States Secret Service agent, was suspected in the underworld of being a "squealer." In 1925 after a conviction of counterfeiting he received a suspended sentence after promising to assist government operatives in counterfeiting cases. Subsequently he opened a grocery store. He lived with his wife and seven children at 1,012 Banner Avenue, Brighton Beach.

On May 20, last, he was arrested with the six other men and indicted for conspiracy to circulate counterfeit money. The ring with which he was working, had manufactured more than $1,000,000 worth of spurious money, it was charged. Besides Russo and Chicarella, the other defendants are Michael Coggiano, 243 Devoe Street; Joseph Arnone, 939 Metropolitan Avenue; Joseph Catrone, 32 Starr Street, and Phillip Villiano, 185 Skillman Avenue, all of Brooklyn.

According to detectives, De Sapio was on his way to court, walking to the subway station near his home when the rickety old sedan stopped alongside him. A man stepped out and fired seven shots, one of which went wild. Two others tore through De Sapio's head and four shots penetrated his stomach.

Although informed that he was near death, De Sapio at first insisted he was a secret service agent and refused to discuss the shooting. It was understood that he had persisted in his refusal to identify the man who shot him, if he knew.

Gunmen Shoot Louis Amberg.

While detectives were investigating the case another shooting of similar nature took place in Second Street between First and Second Avenues, Manhattan. Louis (Pretty) Amberg, 32, said to be a brother of Hyman Amberg who was killed in the attempted jail break at the Tombs in November, 1926, was shot twice as he was riding in an automobile with Frank Schwartz, a friend of 125 Avenue D.

Although he was shot in the cheek and the head, Amberg has a chance to pull through, according to physicians at Gourverneur Hospital, where Schwartz took him. At first the wounded man said he lived at 403 Rockaway Parkway, Brooklyn, but later he gave his address in a furnished room house at Avenue D and Ninth Street.

Schwartz said he and Amberg had started for the Second Avenue Baths, Second Avenue and Second Street, when a sedan occupied by three or four men drove alongside the roadster which he was driving. One of the men fired ten or twelve shots and Amberg's head fell over against the wheel. The car with the gunmen got away.

Amberg, who served a sentence at Sing Sing, made many enemies at the prison, police said. They believed an old grudge begun behind prison walls might explain the shooting. The victim of the attack said that he and Schwartz were conducting an automobile renting agency at Stanton and Goerck Streets.

PAUPERS' HOME CROWDED.

Westchester Plans Enlarging Institution Housing 472.

Special to The New York Times.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., July 21.—The annual report of the State Department of Social Welfare on the Westchester County Home, received here today, said the institution houses 472 inmates, although its maximum capacity is listed as 462. The Westchester board of supervisors is praised for planning new facilities for the home, to be provided within a year.

The report said that although the selling of alcoholic beverages near the home has not been abated, the situation has greatly improved. The help of the State police was enlisted. Almost half of the inmates of the home have alcoholic records.

ROBBER DIES, 5 HURT IN BROOKLYN CRASH

Fleeing From $50 Hold-Up, Car of Two Thieves Collides With Three Other Machines.

ONE THUG BADLY INJURED

Two Women Also Among Victims as Fugitives Speed in Traffic—Street-Cleaner Braves Shots.

The mile-a-minute flight of two robbers from the scene of a hold-up which netted only $50 ended yesterday when their automobile collided with three other machines at Rockaway Parkway and Kings Highway, Brooklyn. One of the gunmen was instantly killed, his companion was severely hurt, and four other persons, two of them women, were injured.

The police identified the dead man as Edward Brenman, 30 years old, 31-76 Thirty-sixth Street, Astoria. The injured were:

KAUFMAN, NATHAN, 19 years old, 448 New Lots Avenue, Brooklyn, the second robber, who suffered head and internal injuries and was taken to Unity Hospital.
BURBALL, Miss CATHERINE, 130 Hillside Avenue, Queens; lacerations and abrasions.
COHEN, MORRIS, his brother, of the same address; bruises and cuts.

The courage of a street cleaner was responsible for the celerity with which the pursuit got under way. Max Levin, 50 years old, of 2 Thatford Avenue, Brooklyn, was cleaning the street outside of the Atlantic and Pacific chain store at 1,043 Rutland Road when he noticed two men with pistols in their hands dash from the store to an automobile parked near by. He heard the shouts of the manager, James Kolpen, 1,543 East Third Street, Brooklyn, and the clerk, John Berry, 1,436 East Fifty-ninth Street, Brooklyn.

Levin ran for the gunmen's car, which was now moving, and thrust his heavy scraper through the windshield. One of the men fired two shots at Levin, one of which passed through the metal scraper.

The robbers raced along Rutland Road to Rockaway Parkway. At the intersection of Rockaway Parkway and Kings Highway they tried to rush across against the traffic lights. Their automobile crashed into a light vegetable truck which Isidore Cohen was driving out of Kings Highway. The two cars, locked together, whirled around and crashed into a sand and gravel truck operated by James Nolan, 256 Forty-sixth Street, Brooklyn. At the same time a small sedan occupied by two women came north on Kings Highway and crashed into the wreckage.

Nolan's five-ton truck alone was undamaged. The robbers' car turned over against it and the vegetable truck and the women's sedan crumpled against the tangled heap.

Detectives of the Empire Boulevard station, the homicide squad, Police Emergency Squad 14 and ambulances from Unity and the Brownsville and East New York Hospitals were rushed to the scene. When they arrived a crowd of more than 2,000 persons had assembled. Traffic was tied up on Kings Highway, Clarkson Avenue and Rockaway Parkway and the reserves were summoned.

The ambulance surgeons administered first aid and took the victims to the Brownsville and East New York Hospitals. The injured robber was taken to Unity Hospital, where a policeman was stationed to guard him.

Pinned under the wreckage, the other robber, with a pistol still gripped in his hand, was found dead. On him police found $47 in cash and also a check from the Elkin Company, haberdashers at Linden Boulevard and Flatbush Avenue, Brooklyn, which was held up Saturday night.

CHIEF DEPUTY OUSTED IN SUFFOLK COUNTY

Sheriff Taylor Forces Howe to Resign—Officials Clashed Over Gambling Reports.

Special to The New York Times.

RIVERHEAD, L. I., July 21.—Following the protracted dissension between Sheriff Ellis A. Taylor of Suffolk County and the Chief Deputy Sheriff, Burton G. Howe, who served as sheriff for the three years preceding the last election, Sheriff Taylor announced today that he had demanded and received his subordinate's resignation.

"I requested the resignation of Chief Deputy Howe for personal reasons," he declared. "I have not appointed a successor. I will not do so for the present. I may be able to get along without a chief deputy sheriff."

The post carries an annual salary of $3,500. Mr. Taylor is understood to have complained to friends of Mr. Howe's "insubordination" in instituting invesigations and carrying them on without the knowledge of the sheriff.

Last week the chief deputy was quoted in newspapers as asserting that gambling was going on again at the Montauk Island Club, where a raid a year ago resulted in the seizure of $100,000 worth of gambling paraphernalia, and that agents of District Attorney Alexander G. Blue of Suffolk County were making an investigation. Both Mr. Taylor and Mr. Blue denied that such was the case, and both criticized Mr. Howe.

Mr. Blue revealed today that last Saturday he and fourteen of his men entered the club, but found no trace of gambling.

Too Much ACID

Many people, two hours after eating, suffer indigestion as they call it. It is usually excess acid. Correct it with an alkali. The best way, the quick, harmless and efficient way, is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained for 50 years the standard with physicians. One spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in stomach acids, and at once. The symptoms disappear in five minutes.

You will never use crude methods when you know this better method. And you will never suffer from excess acid when you prove out this easy relief. Please do that—for your own sake—now.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drugstore.

CRITICIZE ROOSEVELT FOR STAND ON INQUIRY

Republican Leaders Call Plan for Grand Jury Impracticable in City of 5 Counties.

DENOUNCE WALKER'S MOVE

Koenig Says It Is a Pretext to Hide Governor's Failure to Call Extra Session.

CITY INQUIRY PLANK URGED

Steinbrink Declares Only Way to End Corruption Here Is to Elect a Republican Governor.

Governor Roosevelt's suggestion that in the event local machinery set in motion by Mayor Walker should fail to bring about an investigation of alleged derelictions in the New York City administration "as complete and as searching as it should be," he would convene a special term of the Supreme Court with an extraordinary grand jury and the Attorney General superseding the local prosecutors was criticized yesterday by Republican leaders as inadequate and impracticable.

Samuel S. Koenig, president of the New York County Republican Committee and a veteran lawyer, pointed out that an extraordinary grand jury would be limited in its scope by the boundary lines of any county in which it was impaneled, and there are five counties in this city. Furthermore, Mr. Koenig said, any grand jury starting out to make an investigation would be bound by the rules of evidence obtaining in the courts, and these shut out entirely hearsay evidence, which would be permissible before a legislative committee and frequently in the past has opened up important leads to derelictions on the part of public officials.

Views Inquiry as Pretext.

Like most of the other Republican leaders in the city, Mr. Koenig, while not denying the plausibility of the attitude taken by Governor Roosevelt in his letter to Senate Leader John Knight and Speaker Joseph A. McGinnies of the Assembly, the two Republican legislative chiefs who were the first to make public demand for an extraordinary session, views the recent action of Mayor Walker in instructing Commissioner of Accounts Higgins to start an investigation of some city departments as a move to afford Governor Roosevelt a plausible pretext for failing to comply with the demand of the two legislative leaders of the opposition party.

"The record speaks for itself," Mr. Koenig said last night. "The average citizen understands that the Governor is not going out of his way to embarrass Tammany Hall."

While the Governor's letter to Senator Knight and Speaker McGinnies, published yesterday, was not absolutely final and the Governor is awaiting a conference scheduled for this afternoon with the two Republican leaders of the Legislature at Senator Knight's home in Arcade before making his decision, it was regarded generally in Republican circles in this city as foreshadowing a refusal by the Governor to call the Legislature into special session and provide an opportunity for the Republicans to start an investigation of the New York City Administration by an agency not dominated by Mayor Walker.

They are going ahead on that basis to make the most of the attitude taken by Governor Roosevelt during the coming Gubernatorial campaign. Mr. Koenig recalled last night a statement he had made at the April meeting of the New York County Republican Committee when he declared that the only means of stopping corruption in the administration in this city was through the election of a Republican Governor. This is the line of argument the Republicans are planning to present on the strength of the record created through the demand of Messrs. Knight and McGinnies.

Inquiry Plank Planned.

Meier Steinbrink, recently put in charge of the Republican machine in Kings County with the backing of President Hoover, epitomized the line of attack in a statement he made yesterday and predicted that "other agencies will be found to ferret out the wrongdoing with which New York's official life abounds." It was held probable last night by Republican leaders that a plank pledging the party to a searching investigation of the Walker Administration in the event of a victory in the State and legislative elections would become part of the Republican State platform this year.

Mr. Steinbrink did not elaborate on his prediction that an investigation by unofficial agencies might result from the Governor's refusal. The aloofness so far maintained in the situation by such civic organizations as the Citizens Union, the City Club and the Merchants' Association, which usually take lively interest in matters affecting the government of the city, has been a notable feature of the controversy which has been raging since the demand for a New York City investigation was voiced by the two legislative leaders.

"Governor Roosevelt," Mr. Steinbrink said, "has made his bid for the continued support of Tammany politicians, ward heelers and wrongdoers, but the citizens of New York City who are footing the bills for all this graft about us, will know what value to place on the Governor's action. But let there be no mistake about this. Other agencies will be found to ferret out the wrongdoing with which New York's official life abounds.

"Since July 3 Governor Roosevelt appears to have had under consideration the demand for a special session of the Legislature so earnestly urged by civic organizations for the purpose of investigating the scandals in New York City. Now he wants 'more evidence.' Well, I don't know just how much it will take to convince him.

"There was a time when the name Roosevelt stood for courage in public life. Even the present Governor as a much younger man in the New York State Senate defied the forces of Tammany when it came to electing a United States Senator. His ambition now blinds him to his duty.

"If the Governor knows anything at all about public investigations he ought to know that every trail that is opened leads to another. It is camouflage and persiflage for him to ask for evidence. That is the last thing that he wants. He needed very little before he intervened in the affairs of Westchester, Monroe and Greene Counties, but there he was not treading on Tammany's toes."

Speaking before the Intercollegiate Republican League at the headquarters of the Republican County Committee in Brooklyn last night, Mr. Steinbrink said that evidence of official corruption and wrongdoing in the New York City administration had been submitted time and time again to the District Attorney of New York County.

"But it remained for a Federal prosecutor to expose the wrong and now the rat is running for cover," Mr. Steinbrink said.

Kurtz Produces Telegram.

Irwin Kurtz, head of the speakers' bureau of the New York County Republican Committee and a member of the Harbord Advisory Committee, made public last night a letter he had received from Governor Roosevelt in reply to a telegraphic communication he sent him several days ago in which he had urged an investigation by a commission appointed by the Governor himself. Governor Roosevelt wrote:

My Dear Mr. Kurtz:

You have doubtless read the letter which I have sent to Senator Knight and Speaker McGinnies. Under the law it would be wholly useless for me to appoint three commissioners to investigate any matter of local government for the very good reason that these commissioners would not have the power of subpoena.

I think you will agree that the most practical way of obtaining results is to follow the regular course authorized by law and this is now being done.

Sincerely yours,
FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT.

Mr. Kurtz said last night that he had transmitted by wire a copy of the Governor's letter to Senate leader Knight.

"If, as the Governor writes me, the commissioners would not have the necessary powers to go ahead and make a thorough investigation, that is only an additional reason for calling the Legislature in special session to vest them with the necessary powers by law," Mr. Kurtz said.

Earlier in the day George Henry Payne, a Republican member of the Board of Taxes and Assessments, had criticized Mr. Kurtz for having said in a public statement that there obtained in the Tax Department practices which, "if not criminal, at least reflect on the honesty and integrity of the commission." Mr. Kurtz said last night that he had no comment to make on a statement made by Commissioner Payne in this connection, in which some reference was made to "personal obligations" that should have made him pause before reflecting on the department. Commissioner Payne also sent a communication to Commissioner of Accounts Higgins, calling attention to the statement and urging him to call Mr. Kurtz as a witness.

Payne Asks Explanation.

Here is the text of the telegram sent to Mr. Kurtz by Tax Commissioner Payne:

"I was shocked to read your intimation that practices are going on in the Tax Department which, if not criminal, at least reflect on the honesty and integrity of the members of the commission. You and I know that there are very good reasons why you, of all men, should be careful about making statements that would reflect on the character of men holding public office.

"As a former candidate for judicial office you know that it was your duty—not to speak of personal obligations—to place before me as one of the Republican members of the tax board any information about improprieties in the conduct of this office that came to your attention. I insist that you at once make public whatever basis of fact there may be to your implications, in order that if there is any basis of fact, the matter may be thoroughly sifted. I cannot emphasize too strongly the need on your part for a very prompt reply in full and without equivocation."

Mr. Kurtz said last night that he had never appeared before the Tax Commission and never asked for or received any favors from the board or any of its members.

"I suppose Mr. Payne may have felt that I was under obligation as a fellow Republican to tell him," Mr. Kurtz said. "There have been rumors galore for the last three or four years of inequalities in assessments due to favoritism. Mayor Walker, on at least two occasions in public statements, has alluded to these rumors. My contention is that if there is no ground for them an impartial investigation would clear the commission, and if there is ground the people of this city are entitled to know.

"I notice that Mr. Payne has written Commissioner of Accounts Higgins, urging him to call me as a witness. I doubt that Commissioner Higgins has the power to summon me. I am not a city employe and I think the courts have decided that the Commissioner of Accounts cannot compel any one not directly amenable to the city administration to testify. After consultation with my counsel, if subpoenaed, I shall refuse to appear, not because I do not want to testify but to show up the futility of this so-called investigation started by Mayor Walker."

To the Commissioner of Accounts Commissioner Payne wrote:

"In this morning's paper Irwin Kurtz, a member of the Republican Advisory Committee of New York County, formerly a candidate for city judge, I believe, makes the following statement: 'There are rumors of improprieties in the tax office, with favors for Tammany lawyers working to get special tax assessments for the elect.' Might I suggest that in the course of your investigation, if you deem proper, Kurtz be called before you to give such information as he may have, if any, that would tend to reflect on this department?"

Allen Upholds Governor.

William H. Allen, director of the Institute for Public Service, in a statement made public yesterday, upheld the course of Governor Roosevelt. He said it was up to the locality, not to the State, to remedy local wrongs. Republicans and Socialists, in demanding an investigation, both had gone wrong, he declared. There was already an amplitude of information to prove that the Mayor and the Controller, in failing to use their vast powers to check abuses, had rendered themselves subject to removal from office, and would be removed "if Governor Roosevelt, upon specific local charges, applied the same standard as Governor Hughes used in removing Borough Presidents Ahearn and Haffen."

"Only by holding the Mayor responsible for his subordinates will conditions improve," Dr. Allen said. "For failing to use information given him and to get information for himself he could be removed. Only by letting him know that it's he and not Dr. Doyle or some grafting inspector that is on trial will any appreciable good come from this Summer's agitation."

Complete Text of Mayor Walker's Address to His Aides

Ladies and gentlemen comprising the heads of city departments: Heretofore on several occasions I have called you together for the purpose of conference, to bring to you messages that I wanted you to understand and get directly from me.

As I look over this assemblage tonight I am reminded that well back in 1926 we started our formal conferences, and at that time, I am quite sure you remember, I brought you a message to which I tried to give emphasis and insistence, that the watchword, or one of the watchwords, of this administration was to be courtesy. For many years I had observed the lack of courtesy to be found from clerks and even heads of departments toward citizens and those who had business with the departments.

I think we understood each other very clearly after that meeting. Upon another occasion I asked you to foregather in the City Hall when I talked to you about the necessity of eliminating political thought from your daily activities in the service of the city.

Wants People to Know Attitude.

Tonight I have asked you again to come to the City Hall because I want to have a plain talk in a very plain way with what I understand to be plain people.

So it is that I have asked for the municipal station WNYC, and I am very happy to say to you that we have the cooperation of two other very popular and serviceable stations, WJZ and WOR. So that what I say to you tonight might be witnessed by the people of this city, so that they might understand that in this what otherwise might have been an executive session so to speak, that we have thrown open the windows and asked the people of this city to listen in as the Mayor talks to the heads of the various departments.

Certain public impressions have grown during the past few months, and it is with regard to these impressions, as well as other things, that I desire to talk to you. Time will not permit for me to attempt to analyze the growth of public impressions, but there are some very definite ways of ascertaining them, and, of course, I think we will agree that one of the means, one of the strongest and most potent means in the formation of public opinion is the daily newspaper, and it is for that reason that I am going to read to you an editorial from a New York daily newspaper.

I want you to know before I read the editorial that it is from one of the newspapers for which I have a very profound regard and respect, a paper that is not inflammable—on the contrary a paper which is very conservative, a paper not sensational, and a paper that never lends itself to political propaganda, so that as we read from it, we have a right to believe that certain impressions might have developed to a point that they may be general in the public mind.

This is the editorial, entitled "The City Scandals." "Indictment of another local judicial officer"—I am reading from the editorial—"will add to the public belief that the morale of the Walker Administration is sinking lower. The Mayor and his political advisers should see that conditions call loudly for the tonic of plain speech. Till now nothing has come from the City Hall to indicate that Mr. Walker is aware of the discredit brought by his associates and subordinates upon his own record or to serve as a sharp warning to all the members of his official family. When so many cracks show in a structure, there is lowered resistance to stress. The hour has come for the Mayor to summon both the demolition and reconstruction crews. The only call which will put them actively to work must come from him. If he does not utter it publicly and forcibly, the community will be inclined to condemn the whole edifice of the city government as unsound."

Would Meet Issue Squarely.

That is not the entire editorial, but it will do for the time being.

You don't suppose that I find any pleasure in reading that editorial, do you? You don't suppose it brings any encouragement or happiness? But yet how can I let it pass without, in your presence and within the hearing of all those citizens in this city who are interested, making an analysis here and now? And if that is an issue or an indictment, to meet it as it should be met, frankly, honestly, and courageously.

Let me go back, if you will. The morale of the Walker Administration is sinking low. What is the administration? Is it not the business or the management and condition of the business of the people of the city of New York? And how is the administration made up? If it is the Walker Administration, that is very definite. But the very structure of the municipality is builded, as all American forms of government or subdivisions of government are builded, with three separate divisions, the legislative, the judicial and the executive. And each purposely is made independent of the other two.

Now I have asked to come to the City Hall tonight the thirty-eight heads of the thirty-eight departments under the immediate jurisdiction of the Mayor, with their deputies. I have asked you to come here because I appointed you and I can remove you, whereas, with members of the two other branches, or two other divisions of the municipality, I do not enjoy or have the same power.

Nor have I asked the borough governments to appear here tonight for the same reason, but it is because I am in some measure responsible for you that I have called you here tonight, and it is because of the authority that is vested in me by law that I have called you here to talk to you about this editorial. If that is the administration, let me try to ascertain very rapidly, and I have in mind very distinctly the limitation of time as well of the unpleasant weather of the evening; I cannot do anything about the weather, and I am not going to worry about it, but the time I have to.

Denies Sinking of Morale.

"The administration is sinking lower or the morale of the administration is sinking lower." That is a severe indictment, but that is a charge which I deny not only in your presence but within the hearing of all our listeners in. Where would we find this sinking in morale? would it not manifest itself in the various departments? And what department is pointed out in this editorial or in any other newspaper story, the department I mean that has brought discredit or which justifies the statement that the so-called "Walker Administration" is sinking in morale?

Is it the Department of Education? I do not think any one in fairness will make that charge; a department that is spending approximately $200,000,000 a year, in keeping with the mandate of the Constitution of this State that guarantees every boy and girl a free school education; here where we are educating 1,200,000 children; here where we have built in this administration 107 additional schools. We added to what was then a great system without the taint of scandal, without a single charge or suspicion, but on the contrary carrying out the greatest mass education known throughout the history of mankind, and doing it as spendidly as it is humanly possible to do. Surely it is not in this department.

Closely akin to that in necessity is the convenience of transportation. Has it been in our Board of Transportation that the morale is sinking, in a department where we spend approximately $100,000,000 a year and had added 167 track miles to the subway in the city. Here I ask, has the morale sunk, and if so for what? Negligence? Surely not. In efficiency? On the contrary on such engineering has been known all over the world as is evidenced in our subway construction.

Has it been because of fraud or dishonesty? On the contrary, in that department $100,000,000, or in this administration very nearly $450,000,000, have been spent of the City's money without the charge or the suspicion even of one misapplied, misappropriated or misdirected dollar.

Park Officials Extolled.

Is it in our Park System, where we have added 3,000 acres of new park lands and playgrounds to the system of this city? And I am very glad of this opportunity to say to the heads of the departments that I am responsible for, the City of New York should very well be proud of its chief fiscal officer,—chief financial officer, I mean, the Controller of this city, who personally negotiated and in negotiating saved approximately $12,000,000 for the people of this city and bought 3,000 additional acres of park.

Not a scintilla of charge, not the slightest suspicion ever directed against him or his activities or the administration, and by this activity brought so much credit upon itself. The maintenance of our park system can be attested to by those who visit our parks, whether they be small or large. Every citizen of this community knows they are in better condition today than they have ever been before in the history of the city. Now, I know the difficulty with these things.

It is not my purpose except by process of elimination, if time will hold out, to run down and ascertain or find out whence the charge that the morale of the administration is sinking. It is not, as I look over the heads of those I see before me, in the Department of Correction under the administration of Commissioner Patterson. While there have been jailbreaks all over the country there hasn't been a single one in the city of New York. Has it been in the Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity? Of course not; a department collecting $45,000,000 every year in water rental, bringing within easy access to every citizen and every user of water in this city the finest water known throughout this continent.

What department can it be? Is it the Department of Plant and Structures? I am taking these things as I look about the room. That great department, greater in itself than the entire activities of most cities, with its maintenance of all of the bridges and construction of new bridges, with the operation of our ferry system and the installation of our traffic lights. Has there ever been an allegation or a charge made against this department? I think I can say, not only to you but to the people of this city, that we have reason to be proud of the administration of all of these departments.

Record of Hospital Bureau.

Our Department of Hospitals! Not so old, yet old enough to have brought comfort and relief to thousands of our unfortunates in this city. Today their attention is better than it has ever been before, their care is better than it ever has been in any municipal hospital of this or any other city, their food is better, and there is a little more humanitarianism to be found in the city hospitals than any that I know of. Surely it isn't in this activity.

Is it in the administration of the Bureau of Child Welfare, is it the interest in the Widows and Orphans? Where is this decline or this sinking of morale of the administration?

It is many years perhaps since an administration could point with pride and call for the closest kind of scrutiny and analysis of the Police Department of this city. Need I say to the people of this city nor to you that the best evidence of the confidence which the people of the city have in the Police Department was evidenced on last election day when, in a referendum by a stupendous plurality, the people of this city voted an increase in the salary of policemen and firemen.

And this administration that has increased the Police Department from 14,000 to 18,000 asks for a bill of particulars, asks that some one point out where it is that the morale of the administration is sinking. Can it be found in the finances of the city, here where billions of dollars during this administration has passed through the hands of the Finance Department and the various employes of this city without one single dollar except what I shall, in a little while, refer to, without one single dollar having been diverted, misappropriated or misapplied?

If there is any sinking of the morale of this administration it isn't noticed in the financial district. Every sale of New York City bonds has brought a premium to the city. With every bond sale of the city of New York there is no difficulty in finding a market or a purchaser, not because the morale of the administration is sinking, but because it is maintained upon a solid foundation, upon a basis that warrants confidence not only of the men and women in the administration but of the people of the city.

Now, I might very well go through every department in the entire city, only to show and only to prove that there are no cracks, as this editorial refers to, in the structure, but perhaps to admit that there are few fingermarks on the walls. But no cracks in the structure. And I repeat, lest you refer to the editorial some other time, that it is only because of my deep respect for the newspaper and my knowledge of the fairness of its motives and the treatment that it usually—in fact, always—accords to public officials that I find it necessary to go in again to the record and discuss the reason or the answer to this editorial.

Now, let me assume that you know that the departments are all right. Let me assume that the people of the city of New York know. Yet I know the difficulty. I know the difficulty of pronouncing a record. I know how lacking in sensation, I know how little flavor there is in recounting good work.

Fears Hysterical Attitude.

This is an occasion when it is inescapable, though it may be as dry as the desert itself. But I have a very clear and definite notion also of the ease with which the emotions of people may be played upon, how easy it is to create hysteria and even drive people into a frenzy. Maybe it is just as well that it is so easy. It is indicative of the love that we have for the city. It is also indicative of the alarm lest anything might happen to the fair name of this city.

That is why I have taken the trouble on this night to call you here, and at the same time invite the public to listen in.

Now I am not unmindful of the fact that there have been charges made and repeated, and repeated day after day and evening after evening in our newspapers, about the alleged misdeeds of some of the officers or employes of this city, and nothing will be further from my mind than to attempt to condone or excuse any wrongdoers, but I want you to keep in mind, as I want the people of this city to do, that there are approximately 125,000 officers and employes of this city.

Lauds Honesty of Most Aides.

When you read the headlines of various judicial officers who are charged with malfeasance of misfeasance in office, and have that brought home to the city administration and the responsibility for it placed thereon, I think there is much to take courage from in the fact that out of 125,000 there have been mentioned from time to time but seven individuals who were guilty of misdeeds or charged with misdeeds. Now I do not propose to split hairs. I do not propose to be anything but frank. I do not propose to ask for honest cooperation without giving honest expression.

While two of the judges complained about heretofore were judges of county courts in counties within the City of New York, you and I know that they were absolutely independent of and no part of what is known as the Walker Administration. Yet let us not quarrel, let us not discuss nor debate technicalities, but on the contrary let us include them in ascertaining whether or not the people should lose or retain the confidence they manifested in this administration at the last election day.

There was one magistrate removed and another indictment. There was a chairman of a board indicted and a deputy commissioner of a department, and that takes in all those that the papers or the official records indicate have been under charges. Does this amount to a sinking of the morale of this administration? If it does, I wonder what became of the Federal Government of the United States of America when not so long since two judges suffered under severe criticism, as a result of which one had to leave the bench?

Did we indulge in such bad manners, were we so hectic in our politics, were we so hopeless in the future that we had to call destruction upon the heads of every official in the entire government? Did we resort to the same indulgence when a distinguished, up to that time distinguished, Secretary of State, not of my political party, was indicted? What did it prove, is the point. Nothing at all. But the point I make to you now is that this administration or the fair name of the city shall not be dragged down and into the mud because the Republican party of this State has not an issue to go into the next campaign.

With the record that has been laid before you, and a record with which you are familiar, this administration cannot be charged with a sinking morale any more than the banking system of this country has been when one or two bankers absconded with depositors' money, or any more than the bar association stands in disgrace because some of its members have been disbarred. Nor yet, because some doctor has been convicted of malpractice, will the people close the door on the family physician.

Warns of Propaganda.

Now, I said we would have a plain talk. Let us have it. I say to you as heads of departments be not disturbed by political propaganda. More than that I say to you, take no comfort from the fact that others in the Federal Government or other State Governments have been guilty of misfeasance or nonfeasance or malfeasance.

You shall not find any encouragement in the fact that others have done wrong, because it puts a greater obligation upon you in the defense of the fair name of this city to be strictly more honest than you have ever been, to work harder for this city and to maintain with pride the name that it has won for itself.

I am conscious of the necessity of political propaganda from time to time. I have no quarrel with the newspapers that constantly remind you of your obligations. They do the public a great service. The watchfulness that they maintain over public officials is a great thing for the benefit of the city and the people of the city. For them I have nothing but compliment and congratulation. For the politician who has no record of construction, who has no record of accomplishment, I can well understand how he finds it necessary to develop a scandal in somebody else, that he may get by in the confusion. But let me say this to you, the word that comes from my heart and I want it to go into yours. I have much to be grateful to this city for, and I am going to be grateful to it. You and I must have no misunderstanding. You must leave this room knowing what is in my mind, and I am calling the people of the city to witness what I say, that I may be held to a strict accountability for everything that I utter to you tonight.

Holds Dishonesty Intolerable.

Now, it does not make any difference how well nor how long I know any man in this administration. It makes no difference whatsoever what my friendship for him may have been. It makes less difference what his political influence is. That man or woman who is guilty of misdeeds, of irregularity, of corruption, of dishonesty, cannot stay in this administration.

Now, let us understand it, and remember that there can be no question about it, that after all, even in the case of those who have been associated with this administration and have been charged with irregularities, that corruption and dishonesty and crime are not administrative nor partisan. They are personal and individual. And when any man does become dishonest in this administration he can no longer be a part of it. Now, let us understand that once and for all. There will be no escape, there will be no possible excuse.

Discusses City Inquiry.

So I have called you tonight, I repeat. I am reminded, though, that time is short, that I owe it in keeping with this editorial to say something about by personal attitude in asking the Commissioner of Accounts to resume where he left off in his inquiry into several departments in this city.

You know it isn't a simple thing; I have some idea about it after twenty-one years in public life. I know the effect of sensation, and I know that a trivial thing, if dressed up or set up in sensational form, will gather a world of importance; while frequently on the other hand some very important thing when modestly and quietly done will attract no attention. For instance, with all the great school programs that I told you about, 107 new schools, an expenditure of nearly $200,000 a year, very seldom was that commented upon and hardly ever noticed. Yet it wasn't so long since that some clerk in the Board of Education, a second class clerk, was guilty of some misstep and it found its way into the headlines.

But that is life, and our philosophy of life must be dependent upon nature and life itself. Now I know if you advertise to divulge some scandal you could fill Madison Square Garden tomorrow night and charge an admission, but if on the other hand you advertise that you are going to announce the most moral and beneficent person in all the world, you couldn't fill a telephone booth even if you charge no admission.

I know also the difficulty of satisfying the politicians who won't be satisfied, because there were those who said for the past six months or so that the Mayor had lost all interest in the city. he was disinterested, he was careless about it, some of them said, in fact, that he was cynical because he did not send the Commissioner of Accounts into the Bureau of Standards and Appeals and the Department of Docks. That wasn't so; the Mayor never lost his interest and never will lose his interest in this city, and he will never lose sight of his obligation that he owes to the people of the city.

But at that time two district attorneys were investigating, armed by law with weapons that no other public servant enjoys, with the right of subpoena, the right of investigation and the right of punishment, most important after all. And the Mayor refused to let the Commissioner of Accounts interfere with the investigation then being conducted by the District Attorney. But only a day or two ago a district attorney announced to the Mayor that he would be very glad to have the Commissioner of Accounts return to a further investigation or take up his investigation of the Board of Standards and Appeals and the Department of Docks where he left off.

Denies "Whitewash" Charges.

Then when the critics had what they had been complaining of, then when the Commissioner of Accounts went in, instead, as some of them modestly did, they said: "Yes, but a little bit late." Only late because we refused to interfere with the District Attorney. Now they complain that he is going in for a whitewash, so that when he stayed out, it was a complaint that I was cynical, and when he went in, he want in for a whitewash, and I have difficulty in finding out why they conclude a whitewash, because wasn't it under the Commissioner of Accounts, the late Joseph A. Warren, that the graft in snow removal was uncovered and fifteen men were sent to jail without fear or favor, without regard for politics or friendship or anything else?

Wasn't it after that that the present Commissioner of Accounts, James A. Higgins, continuing that activity, uncovered and produced the evidence that sent five more men to jail, and was it not the present Commissioner of Accounts who uncovered, produced the evidence, prosecuted and sent to jail ten to fifteen others for the payroll padding in the Street Cleaning Department, that started when? In this administration? Ah, no. Back in 1917, according to sworn testimony, when my very dear friend and very excellent citizen of this community, Leonard Wallenstein, was the Commissioner of Accounts, but it was Higgins who uncovered it after seventeen years, and it was this administration that prosecuted and sent every one of them to jail, and then, not content with that, did more.

Every dollar that had been diverted from the city treasury was recovered by the Controller of this city. So I say to you again, where is the sinking of the morale of this administration, an administration that has handled billions of dollars in the last four years, an administration that spends over $800,000,000 a year, and yet not one charge of one penny of the people's money of this city that has been diverted nor misappropriated by my heads of departments.

Concludes With Warning.

I am told that time is up. I did not bring you a prepared speech. I would not. I bring you no document that would say something tonight that I would not feel tomorrow. I talk to you from the heart and I know I will feel the same tomorrow and the day after and forever after as I do tonight; nothing studied about it, a heart-to-heart talk not only with you but with the people of my city, and this is my final word to you:

Be not disturbed by politicians or political propaganda. You must be rigidly honest. You must be alert. You must not only protect this administration, I repeat, but the fair name of the city. You must give to it everything that is in you, and so to do that I say to you I will never be guilty of conspiring to frame any man in or out of politics, but I will not tolerate for one minute any man, no matter what his connections or his personality nor his influence may be, for one minute in this administration, that is not an honest from head to foot soul.

Go back to your jobs tomorrow morning and believe it is more important to keep your nose to the grindstone than your ear to the ground.

MAYOR WARNS AIDES AND EXTOLS RECORD

ances became vehement as he stressed the need for strict honesty in public office and his own determination to root out corruption, and he banged a fist into an open palm to emphasize his warnings.

Not once did Mayor Walker mention by name any of the public officials who have recently been indicted or who have quit office under fire. He made it clear, however, that he felt that his administration was properly chargeable only for the sins of officials over whom he exercised the power of appointment and removal. By inference he indicated that scandals involving city magistrates and county judges were not to be taxed against his administration.

The editorial which formed the text for his address, Mayor Walker declared, could not be ignored and must be met "frankly, honestly and courageously." There are no "cracks in the structure" of his administration, as intimated in the editorial, he declared, although he might possibly concede "that there are a few fingerprints on the walls."

Answering the intimation that the administration's morale was declining, Mayor Walker called for specific evidence. It was not to be found, he asserted, in any scrutiny of the record of constructive achievement and honest dealing built up by such departments as the Board of Education, the Board of Transportation, the Park Department, the Finance Department, the Department of Correction and practically every other city board and bureau. Millions of dollars, he declared, have been wisely and beneficially expended without the slightest hint of scandal or corruption, and a thorough investigation is being made in the few cases where wrongdoing has been even hinted at.

Incidentally Mayor Walker attacked those critics who have expressed dissatisfaction with his recent order to James A. Higgins, Commissioner of Accounts, to investigate the Board of Standards and Appeals and the Dock Department. He explained that he did not order the inquiry before because two District Attorneys, County and Federal, were making their own inquiries. He denied emphatically that there was any intention now of "whitewashing" the departments under examination.

Mayor Walker's words were caught by the microphones of radio stations WNYC, WOR and WJZ, which were set upon the semi-circular bench behind which he stood. Frequently during his address he stressed the fact that his words were being sent to the citizens, admitting them, in effect, into the executive session attended last night only by the department heads and newspapermen. He measured his address carefully, glancing often at the clock upon the Chamber wall to ascertain how much was left of the forty-five minutes allotted to him.

It was evident last night that Mayor Walker's subordinates found little in his address that was in the nature of a scolding, nor was his parting admonition chiding in tone.

"Be not disturbed by politicians or political propaganda," he said. "You must be rigidly honest. You must be alert. You must not only protect this administration, I repeat, but the fair name of the city. You must give it everything that is in you. I say to you that I will never be guilty of conspiring to frame any man in or out of politics, but I will not tolerate for one minute any man, no matter what his connections or his personality or his influence may be in this administration, that is not honest from his head to the sole of his foot. Go back to your jobs tomorrow morning and believe that it is more important to keep your nose to the grindstone than your ear to the ground."

Despite vague charges of general maladministration, Mayor Walker declared, the fact was that two county judges ,two magistrates, the chairman of one city board and a deputy commissioner of a city department were the only concrete instances where wrongdoing had been charged. The county judges, he asserted, were clearly not within the scope of the Walker Administration.

Although no names were mentioned his references were plainly to County Judge W. Bernard Vause and General Sessions Judge Francis X. Mancuso, Magistrates Albert H. Vitale and George F. Ewald, Chairman William E. Walsh of the Board of Standards and Appeals and Deputy Fire Commissioner Charles Jannicky, all of whom have been forced from office.

If the scandals involving these officials amount to a sinking of morale in the City Administration. Mayor Walker declared, then the same could have been charged of Federal and State morale in the scandals involving Federal judges and a former New York Secretary of State. No such inference was drawn by those in control of this city, he asserted, because they did not "indulge in such bad manners."

"But the point I make to you now," he shouted, pounding his hands together, "is that this administration or the fair name of the city shall not be dragged into the mud because the Republican party of this State has not an issue to go into the next campaign."

Mayor Walker's charge against the Republican State organization was followed by his emphatic declaration that he would not tolerate a dishonest official in his administration.

"You must leave this room knowing what is in my mind," he said, prefacing his warning, "and I am calling upon the people of the city to witness what I say, that I may be held to strict accountability for everything that I utter to you tonight."

DEEGAN BACK, WARNS AIDES

Tenement Bureau Chief Tells Them Office "Must Be Kept Clean."

William F. Deegan, Tenement House Commissioner, back at his desk in the Municipal Building yesterday after a week-end spent at Montauk Point, L. I., where he had gone to recover from his nervous breakdown of a week ago, called in the heads of the various bureaus under his supervision and informed them that the Tenement House Department must be kept clean. Among other things he reviewed the efforts made in conjunction with the police in reporting stills in apartment houses inspected by his men.

Referring to the case of Inspector John Tierney of his department and Patrolman John Porter, assigned to duty under the Tenement House Commissioner, Mr. Deegan said that prior to taking any steps he was awaiting the outcome of their hearing in the Harlem magistrate's court Thursday morning.

The men are charged with suspicion of having accepted a bribe of $10 from Charles Woodbine, a Negro, of 210 East 102d Street, in whose house the men are said to have found a still and then neglected to report the violation to their superiors.

CITY INQUIRY OPENS; BUREAUS PLEDGE AID

Commissioner of Accounts, no date for the beginning of public hearings will be set. Mr. Higgins said he expects to know in a few days when the hearings would begin, and said the witnesses would not be restricted to city employes. Under his subpoena power he can call any one be believes would be useful in his investigation. Commissioner Higgins would not promise that witnesses receive immunity before testifying, but said it was customary for him to warn witnesses that they need not make answers that might incriminate them.

Commissioner Higgins also asked officials of the Dock Department to work with his investigators. He will seek information on the leases of Hudson River piers to the Hamburg-American Line. It was charged that former Judge W. Bernard Vause of Kings County had received a $250,000 fee for getting the leases, which were later transferred to the United American Line. A Federal indictment charging that the former judge used the mails to defraud brought out the pier lease charges. Vause is now on trial on the mail fraud charge.

Mayor Walker said yesterday that he had not conferred with the Commissioner of Accounts since ordering him to begin the investigation. The Mayor indicated that he would leave the investigation entirely to Mr. Higgins and expressed his confidence that the inquiry would be painstaking and thorough.

William F. Cunningham, vice president of the John A. McCarthy Company of 479 Walton Avenue, the Bronx, said yesterday that Mr. McCarthy held two notes aggregating $30,000, representing money he had lent to William E. Walsh, former chairman of the Board of Standards and Appeals, who resigned recently after being indicted for making a false income tax return and for accepting a gratuity while in public office. One note for $25,000 is dated Sept. 14, 1929, and the other, for $5,000, is dated a few days later, according to Mr. Cunningham.

Mr. McCarthy has been in Presbyterian Hospital for the last six weeks suffering from pleurisy, Mr. Cunningham said, and his notes will not be given to the Federal grand jury until he is out of the hospital. Mr. McCarthy is under the care of Dr. Bentley Squires, dean of urology in the Columbia Medical School. Mr. Cunningham said the loans were made many months before the Board of Standards and Appeals granted a zoning variation on premises built by Mr. McCarthy at 183d Street and the Grand Concourse, and added that Mr. McCarthy had not applied to the board for any permits since that time.

Commissioner Higgins has called back some of his assistants from their vacations, and will ask the Mayor for a supplementary force as soon as he can determine how much help he will need.

WEGENER PARTY TAKES EQUIPMENT UP GLACIER

Copyright, 1930, in the United States and Canada by The New York Times Company. All rights reserved.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BERLIN, July 21.—The following cable has been received from the Wegener Greenland expedition:

"Kamarujuk, July 8, via Godhavn, July 12.—The transportation of equipment, instruments, foodstuffs and other material is in full swing in all sections of the Kamarujuk glacier up to Nunatak-Scheidegg. A path was cut in the moraine with ice axes, fifty dynamite charges and the spreading of coal to hasten the melting ice.

"The horses proved a great help on the glacier, 1,600 kilograms [about 3,525 pounds] being transported daily instead of the 1,000 kilograms estimated. The motor sledges are already on a 400-meter [about 1,310 feet] high moraine. A dog team expedition with thirteen sleighs and 100 dogs for the erection of the middle station is now being prepared.

"WEGENER."

The expedition headed by Professor Alfred Wegener, German scientist, is penetrating to Greenland's inland ice fields to establish three observation stations in connection with meteorological and geological work and a projected transarctic air route. A party of seventeen sailed with Dr. Wegener on April 27 from Holstenborg to set up a base at Godhavn.

FISH REFUSES STAND ON PROHIBITION LAW

In Congress Five Terms, He Says at Poughkeepsie, Without One Speech on That Subject.

Special to The New York Times.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., July 21.—Neither wets nor drys will obtain a commitment from Representative Hamilton Fish Jr. in the 1930 campaign, according to a declaration he made today to the Dutchess County Republican Committee after he had been endorsed for re-election.

Mr. Fish discussed, but did not define his view on prohibition in connection with a statement that he had every reason to believe former Supreme Court Justice A. H. F. Seeger of Newburgh would not oppose him in the primaries.

Mr. Fish declared he had received word from Mr. Seeger that he would have no opposition. He said he knew that Mr. Seeger believes in prohibition and in the Eighteenth Amendment.

"I have been in Congress five terms," he said, "and never once have I spoken on prohibition. Any Representative can make the front page by attacking or upholding the amendment and some of them make the same speech every three or four weeks for the sake of publicity. But I don't do that. I have never made a speech on the subject. I have never found it necessary.

"In this campaign I will not commit myself to the wets and I will not commit myself to the drys. I shall make no statements as to how I shall vote on questions pertaining to prohibition or modification. Instead, I shall vote on every issue before the House on its merits alone."

Mr. Fish called on all Republicans to support the candidate for Governor, no matter what his stand on prohibition, and declared, "We must redeem the State from Democratic rule."

GOVERNMENT HALTS IRISH RAIL WALK-OUT

Men Agree to Postponement of Strike 24 Hours Pending Conference This Morning.

12,000 WORKERS INVOLVED

All Lines of Free State Will Be Tied Up Unless Agreement Is Reached Today.

DUBLIN, July 21 (AP).—A general strike of railwaymen all over Southern Ireland, scheduled for midnight tonight, was dramatically averted this evening by the intervention of the Free State Government.

Representatives of the railwaymen agreed to postpone the strike call until tomorrow midnight pending another conference between executives of the National Union of Railwaymen, the Great Southern Railway and the affiliated Irish Omnibus Company.

P. J. McGilligan, Minister for Industry and Commerce, will be chairman. The meeting will begin at 11:30 A. M. tomorrow.

Six hundred railwaymen have already gone on strike at Dublin. If the general strike is called tomorrow night about 12,000 railwaymen and 400 bus men will go out.

Call Resulted from Bus Strike.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

DUBLIN, July 21.—The general strike of railwaymen would have brought all railway services of the Irish Free State to a standstill at midnight tonight. The National Union of Railwaymen had called out its men in consequence of the dismissal of several of their comrades for refusing to handle goods consigned to the Irish Omnibus Company, whose employes, members of the National Union of Railwaymen, had been on stirke more than two months.

The bus strike dragged on as a result of the refusal of the company to recognize the National Union of Railwaymen. Directors of the company contend that the bus line is not a railway and that a union controlled by railroad men might lead to a discouragement of road traffic and give undue preference to rail transport. They further contend that the bus company differs from a railway in that it has to compete with other bus services whose men are not members of the railwaymen's union.

In reply the union states that the great English railroad companies recently put fleets of buses on the road but never raised the question of recognition of the railway men's union. The situation is complicated by the fact that the Great Southern recently acquired a controlling interest in the Irish Omnibus Company. "By putting money into the Irish Omnibus Company," said C. I. Cramp, general secretary of the union, "the Great Northern Railway wants to cut the traffic on the road which hitherto would have gone by rail."

The railway directors met the men's executives in conference today, but after hours of discussion the conference broke down, as no assurance was given that the union's demand for unconditional reinstatement of the dismissed men would be met. The union immediately issued notice that a general strike would take place at midnight. The strike would involve some 12,000 railway workers and 400 bus employes.

The Irish Omnibus Company controls all the principal long-distance bus services of the Free State.

BELGRADE FOR PAN-EUROPA

Yugoslavian Reply Approves Briand Plan Without Reserve.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, July 21.—Out of twenty-six replies to his memorandum on a Federation of Europe, that of the government of Yugoslavia, which was made public here today, is the only one which approves on all points without reserve Foreign Minister Briand's suggestion, both as to the objects and manner of organization of the proposed federation.

The reply of King Alexander's Government is one of the briefest of all. Even if the proposed federation fails for the present to take form, the note suggests, it will be absolutely necessary to create a commission within the League of Nations for the study of purely European questions.

CZECHS HAIL MRS. WALKER.

Carlsbad Officially Welcomes Wife of New York City's Mayor.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

CARLSBAD, Czechoslovakia, July 21.—Mrs. James Walker received an official welcome when she arrived here today.

Deputy Mayor Holik, officiating on account of the illness of the Burgomaster, expressed pleasure at greeting the wife of New York City's distinguished municipal head. Other speeches were delivered, to which Mrs. Walker replied.

On Sunday Mrs. Walker and her party visited the Derby International Racing Club and the Englander Automobile Club, being officially welcomed by the presidents of both organizations.

LOSES RACE WITH DEATH.

California Woman, Rushing From Europe, Learns Husband Is Dead.

Mrs. Mary G. Cruise of Sacramento, Cal., owner of a chain of coffee stores on the Pacific Coast, lost a race with death yesterday when word reached her by radio on the Italian liner Roma that her husband had died in their home in Sacremento. Mrs. Cruise sailed from New York July 12 for a tour of Europe and received word on reaching Rome that Mr. Cruise was seriously ill.

She canceled her trips and caught the Roma at Naples. As the liner was entering port yesterday she received the radio and requested officials of the line to charter an airplane to transport her to California. On arrival, however, she decided to go by train to Columbus and take a regular passenger plane from here.

Also on the Roma was Trini Ramos, Spanish dancer, who had been visiting relatives in Seville. She expects to appear in a musical comedy here this Fall.

derson Flying School at Brooklands until a year ago, when he moved to Croydon, where his firm became known as the Henderson Aviation Bureau. He served with distinction in the Royal Flying Corps during the World War and earned the Military Cross and Clasp. He had been a pilot on the Daimler Airways, Limited.

Planned Only Short Visit.

Viscountess Ednam, the daughter-in-law of the Earl of Dudley, had intended to fly to London only for a short visit before returning to Le Touquet, where her husband is ill. She was formerly Lady Rosemary Millicent Leveson-Gower, the only daughter of the Fourth Duke of Southerland.

She had three sons, one of whom, Geremy Ward, was killed last year when he was riding a tricycle along the Chelsea embankment and was run over by a motor truck. Her eldest son, William Hamble Ward, was born in 1920. The Prince of Wales stood sponsor for him.

Sir Edward Simons Ward, aged 48, was the son of the late Colonel Sir Edward Ward, director of supplies in the South African war, who afterward became permanent Under-Secretary for War. The son was formerly a Captain in the Grenadier Guards and was wounded in the World War. He was a director of the London and Provincial Marine and General Insurance Company.

The Marquess of Dufferin and Ava, aged 55, was one of the leading contemporary Irish peers. Only a few years ago his eldest son and heir married Miss Maureen Guinness. He served both in the South African and World Wars. Since the war he had been interested principally in politics in Northern Ireland.

Mrs. Loeffler, the wife of Captain Henrik Loeffler of Grosvenor Square, was extremely well known in London society. She was a devotee of golf, tennis and yachting.

This disaster follows close upon another tragedy in the operation of a plane by the Henderson concern. On June 29 Colonel Henderson's chief assistant, A. A. Anderson, was killed in an accident to a machine which was being used by the company under an agreement.

Says Even the Best Crash.

Mrs. Henderson had flown over from Le Touquet earlier in the day in the same machine which exploded today. She was motoring near Croydon Field this afternoon and called at the airdrome soon after news of the tragedy had been received.

Charles Shearing, second pilot, also was formerly in the Royal Flying Corps and had done much flying in the United States. His father said tonight:

"I saw his log book. On one occasion his airplane apparently caught fire in midair at Los Angeles. He came out that time by parachute. He came back from America because he had an accident and hurt himself rather badly. He had passengers aboard and was flying to New York on a 900-mile journey.

"He got into bad weather with a thick fog, and he told me it was so bad he could not find landing ground when he was near New York. The machine came down and smashed a wing. My boy had a crack on the head among other injuries, but he managed to save all his passengers."

Follows Crash in the Baltic.

Yesterday's crash was the second in European commercial air service in recent weeks. On July 7 a German flying boat in the Stettin-Kalmar-Stockholm service was forced down in the Baltic Sea near Bornholm and later was swamped by the waves.

Two Americans lost their lives in that accident—Dr. John L. Burkholder of Mount Pleasant, Pa., and Miss Ruth Patricia Northrup of Philadelphia, Pa. Miss Northrup's body was recovered last week.

PHILADELPHIA, July 21.—Albanus C. Logan, a descendant of William Logan, who was secretary to William Penn, left a personal estate of $100,000 at his death on July 8, in addition to real estate, the value of which has not been determined, according to his will probated today. Mr. Logan bequeathed his residuary estate to his sister, Maria D. Logan of Germantown.

DENIES GIFT TO CHURCH.

Mrs. Nicholas Brady Says She Will Live on Her Manhasset Estate.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BADEN BADEN, July 21.—Mrs. Nicholas Brady of New York asserts there is no truth in the report that she intends to give her Manhasset estate to the church for a convent. She intends to live there when she returns in September, she says.

Mrs. Brady, the former Genevieve Garvan, is the widow of Nicholas F. Brady, the first layman in the United States to receive the title of Papal Chamberlain. He died on March 27, leaving his entire estate, estimated at upward of $50,000,000, to his widow.

The estate at Manhasset is one of the largest on the North Shore, covering fifty acres. It is valued at more than $2,000,000. It is beautifully landscaped and has an eighteen-hole golf course. On the estate is a private chapel containing a shrine in which, by special dispensation of the Pope, prayers are said on religious holidays and Sundays.

AROUND-EUROPE FLIERS REPORT ROUGH JOURNEY

First Four Contestants to Land at Bristol, England, Found Channel Crossing Bumpy.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, July 21.—After a journey described as the worst of their lives, four British fliers, one a woman, today led the around-Europe air marathon. They were the first of the sixty competitors to arrive at Bristol airport from Calais, where they were weather-bound for hours.

The first to reach Bristol was A. S. Butler, who was second in the recent King's Cup air race. "It was the roughest journey I ever made," he said. "Those bumps nearly broke my back."

The three other British competitors arriving next were S. A. Thorn, J. E. Carberry and Miss Winifred Spooner. Then came M. Plessis of France. Other Britishers also reaching Bristol this afternoon were Captain H. S. Broad, Lady Bailey and H. J. Andrews.

There was an exciting race between Miss Spooner's mechanic and Mr. Carberry to clock in. Miss Spooner's mechanic leaped from the machine while it was still taxiing across the airdrome, but he was beaten by one minute by Mr. Carberry.

None stayed long at Bristol, all being in a hurry to get on to Heston and back over the Channel to Calais and Paris. The race, which lasts eight to twelve days, ends in Germany, where it started. The contest is one of reliability rather than of speed.

CHARGES BOLIVIAN PLOT.

Governing Junta Ousts Officer for Failure to Go on London Mission.

LA PAZ, Bolivia, July 21 (AP).—Colonel José Ayoroa, member of the governing junta, who was recently ordered to London on a government mission, has disobeyed his orders and remained at the important railway and industrial centre of Uyuni.

The military junta today voted to deprive him of his place on the governing council. High officers report that Colonel Ayoroa had been plotting a revolution at Uyuni. Measures have been taken to suppress any attempt at an uprising.

A Whale of a HEAT WAVE

Yesterday the temperature outdoors clung to a sticky 96° during most of the afternoon. But due to the intercession of Macy's industrious air-cooling system, a large part of the general public kept happy and cool. They were the smart ones, the thrifty ones, who shopped in Macy's, where a seven-hundred-ton refrigerating plant, seven motor driven air-supply fans, and thirteen pumps wash and cool fourteen and a half million cubic feet of air every hour. This arrangement keeps the temperature of the Street Floor and Basement constantly in the 70°'s regardless of the great outdoors.

CHIANG IS RUSHING FORCE TO SHANTUNG

Ten Divisions From Canton Area, Honan and Hupeh to Pour Into Northern Province.

REBELS ACT TO MEET THEM

Yen Goes to Tsinan to Confer With Wang Ching-wei—Nanking Plot on Latter's Life Reported.

By HALLETT ABEND.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

SHANGHAI, July 21.—Ten divisions of Nanking Government troops from the Canton area and from Hunan and Hupeh provinces are being rushed northward to accelerate Nanking's push in an attempt to recover Shantung Province, where, according to government reports, the rebel armies are steadily giving ground.

The accuracy of this version of affairs is doubtful because Yen Hsishan, Northern leader, is proceeding from Peking to Tsinan, capital of Shantung, to meet Wang Ching-wei, Kuomintang Left Wing leader, on the organization of a Peking Government.

Definite espousal of the Peking cause by Wang is likely to result in serious repercussions at many points south of the Yangtse Rvier, where the Leftists are unusually strong and are only awaiting Wang Ching-wei's signal for insurrections to embarrass the Nanking Government.

Rebels Prepare for Attacks.

PEKING, July 21 (AP).—The storm centre of the civil war has now shifted to Shantung Province. Chiang Kai-shek, having failed to make headway against Feng Yu-hsiang in Honan, is now pushing up the Tientsin-Pukow Railway with the evident intention of recapturing Tsinan from the Shansi army.

Brisk preparations are in progress on the part of the Northern army to meet this threat. Reinforcements are being rushed down the railway, and Yen Hsi-shan has gone to Tsinan to take personal charge of the operations against the invaders.

Meanwhile Feng's army has again taken the offensive in Southern Honan, and renewed efforts are being made by the Northern forces to dislodge the Nanking troops from their position astride the railroad between Tsinan and Tsingtao.

There is much excitement in political circles of Northern China over the impending arrival of Wang Ching-wei. He is due to reach Tientsin from Japan on July 20.

According to a report from Japan, Nanking agents are planning to assassinate Wang the moment he lands. Should the attempt fail, this report states, they intend to bomb the train on which he is to travel to Peking.

Pirate Band Near Canton Wiped Out

HONGKONG, July 21 (AP).—Word was received here today of the extermination of a band of West River pirates near Canton by government troops after a day-long fight in which 100 pirates and seventeen troopers were killed.

The pirates, strongly entrenched, stoutly resisted fire from gunboats, field guns and machine guns, and then fled to their woodland lair. The pursuing soldiers found them out. Several captives, held for ransom, were released.

Missionaries Rescued at Yochow.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—The State Department was informed by the American Legation at Peking today that American missionaries at Yochow, 100 miles southwest of Hankow, on the Yangtse River, had been evacuated on a gunboat.

The entire area has long been disturbed by Communist armies and bandits, but details of the evacuation were not given, nor the number of missionaries involved.

The situation at Hankow was reported quiet.

MEAN TO KEEP GREENLAND.

Danes Again Deny Persistent Rumor of Offers by Foreign Powers.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

COPENHAGEN, July 21.—Persistent rumors in America that Great Britain would be interested in buying Greenland from Denmark or extending its treaty rights, owing to plans to establish an Arctic air route, and further rumors that the United States, which bought the Virgin Islands from Denmark and gave up its claims to the north of Greenland, based on Commodore Peary's expedition, still in view of the Monroe Doctrine has certain interests in Greenland, are repeatedly denied in Danish official quarters.

This morning the government paper, Social Demokraten, publishes an interview with Premier Stauning, also Minister for Greenland. Mr. Stauning is quoted as saying, "The rumors are clear nonsense. Please deny them categorically. No application has been received from any foreign power, nor do we think of selling. We colonized Greenland and have done much to bring order in things up there, and we have sent out scientific expeditions to examine the conditions in the country.

"The Greenlanders are happy under Danish rule, which is not to be wondered at, as we have done much for the native population. This straight denial by the Danish Premier ought to be sufficient to kill the long-lived rumors."

KING AT TE DEUM SERVICE.

Belgian Royal Family Takes Part in Independence Ceremony.

BRUSSELS, July 21 (AP).—The royal family today attended a solemn te deum sung in the Cathedral of St. Godule in the celebration of Belgium's independence centenary. After the service King Albert laid wreaths on the tombs of martrys of the Revolution of 1830 and the Unknown Warrior of the World War.

More than 2,000 Burgomasters were entertained at luncheon at Cinquantenaire Palace, which the royal family attended.

LONDON, July 21 (AP).—Cardinal Bourne presided at a service today in Westminster Cathedral commemorating the 100th anniversary of Belgian independence. Ambassador Charles G. Dawes and other foreign diplomats attended the ceremony.

ANDRES ORTIZ ELECTED CHIHUAHUA GOVERNOR

CHIHUAHUA CITY, Mexico, July 21 (AP).—Returns indicated today that Andres Ortiz, candidate of the National Revolutionary party, was elected Governor of the State of Chihuahua yesterday by a large majority.

The election was orderly here, with only a few minor incidents reported. Troops patroled the streets under command of General Matias Ramos, Subsecretary of War, to prevent disturbances.

Señor Ortiz was opposed by a Socialist, Manuel Prieto.

The election grew out of a disturbed political situation which reached its climax on June 25, when rebels ousted Francisco Almada from the Governorship and installed his rival, Señor Estrada, in the palace with fighting which cost four lives.

Señor Almada fled Chihuahua but two days later returned by air, found the city quiet, was reinstated with the backing of the Mexican Government and later displaced by Provisional Governor Escobar after an official inquiry into the coup on July 15.

EL PASO, Texas, July 21 (AP).—Political strife which caused the deaths of two men and brought severe injuries to more than a score of others, subsided in Juarez, Chihuahua, today.

Encarnacion Ponce, 8 years old, who was stabbed in the back in the mêlée, died last night. Earlier in the day a member of the National Revolutionary party was fatally wounded when a man stepped from a doorway and discharged a pistol at a truckload of Ortiz adherents. The victim was Juan Sandivar, 35 years old.

LIBERAL AND LABOR ACCORD

Lloyd George Says He Will Help MacDonald on Unemployment.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, July 2.—David Lloyd George and Premier MacDonald have renewed their pact of friendship which was terminated on July 9 with near-defeat for the government in the course of debate on the finance bill.

The leader of the Liberal party informed his colleagues today that he has placed his services at the government's disposal in its efforts to formulate an unemployment policy, and therefore is taking only a week's holiday during the Parliamentary recess so he may continue consultations with Mr. MacDonald's Cabinet committee.

Thus the barometer seems to set fair for Mr. MacDonald, particularly as his experts have just reported they can see possibilities of an early trade revival.

The Prime Minister has arranged a full-dress debate on State trade for Thursday.

FLEE IN PARK AVE. BLAST.

Soda Fountain Workers Driven to Street in Ice Plant Explosion.

Just before the hundreds of office workers in the building at 1 Park Avenue started out for their noon luncheons yesterday, a tank, used for refrigeration, in the basement soda fountain, exploded, releasing large quantities of suffocating ammonia gas.

Employes of the fountain were unable to turn off the gas and were rapidly driven to the street by the fumes. Martin Jurist, owner of the fountain, called the Fire Department. Rescue Company 1 responded and firemen armed with gas masks quickly reached the taps and turned off the flow. Fire headquarters reported no one seriously affected.

HINDENBURG VISITS FAMILIAR SCENES

HAS QUIET DAY AT ELTVILLE

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

ELTVILLE-ON-RHINE, Germany, July 21.—Rest, an auto trip and a little quiet hobnobbing with old military friends today filled President von Hindenburg's third day in the Rhineland, which he is spending at the home here of Baron Langwerth von Simmern, former German Commissioner for the Occupied Areas. Two strenuous and exhausting days at Speyer, Mainz and Wiesbaden are over and two in Coblenz, Trier and Aix-la-Chapelle are still to come.

Today the President motored privately to Kreuznach, Imperial Army Staff Headquarters from August, 1916, to February, 1928, and the place where the President lost his wife. When the aged Chief Executive returned to the von Simmern home here at 3 o'clock he was seen surreptitiously to wipe a tear from his eye as he composed himself and prepared to get out of his automobile.

Despite the weariness which was apparent last evening when he had to decline to witness the children's open-air pageant of the freeing of the Rhine at Wiesbaden, the soldier-President arose early this morning and was pacing in the garden awaiting breakfast at 7:15. He returned from Kreuznach for luncheon and then rested. In the evening he dined with a few old friends at the von Simmern home, while the villagers serenaded him with old Rhineland folksongs in the gayly illuminated garden behind the house.

President von Hindenburg will board a specially chartered Rhine steamer here early tomorrow and proceed to Coblenz, where he will arrive before noon. The celebration there will continue until 10:25 P. M., when he will enter a private sleeping car and be carried to Trier.

The von Simmern home, which is the pride of Eltville, is a charming old manor house, which has just been renovated inside. During the occupation it served progressively as local headquarters, an officers' canteen, a soldiers' casino, and lastly a stable. Eltville was part of the Mainz bridgehead area.

ELTVILLE-ON-RHINE, July 21 (AP).—On his auto trip today President von Hindenburg, who was accompanied by his son, Colonel Oscar von Hindenburg, and his host, Baron Langwerth von Simmern, visited Bingen, the Rhenish town in which he joined his regiment to entrain for France at the beginning of the Franco-Prussian War in 1870.

Though the motor trip was of a private character, the President was again the object of clamorous demonstrations of affection by the population of every locality visited.

BERLIN, July 21 (AP).—Frau Kaethe Stresemann, widow of Dr Gustav Stresemann, today sent a telegram of thanks to President von Hindenburg for his public appreciation yesterday of her husband's work toward the liberation of the Rhineland.

The aged President had taken occasion during his triumphal tour to point out at Mainz how much the nation owed to the late Foreign Minister.

"For your kindly remembrance of my dead husband, dear Mr. President, please accept my sincerest thanks," Frau Stresemann telegraphed. The message was signed "Your devoted Kaethe Stresemann."

SCIENTISTS STRESS WORLD PEACE AIM

First International Congress of Bacteriologists Opens in Paris Pasteur Institute.

FOR UNITED AMITY MOVE

Dr. Bordet of Belgium Urges Reawakening of Self-Preservation Objective—Americans to Make Reports

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, July 21.—The aims of science for increasing man's knowledge were associated with the world struggle for peace by speakers at the opening of the first International Microbiological Congress at the Pasteur Institute here today. Attending the congress are delegations from twenty-eight nations, including the United States, Germany, Austria and Soviet Russia, and among the delegates are some of the most prominent bacteriologists in the world.

"This congress has been called," said Professor Bordet, director of the Pasteur Institute of Brussels, who presided, "partly for the purpose of reuniting scientific workers of all nations, the contacts of whom have been interrupted and seriously retarded by the World War. We hope thus to reawaken a sense of profound interest in the welfare of humanity and to renew a consciousness of the imperious necessity of concerted defense against the causes of destruction which threaten it and of the growing need for peoples to adopt the supreme objective of their own preservation and the development of the human kind."

Called by Dr. Roux, director of the Pasteur Institute in Paris, the congress is being held under auspices of the International Microbiological Society, the first aim of which is to work for the ideal of world peace. On the program are addresses to be made by eminent scientists on practical and theoretical problems of microbiology as well as reports on the most recent discoveries in various fields of research.

Such subjects as the prevention and treatment of scarlet fever, discoveries relating to cholera, modern methods of treating tumors, studies on diseases of the blood, and various antitoxins will be discussed at the daily sessions, which opened this afternoon and will continue until July 25.

After the opening ceremonies in the principal assembly hall of the Pasteur Institute this morning the delegates visited the tomb of Pasteur. Then in the afternoon, in four assembly halls, the delegates heard a number of official communications which had been submitted to the congress by authorities and investigators in all parts of the world.

One of the interesting reports made today was that of two British scientists, Dr. Ledingham and Dr. Arkwright, dealing with hereditary variations in bacteria over a long period. They reported variations affecting almost every faculty of bacteria. New developments in the study of these variations, according to the report, have widely increased knowledge of the bacterial cell and have improved the diagnosis, treatment and prevention of infectious diseases.

Tomorrow an American scientist, Dr. A. R. Dochez will report on the relation of hemolytic streptococci to scarlet fever. Besides Dr. Dochez, the American delegation includes Dr. Augustus B. Wadsworth of New York, Dr. William Park of the New York State Laboratories, Dr. Landsteiner, Dr. Rivers and two women bacteriologists, Miss Alice Evans and Miss C. Brandon.

Famous scientists among the other delegations include Dr. Roux and Dr. Calmette of the Pasteur Institute of Paris; Dr. Madzen of Denmark, chairman of the League of Nations hygiene committee; Dr. Winigradsky, whose work in agricultural microbiology has made him world famous; R. MOSCOW OPENS WAR ON FOOD SPOILAGE

CHOOSES A STRATEGIC TIME

By WALTER DURANTY.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

MOSCOW, July 21.—Moscow has become "vegetable-minded." In the short space of two weeks a small trickle of protest in the Workers' Gazette has grown to a torrent of indignation in which Communist party newspapers and the government have joined in demanding vegetables and denouncing the bureaucrats who permit them to spoil.

There have been fifteen arrests of such bureaucrats in Moscow, sixty in Leningrad and dozens more in Kharkof, Kieff, Odessa and other cities.

Communist Youth Pravda, which claims to be read each day by nearly 3,000,000 of Russia's youth, gave its entire front page a few days ago to the "vegetable front," which today wins three vehement half-columns in an editorial on the front page of Pravda, captioned, "There must, there shall be vegetables." And besides there are six closely printed columns of decrees by council commissars, uniqely dealing with the vegetable policy. Less important public prints speak noisily of the "vegetable bacchanalia" and demand action and penalties.

Campaign Well Timed.

Not the least curious phenomenon of Soviet Russia is this use of classic phrases, generally in a somewhat special sense. Thus "bacchanalia" means "dissolute confusion," while it is customary in an obituary of a Bolshevik stalwart to refer to him as a "stoical" fighter for revolution, meaning what we mean by "spartan."

All this fuss and fury, however, are not just accidental. Indeed, the "vegetable campaign" is an admirable example of the workings of internal "Bolshevist" propaganda.

Today there opens in Moscow the annual congress of executives of the All Union Consumers' Cooperative Union, which now is alleged to include 40,000,000 members. The campaign is largely for their benefit, if one may use that word in circumstances which doubtless are driving many of them frantic with anxiety and the ever-present fear of jail or exile.

Subtly and with big drums, public opinion is being worked up to excitement over the untimely loss of a new potato or a strawberry squashed beyond usefulness in transit. Subtly and with big drums, because there are State interests and State purposes involved. On the one hand there is a shortage of meats and fats, which is one of the negative consequences of the successful collectivization campaign; on the other there is a big new drive for collectivization of the nation's vegetable and fruit supply.

Aimed at Truck Farmers.

It is precisely the truck farm regions around Moscow and Leningrad which were least amenable to the collectivization campaign last Winter. Under administrative pressure and "excesses," these farms were nominally collectivized to the extent of 75 per cent, but when Stalin's manifesto made collectivization voluntary the percentage fell to between five and six. Today they are being "attacked" from a new angle through cooperatives, and simultaneously there is being given impetus to a cooperative supply system in general.

Nor is that all. The occasion serves for a thorough housecleaning in all branches of cooperative supply, distribution and sales, which are faulty enough, and of transport, whose shortcomings are graver still. When a Pravda editorial states, as it did today, that "from 30 to 40 or even 70 per cent of the fruit and vegetables consigned to Moscow perish before reaching the consumer," there is obvious need for action.

The whole affair is yet another instance of the "mobilization of opinion to combat a rupture in the front," as the Bolsheviki have called it since the days when they spoke literally and sent out the Red Guard, ill armed and half clad, to repel a Denikin, a Kolchak or a Yudenich.

EDUCATORS PROPOSE CUT IN SCHOOL HOURS

Brussels Congress Also Favors Smaller Classes and Provision for Self-Culture.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BRUSSELS, July 21.—Shorter school hours, less cramming and greater development of individual ability by the encouragement of self-culture in smaller classes were among the recommendations of the twelfth International Congress of Secondary Education which closed here today.

The congress reached a conclusion that in most secondary schools the pupils are overworked. Unfortunately, it was recorded, they are the brilliant pupils who suffer most often, breaking down under the strain of overcharged schedules.

The present-day mentality of children was somewhat severely criticized, and parents were held somewhat to blame. The children of rich parents, it was stated, appear to believe everything will come without any effort on their part.

Thirty pupils, it was recommended, should be the maximum number in any class, and twenty-four hours of instruction a week are sufficient. Other school hours should be devoted to self-culture, it was set forth. Schools should refrain from seeking to control the pupils' movements outside school by imposing obligatory games, it was voted.

Another recommendation was that greater care should be taken to prevent children unfit for secondary education from entering or remaining in the higher grade schools. It was urged that education should tend toward general culture rather than toward amassing knowledge, the definition of culture by Edouard Herriot, former Premier of France, being generally adopted: "That which remains when all that has been learned has been forgotten."

GENEVA WELCOMES COSTA RICAN MOVE

Hopes Vote Favoring Re-Entry Will Bring Attendance at the September Assembly.

By CLARENCE K. STREIT.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

GENEVA, July 21.—The news of the vote in the Costa Rican Congress favoring the re-entry of that country into the League of Nations was received with much pleasure here, especially in Latin American circles. The hope was expressed that President Gonzalez, to whom Congress left the responsibility of deciding the time of the return to Geneva, would act soon enough for Costa Rica to participate in the September Assembly.

The Costa Rican Congress also left it to the President to decide the conditions, if any, of re-entry, and this arouses some wonder here since the League members must accept the covenant as it is, without reservations.

It is understood here that what bothers the Costa Ricans is a fear that League membership might adversely affect their position on questions involving foreign debts. But it is believed that when it is explained that League membership will not be prejudicial to them in such matters the need of reservations will be eliminated. No official communication, however, has yet been received here regarding the re-entry of Costa Rica.

Costa Rica left the League in 1924 over the question of its financial contribution to the League and over the frontier question with Panama, which has been settled. The League Council in 1928, on the motion of Colombia, invited the country to return.

Costa Rica then asked for an interpretation of Article XXI of the Covenant as involving the Monroe Doctrine, and the Council, in a very discreetly worded reply, interpreted the article as not adding or detracting anything in regard to the validity of that doctrine. Costa Rica replied it was satisfied with that interpretation and promised to submit the question of re-entry to Congress.

The Congressional backers of Costa Rica's re-entry held the above interpretation to be a big victory as showing the League was free to intervene in Latin America, and they cited the League's action in the Bolivia-Paraguay dispute as proof of this.

The Costa Rican Congress, it is learned here, voted $20,000 back pay for the contribution to the League.

The re-entry of Costa Rica would be specially welcomed here as increasing the "council timber" in the Caribbean, for, by tacit agreement among the Latin-American members of the League, a place on the Council is reserved for a Caribbean member. Cuba retires from the Council in September and all indications now point to Guatemala being elected in its place.

GOLD STAR NEGROES WELCOMED IN PARIS

Enthusiastic Crowd, Headed by Jazz Orchestra, Greets 54 Widows and Mothers.

"FEEL AT HOME," THEY SAY

Group Will Lay Wreath on Tomb of Unknown Soldier Today and Be Received Officially.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, July 21.—To the strains of Peyton's Negro Jazz Orchestra, which greeted them at the station, fifty-four Negro Gold Star widows and mothers from the United States received one of the most enthusiastic welcomes today yet accorded to any contingent of the Gold Star pilgrimage.

They arrived here from Cherbourg this afternoon. They were brought into Paris by the Invalides Station, where distinguished visitors usually are received, and found a large crowd, including numerous members of the American Negro colony of Paris and many French people, waiting.

At Cherbourg they were greeted by Colonel Richard T. Ellis, American Army officer in charge of the Gold Star pilgrimmage, who made the trip to meet their ship, the American Merchant, contrary to his usual custom in greeting contingents. Their party was headed by Colonel B. O. Davis, Negro army officer and war veteran, and they were accompanied by General Frank B. Cheatham, retired officer, who was in civilian clothes.

"We had a good trip nearly all the way and everybody is in good health and stood the journey well," said Colonel Davis.

American Army officers aided each mother from the train and then when all had reached the platform they marched through the station to its entrance opposite the French Foreign Office. As each mother mounted the steps a purple aster was pinned on her coat by young Negro women from a Montmartre cabaret, which had donated flowers and delegated the committee.

Peyton's Orchestra, which plays at one of the most fashionable Paris restaurants in the Champs-Elysées, played "The Star Spangled Banner" while the mothers stood, and then played "The Marseillaise."

Three large autobuses were waiting, and while the mothers were being seated in these the orchestra played jazz music. One mother remarked that it "made us feel right at home."

Twenty-six members of this group are widows of American Negro war dead and as a whole the women are younger than the average of most of the Gold Star groups which have yet arrived. Among them, however, are several typical gray-haired "mammies," the oldest of whom is 72. All of them were much interested in seeing the Paris buildings and monuments on the trip to their hotel, the Impérator, which is a new, modern hotel in the business district. Two floors of this hotel have been reserved for these women.

Passing through the streets, the women saw the French Foreign Office, the Chamber of Deputies, the Place de la Concorde, and then drove down the Rue de Rivoli past the Tuileries Gardens and the Louvre.

Nurses who came with them from Cherbourg said all were in excellent health. Some of them were seasick on the voyage, but there was no serious illnss. The afternoon was spent in getting located in their rooms and resting, but a number of the party will make a bus tour of Paris tonight.

Tomorrow they will lay a wreath on the tomb of the Unknown Soldier and will be officially greeted by a French Government representative at the Arc de Triomphe in the afternoon and entertained at tea. On Wednesday most of them will leave Paris for a tour to the graves of their sons and husbands in various cemeteries. Some of them will remain in Paris and visit Suresnes Cemetery and the others in two groups will visit the Meuse-Argonne and St. Mihiel cemeteries and then take a battlefield tour. They will return to Paris Aug. 1.

REASSURED ON TIMBER BAN

Commons Hears We Will Give Notice of Any Embargo on Soviet Wood.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, July 21.—The United States Government has assured Great Britain that timely notice will be given before the imposition of any future embargo on Russian timber shipments to the United States, it was stated in the House of Commons today.

The Foreign Secretary, Arthur Henderson, said that a new investigation of Russian labor conditions was being undertaken by the United States Government. Until this investigation, which he estimated would take several weeks, had been concluded, he said, it would be impossible to say whether Russian lumber shipments would be regarded as falling under Section 307 of the United States tariff act forbidding the importation of goods produced wholly or in part by convict labor.

The prospect of having Russian timber cargoes turned back at United States ports has caused considerable anxiety to British shipping men, who have chartered many ships to the Soviet.

SERGIEVSKY BREAKS HIS FLIGHT RECORD

He Ascends in Seaplane 28,000 Feet Carrying a Load of 2,204 Pounds.

ICE FORMS ON PLANE WINGS

Drops Off in Pieces as Flier Descends Into 100 Degrees on River at Bridgeport.

Special to The New York Times.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., July 21.—Bettering his own mark by nearly a mile, Captain Boris Sergievsky soared with 1,000 kilograms (2,204 pounds) to a height of 28,000 feet this afternoon to establish a new record for seaplanes with that weight of dead load. A specially sealed barograph installed in the plane by J. T. V. Heinmuller, official representative of the National Aeronautic Association, was forwarded to the Bureau of Standards in Washington for recalibration to determine the exact footage of the climb.

The flight lasted one hour and seventeen minutes and was in direct contrast to conditions on the surface of the Housatonic River, from which the plane took off. Clad in his heaviest flying suit the pilot strode out on the runway as the others connected with the flight sweltered under a temperature of 100. At 2 o'clock he roared off the water and climbed rapidly.

On landing he said that his altimeters registered more than 28,000 feet, where the temperature was below zero. He reported a fight with ice formations on the windshields and wings of the plane at altitudes much lower where he had to fly through light clouds. He also said that the winds were strong at the higher altitudes.

The record is the fourth established by Captain Sergievsky since March. His former mark for the same category in the official annals is 23,222 feet, made at North Beach, Queens, on March 17. He also holds speed and altitude records in similar planes with loads of 1,000 and 2,000 kilograms.

After establishing his former set of records, Captain Sergievsky consulted with the factory engineers and suggested several changes in the details of the motor accesories and propellers. Replacing the two Hornet 525 horsepower engines with two supercharged Wasps of 450 horsepower each and the installation of two specially designed steel propellers with greater traction, he announced as the outstanding reasons for the superior performance of the plane today.

On the flight he was forced to breathe oxygen to supplement the rarified atmosphere above 19,000 feet, he said. He felt cold at the top of the climb despite the heavy fur lining of his clothing. In the battle with the humidity on the way down the ice cold plane quickly condensed the moisture in the air and his windshield wipers quickly froze to the mica windows while at the same time the plane gained and was upset in weight distribution by ice formations on the wings and tail surfaces.

Fighting to hold it on an even keel the conditions of "blind flying" were thus stimulated and by making a slow descent through the warmer strata of air currents the ice was soon dissipated, falling off in pieces and necessitating new adjustments in the trim of the plane each time it lightened again, he declared.

YANCEY TALKS TO LINER.

Radios to the Majestic From Plane Flying Over Buenos Aires.

BUENOS AIRES, July 21 (AP).—Captain Lewis A. Yancey, American transatlantic aviator, today talked by radio with officers of the steamship Majestic, one day out from Southampton, from an airplane flying at an altitude of 3,500 feet over the airport here.

Captain Yancey spoke for fifteen minutes with Captain Lancaster and Officer White of the Majestic. The transmission was very clear.

In his conversation the American flier said he would return to New York in ten days to complete preparations there for a transatlantic flight in September.

F. T. Gray, editor of The San Francisco Examiner, telephoned today to Captain Yancey while the aviator was flying high above the local airport. The conversation was carried on successfully.

WILL UNITE TO SAVE FORESTS OF STATE

Industrial and Conservation Groups Join Forces at Economic Council Meeting.

NEW PLAN TO BE PREPARED

Both Factions Are Expected to Join in Drawing Up a Program at Lake Placid.

BACKS REFORESTATION ACT

Conservation Council Announces Its Support for Proposed State Constitutional Amendment.

From a Staff Correspondent of The New York Times.

LAKE PLACID, N. Y., July 21.—Groundwork for a new plan for the conservation and utilization of New York State's forest resources was laid here today at a conference of the committee on conservation of the New York State Economic Council.

The meeting brought to light an unexpectedly close approach in the points of view of the groups seeking to safeguard the State forests against encroachment and those advocating the opening of parts of the forest preserves to industrial uses.

From the conservationists came a proposal to permit the relaxing of the prohibitions against commercial use of certain parts of the preserves provided the industrialists submitted to adequate regulation, while from the industrialists came an offer to join with them in framing a plan which would safeguard the public's interest in the woodlands of the State.

The conservation committee will discuss the framing of such a plan at an executive session here tomorrow, with the hope of having a definite program ready for submission to the next session of the Legislature.

Today's meeting brought forth the announcement that the conservation committee would support the amendment to the State Constitution now pending to provide for the reforestation of 1,000,000 acres of land in the State.

The amendment, fathered by State Senator Charles J. Hewitt, would instruct the Legislature to appropriate $20,000,000 to be expended over a period of eleven years for the reforestation work.

State Preserves Would Benefit.

Under the section of the Constitution which would be altered by this amendment such land, when reforested, would automatically become a part of the State forest preserves and as such would not be open for cutting.

The object of the proposed reforestation, however, is to create new timber lands for industrial development.

In order to permit this the amendment further provides that on any land so reforested within the forest preserve counties but outside the Adirondack and Catskill Parks the State may practice scientific forestry, that is, it may cut timber and sell it.

This amendment was approved by the last session of the Legislature. Before it becomes effective it must be approved by the next Legislature and then by the voters. Members of today's conference said they would conduct an educational campaign to acquaint the public with the purpose and effect of the amendment.

Today's discussion of New York's forests had to do with their economic and recreational values. The meeting was presided over by Dean Nelson C. Brown of Syracuse University. The discussion was begun by Merwin K. Hart, president of the New York State Economic Council.

Mr. Hart said that New York State would not hold its ascendancy except by the conscious efforts of the people of the State, and declared that in the future the leading men of the community must devote a considerable part of their time to public affairs.

Forest Safeguarding Described.

William G. Howard, State Superintendent of Forests, told how his department is safeguarding 16,000,000 acres of forest land against fire, disease, insects and timber thieves.

George A. Lawyer, managing director of the New York Development Association, took up the specific proposal to open parts of the State forest to industrial development.

Mr. Lawyer declared that his association had 40,000 members and that they were devoted to the fullest development and protection of the recreational and esthetic values of the State-owned lands in the forest preserve. He contended, however, that under the present stringent provisions of the State Constitution, under which not a single tree in the preserves can be cut, much land unfit or not needed for recreational use is being held out from industrial use.

He recommended that a State survey be made to determine what portions of the forest preserves should be retained inviolate as at present, what parts should be protected in order to regulate rainfall and the rivers, and what parts could be opened to production of lumber and other forest products under proper regulation. He would have such a survey form the basis of any new conservation and forest development program. It was indicated that this survey would be one of the points taken up by the committee in endeavoring to frame a program.

Then Professor Edwin R. A. Seligman, economist of Columbia University and vice president of the Association for the Protection of the Adirondacks, delivered a vigorous address which was taken by the industrialists as bringing the industrial and recreational points of view within reach of an agreement.

Professor Seligman declared that the objects of the economic and the recreational groups were identical, that the industries which depended on the forests must safeguard them for their own future economic welfare. He described the transformation of Spain into a desert waste as the result of the unrestricted denudation of its once rich forest land, with the consequent death of Spain's lumber industry, as well as other economic losses. He contrasted Spain's present condition with that of Germany, Austria and Scandinavia, which have protected their forests and which as a result have not only the forests but flourishing lumber industries.

America, the professor continued, was now emerging from the stage of civilization which allowed complete freedom to the individual industrialist. "We are now," he said, "entering into an era of control in the interests of all."

Years ago, Professor Seligman continued, the Association for the Protection of the Adirondacks succeeded in having adopted a constitutional provision which tied up the forest preserves completely and prohibited the moving of a stick or a stone.

General Enlightenment Is Seen.

"We needed to have a radical measure then," he said, "but we no longer need to be radical, because business men have adopted a different attitude. You forward-looking forest experts and wood companies realize that if things went on as they used to go on there would soon be no forest preserve."

Professor Seligman told how his association had long sought in the Legislature to bring about control by the State of the cutting of timber on privately owned land.

The late Louis Marshall had at first opposed this, because he regarded it as socialistic for the State to dictate what a man should do with his own property, but when the United States Supreme Court upheld the New York rent laws, which restricted the amount a landlord could charge for the use of his property, Mr. Marshall reversed his stand, Mr. Seligman said.

"The association concedes that the tying up of the forests as tightly as we have tied them up cannot be permanent and ought not to be permanent," declared Professor Seligman.

This was greeted with applause from those who were advocating the opening of the State lands. "But," continued Professor Seligman, "before that change comes there must be the recognition on the part of the private owners and the industrial and wood companies that there must be a new policy. When the individual is willing to subject himself to social control in the interest of the whole community we are willing to relax our position, because then we will all be pulling in the same boat."

Texas Companies Are Praised.

Professor Seligman said that there now are companies in Texas farsighted enough to wait 75, 100 and 150 years for their trees to mature before cutting them, in order to safeguard their future supplies, as is done in Europe, and that industrialists in general either must adopt such a policy in good faith or submit to social control.

"When that time comes," he declared, "we will let down the bars, but until that time comes we will never let down the bars, because we know that conditions are such that our forests would suffer that same fate as the forests of Spain."

When Professor Seligman had finished George W. Sisson, president of the Racquette River Paper Company, chairman of the National Wood Utilization Commission and member of the State Conservation Commission, the leader of the industrialist group on the committee, declared his willingness to cooperate in working out a new long-range conservation program.

"We industrialists are changing our rigidity just as you are changing yours," he said. "The large paper and pulp manufacturers today are practicing an intelligent method of cutting in order to safeguard their forest holdings for the future. Under this spirit which you have evinced we are ready to go forward with any plan which may be brought about for the coming together of the economic and social forces for the good of both."

The afternoon session was largely occupied with discussions of ways to stimulate the tourist business in the Adirondacks and Catskills. Ernest Gamache, secretary general of the organization endeavoring to bring the Olympic Winter games to Lake Placid in 1932, asked the support of the committee in a project to have the regulations governing State lanes relaxed so as to allow the building of bobsled runs and ski jumps. This would be accomplished under another amendment to Section 7, Article 7 of the Constitution now pending.

The conference closed tonight with a dinner at the Lakeside Clubhouse which was addressed by President R. E. Sykes of St. Lawrence University, Professor A. B. Recknagel of Cornell University and A. Andrew F. Keley.

Heavy Snow Causes 4 Deaths In Excursion Party in Chile

By The Associated Press.

SANTIAGO, Chile, July 21.—Heavy Winter snow near San Gabriel, about forty-four miles from here, has caused the death of four persons in the wreck of an excursion party. Another was gravely injured.

Extremely cold weather and heavy snowstorms have been reported from Argentina and in the Andes Mountains in the past few weeks. On July 6 many Argentine towns were isolated by a storm, and on July 15 railway traffic was temporarily halted, and new storms were reported on Sunday last.

BIG FASCIST GAINS DUE IN REICHSTAG

Hitlerites Expected to More Than Quadruple Strength in September Elections.

SOCIALIST OUTLOOK GOOD

Party Likely to Retain Its 152 Seats—Centre Weak—Nationalists, Badly Split, the Enigma.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BERLIN, July 21.—Speculation as to the outcome of the balloting for the new Reichstag in September assumes that the National Socialist or Fascist party will more than quadruple its present Parliamentary representation of only twelve mandates, bringing the number of its Deputies up to a possible sixty, which easily would make it the third or second largest group.

Adolf Hitler's party has made such steady gains in local and State elections in the past two years and its organization has been so well galvanized through skillful tactics and an apparent ready flow of funds as to entitle it to an appreciable accretion of strength in the pre-election estimates.

Herr Hitler's following recruits itself chiefly from the younger Right extremist elements, but its dragnet has been more than successful in rounding up malcontents of all bourgeois parties who are convinced that the prevailing economic and social ills are due to the parliamentary system of government and that something akin to a directorate or dictatorship alone can rescue the Fatherland.

Do Not Seek Monarchy.

The German Fascists are not fundamentally opposed to the republic and believe their chances for the abolition of the parliamentary system will be more successfully promoted if they openly renounce any intention of reestablishing the monarchy.

Of the older parties the Socialists alone will again present a united front and in all probability will retain their present representation of 152 seats. Not only is the party's war chest well filled but its campaign machine, in which the powerful German Federation of Labor is an important cog, is primed for exactly the sort of battle which the defeat of Chancellor Bruening's ill-starred bourgeois Cabinet has now forced on the electorate.

Veteran Socialist campaigners are not anticipating any inroads on the party's strength through gains by the Communists, and while the latter are again banking on recruits from Germany's army of more than 2,000,000 unemployed, the more moderate German labor leaders are confidently reckoning on the discipline of the more than 10,000,000 Socialists.

Of the middle parties, both the Democrats and the People's party enter the campaign heavily handicapped. The former has been leaderless and vacillating in the Reichstag since the death of Dr. Stresemann, while the Democrats appear destined to continue their performance of successive losses in recurring elections. They entered the first Reichstag under the republic in 1920 with seventy-five Deputies, which number was cut down two-thirds in the election of 1928. The Catholic Centrist party should return in its habitual strength of about sixty Deputies.

Nationalists Badly Split.

The only enigma presented in the present forecasts is suggested in the future realignment of the various National groups. While Dr. Hugenberg will lead the remnants of his old party into the fray—he now has less than thirty followers, compared to the seventy-eight elected in 1928—in complete defiance of the secessionists lead by Count Westarp and Captain Treviranus, it is the whereabouts of this floating Nationalist element in the recurring multiplicity of parties on the coming ballot that provokes lively speculation.

There are no less than four Nationalist groups among the deserters from the Hugenberg camp, which combined would nominally control about 4,000,000 votes. On the outcome of conferences now in progress depends the formation of a new moderate Conservative party, to be led by Count Westarp and Captain Treviranus, which would largely recruit itself from the agrarian voters. Its definite formation would have the financial backing of the powerful Land League and if it enters the campaign with a united front it would constitute a serious competitor to Dr. Hugenberg's reactionary group in that it would absorb the bulk of the voters who far the past ten years have been the mainstay of the Nationalist party.

This eventuality is already so generally conceded that a defensive election pool between Dr. Hugenberg and Herr Hitler is visualized as a campaign eventuality.

Chancellor Bruening is now awaiting the return of President von Hindenburg and several Cabinet members from the Rhineland before making public his extra-parliamentary government program under the emergency provisions of Article 48 of the Federal Constitution.

been indicted previously in connection with false entries in reports concerning the bank's funds and false reports to the Controller of the Currency.

Charges in Indictments.

According to the indictments, Muehling knowingly allowed Casner and Ongaro to speculate in stock, which is a violation of banking laws; Siebrecht, Allen, Graff, Link, Ongaro and Casner conspired to speculate in stock of the Bank of America and to use and misapply funds of the Long Island National Bank, and to alter the books for that purpose; they added fictitious notes to the assets of the bank and forged the name of William Pulz, a depositor, to a note for $14,900 April 11, 1928, and charged it to the demand loan account; they were to convert shares of Bank of America National Association into other stocks and take the profits themselves.

Other indictments charged Ongaro, Siebrecht, Wagner, Allen and Graff with misapplying $150,000 of the bank's funds for speculation for their individual profit. Ongaro, Allen and Wagner were charged with making a false report on April 12, 1928, to swell the resources of the bank by $85,514. Several other indictments charged officials and employes of the Long Island National Bank wtih making fictitious notes and misapplying funds derived from them, and with aiding in the frauds.

Hanson and Mott were mentioned in the indictments as selling $500,000 worth of forged notes that they received from Miller and discounted them before August, 1929.

Miller was indicted for using the mails to defraud. His and Hanson's cases have been in the Brooklyn Federal Court for some time.

Hanson Is Awaiting Sentence.

Hanson, a short time ago, pleaded guilty to two counts of a long indictment against him and is awaiting sentence. Miller and Hanson will be arraigned in Brooklyn this morning, and the others will plead to their indictments on Monday.

Mr. Ameli said William Douglas Miller exacted bonuses on alleged promissory notes of members of the New York Stock Exchange and sent to the Bellport and Elmhurst National Banks what purported to be new notes, but which really were fraudulent. He added:

"J. R. Espinosa, accountant of the Department of Justice, did remarkable work in running down the difficult angles of the frauds."

KING GEORGE RECEIVES WORLD LAWMAKERS

LONDON, July 21 (AP).—The leading delegates of all the nations attending the Interparliamentary Union conference were received at Buckingham Palace by King George today.

In the throne room, where important receptions are held, the King greeted them after their introduction by the Duke of Sutherland, president of the conference.

At the morning session of the conference, at which the theme was "The Present Evolution of the Parliamentary System," a striking reference to the present Egyptian troubles was made by Professor Makram Ebeid, former Egyptian Minister to France. He said that in his country "a heroic, though pathetic, struggle is now raging between a disarmed democracy and a brutal autocracy." The struggle, he added, had already led to the shedding of innocent blood in Alexandria, Mansourah and elsewhere in Egypt.

"The Egyptian people, goaded beyond endurance," the professor said, "are defending their constitutional liberty at the price of their blood. The reactionaries, however, would do well to remember that parliamentarism in Egypt is a creed that has come to stay."

Dr. Paul Loebe, president of the German Reichstag, who arrived in London last night, following the stormy finish of the session of the German parliamentary body, told the delegates the latest crisis in his country was "just a German symptom of the international political crisis, which manifests itself in Poland and Finland and also in the difficulties of the British Cabinet."

Dr. Loebe said he was sure the forthcoming general election would show the intention of Germany to uphold the parliamentary government.

RED SENTENCED TO JAIL.

Civil Liberties Union Man Fined in Newark Test Case.

Saul Stark, Elizabeth (N. J.) Communist, was fined $25 and sentenced to ten days in jail, and Alexander W. Taylor, publicity director of the American Civil Liberties Union, was fined $25 on charges of loitering and interfering with an officer by Judge Nicholas Albano in Newark police court yesterday.

The two men were arrested Wednesday night when the Civil Liberties Union and the International Labor Defense attempted to hold a meeting in Newark to test the right of free speech. In finding the men guilty, Judge Albano said that the Constitution guaranteed the right of lawful assembly, but that this assembly was unlawful because it interfered with traffic.

On the charge of "interfering with an officer," the testimony against Taylor was that he "wiggled his shoulders" when placed under arrest. Against Stark it was testified that he continued to shout to the crowd after being placed in a patrol wagon.

The convictions will be appealed.

Nash value greater than ever

EIGHTS and SIXES

Recent developments stress the fact that Nash gives more for the money

Amid all new claims and counterclaims, one fact stands out as clear and as strong as sunlight.

That is the unmistakably greater value which you get when you buy a Nash.

No other car at anywhere near the Nash price affords the pronounced advantages of Nash—including such features as twin ignition, with its greater power, speed, smoothness, and saving of oil and gas.

Such a feature as twin ignition is highly important—but it is even more important as indicative of the superior engineering and in-built value which distinguish every Nash car.

You know Nash beauty. You may be familiar with Nash performance; Nash comfort and convenience; Nash thorough-going quality. But until you compare what the Nash is and what it does with the remarkably low cost at which it may be purchased today—you cannot appreciate its wholly unexampled value. Come in and drive a Nash today.

MISS HANSEN WED TO HAROLD CLAYTON

SISTER IS HONOR MATRON

Reception Is Held at Sound Beach Home and Wedding Supper Is Served on Lawn.

Special to The New York Times.

GREENWICH, Conn., July 21.—Miss Anna Hansen, daughter of John Hansen of Greenwich, and Harold Clayton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Clayton of Port Chester, were married this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the First Presbyterian Church of Greenwich. The Rev. James T. Oastler, the pastor, officiated.

The bride was gowned in white lace over satin, with tulle veil caught up with orange blossoms. She carried a bridal bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Theodore Hall, sister of the bride, as matron of honor, was attired in orchid net over satin, and wore a horsehair hat to match her gown.

The bridesmaids were the Misses Emma and Florence Andersen of Newtown, Conn., nieces of the bride. Harry Fisher of Port Chester, N. Y., was best man. The ushers were Charles Hansen and William Hansen of Greenwich, brothers of the bride, and Albion Beal of Mount Vernon, N. Y.

A reception for the bridal party and seventy guests followed the ceremony at the new home of Mr. Hansen at Toppinta Point, Sound Beach. A wedding supper was served on the lawn under a canopy in apple green and white. The table at which the couple and guests were seated was in the shape of a horse shoe. Souvenirs consisted of miniature wedding slippers, with forget-me-nots and pink roses attached.

Mr. Clayton is with the Rye National Bank.

Stockton—Barrett.

Special to The New York Times.

PRINCETON, N. J., July 21.—Miss Elizabeth Barrett, daughter of the late Nicholas H. Barrett and Mrs. Mary C. Barrett, of Trenton, was married today to Richard Finch Stockton, son of Colonel and Mrs. Richard Stockton Jr., of Trenton. The wedding took place at 4 o'clock at the home of the bride's mother, and the ceremony was performed by the Rev. George W. Abel, pastor of the Broad Street Park Methodist Church.

The bride was attended by Miss Rosalie Oakerson as maid of honor. Mr. Stockton's best man was Edward L. Wolf of Battle Creek, Mich. A small reception followed.

After a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Stockton will live at Bloomington, Ill., where Mr. Stockton is in business.

Second Daughter to Mrs. Doane.

A second daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Roland D. Doane of Allentown, Pa., on July 17 in Allentown. Mrs. Doane is the former Miss Rosalind Laimbeer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Laimbeer of 50 East Eightieth Street. The child will be named Jocelyn.

MISS MARIE COUDERT BRENNIG.

MISS MARIE BRENNIG ENTERS BUSINESS LIFE

Daughter of Mrs. William M. D. de Peyster Is to Open Her Shop, 'Wedding Embassy,' Today.

Miss Marie Coudert Brennig, a member of several prominent families of this city and a débutante of several seasons ago, will enter a professional business career with the opening today of a shop to be known as "Wedding Embassy," of which she will be proprietor. The store is at 32 East Fifty-seventh Street and is equipped as an authoritative bridal service that will arrange all details pertinent to a wedding, from the issuance of invitations to the complete costuming of the prospective bride and her attendants.

Until recently Miss Brennig had acted as "bridal secretary" for two Fifth Avenue stores, in which capacity she supervised the wedding gowns of nearly 400 New York brides. Her own business, just started, will include, besides the details of dress, a service embracing arrangements for the church and its decorations, wedding reception, music, and even data on wedding trip itineraries.

The shop will be formally opened with a reception this afternoon.

Miss Brennig is a daughter of Mrs. William Moore Dongan de Peyster and granddaughter of the late Charles Coudert, one of the founders of the international law firm of Coudert Bros. Her father, who died some time ago, was Baron Beno Frederick Brennig, a member of an old Austrian family. Miss Brennig is a niece of the late Duchess de Choiseul who received the Croix de Guerre for humanitarian work during the World War. She is a sister of Mrs. Peter R. Lawson, Mrs. Frank C. Henry Jr. of Perth Amboy, N. J.; B. Frederic, Jerome and Charles Coudert Brennig. She is a niece also of Mrs. J. Victor Onativia Jr. and Mrs. Frank Glaenzer, now living in Paris.

Miss Brennig's mother at the time of her marriage to Mr. de Peyster in 1912, also was in business as head of the cigarette firm known as A. C. Brennig, with offices at 501 Fifth Avenue.

COURT WOULD OUST TOOLEN

Jersey Jury Commissioner Wins Right to Job on Technicality.

Special to The New York Times.

TRENTON, N. J., July 21.—As it sustained the legal right of Martin J. Toolen to the office of Bergen County Jury Commissioner, the Supreme Court suggested today that the attention of Governor Larson be called to Toolen's admission that, although a Democrat, he voted in two Republican primaries. An opinion by Chief Justice Gummere said: "The Governor has full power to remove Toolen from his office without a hearing.

"The fact that the Governor appointed a criminal as a Jury Commissioner [of course, being ignorant that he was so doing when he made the appointment] does not make the appointment illegal; for when it was made the defendant [Toolen] had not been convicted of the crime of which he now admits himself to have been guilty."

Mort L. O'Connell, the former Jury Commissioner, challenged Toolen's right to the office. Toolen admitted voting in the Republican primaries of 1927 and 1928, but insisted that he was a member of the Democratic party.

LOUISE P. GUNNING TO WED PAUL DANA

WEDDING IN SEPTEMBER

Fiance, a Graduate of Williams, Served Overseas as an Artillery Officer During World War.

Mrs. Frederick H. Gunning of Pinehurst, N. C., formerly of Scarsdale, N. Y., has announced the engagement of her daughter, Miss Louise Popham Gunning, to Paul Dana of Pinehurst.

Miss Gunning was graduated from the Mary A. Burnham School in Northampton, Mass. Mr. Dana is a son of the late Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Stephen Winchester Dana of Philadelphia, where Dr. Dana was pastor of the Walnut Street Presbyterian Church for forty-two years. He was also for several years president of the New England Society of Pennsylvania and a director of the Union Theological Seminary of New York.

Mr. Dana was graduated from the William Penn Charter School in Philadelphia and from Williams College. He is a member of the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity, the Williams senior society of Gargoyle and the Williams Club of this city. During the World War Mr. Dana served overseas as an artillery officer and later was in Central Europe with the American Relief Administration under Herbert Hoover. He is now in business in Pinehurst.

The wedding will take place in September in Scarsdale.

Other Engagements

John Tierney of Saratoga Succeeds D. J. Ryan at Sing Sing.

Special to The New York Times.

OSSINING, N. Y., July 21.—Sing Sing officials announced today that John Tierney has been appointed parole officer for the prison to succeed the late Daniel J. Ryan.

Mr. Tierney is 29 years old and a resident of Saratoga, N. Y. Although appointed by the State Board of Parole of which Judge Irving Goldsmith of Saratoga is chairman, he will work under supervision of Warden Lewis E. Lawes.

MISS HELEN BURTON TO WED ON AUG. 30

Her Marriage to Robert B. Pierce to Take Place at Home of Her Parents at Gedney Farms.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold William Burton of Gedney Farms have issued invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Helen Wells Burton, to Robert Bell Pierce, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hall Pierce of Milford, Del., on Aug. 30.

The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Harry Reiley at the home of the bride's parents. The ceremony will be followed by a small reception.

Miss Jacqueline Burton will be her sister's only attendant. Howard Mason of Milford, Del., will be the best man.

The bride-to-be is a graduate of St. John's Academy. Mr. Burton was graduated from the University of Florida.

Other Wedding Plans

Foster—Hawks.

Special to The New York Times.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., July 21.—Miss Julia Foster, daughter of Judge and Mrs. Carl Foster of 2,440 North Avenue, will become the bride of Marshall Hawks on next Saturday at the home of her parents. Only the immediate members of the families of the couple will attend. The Rev. Dr. Alexander Alison of the First Presbyterian Church will officiate.

Miss Foster will have as her maid of honor Miss Elizabeth Foster. Miss Delia Foster, another sister, and Miss Katherine Hawks, sister of the bridegroom, will be bridesmaids. Sheldon Foster, brother of the bride, will be Mr. Hawks's best man. After their wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Hawks will make their home in Oklahoma City, Okla.

Miss Foster studied music at Curtis School of Music in Philadelphia and in Florence, Italy. She is a member of the Service Club, the Junior League and the Wednesday Musical Club. Mr. Hawks is a graduate of Union College.

SOUTHAMPTON, L. I., July 21.—Music lovers at Southampton will have an opportunity to hear two young artists of the Little Theatre Opera Company on Thursday afternoon, July 31, at 4 o'clock, at the Moorings, the Summer home of Mrs. Robert Franklin Adams.

William Hain, leading tenor of the company, also known in broadcasting, and Miss Fern Bryson, a prominent young dramatic soprano who was graduated from the Cincinnati College of Music, will give the program.

The program is being arranged by Mrs. George Barton French, a member of the women's committee of the opera company. Mrs. Adams, the hostess, will be assisted by a group of young women headed by Miss Virginia Thaw.

Mrs. Albert F. Jaeckel gave a luncheon today at her Main Street home. Luncheon hostesses at the Beach Club included Mrs. Charles Henry Mellon and Miss Marion De Rham.

Delancey Nicoll has arrived for the season at his lakefront home, Windymere, after a Western trip of several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel E. Pomeroy are occupying for another season one of Charles Blair MacDonald's houses in the Shinnecock Hills.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Rogers, who returned recently from Europe, are visiting Mrs. Rogers's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Shelton E. Martin, at Valley Brook, Peapack, N. J., and will arrive on Wednesday at Honeysuckle Cottage, their home in the Shinnecock Hills.

A subscription dance for junior members of the colony will be held at the Southampton Riding and Hunt Club on Thursday evening under the direction of Mrs. T. Markoe Robertson.

The Suffolk Hounds will meet at the Riding and Hunt Club on Saturday for the second drag hunt of the season.

William Thaw III arrived at the Sebonac Yacht Club last evening on his yacht Aurora. Mr. and Mrs. Thaw and their daughter, Miss Virginia Thaw, are occupying San Souci cottage this season.

Edmund P. Rogers has returned to the Street house for another Summer with his sons, Edmund Jr. and Howard Elliott Rogers.

Mrs. Henry M. Polhemus gave a bathing party today for her children, Lisa and Martin. The Polhemus cottage is on Lake Agawam.

Miss Louise Whiteham of Chattanooga has returned to New York after spending the week-end with Miss Dorothy Schieffelin at Plas-Mor-Weryd. Arriving Wednesday from Newport to visit Miss Schieffelin will be Mrs. Post of New York and Boston.

The annual junior tennis tournaments have been posted at the Meadow Club. Entries for all four cups will close on Wednesday and play will begin on Saturday. The finals in each tournament must be played by Sept. 15.

DANCING TEACHERS MEET.

Normal School Head Urges the Art for the "Tired Business Man."

Dancing for the "tired business man" was recommended yesterday by Fred W. Kehl, principal of the thirteenth annual normal school of the Dancing Masters of America, Inc., which opened yesterday for a four-weeks' course at the Hotel Commodore. More than 200 teachers of dancing, mostly young women, from all parts of the country and Canada are attending the school.

"The tired business man cannot forget his worries at the theatre," said Mr. Kehl, who will be 68 years old next month, "and dancing will tend to drive all his troubles away. Dancing not only brings him the charm of dancing partners but it will quicken his circulation and bring every muscle of the body into play. My advice to the tired business man is: 'Dance and stay young and forget your troubles'."

Practicing With Kozeluh, Tilden Injures Ankle; Doctors Say He Will Play

TILDEN HURTS ANKLE IN PRACTICE MATCH

U. S. Ace Injured in Drill With Kozeluh—Doctors Say He Will Be Able to Play.

STAR MINIMIZES ACCIDENT

HOPES TO BRING BACK CUP

French Not Surprised at His Selection for Davis Cup Play—Cochet, Borotra in Workout.

By The Associated Press.

PARIS, July 21.—After eleven years William T. Tilden stands tonight as the brightest single hope the United States has to regain the Davis Cup from the French in the challenge round opening here on Friday.

After surmounting the difficulties that arose through his writings for an American newspaper syndicate, the Davis Cup committee named Tilden to the No. 1 rôle in the singles play, only to have Tilden, who accepted "against my wishes and despite my better judgment," turn an ankle this afternoon in practice. Late this evening, however, doctors decided after consultation that America's premier player would be fit for the opening of the series.

"In 1919, with Bill Johnston, I went to Australia and brought back the Davis Cup," Big Bill told The Associated Press as soon as the doctors' verdict was announced.

"It is my fondest hope to bring it back to the United States after eleven years and then, believe me, some one else can defend it. I am through."

Official Notice Received.

Early in the day official notice came from New York that America's No. 1 ranking player for the past ten years had been selected for the task of regaining the cup he helped win in the first place. That settled the issue for a few hours.

Then, later in the afternoon, while practicing with Karel Kozeluh, Czech professional, Tilden turned his ankle, limped away to a waiting automobile, and the big question mark in world tennis was again unanswered. Tonight Big Bill's name was on the list of players supplied by team Captain Fitz-Eugene Dixon to the French Tennis Federation as one of the members of the team and doctors and masseurs worked over the ankle that just now was drawing more attention than any other limb in the world.

The first diagnosis of the injury was that it was slight and that Tilden would be able to play in the opening matches Friday.

Selection Was Expected.

The announcement that Tilden had been selected for the team after his vigorous statement that he would not play because of his contract with an American newspaper syndicate came only as a mild surprise to the French tennis public, which had been expecting it for several days. Later, when those watching practice at the Roland Garros Stadium saw Tilden go after a high lob from Kozeluh's racquet, slip, fall and writhe in pain, they were more skeptical.

Some unkind watchers among the French fans went so far as to say that Tilden, after winning his victory in the committee rooms and having selection to the team presented to him on a silver platter by the United States Lawn Tennis Association, would weep no bitter tears if prevented by accident from trying conclusions on the courts again with his old nemesis, Henri Cochet.

The Associated Press correspondent accompanied Tilden from the courts to the waiting automobile, and he can vouch for the fact that Big Bill's ankle was swollen and that he seemed genuinely distressed. He minimized the possibility that he would be unable to play and insisted that he would be able to resume practice Wednesday.

France Names Its Team.

In the meantime the team as presented to the French stands as Tilden, George Lott, Wilmer Allison and John Van Ryn. France will pin its faith for the cup defense on Cochet, its ace, Jean Borotra, Jacques Brugnon and Christian Boussus.

Boussus and Brugnon are France's doubles alternates and will be used against the American combination of Allison and Van Ryn on the second day unless France loses both singles Friday. If that happens, Cochet and Borotra, who will carry the singles burden, will also play doubles. France is all but conceding victory to Allison and Van Ryn in the doubles anyway.

Cochet and Borotra had their first practices at the Roland Garros Stadium today since returning from Wimbledon and both were impressive. Cochet's rest apparently has done him much good.

"Is Mr. Allison going to play singles for America?" he asked. He seemed disappointed when informed that Tilden and Lott had been selected for the singles.

Both Cochet and Borotra have been practicing away from Paris, tuning their games to the highest pitch.

Pendleton and Anderson Trail In Track Meet at Stockholm

STOCKHOLM, July 21 (AP).—Two of America's track and field athletes met defeat in the second of a three-day international meet here today.

C. Pendleton of the United States finished third to the German sprinters, H. Koerning and Erwin Gillmeister, in the 200-meter dash. The time was 0:21 7-10.

In the 120-yard high hurdles Sten Peterson of Sweden defeated Steven Anderson of the University of Washington in a close finish, with E. Sjoestedt of Finland third. The time was 0:15 1-10.

MRS. STENZ GAINS IN CLAY COURT PLAY

The heat exacted a heavy toll from the contestants yesterday as play got under way on the courts of the Jackson Heights Tennis Club in the second annual New York State clay court tennis championship for women with a field of thirty-two entered.

Although the thermometer in the clubhouse showed 91 degrees, that on the courts registered as high as 101. Most of the matches were repeatedly interrupted by the players calling time out and refreshing themselves with cold drinks and frequent dousings.

Miss Anna Alarcon of the New York Tennis Club was so exhausted after dropping the first set of her match with Mrs. Rose Taubele at 2—6 and running up a 3—2 lead in the second set that she had to stop and default to her opponent. Mrs. H. S. Schnitser of Belleville, N. J., played three bitterly contested sets with Mrs. Gwendolen J. Burt, losing by a 6—4, 0—6, 6—3 score, and then collapsed in the clubhouse. She was revived by restoratives.

The four seeded stars of the tournament won their matches in such quick order that the heat did not trouble them. Mrs. Bernard F. Stenz, Florida State champion, who tops the draw, advanced with a 6—1, 6—0 victory over Mrs. Theodore De M. Johnson; Miss Norma Taubele, Eastern and New Jersey State titleholder, No. 2 in the draw, conquered Mrs. Frank Tweddell in love sets; Miss Caroline Roberts, third seeded star, vanquished Mrs. Ernest O'Rourke, 6—1, 6—2, and Miss Grace Surber, No. 4 seeded player, defeated Miss Ruth McCabe of Los Angeles, 6—2, 6—1.

Miss Surber was a last-minute entry, taking the place originally assigned to Mrs. Mary L. Keller, who withdrew.

THE SUMMARIES.

Mrs. Elizabeth Rebold defeated Miss Alice Rubin, 6—1, 6—1; Miss Helen Hawes defeated Mrs. Elizabeth M. Thompson, 6—0, 8—6; Miss Grace Surber defeated Miss Ruth McCabe, 6—2, 6—1; Miss Clara Stenz defeated Miss Gladys Carter, 6—4, 6—1; Mrs. Bernard F. Stenz defeated Mrs. Theodore de M. Johnson, 6—1, 6—0; Mrs. Rose Taubele defeated Miss Anna Alarcon, 6—2, 2—3, default; Mrs. Perry Bannerman defeated Mrs. John Milliken, 6—1, 6—0; Miss Caroline Roberts defeated Mrs. Ernest O'Rourke, 6—1, 6—2.

Mrs. William H. Pritchard defeated Mrs. Dorothy Payton, 6—0, 6—1; Mrs. Gwendolen J. Burt defeated Mrs. H. S. Schnitser, 6—4, 0—6, 6—3; Miss Helen Gerkin defeated Miss Isobel Kelly, 6—2, 6—2; Miss Mary E. Bingham defeated Mrs. L. Cremonian, 6—4, 7—5; Miss Norma Taubele defeated Mrs. Frank Tweddell, 6—0, 6—0; Miss Jean Travers defeated Mrs. Iveagh Lewis, 2—6, 6—3, 6—4; Miss Marjorie Colvin defeated Miss Bobby Gundlach, 4—6 6—4, 8—6; Miss Dorothy Rand defeated Miss Jean Chamberlaine 6—1, 6—2.

KABACOFF ADVANCES IN JUNIOR NET PLAY

East Orange Youth Eliminates Haskell in Title Pennsylvania Tourney.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, July 21.—Lester Kabacoff of East Orange, N. J., was among the winners in the opening rounds of the junior Pennsylvania State tennis tournament today at the Cynwyd courts. The North Jersey youth battled twenty games before eliminating Charles Haskell, Lower Merion, in the opening set, 11—9, but took the next, 6—3. The boys' State play also opened today.

Warren Munger, Exeter Academy, also advanced to the second round by disposing of Bayard Goslin of Cheltenham High in two love sets.

THE SUMMARIES.

Jones, Union, averaged 44.25 in Class D, division 1; Ross Maddocks, Cambridge, Mass., traveled 42.11 miles per hour in Class C, division 3 and Miss Mildred Hickey, Shrewsbury, Mass., bettered her own previous time with the average of 42.55 in Class C, division 2.

HUNTER VANQUISHES NOYES IN TWO SETS

VINES DEFEATS BURWELL

Californian Advances by Score of 6-4, 4-6, 6-3—J. Seligson Defaults Owing to Illness.

By ALLISON DANZIG.

At the end of the third day of competition in the metropolitan turf court tennis championship, a day that saw Julius Seligson default owing to illness and Frank Hunter dispose of Selden Noyes in love sets, eighteen players were left in the running for the title at the Crescent A. C. in Bay Ridge, Brooklyn, yesterday.

Considering the torrid heat and the fact that some of the contestants were called on for two performances, it was notable that play ran true to form in every instance, though several of the favorites at times had something else to think of besides the weather.

David Jones of Columbia had cause to take counsel with himself when he had lost the first set to Harold Valentine; Phil Neer of California was in difficulties for a time against Weller Evans; Edward Burns of the home club was carried to three sets by Ernest Kuhn, victor over Edward Tarangioli on Sunday, and Donald Cram of Nashville, Tenn., dropped the opening chapter to Reginald Talmadge of Brooklyn.

The most impressive tennis of the day was furnished by Hunter. The New Rochelle veteran had his forehand primed for swift execution, and, had he been put on his mettle, probably would have given a good account of himself against any player in the courts.

Noyes can play better tennis than he put forth in this match, but nervousness settled him at the outset and Hunter's overpowering smashes never gave him a chance to collect his forces. In hardly more than twenty minutes the play was over, with Hunter in possession of twelve successive games.

The match that held the most interest saw Ellsworth Vines, California junior, defeat Ted Burwell of Charlotte, N. C., at 6—4, 4—6, 6—3. In the first two sets the play was of a high order, with Vines excelling in the backhand and in service until his control faltered and his fast forehand let him down.

Burwell, whose service got him off to a bad start almost invariably, pulled out the second set with his carefully measured strokes in spite of the fact that the breaks were against him on net cord shots, on which Vines scored at least half a dozen times. In the final chapter both youths went into a slump, partly caused by the heat. Each had lost his service game repeatedly. Vines finally interrupted the procedure to "break through" his own delivery and win the match.

THE SUMMARIES.

First Round.

Henry Cullen defeated Harold Blue, 2—6, 9—7, 6—3; Donald Cram defeated James M. Greer, 8—6, 6—2; E. W. Feibleman defeated William O'Loughlin, 6—0, 6—2; Harold Valentine won from Valentine Gress by default; Dr. H. G. Harwitt won from Julius Seligson by default; Jack Tidball defeated Gustave Boesmer Jr., 6—3, 6—4.

S. SELIGSON LOSES IN JUNIOR TENNIS

Seeded No. 1 Player Bows in Upset to Bromfield, 6-3, 6-4—Palmer Beats Bassford.

Despite terrific heat, a representative field in the Long Island Centre junior and boys' tennis tourney made great strides by filling two semi-finalist positions in the boys' singles and seven of the eight quarter-finalists in the junior division yesterday as play started at the West Side Tennis Club of Forest Hills.

No sooner had the competition begun than a major reversal of form was recorded as Sidney Seligson, brother of the former intercollegiate champion and seeded first in the junior singles, was eliminated, 6—3, 6—4, by William Bromfield, youthful Jackson Heights Tennis Club performer. The upset came in the second round after Seligson had advanced through a bye and Bromfield had defeated Emanuel Morris of James Madison High School, 6—0, 6—4.

Ray Palmer, Long Island junior, came through two matches to reach the quarter-final round bracket. In his second match he turned back Henry Bassford Jr. of Scarsdale, N. Y., 6—2, 6—4. Palmer held to a fiery pace with pounding strokes and excellent net-play. He let down occasionally to exchange drives from back court, but always returned when the occasion warranted it with a battering attack.

THE SUMMARIES:

Junior Singles.

First Round—William Bromfield defeated Emanuel Morris, 6—0, 6—4; E. Ramey Donovan defeated August Ganzenmuller, 6—1, 6—0; Emanuel Albano won from Bromley Klein by default; Giles Verstraten defeated Thomas Flynn, 6—3, 6—2; Roy Smith defeated Edwin D. Ashton, 6—0, 6—1; James Goodwin defeated Herbert Scoville, 6—4, 6—1; Dennan Fowler won from Alfred Alter by default; Ray Palmer defeated John Anderson, 6—0, 6—1; Henry Bassford Jr. defeated Emanuel Klauser, 6—3, 6—1; Julian Wishik defeated Arnold Bennett, 6—0, 6—2; Harold Gerkin defeated Daniel Freedman, 6—4, 6—2; Jack Laimbeer defeated Clarence Dauphinot, 6—3, 6—1; Sidney Seligson, Morris Adelsburg and Eugene Roth drew byes.

Second Round—Bromfield defeated Seligson, 6—3, 6—4; Donovan defeated Albano, 6—3, 2—6, 6—0; Verstraten defeated Goodwin, 6—4, 6—1; Smith defeated Fowler, 6—3, 6—3; Palmer defeated Bassford, 6—2, 6—4; Wishik defeated Gerkin, 6—4, 6—2; Adelsburg defeated Roth, 6—2, 6—1.

Boys' Singles.

First Round—Richard Gilder won from Bertrand Kohlman by default; Marvin Freudenheim defeated Eugene Mickerson, 6—0, 6—1; rest of field drew byes.

Second Round—Ernest Fernandez defeated Gordon Patterson, 5—7, 6—1, 6—4; Bruce Burt defeated Joseph Merkle, 6—3, 3—6, 7—5; Gilder defeated John Mahoney, 6—3, 6—1; Freudenheim defeated Henry Meyer, 6—0, 6—1; Ralph Taylor defeated Charles E. Rockwell, 6—1, 6—2; Schuyler H. Nickerson won from Joseph Abrams by default; John W. Dietz won from Harold Turner by default.

Quarter-final Round—Gilder defeated Burt, 6—3, 3—6, 6—3; Dietz defeated Nickerson, 6—1, 9—7.

Shamrock V Starts Anew for Cup Races; Voyage to Newport Will Last About a Month

By The Associated Press.

FALMOUTH, Eng., July 21.—Shamrock V, Sir Thomas Lipton's fifth and probable final hope of recapturing the America's Cup, today embarked on her great adventure in American waters.

The challenger, proud and beautiful despite the cropping of her mast to meet rugged weather conditions during her voyage of approximately a month, passed the Lizard, outermost point on her path, at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon and shaped her course for the open sea.

In the fresh northwesterly wind, she made good time. All on board were reported well.

The Shamrock V slipped out of Brixham, Devon, soon after dawn to resume the voyage which storms had delayed on Saturday.

Her destination is Newport, Rhode Island. The Cup races will be sailed off the New England Coast in September.

MRS. HARPER WINS TWO NET MATCHES

Gains Third Round in Essex Club Play by Beating Miss Le Boutillier, Miss Zinke.

Special to The New York Times.

MANCHESTER, Mass., July 21.—The first round was completed and part of the second was played in the sixth annual women's invitation tennis tournament at the Essex Country Club today. Although rain started shortly before 5 o'clock, eight players advanced to the third round.

The tournament brings together fifteen of the first twenty leading players in the country, with only three of the first ten missing, Mrs. Helen Wills Moody, Miss Helen Jacobs and Miss Eleanor Goss.

Even without these three, the tournament promises to be one of the best of the year. The feature today was the appearance of the Wightman Cup players, who arrived last night from England. Neither Miss Edith Cross nor Miss Sarah Palfrey, seeded first and second respectively, appeared on the courts today, although Miss Cross advanced to the second round by default.

Rain Halts Miss Greef.

Miss Mary Greef, substitute on the Wightman Cup team, was preparing for her first match with Miss Rosamond Newton when rain started to fall.

Mrs. Lawrence A. Harper of California, who is seeded third and who won the Longwood event last week, defeated Miss Florence Le Boutillier of New York and Miss Clara Louise Zinke of Cincinnati to enter the third round. Miss Zinke, by steady playing, carried the country's fifth ranking star to 6—4, 6—4.

Other players to reach the third round were Miss Marjorie Gladman, Miss Eleonora Sears, Miss Ethel Burkardt, Mrs. J. Dallas Corbiere, Miss Virginia Hilleary, Miss Virginia Rice and Miss Edith Sigourney. Not one of them had to go an extra set, although Miss Gladman encountered strong opposition from Miss Marjorie Sachs, whom she conquered in the first intercollegiate final last year.

Tied at Set Each.

Miss Margaret Blake and Miss Dorothy Weisel, California State champion, were at 1—set all, while Mrs. Ary Lamme and Miss Josephine Cruickshank, intercollegiate champion, were also in the third set of their match when rain halted the play.

THE SUMMARIES.

First Round.

Mrs. L. A. Harper defeated Miss Florence Le Boutillier, 6—0, 6—1; Miss Clara Louise Zinke defeated Mrs. Herbert Yerxa, 6—1, 6—0; Miss Josephine Cruickshank defeated Miss Dorothy Blodgett, 6—0, 6—1; Mrs. Ary Lamme defeated Miss Mary Z. Bremer, 7—5, 6—2; Miss Alice Thorndyke won by default from Mrs. W. Endicott.

Second Round.

Miss Marjorie Gladman defeated Miss Marjorie Sachs, 9—7, 6—3; Miss Eleonora Sears defeated Mrs. R. Smithwick, 6—1, 6—1; Mrs. Harper defeated Miss Zinke, 6—4, 6—4; Miss Burkardt defeated Miss Andrus, 6—1, 6—3; Mrs. Corbiere defeated Mrs. Griswold, 7—5, 6—2; Miss Hilleary defeated Mrs. Sheddon, 6—3, 6—1; Miss Edith Sigourney defeated Miss Alice Francis, 6—1, 6—2; Miss Rice defeated Miss Thorndyke, 6—1, 6—2.

KYNASTON ADVANCES AT CRAWFORD NOTCH

Defeats Turner in Three Sets, 6-2, 0-6, 7-5—U. S. L. T. A. Head Sees Play.

Special to The New York Times.

CRAWFORD NOTCH, N. H., July 21.—In the presence of the president of the United States Lawn Tennis Association, Louis B. Dailey, who arrived at the Crawford House directly from the English matches, the New Hampshire State tennis championship play opened with a well-balanced draw today.

Thirty-two men's singles entries, including ranking players of New York, Boston and other tennis centres, are included. Seeded players ran true to form in the first round, although Percy Kynaston of Brooklyn, seeded No. 1, barely escaped defeat at the hands of R. S. Turner of Waban, Mass., at 6—2, 0—6, 7—5. Baisley Sheridan of New Rochelle, N. Y., 1929 runner-up, also was carried to three sets, defeating Lawrence Freburn, Winchester, 6—2, 1—6, 6—3.

The women's singles and the men's doubles will be started tomorrow and the mixed doubles on Wednesday. These events include entries of better than usual strength.

TAYLOR WINS IN NET PLAY.

Texan Gains Third Round of the West Virginia Tourney.

Special to The New York Times.

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., July 21.—On account of the severe heat today the committee of the West Virginia tennis tournament gave players the privilege of delaying the start until tomorrow. However, a number of matches were played.

Earl Taylor of Austin, Texas, after defeating Aaron Miller, Baltimore, 6—2, 6—3, played his second round, defeating Felix Rothschild, Baltimore, 7—5, 7—5. Martin Buxby, Miami, a seeded star, defeated B. F. Harlow, Lexington, Va., in the second round, 6—0, 6—0.

SIMBA FIRST HOME OF CLASS M YACHTS

HIGH WIND CAUSES MISHAPS

Rangoon, Paumonok, Fifi and Clytie Lose Masts—Tycoon, Mirage, Rowdy and Narcissus Win.

Special to The New York Times.

LARCHMONT, N. Y., July 21.—Several masts were carried away, many spreaders and shrouds broken and sails torn by the stiff northwest wind, which at times assumed a velocity of about twenty-five to thirty miles, in the second series of contests of the Larchmont Race week regatta held off the club harbor today.

About 170 boats, from the large M class down to the juniors, drifted out to the starting line shortly after noon, and just before the start of the race at 1:40 o'clock, the chairman of the regatta committee, Alfred G. Keeshan, raised the flag denoting a shortened course for each class.

But before the first class, the M's, had gotten away a fairly strong wind came from the northwest, to increase in proportion, so that by the time the junior classes were to have started it seemed advisable to call off the race, fearing a squall would be too much for the younger skippers. However, the wind blew in sections, and it died down enough to permit the juniors to get under way, but not before some of the larger classes, which had profited by the gale on a shortened course, began coming across the finish line.

Avatar Loses Her Jib.

Charles D. Wiman sailed his Simba to victory in the Class M contest, defeating by fifteen minutes George M. Pynchon in his Istalena. Floyd Carlisle's Avatar came home in this class more than twelve minutes astern of the winner, her jib, two jib halyards and a forestaysail halyard having been carried away.

Among other winners in the larger classes were Tycoon, Clifford D. Mallory's 12-meter boat; Mirage, Robert Mahlstedt's Larchmont O class; Rowdy, Holland Duell's New York Yacht Club 40-footer; Narcissus, Francis Page's 10-meter class sloop; Johnston DeForest's 8-meter class Priscilla III, and H. H. Hanan's New York Yacht Club 30-footer Nautilus.

Shortly after 1:15 o'clock, when the regatta committee boarded the committee boat, the wind was very light. Chairman Keeshan thought it advisable to shorten all courses as there was no sign of a wind that would carry them around the regular courses within the time limit of 7 P. M.

It was too late to make another change in courses when, at 1:30, the time for the warning gun, a new breeze from the weseterly quarter came fresh from the shore, bending in its path boats and whipping white-caps over the water.

Flint Entry Is Victor.

The wind was blowing hard when the eight-meter open class and eight-meter one-design boats were finishing. T. J. Flint in his one-design eight-meter Nymph was first of this class to cross the finish line. But just before she got to it, bearing close to the marker at the leeward end of the line, Rangoon, Charles Thorling's open class eight-meter craft, was coming up to the line to leeward of Nymph. Rangoon was not able to leave much room between the marker for Nymph to squeeze through and the latter caught one of her starboard spreaders in Rangoon's rigging, tearing away Rangoon's mast.

Besides Rangoon, two others in this class did not finish due to accidents. They were H. D. Plant's Muffet and H. S. Morgan's Gitane.

Other boats which lost sticks were Paumonok, the handicap class craft belonging to S. J. Treat; William Kirk's Fifi, an R Class boat, and J. S. Johnson's Clytie, a six-meter sloop.

Briggs Cunningham again proved his six-meter Lucie a heavy weather boat when he led that class home by a minute and fifty seconds. Cherokee, H. F. Whiton's sloop, was second, with Van S. Merle-Smith's Mars coming in about a half a minute behind.

Totem Is Home Fourth.

Several weeks ago when the Manhasset Bay Yacht Club held its annual regatta Lucie came home in first place during a squall which took a toll of masts and sinkings. Also in this class Bill Luder's Totem made the best start, being first over the line and leading all the way to windward. Totem won yesterday when the wind was light, but came in fourth in today's gale.

Cornelius Shields in Aileen showed the way to the fleet of interclubs, his entry finishing nearly two minutes ahead of Alberta, Albert Marx's boat. R. P. Manny's Blue Streak and Bob Goeller's Bobill closely followed Alberta home.

Bill Crow sailed his newly acquired Atlantic Coast one-design Rumour into first place more than a minute ahead of Blue Wing, E. Herrick Lowe's sloop. The Atlantics were the largest fleet today, totaling twenty-six starters. However, five did not finish.

Star Light and Nereid Win.

Jimmy Moore in his international Star Class Star Light was home first in the first division of this class, but the best time was made by the second-division winner, J. W. Smith's Nereid. Nereid's time was ten seconds better than Star Light's. The first division was over the starting line five minutes ahead of the others. This plan of starting them in two divisions was made by the race committee in expectation of a very large fleet for the first four days. There were, however, only twenty boats today.

The regular 19¾-mile course for the M Class boats was changed to 13¼ miles, taking the boats from starting line, off Larchmont, east by south to Matinicock Point, which was a run before the wind; northeast to Great Captains Island Light, a reach for the boats, and thence home to finish line, providing a beat to windward, which incidentally provided great excitement at the finish.

King George Sends Silver Cup For Royal Yacht Squadron Race

LONDON, July 21 (Canadian Press cable).—King George has sent a silver-gilt loving cup, his annual prize to the Royal Yacht Squadron, to be competed for by squadron yachts of fifteen tons and upward on the opening day of the R. Y. S. annual regatta at Cowes on Aug. 29. The King and Queen hope to be present. They were prevented by the King's illness from attending last year's festival.

More yachts are in commission this year than for several years past. Britannia, the King's racing cutter, was laid up last year and her return, as well as that of the big cutter Astra, now owned by Sir Howard Frank, will give a special interest to the big class racing.

SCRAPE UNDERBODY OF THE WHIRLWIND

Painters at City Island Yard Work to Give America's Cup Yacht Smoother Surface.

MAST AGAIN TO BE MOVED

To Be Shifted Another 29 Inches—Will Be 4 Feet 10 Inches Forward of Original Step.

By JAMES ROBBINS.

Whirlwind, largest of the America's Cup yachts, will have her mast four feet and ten inches forward of its original step when she appears on Aug. 1 for the squadron runs of the New York Yacht Club, which will be the next meeting of the cup defense boats.

When the first attempt was made to correct her weather helm, which made it difficult to steer her to windward, it was said her mast would be moved forward twenty inches. Paul Hammond, member of the syndicate owning the boat, and who has done much of her sailing, stated yesterday that the stick actually was shifted twenty-nine inches and was being placed forward another twenty-nine inches.

The trouble with Whirlwind was on the wind. Off it she handled all right, but as soon as her sheets were trimmed in, and she was close hauled, she began to nose up to the luffing, or sail fluttering point. It took two men tugging at the wheel to keep her off so that her sails would be full and drawing.

Rudder Turned to an Angle.

Were the requiring of two men to hold her all, that might have been arranged for, although the fine point of sailing on the wind could not be gained without a delicate hand. The main trouble was that her wheel had to be held so far over, her rudder was turned to an angle of 12 degrees, and that meant a continual drag. In such condition she could not hope to compete with the finely balanced other boats.

It was thought that stepping the mast so far forward might cut down the base of the forward triangle of the yacht so that a short bowsprit would be necessary. None will be. Whirlwind's headstay was tacked well inboard from her bow, as are Weetamoe's and Yankee's. It merely will mean that her headstay will be out at her stem, as is Enterprise's.

Her boom will be brought further inboard. The end of it originally was far in from her pointed, canoe stern. Bringing it in nearly five feet more may give her an old appearance, but the long overhang of the boat's stern is merely waste in a sailing sense. It was given the craft to tack a permanent backstay to. To fill in the space with a longer-footed mainsail would increase the yacht's measurement above the class of the cup boats. She now has all the sail she is allowed.

Painters at Work on Underbody.

Re-stepping of the mast, and the changing of the rig is being carried on at Robert Jacob's shipyard in City Island. Whirlwind is hauled out of water there, and while carpenters and riggers are working on the mast, which means constructing a new step in the hold and cutting through the deck, as well as filling in the old aperture, painters are scrubbing down the underbody of the yacht preparatory to giving her a smoother surface than she ever has had.

After she was launched without all her paint to make way for the launching of Yankee, which was built inland from her in the large shed at the George Lawley & Son Corporation plant in Neponset, Mass., Whirlwind was hauled out and more paint added to her before she was raced. It was felt, however, that she never had the smooth underbody she might have. So this interval between the observation races of the cup boats and the coming cruise was seized upon to have a real painting job done, as well as the mast change.

Mr. Hammond, as well as Landon K. Thorne, the other active member of the Whirlwind syndicate, is sanguine the changes in her will make her a much faster boat, particularly on the wind. They also are looking forward with the expectancy of more wind next month than has prevailed. Whirlwind is not a light air boat. She needs a breeze to do her best.

CANADA'S CUP TRIAL ANNEXED BY THISBE

Defeats Conewago in Opening Race of Elimination Series at Rochester.

Special to The New York Times.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., July 21.—The Conewago, resuming competition for Canada's Cup defense honors after resting on the ways for a fortnight, lost to the Thisbe today by a margin of twenty-eight seconds over a six-mile course which failed to provide a windward leg when the wind hauled after the start.

The Conewago sailed remarkably well, considering the weather. The winner's time was 1:20:30.

On the leg of the wind, Conewago sailed within five seconds of the Crane-designed Thisbe. The race was the first in a series which will be continued until one or the other can be fairly eliminated.

Line-Ups Are Picked for Second U. S. Polo Test; Cowdin Announces Retirement

SECOND POLO TEST SET FOR TOMORROW

Capt. Hitchcock Expects to Play—Bostwick and Rathborne to Make Debut in Series.

CANDIDATES ARE SHIFTED

Will Be Tried at Various Positions—Today's Meadow Brook Games Are Called Off.

By ROBERT F. KELLEY.

Tomorrow's test match, the second in the formal series designed to select the American polo team to defend against Great Britain in the International Cup matches, will be the next polo activity on Long Island. Today's games at Meadow Brook have been called off because so many of the players who will play in the Hempstead and Wheatley Cup games, the semi-finals of which have been reached, have their ponies at Rumson for the Junior and the Herbert Memorial tourneys.

The defense committee of the United States Polo Association announced last night the line-ups for tomorrow's international test match, to be played on the field of the Piping Rock Club at Locust Valley, starting at 4:30. The two teams include five of the players who rode through the first official test match at Sands Point Sunday, but only Winston Guest and Stewart Iglehart are playing the same positions which they filled in that game.

Bostwick to Play No. 1.

And Guest, for this match, has been shifted to Thomas Hitchcock Jr.'s team, the team captain having announced that he expects to play in tomorrow's contest. Hitchcock's team will be known as the Whites and in front of Guest will be George H. (Pete) Bostwick, E. A. S. Hopping and Hitchcock at No. 1, No. 2 and No. 3.

The Red team will line up with Eric Pedley, Elmer Boeseke Jr., Iglehart and J. C. Rathborne in that order. The game will mark the first appearance in the official test series of Pete Bostwick and Cocie Rathborne and for Captain Hitchcock.

The younger Hopping, following his fine showing at back on Sunday, now shifts to No. 2. Guest, having shown some improvement when shifted to the rear of the team, is to remain there for at least one more game and is to play with Hitchcock for the first time in important competition since the two were on the American team of 1928 that defeated the Argentines.

Pedley and Boeseke, the two Californians who went so well together Sunday, are each moved one position forward.

Says Team Is Open.

The shifting about of the players follows out the remarks of Captain Hitchcock made Sunday evening after the start of the official test matches when the team leader said that no man was trying for any specific position, that each had agreed to play where the committee wanted to try them, and that "the entire team is wide open. We are trying out for combinations that go well together now, rather than trying men in individual positions."

At that time Hitchcock said that he probably would play in tomorrow's game, but there is the possibility that he again will decide to rest rather than take a chance on aggravating his injury. If he decides to rest another day there may be some further rearrangements of the line-ups. As planned now, the White team totals thirty-two goals and the Reds twenty-nine. The public is invited to these matches at Piping Rock.

Thousands in Toronto Welcome Guest, Diamond Sculls Victor

TORONTO, July 21 (Canadian Press).—Citizens of Toronto turned out in tens of thousands tonight to honor Jack Schofield Guest, winner of the Diamond Sculls at Henley, who arrived home tonight.

The champion was greeted at the station by Mayor Bert S. Wemp, members of the Board of Control and City Council, and representatives of all branches of sport. In addition some hundreds of thousands of citizens gathered in the vicinity of the station and lined the route of a parade to the City Hall. There the winner of the famous sculling trophy received a case of silver in appreciation of the honor he brought to the city. Mayor Wemp made the presentation.

PENN APPOINTS FAIRCHILD.

Former Star End Joins Coaches of Freshman Football Squad.

BEACH HAVEN, N. J., July 21.—Theodore E. (Ted) Fairchild of Reno, Nev., has been added to the University of Pennsylvania football coaching staff, according to an announcement made today by J. R. Ludlow Wray, head coach of the eleven.

Wray and the varsity coaches at Penn have been in conference here since Friday night. The meeting was held in Wray's Summer home and will be continued each week-end until the squad goes to Cape May on Sept. 2. Albert Kreuz, Carl Thomas, Si Pauxtis, Lon Jourdet and Clifford Duncan, all members of the varsity coaching staff, attended the conference.

According to Wray, Fairchild, who was a star end at the University in his undergraduate days, will coach the freshman ends. He is one of the four tutors assigned to the first-year candidates.

COWDIN RETIRES; PONIES TO BE SOLD

STARRED FOR MANY YEARS

Maintained Eight-Goal Rating for Six Seasons—Played on Two Open Title Teams.

An announcement of the dispersal at public auction of the entire string of polo ponies belonging to J. Cheever Cowdin has brought to light the retirement of that internationalist from the game in which he has been a figure for the past score of years. The ponies are to be auctioned at the field of Fred A. Post & Sons at East Williston.

An indication of his possible retirement was found this Spring when he declined an invitation from the defense committee of the United States Polo Association to become a candidate for this year's team. The announcement, which came yesterday, makes his retirement definite.

Mr. Cowdin's withdrawal from play comes with his increasing interest in other sports, notably aviation and lawn tennis. Mr. Cowdin's retirement removes another of the players who, during recent international years, were factors in the formation of American teams.

Ranked on the handicap list at zero in 1906, Mr. Cowdin climbed steadily up, despite a very bad fall six years ago which resulted in a broken thigh and a long lay-off from the game. His highest ranking was at eight goals, which he maintained for six years. Last year he was lowered to seven and this season to six goals. However, he hasn't played very much during the past two years.

Usually a back field player and one of the most capable at either No. 3 or back, Mr. Cowdin was named as spare on the 1927 international team for the series with Great Britain and in 1928 for the series with Argentina.

Mr. Cowdin started with the Rockaway Hunt Club in days when polo rated very highly there and with this team won the senior championship in 1921, that event being considered of more importance then than the present open championship which succeeded it. He has been on two winning teams in the open, the Orange County in 1925 and Sands Point in 1927.

Mr. Cowdin's father, John E. Cowdin, also was an international star, playing in 1902 with the American team in London.

ROCKAWAY DEFEATS SMITHTOWN AT POLO

Hunting Club Four Takes Lead in Second Period to Win Final of Blizzard Caps Play.

Special to The New York Times.

CEDARHURST, L. I., July 21.—The Rockaway Hunting Club four defeated Smithtown, 10 to 7, today on the Rockaway Hunting Club field in the final game of the low-goal handicap polo tournament for the Blizzard Cups. The losing combination started off with a two-goal margin, but the winning team tied the count in the first period and went out in front to hold its lead from the second chukker on.

The Rockaway Hunting Club players all shared in the scoring, with F. S. Alexandre at No. 1 leading the attack with four goals. C. P. Beadleston at No. 2 tallied three goals, while Lieutenant Jones at No. 3 scored twice, with J. Davis at back turning in one counter.

The game was fast and hard played despite the heat. The home club started off with a rush as Jones and Alexandre each knocked in a goal in the initial session to tie the score. Beadleston and Jones combined to score twice for Rockaway to one tally for Smithtown on a goal by A. S. Cornblum in the second.

In the third session Alexandre netted two goals and Beadleston one. Except for the fifth and sixth periods the winners tallied at least twice in every chukker.

The line-up:

Rockaway (10).	Smithtown (7).
1—F. S. Alexandre.	1—A. S. Cornblum.
2—C. P. Beadleston.	2—E. S. Potter.
3—Lieut. McD. Jones.	3—F. T. Porter.
Back—J. Davis.	Back—H. Scott.

SCORE BY PERIODS.

Rockaway	2	2	3	2	0	1—10
Smithtown	2	1	1	1	1	1— 7

Goals—Rockaway: Alexandre 4, Beadleston 3, Jones 2, Davis. Smithtown: Cornblum 3, Potter 2, by handicap 2.

Referees—L. T. Whitehead and Stewart Voss. Time of periods—7½ minutes.

URUGUAY ELEVEN WINS.

One-half-mile sprint, one of a series of eighteen for the amateur championship.

U. S. CHESS TEAM WINS TWO MATCHES

Defeats Germany and Norway and Ties Hungary for 1st Place in Hamburg Tourney.

MARSHALL, STEINER SCORE

HAMBURG, Germany, July 21.—The American players in the team tournament of the International Chess Federation had one of their best days when they encountered Germany and Norway in the tenth and eleventh rounds today. Germany, hitherto undefeated, lost by the score of 2½—½, with one adjourned. Norway was the next to suffer, and, when play stopped, the United States was leading by 3—0, with one adjourned.

With the 5½ points thus added, the Americans tied for first place with Hungary, twice winner of the championship. However, the Hungarians, who defeated Spain by 4—0 and then played Sweden to a tie at 1½—1½, with one adjourned, have a slight advantage in percentage, owing to a fewer number of losses.

Holland, now in third place, did not make much headway as Lithuania as well as Latvia were stubborn opponents. England, Germany and Czechoslovakia come next.

In taking 2½ games out of 3 from Germany, the Americans supplied the sensation of the day. F. J. Marshall and H. Steiner of New York defeated Saemisch and Wagner and J. A. Anderson of St. Louis drew with the veteran Carls. In the second match, with Norway, I. Kashdan, Steiner and Anderson were the winners.

Dr. Alexander Alekhine of Paris took a hand again in the fray, taking a board for France against Spain in the eleventh round. The world champion was paired with Major Manuel Golmayo of Madrid and theirs was the only game unfinished. France is leading by 2—1. José R. Capablanca of Havana arrived today and visited the hall of the congress. He was non-committal concerning the championship match he hopes to arrange with Dr. Alekhine.

The summaries:

United States vs. Germany.

Marshall defeated Saemisch in an Indian defense after 35 moves, the latter being under time pressure.

Anderson drew with Carls in an English opening after 35 moves.

United States vs. Norway.

Anderson defeated Olsen, who miscued under time pressure in a queen's gambit declined after 38 moves.

Bradley Wins Sculling Race; To Represent Britain in Games

LONDON, July 21 (Canadian Press cable).—J. Bradley of Pembroke College today defeated Jack Beresford Jr. in a sculling race to decide which of the two should represent Britain in the Empire Games at Hamilton in August. Bradley won by one and a half lengths. It was a close race all the way.

Beresford's defeat came as a surprise as he was known for a long time as Britain's best sculler. He is the only living quadruple Henley champion, having won the Diamond sculls in 1920, 1924, 1925 and 1926.

Bradley was eliminated in the Diamond sculls this year by Gerhard Boetzelehr, the young German, who was defeated in the final by Jack Guest. Although he has been at Henley several years, his records did not approach those of Beresford and of T. D. Collett.

Canadian Athlete on Canoe Trip.

GREENTREE MEETS ARMY FOUR TODAY

Evenly Matched Rivals Clash in National Junior Title Match at Rumson.

WHITNEY TO RIDE AT NO. 1

Pete Bostwick to Team With Greentree Leader—Winners to Oppose Whippany River in Final.

By VERNON VAN NESS.

Special to The New York Times.

RUMSON, N. J., July 21.—The Greentree poloists will ride against the triumphant United States Army four in the third match of the national junior polo championship tournament at the Rumson Country Club tomorrow, and the victorious team in this contest will clash with the Whippany River four for the title on Saturday.

Jock Whitney will ride at No. 1 for his Greentrees and with him will be Pete Bostwick, rising young international star and a candidate for the American defense team; J. C. Cooley, veteran mallet wielder and manager of the American team, and A. Charles Schwartz, who, with Whitney, is a member of the United States polo defense committee.

Teams Are Well Matched.

The match should prove the hardest fought of the tourney, for the rivals' handicap ratings are almost equal. The Army, in the opening match on last Saturday, played such superior polo to the Elkwoods that the match was one-sided all the way, finally ending in a 15-to-2 victory for the Army.

Lieutenant McDonald Jones and Captain Peter P. Rodes were the stars of that match, forming an irresistible combination that scored almost as it pleased. It also demonstrated the ability of Jones as an accurate shot maker and Rodes as a passer. However, these two fast-riding and daring players will not have such an easy time against [illegible] the calibre that are on the Greentree team.

Greentree Mounts in Shape.

Greentree mounts were vanned to the Rumson Country Club this morning, arriving in fine shape, while the Army mounts remained here from last Saturday.

Army was much faster mounted than Elkwood in the opening match, but it is hardly likely that the same will hold true tomorrow. That factor, of course, will be a big one in a stern, long struggle.

The game tomorrow is to start at 5 P. M. On Wednesday the first matches in the Herbert Memorial Cup tourney will be played. The draw for that series is to be announced tomorrow.

LAWRENCE TIBBETT

The higher they come, the harder they fall . . . was Hollywood's greeting to Lawrence Tibbett. Then came "The Rogue Song" and Tibbett landed, in just one jump, among the half dozen leading stars of the screen.

A quick triumph? Not at all! Nature gave him that glorious voice.

That's why OLD GOLD makes no claims . . . of factory skill . . . or secret processes. For Nature alone deserves the credit. The sun, the rain, the fertile soil simply produced better tobaccos. That's why O. G.'s thrill your taste . . . why they give you new throat-ease.

From an unknown in the "Talkies" to a box-office triumph . . . that's what Nature did for Tibbett. From a tyro-brand to a great success . . . that's what Nature did for OLD GOLD.

THE 'TALKIE' PUBLIC NEVER HEARD OF LAWRENCE TIBBETT TILL "THE ROGUE SONG" — TODAY HE IS A BOX OFFICE WOW.

HENDRICK HERO IN FIRST

His Pinch Circuit Drive With Two On Decides—7-Run Barrage Routs Luque in Second Game.

By ROSCOE McGOWEN.

While home runs bounded all over the landscape adjacent to Ebbets Field and at least two pop bottles fell uncomfortably close to Umpire McGrew, the Robins and the Cardinals spent more than five hours splitting a double-header yesterday, the most important result of which was that Brooklyn relinquished first place to the Cubs, who beat the Giants in a single game. The Cubs now lead by three points.

The score of the first game was 9 to 8, the Robins achieving a scarcely deserved but dramatic triumph in the ninth when Harvey Hendrick propelled a pinch homer far over the centre-field wall with Slade and Wright on base.

In the second contest, drawn out until almost the entire field was in shadow, the Cardinals overwhelmed the Robins by 17 to 10.

The feature of the first game was that all of the visiting tallies were driven in by home runs from the bats of Mancuso, Frisch, Bottomley and Puccinelli, and another unique angle was presented in that three of four pinch hitters responded with circuit blows—Bottomley, Puccinelli and Hendrick being the round-trip pinch sluggers.

Makes His First Hit.

Hal Lee, substitute outfielder and chief bench warmer on the Brooklyn Club, added to the day's unique doings by getting his first hit as a major leaguer and making it a good one by slamming the ball over the right-field wall in the second inning of the second game to drive in three runs and become the fourth substitute batsman of the day to hit for the circuit.

What with a total of forty-four runs and fifty-four hits, including seven homers, three triples and eight doubles off eleven pitchers during the afternoon, not to mention eleven official and several unofficial errors, any detailed description of the two games would be adding insult to injury, so far as the 15,000 Flatbush fans that were present are concerned.

Ray Moss got credit for winning the first game, after pitching just one inning, the ninth, and facing only four men, after both Phelps and Clark preceded him. Burleigh Grimes went six innings in the first game for the Cards and was followed by Lindsey and Rhem, the latter being the losing pitcher.

Serves Second Relief Rôle.

Adolfo Luque started the nightcap, but went out in the second under a barrage of hits that netted seven Cardinal runs, and in turn was followed by Elliott, Dudley and Clark, the latter serving his second relief assignment of the day.

The Robins staged a rally in the sixth to come from behind in the first game and take a one-run lead which was promptly erased by Bottomley's pinch homer. Doubles by Frederick and Herman tied the score at 5-all in the seventh, and again a home run, this time by Puccinelli, sent St. Louis ahead. But in the ninth Hendrick delivered his winning blow off Rhem after two strikes were counted on him.

SWEETLAND, PHILS, CONQUERS PIRATES

Hurls Cleverly While Home Runs by Sothern and Whitney Help in 7-to-2 Triumph.

PHILADELPHIA, July 21 (AP).—Clever pitching by Lester Sweetland today enabled the Phils to defeat the Pirates, 7 to 2, in the first game of the local series.

The Phils hammered Kremer for three runs in the first and added four more in the fifth to complete their triumph.

Two home runs, one by Sothern and another by Whitney with O'Doul on base, gave the Phils their first trio of tallies. A base on balls for Sweetland, singles by O'Doul and Hurst, a double by Klein and a triple by Whitney accounted for the final quartet of counters. Traynor's double after singles by Grantham and Comorosky accounted for the Pittsburgh markers.

DALLAS DROPS ALEXANDER.

Veteran Says He Has Offers to Join Semi-Pro Ranks.

DALLAS, July 21 (AP).—Grover Cleveland Alexander, veteran pitcher, received his outright release today from the Dallas club of the Texas League. Failure to keep in training after he had promised to do so several days ago was given by Bob Tarleton, vice president of the club, as the reason for Alexander's removal frromm the roster.

Interviewed at a local hotel two hours after Tarleton had announced his release, Alexander professed complete surprise.

"I can't understand it," the veteran said. "I was in shape and ready to pitch yesterday's first game, but they told me just before game time I would pitch the second. Then they put me in as a relief pitcher in the first. I stepped into the hole and wrenched my knee."

Alexander intimated he would return to Chicago for a short rest before considering any offers from other clubs. He said he had received numerous offers to pitch exhibition games for semi-pro teams.

WILSON'S 2 HOMERS HELP BEAT GIANTS

Collects His 28th and 29th as Malone and Root Blank McGrawmen, 6 to 0.

FARRELL ALSO CONNECTS

Game Marks First Ladies' Day at Polo Grounds—Some 3,500 Feminine Fans Attend.

By JOHN DREBINGER.

The Giants' vaunted offensive, launched with such a flourish on Sunday, struck about three snags at the Polo Grounds yesterday, with the result that the McGraw machine bounced right off its course and finished the day sputtering in the heat, while the Cubs made off with the second game of the series. The score was 6 to 0.

The game officially inaugurated Ladies' Day, which meant that feminine fans were admitted free. Some 3,500 women were in the stands at the start of the contest, many of whom were fans who are regular attendants at the Polo Grounds.

The first obstacle the Giants encountered was Pat Malone, who blanked the McGraw men for eight rounds. Then Pat succumbed, not to the Giants but to the heat—an unfortunate situation which helped the Giants cause not at all, for it merely brought on Charlie Root, who went right on to hold the New Yorkers without a run in the ninth to make the shut-out complete.

And then there was Hack Wilson, who hit two home runs, either of which would have been suficient in itself to carry the day for the champions. The two together brought Hack's seasonal total to twenty-nine. This should have left the stocky Chicagoan in excellent humor but it did not, for the simple reason that the exuberant Hack came up once again in the ninth with the bases filled and fanned.

First Homer Comes in Fourth.

But it really mattered little, for Wilson had done more than enough damage long before this. The first Wilson homer came in the fourth with the bases empty and was made off Tiny Jim Chaplin, who up to this moment was making a heroic effort to keep abreast of Malone.

The second came in the sixth and was slightly more effective, as it was preceded by English's single and therefore gave the Cubs two runs.

In the seventh the Chicagoans collected two more without Hack's assistance, as Hartnett beat out a hit to Lindstrom and Doc Farrell scaled a homer just over the rim of the left field wall.

Then, in the ninth, Roy Parmelee, just recalled by the Giants, presented the Cubs with their final tally by allowing Hartnett to tap him for a single and following this with three passes, the last of which forced in a run. But the idea behind this became quite clear in a moment, for there were two out and Roy seemingly was bent on getting Hack. He did, on three fine strikes.

Giants Helpless at Bat.

This belated display of talent helped the Giants not at all, for Malone and then Root had them helpless all the day. They got eight hits off Malone, all singles, and one more off Root in the ninth.

These should have been enough to accomplish something save for the fact that both Malone and Root exercised extreme care in allowing no hits to fall once the Giants managed to manoeuvre themselves into a scoring position.

First Night Baseball in Metropolitan Area When Newark Plays at Jersey City Tonight

Night baseball will be introduced to the metropolitan district tonight, at 9 o'clock, when the Newark and Jersey City clubs of the International League clash at Jersey City in a regular league game. Advance indications point to an overflow crowd of more than 12,000.

The field will be flooded to daytime brilliancy with lights that will have a total candle-power of 300,000 watts. The plant was tested last night to insure absolute readiness for the game tonight. This type of game will be strange to neither club, inasmuch as Buffalo has had night encounters for some time and both Newark and Jersey City have played there at night.

Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City will head the list of notables present and will throw out the first ball. Colonel Jacob Ruppert, owner of the Yankees; Charles A. Stoneham, president of the Giants, and Frank York, president of the Brooklyn Robins, have been invited to attend.

According to P. J. Donnelly of the Jersey City club, reservations have come in from Westchester, Long Island, Yonkers and every borough of Manhattan.

11 HITS BY TIGERS REPULSE ATHLETICS

Seven of Total Off Earnshaw Go for Extra Bases and Detroit Wins, 7 to 6.

DETROIT, July 21 (AP).—The Tigers batted out a 7 to 6 victory over the world's champion Athletics today, getting eleven hits off George Earnshaw, seven of which went for extra bases.

Charlie Gehringer tripled with Johnson on base in the fifth inning and then stole home and his double in the ninth started the rally which won the game. Earl Whitehill went the route for Detroit, although he alowed ten hits. Two Detroit errors helped the Athletics to score three of their runs. Johnson, Koenig and Dykes also hit triples.

BROWNS' 5 IN 6TH REPULSE SENATORS

St. Louis Makes Most of Five Safeties and Nine Passes to Triumph, 6-4.

ST. LOUIS, July 21 (AP).—The Browns, aided by a five-run rally in the sixth inning, took its second successive game of the series from Washington today, winning 6—4.

Stewart, who went the route for the Browns, allowed ten hits, but scattered them throughout the contest. Although held to five safeties, St. Louis bunched its hits and took full advantage of nine passes.

LISENBEE IS STAR AS RED SOX SCORE

CHICAGO, July 21 (AP).—Boston ended the three-game winning streak of the White Sox today, taking the final game of the series, 3—1, behind Horace Lisenbee's fine pitching.

Lisenbee restricted the White Sox to five hits, three by Carl Reynolds, and one each by Smead Jolley and Greg Mulleavy. Al Thomas was almost as good, holding the Red Sox to six hits, three of which, however, were bunched in the fifth for two runs.

RUTH GETS NO. 35 AS YANKEES WIN

GEHRIG HITS HOMER 28

By WILLIAM E. BRANDT.

Special to The New York Times.

CLEVELAND, July 21.—The thunder of Yankee home runs was no louder today than yesterday, but today Ed Wells, with his lean left arm, kept the Indians from firing reprisal homers and taking the victory.

Today's 7-to-3 score evened the series and became the eighth Yankee victory in twelve games so far played since leaving home. The 7 on the scoreboard attested the pounding power in the bats of Ruth, Gehrig, Rice and a few other Yankees.

Three homers sparkled among the eleven hits the Yankees made off J. Walter Miller and Belvidere Bean—Ruth's with one on base in the third, Rice's with the bases empty in the sixth and Gehrig's with one on in the eighth. All three were drives over the right field screen. The Babe's bumped a housetop within full view of the appreciative 5,000 fans.

Ruth Gains Valuable Ground.

Ruth's homer, his thirty-fifth of the season, gained him some valuable ground in his race with his 1927 record. It put him fifteen days and twelve games ahead of 1927.

Gehrig refused to be overshadowed by the Bambino's bombardment of the adjacent local real estate. In the eighth Gehrig's bat made hearty contact with the ball for his third homer in two games here and the seventh he has hit in the course of the current Western trip.

Cleveland has been a great city for Gehrig this year. Today's was his twenty-eighth homer of the season and seven of them were made here.

Wells was invincible until the ninth, when the Indians launched a rally on a pass and a pair of Texas Leaguers. Averill's fiery single to centre looked troublesome, but Wells fanned Morgan, the hero of yesterday's ninth inning, then retired Johnny Hodapp, who made a triple, a double and two singles his first four times up.

The first five Yankee runs, involving the homers of Ruth and Rice, were made off Miller. Gehrig's homer drove home the only runs charged against Bean.

Hodapp Gives Wells Trouble.

Hodapp was the only Indian who gave Wells much trouble. Morgan went to bat five times and never reached first base. He fanned twice.

Joe Sprinz's double in the second inning was the first major league hit for the young catcher, bought from Indianapolis by Cleveland last week.

BRADMAN AGAIN GETS CENTURY IN CRICKET

LONDON, July 21 (Canadian Press).—Don Bradman, youthful Australian cricketer, chalked up another century today in the match between Australia and the West of Scotland at Glasgow. Partnered with his captain, W. M. Woodfull, who himself scored 65, Bradman gave a brilliant display.

The match was left drawn. The score: West of Scotland, 140 for six wickets, declared; Australia, 337 for nine wickets (Woodfull 65, Jackson 52 not out, Baxter four wickets for 8 runs).

The battle is still in progress between those who want to play cricket on Sunday and those who desire to see games on the Sabbath stopped. In Manchester a few weeks ago the anti-cricketers, backed by the corporation's refusal to allow Sunday games in the parks, carried off the day. It took an hour to clear the pitch and then two women rushed out and tore up the wickets. The match was abandoned after a turbulent fifteen minutes.

Now it is London's turn. A match was arranged for yesterday at Ealing, West London, as a protest against the corporation's ban there. A woman of stern aspect took a position in the centre of the pitch. The players moved to another pitch, but there the woman's husband proved the obstacle. Finally rain settled the matter and the game was called off.

Medal Is Won by Mrs. Hucknall With an 83 in Invitation Golf Tourney at Rye

MRS. HUCKNALL WINS MEDAL IN RYE GOLF

Turns In an 83 to Lead Field of 146 in Invitation Tourney at Westchester C. C.

MRS. FEDERMAN HAS AN 84

Tied for Second With Mrs. Rodney and Miss Broadwell—Blazing Sun Affects Scoring.

By LINCOLN A. WERDEN.

Special to The New York Times.

RYE, N. Y., July 21.—Before most persons were having breakfast today, the second annual women's invitation tournament of the Westchester Country Club was under full swing. The starting pair, in one of the largest qualifying fields of the season, numbering 146, left the first tee at 7:20 o'clock.

Most of the leaders who were out on the links before noon played the south course under a blazing sun which was no aid to scores. Mrs. Thomas Hucknall, the Connecticut State champion, whose 83 accounted for medalist honors, was among the first fifty to finish.

In the afternoon a high wind swept the course and although most of the favorites had completed their rounds Mrs. Leo Federman, the Long Island titleholder, had to contend with it, but nevertheless returned an 84, which consisted of a fine closing nine of 38. Mrs. A. U. Rodney of Quaker Ridge and Miss Jane Broadwell of Westchester, who has competed in few tournaments during the last two years, were the others to equal Mrs. Federman's mark.

Stroke Margin Over Champions.

Mrs. H. C. Dodge of the home club, with an 85, had a stroke advantage over two of the competing champions, Miss Martha Parker, the New Jersey and metropolitan titleholder, and Miss Frances Williams of Pottstown, Pa., holder of the Eastern crown. Bracketed with them was Mrs. Ronald Barlow of Merion, who in 1909 was runner-up in the national.

With the score of 95 deciding the play-off for qualification in the first thirty-two, Mrs. John D. Chapman of Greenwich, Mrs. S. P. Haldenstein of the Westchester club, Miss Jane Brooks of Rockland with 87s; Mrs. S. S. Laird Jr. of Westchester with 88 and Mrs. H. A. Martelle of Hartford, runner-up for the Connecticut title, who had an 89, will be among those starting match play tomorrow for the trophy captured last year by Mrs. Ruth Reymond of Baton Rouge.

Two Under Par Going Out.

Mrs. Hucknall played fine golf for sixteen holes and then finished with two 6s for an incoming 44. Her outgoing 39 was two under women's par of 41 and included a 4 at the 454-yard fifth and a 3 at the 365-yard seventh, where she got down in one putt for eagles.

Although Mrs. Federman started auspiciously with a birdies 3, her driving brought her into considerable difficulty over the next few holes and coupled with two three-putt greens she reached the turn in 46, including a 4 at the ninth. After that, however, with her tee shots going well, she was even 4s for the next seven holes and had a chance to tie with Mrs. Hucknall, except that she could not get home at the eighteenth for a 4, since her drive landed back of a mound. The scores:

Lamb, With 141, Wins Title In Canadian Pro Golf Play

BURLINGTON, Ont., July 21 (Canadian Press).—For the third year in succession Willie Lamb of the Uplands Club of Toronto won the championship of the Canadian Professional Golfers' Association when he turned in a score of 71, 70—141 for the thirty-six-hole test over the Burlington course today. This gave him a stroke margin on Tom McGrath of Dundas Valley, who came in this afternoon with a 67, setting a new course record with 4 under par.

Dave Spittal of the Royal York Club, former Ontario open champion, was third with 143, while three players tied for fourth place with 144. They were Arthur Cruttenden of Summit, Albert Murray of Beaconsfield and W. Smithers, assistant at the Royal Ottowa Club.

156 WILL TEE OFF IN CANADIAN OPEN

60 Americans, Including Diegel, Defending Champion, to Start Thursday.

TORONTO, July 21 (Canadian Press).—Professional and amateur golfers numbering 156 will tee off at the Hamilton Golf Club, Lancaster, Ont., Thursday in the first eighteen-hole round for the Canadian open championship, it was announced today.

Tom Kerrigan of Mount Vernon, N. Y., runner-up for the title in 1922 and 1923, and Rex Robson of Toronto, who recently figured in a three-cornered play-off for the Ontario open title, will be the opening pair, driving off at 8:30 A. M., followed by 5-minute intervals by the rest of the field.

Leo Diegel, the defending titleholder and winner of the title in 1924, 1925 and 1928, is paired with C. Ross Somerville of London, Ont., former Canadian amateur champion.

Thirty-six amateurs, including eleven from the United States, are making a bid for the title, including George Von Elm of Los Angeles.

Including Diegel, there are forty-nine United States professionals entered, making a total American representation of sixty players, or more than one-third of the field. The contingent includes Tommy Armour, Macdonald Smith, Al Watrous, Jim Barnes, Mike Brady, Gene Sarazen, Walter Hagen, Kerrigan, Johnny Farrell and Horton Smith and a host of others.

HORSE SHOW TO OPEN AT STAMFORD TODAY

Annual Exhibition to Run Through Saturday—National Saddle Title at Stake.

Special to The New York Times.

STAMFORD, Conn., July 21.—Stamford's thirteenth annual horse show will get under way tomorrow morning at Sunaim Farm, on the Westover-Bangall Road, to continue through Saturday afternoon, this being the first year that a five-day exhibition has been arranged. Notwithstanding the two additional sessions, it is apparent from the large entry that the judges will be extended to complete the time card each day.

Tomorrow's program will open with Class 97 at 11 o'clock, this being an event in the hunter division calling for horses 4 years old or under, suitable to become hunters, to take four jumps of 3 feet 6 inches.

The touch-and-out stake is probably more popular at Stamford than at any other exhibition, since it allows many more opportunities for owners to get into the money. One division is run every afternoon of the show, it being a sweep of $25 for each horse. Each day's winner is to receive 15 per cent of the stake, but is not eligible to compete again until the final. In that event the four placed horses each day will compete, the winner to take 25 per cent and the second horse 15 per cent of the stake.

Among the added events none is likely to attract more attention than the Grand National Saddle Horse Championship of America, which has attracted an entry that should make it an outstanding event in the saddle horse world. A prize of $1,000 has been offered in this event by Mrs. Thomas Logan, president of the show, of which $750 will go to the winner and $250 to the horse placed in reserve. It is for saddle horses over 14.2 hands that have won a championship or reserve championship at any show.

Experts of wide reputation have been selected to make the awards. In the thoroughbred and half-bred classes the judges will be Frank A. Bonsal Jr. of Glyndon, Va., and J. Garner West of Garnerville, N. Y. Mr. Bonsal also will judge the hunters in company with Rufus C. Finch, Rumson, N. J., and George B. Elliot, Toronto. Messrs. Finch, West and Elliot will score the jumping classes. Harness ponies will come under E. D. Farrell of New York. Herbert L. Camp of Middletown, Conn.; Claude L. Pemberton, Elizabethtown, Ky., and J. Miller Ward will judge three-gaited saddle horses and saddle ponies, as well as the events for horses suitable to become saddle horses. Messrs. Ward and Pemberton will take the five-gaited saddle horses.

GROGAN BOXES TONIGHT.

Will Oppose Flowers in Main Ten-Round Bout at Queensboro Stadium.

Tommy Grogan, hard-hitting Omaha lightweight, and Bruce Flowers, New Rochelle Negro boxer, will meet in the main bout of ten rounds at the Queensboro A. C. tonight. Grogan recently engaged in a close battle with Tony Canzoneri, while Flowers in his last local start easily outpointed Herman Perlick.

The semi-final will bring together Lew Paluso and Sammy Lorfman. In a six-rounder Emil Rossi of Harlem will clash with Sammy Cherin, east side battler. Two five-round bouts and a four-rounder complete the card.

Joe Martin and Billy Drako will be rivals in the main bout of eight rounds at the Twenty-second Engineers Armory tonight. Pal Collins and Dick Scalza are paired for the semi-final, which is also listed for eight chapters.

NORDSTROM LEADS IN WESTERN GOLF

TOLLEY TURNS IN A 73

CHICAGO, July 21 (AP).—A strapping entry from Davenport, Iowa, Lloyd Nordstrom, argued his way into the Western amateur golf championship today and as a rebuttal shot a sparkling 72 to take the lead in the first eighteen-hole drive for the qualifying medal.

When Nordstrom, an outsider in championship calculations, came up to the first tee, he was advised his entry had not been received. After a long argument, he was permitted to compete, and in his alternate anger and joy he came within one stroke of taming par in this 6,702-yard stronghold of yawning traps, bunkers and trees. He toured the first nine in 38, but came back with a 34, one under par, despite a four-putt green on the short twelfth.

His card:

Par	4	5	3	4	4	3	5	4	4—36
Nordstrom	5	5	4	4	4	3	5	4	4—38
Par	3	5	3	4	4	4	4	3	5—35	—71
Nordstrom	3	5	5	4	3	4	3	3	4—34	—72

Scores Highest in History.

The championship course offered such a stubborn resistance today that scores for the first half of the qualifying test were the highest in the tournament's history. Only forty-five of the field of 215 were able to break 80, while the others either tore up their cards or posted scores that ranged upward to more than 100 strokes. Tonight it looked like a pair of 80s had a big change to qualify for the match play to open Wednesday.

Cyril Tolley and T. Philip Perkins, former English champions who stand out as certain contenders, were successful, however. Tolley landed in a three-way tie with Don Armstrong of Aurora, Ill., and Johnny Lehman of Chicago with a smart 73, two over par, while Perkins scored a 75.

Tolley burned up the course with a sparkling 35, one under par, on his outward journey and had a fine chance for the lead until he muffed three shots outright on the par 4 fourteenth hole and needed six strokes before he holed out. His backward total was 38, three strokes over par. Perkins was more consistent. He tallied 37 out and 38 in.

Evans Within Striking Distance.

Charles (Chick) Evans of Chicago, eight times holder of the Western crown, played within easy striking distance of the qualifying limit after the initial round with a 75. Evans shot even par for the first nine, but his putter failed him again on the way back and he required 39 strokes more, or four over par.

Two other favorites, Keefe Carter of Oklahoma City, former Western champion, and Bob McCrary of Des Moines, Iowa, trans-Mississippi champion for the past two seasons, ran into difficulties on the first nine holes, but came back with a brilliant brand of golf to score 77s.

Other leaders with 75s were Ruddy Knepper of Chicago, one of the golfing stars of eight years ago; Ira Couch, Chicago, former Western junior champion; Lew Levinson of Chicago, Nelson Ruddy of Cincinnati, Earle Berryhill, Colorado Springs, and George Dawson, one of the best players in the Chicago district.

The weather was perfect for golf today, with the temperature down and a cooling northeasterly wind stroking the course.

SANDWINA IS HELD TO DRAW BY WALKER

Harlem Negro Mixes Willingly With Sioux City Rival in Coney Island Feature.

Al Walker, Harlem Negro, held Ted Sandwina of Sioux City, Iowa, to a draw in the main bout of ten rounds at Henderson's Bowl, Coney Island, last night. Boxing cautiously all through the battle, and meeting his rival's attack with a strong counter, the Harlem boxer held his own with his heavy hitting rival, mixing willingly on occasion, and forcing Sandwina to hold several times. A crowd of 3,500 witnessed the bout. The weights were 195 pounds for Sandwina, and 194½ for Walker.

Sandwina kept his rival off with a long left in the first round, but Walker closed in during the second, and landed heavily with both hands to the body. In the third Walker rocked his rival with heavy lefts, but Sandwina came back in the following session and weakened the Negro with sharp lefts to the head.

Walker scored in the fifth when he reached Sandwina several times with left hooks to the head, and came through in the following session to rock Sandwina with rights to the head.

Sandwina used a left jab to good advantage in the seventh, and forced Walker to miss frequently. Walker came back in the eighth and reached Sandwina with several hard rights.

Walker centred his fire on his rival's midsection in the final round, alternating with a right-hand attack to the head that forced Sandwina to retreat.

Eddie Benson, Brooklyn, knocked out Jack Phenix, New York heavyweight, in the seventh round of the scheduled ten-round semi-final. Benson outboxed his rival from the start and dropped him for a nine-count in the fourth with a right to the jaw. Phenix weighed 181 pounds and Benson 191½.

WHITE AND WISWELL TRIUMPH AT GOLF

Win Best Ball Handicap Against Par in Weekly Event of Green Mountain Boys.

Special to The New York Times.

MANCHESTER, Vt., July 21.—R. T. White of New York City and E. H. Wiswell of Pinehurst won the weekly golf competition of the Green Mountain Boys today, the event being a best ball handicap against par.

White and Wiswell finished 4 up on par, White having a nine-stroke handicap and Wiswell 14. L. F. Martin of Manchester, handicap 11, and Ethel Allen, New York, handicap 9, finished in second place at 3 up.

A triple tie resulted in the best ball putting contest, which was at scratch. Wiswell and White; Beverely A. Norris, New York, and L. Scofield, Pinehurst, and Edwin Shuttleworth and A. H. Revell each had a score of 34.

THE SUMMARIES.

Best Ball Handicap.

R. T. White, New York, 9, and E. H. Wiswell, Pinehurst, 14, four up.
Ethel Allen, New York, 9, and L. F. Martin, Manchester, 11, three up.
J. F. Montgomery, New York, 9, and Cabot Morse, Boston, 10, even.
Judson Phillips, New York, 5, and J. J. Loughlin Jr., New York, two down.
F. C. Robertson, New York, 4, and John L. Given, New York, 12, two down.
E. Fielding-Jones, Providence, 11, and H. J. Grant, New York, 8, five down.
A. G. Woolley, Hartford, 20, and George C. M. Smith, New York, 15, five down.
Edwin Shuttleworth, New York, 18, and A. H. Revell, Chicago, 12, eight down.

Brown Boxes Bernasconi Tomorrow.

Al Brown, recognized by the New York State Athletic Commission as the world's bantamweight champion, will meet Dominick Bernasconi, claimant to the 118-pound championship of Italy, in the main bout of ten rounds at Ebbets Field tomorrow. The bout will not be a title contest, as both boxers will weigh more than the class limit.

GIRLS' MET PLAY PUT OFF.

Title Tennis Tourney to Get Under Way Today at New Rochelle.

Special to The New York Times.

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., July 21.—The girls' metropolitan junior tennis championships will get under way tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock at the New Rochelle Tennis Club.

The tournament was scheduled to commence today, but tourney officials agreed to postpone the opening round until tomorrow so that several of the entrants might compete today in the clay court tournament at Jackson Heights.

CANZONERI BEATS BASS ON POINTS

TAKES SIX OF TEN ROUNDS

Three of the Sessions Are Even—Wolff Triumphs Over Tedesco in Six-Round Affair.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, July 21.—Tony Canzoneri, Brooklyn junior lightweight, gave Benny Bass, recognized in a number of States as the champion of the class, a boxing lesson in ten rounds at the Phillies baseball park tonight before a crowd of 15,000 sweltering fans.

Canzoneri, obliged to come in over the 130-pound limit, was too strong for Bass, who weighed 125¾. Tony weighed 130¼.

The Brooklyn boxer won six of the ten rounds, with three even and Bass being entitled to only one—the sixth. Canzoneri rushed Bass from the start and had the latter holding in the early rounds. Bass never started until the sixth.

Canzoneri, with more confidence than usual, smothered Benny with left and rights all the way. Whenever it looked as though Bass was set to get going, his wild swings merely skimmed over Tony's head.

Ray Miller of Chicago, 130 pounds, knocked out Frankie Hayes of Philadelphia, 135½ pounds, in the first round with three lefts. Hayes was counted out in 1 minute 44 seconds after he had shaken hands with the Westerner.

Allie Wolff of Brooklyn, former Penn State star, defeated Tony Tedesco in six rounds. Tedesco, a South Philadelphia, took considerable punishment but he was still on his feet at the final bell. Wolff rocked Tedesco with a series of solid lefts in the fifth. Wolff weighed 156 and Tedesco a pound less.

Mickey Doyle of Pittston, a featherweight, lost a decision to Matty White of Philadelphia. Emory Cabana, Philadelphia lightweight, defeated Joey Hadfield of Conshohocken in six rounds.

Al Singer of New York, the new world lightweight champion, was introduced to the crowd and received a rousing ovation.

HUBER IS WINNER; DEFEATS MURDOCK

Eddie Murdock, Tulsa, Okla., welterweight, received his first defeat in a local ring last night when he was outpointed by Freddie Huber of North Bergen, N. J., in the feature ten-round bout at Dexter Park, Woodhaven. About 2,500 persons were present.

The bout dragged somewhat, but Huber's aggressiveness enabled him to triumph. The victor weighed 144½, while Murdock scaled 143.

Danny Ridge was the referee and Bob Cunningham and Tommy Shortell were the judges.

Willie La Morte, Newark bantamweight, gained the decision over Blas Rodriguez, veteran Mexican, in the semi-final contest of ten rounds.

Tommy Syracuse, Yorkville lightweight, defeated Ruby Greenberg of Williamsburg in a six-rounder which was fast and replete with action. The winner, who at 137½ had a three and a half pound weight advantage, led all the way.

Sid Silas of the Bronx, 130½, survived two nine-count knockdowns in the first round and outpointed Nick Rizzo, also of the Bronx, 134, in a fast six-rounder. Silas rallied in the second round and was the aggressor for the remainder of the bout.

Harry Hassell, 193, of the west side, decisively defeated Billy Miles of the same neighborhood, 195½, in a four-rounder.

The four-round opener resulted in a victory for Johnny Cucci of Yorkville, who defeated Mickey Gatti of Ridgewood, 151.

MONTAGNA BOXES DRAW.

Fights on Even Terms With Williams in Newark Velodrome.

In a hard ten-round main bout at the Newark Velodrome last night Frank Montagna, 185, of Morristown, N. J., drew with Gunboat Williams, 186, of Nutley, N. J. Both fighters finished with cut eyes. Eight thousand fans saw the bouts.

Tony Galento, 210, of Orange knocked out Pietro Corri, 188, of New York in 1:45 of the sixth round of the semi-final, scheduled for ten rounds.

Mario Campi, 170, of Italy outpointed Joe Christoff, 165, of Elizabeth in an eight-round bout. Bob Lavery, 151, Newark, outpointed Terega Kid, 150, also of Newark, in the opening six. Cowboy Willis, 173, Newark, knocked out Al Smith, 170, Newark, in 59 seconds of the sixth round of a scheduled eight-rounder.

Boxer's Business Manager at Omaha Reveals Contents of Telegram From Ellis Island Official.

OMAHA, Neb., July 21 (AP).—Primo Carnera, Italian boxer, and his French manager, Léon See, have been ordered by Washington immigration officials to vacate American shores immediately, Frank Paccassi, business manager for the pair, said today.

Paccassi revealed the contents of a telegram forwarded here to See and Carnera from Byron H. Uhl, official at Ellis Island, New York, informing the pair that immigration officials had denied their request for a six months' extension of their legal stay in the United States which terminated recently.

Carnera and his manager, he said, applied for the extension while here last week for the Carnera-Bearcat Wright fight. He said that they are now en route from Cleveland to Montreal and that the telegram arrived here after their departure from Omaha.

Uhl Confirms the Ruling.

Byron H. Uhl, first assistant Commissioner of Immigration here, announced through The Associated Press last night that he had received notice from Washington that Carnera and See must vacate American shores, and had forwarded the word to Omaha.

Mr. Uhl said he did not know why the Secretary of Labor had denied the aliens' request for a six months' extension of their legal stay in the United States. He said he understood, however, that Carnera and See entered the United States last December, and that their six-months' permit had been up for some time.

now you can enjoy all of your cigar

EVERY time you light a cigar you expect to enjoy all of it. But many cigars quickly become hot, strong, bitter... you are compelled to discard them partially smoked. The "Last Inch" test is the only positive way of pre-judging a brand of cigars.

To pass this test Admiration Cigars are made by methods that insure the same mildness, mellowness and coolness at the very last inch as when first lighted.

Admiration's filler is choice 100% long Havana, aged a full year. This creates its mellowed mildness. Admiration is expertly made by hand, thus securing delightful freedom in drawing, the secret of cigar coolness.

Today — smoke an Admiration ... you'll enjoy all of it. Admiration prices are 10¢ to 3-for-50¢.

The "LAST INCH" Test

Make this test yourself, today. Compare the mild and mellow "last inch" taste of Admiration with your regular cigar. It's a revelation.

Sanford Defeats Tail Spin by Nose at Empire City; All Six Favorites Lose

EMPIRE CITY SEES SIX FAVORITES LOSE

Entire Card Goes to Outsiders—Sanford Wins by Nose From Tail Spin in Fifth.

SWIFT PURSE TO RUMOR

By BRYAN FIELD.

Two close finishes served to put some spark into a languid crowd at Empire City yesterday which refused to get excited until J. A. Coburn's Sanford and Mrs. William Moore's Tail Spin rushed down to the wire in the fifth race locked in a head and head duel which eventually resulted in Sanford being the winner.

The margin was a scant nose and Sanford won by coming from behind the early pace of Tail Spin and outlasting her in the final run. The California Stable's Billie Leonard got third, while Punishment, owned by D. McCaffery and the hot favorite, finished far out of the money. Punishment had lots of company, as all six favorites lost.

While Punishment was a sad disappointment, the McCaffery colors were in front in the fourth race, the Swift Purse. This had the place of honor on a program which consisted of five claiming races and a test for maiden fillies. The winner was McCaffery's Rumor, which went to the front early in the race and remained there under a rousing ride by George Fields and despite the rush of the Black and White Stable's Oncora, which was beaten by a neck. Sturdy landed third, while Grey Watch, the favorite, finished ninth after being in front at the start.

High Class Racers Missing.

If a search for high class horses had been made on the program the quest would have been unusually difficult. The maiden fillies were not priced, but since none had been a winner before yesterday, it is fair to suppose that they were not very expensive.

The most expensive racer of the day was Tony Joe, entered for $4,250, in the second race. He was made the favorite, but like all of the other favorites he finished out of the money. This was in the Greenwich Purse, and the winner, which galloped home with considerable ease, was the Niagara Stable's Moonstruck.

He was to be had for $4,000, but no one wanted him or any of the other runners. There were fifty-two chances for a claim and not a single envelope was dropped into the claiming box.

Moonstruck was a 4-to-1 shot and won by two lengths from Bramabiau, which finished a length before Sign Off, a 30-to-1 shot that paid 5 to 1 to be third.

Charley Kurtsinger had the leg up on Moonstruck, and he went to the front early to open up a decisive lead, which was not seriously threatened at the end, even though Bramabiau came on swiftly in the last furlong. Kurtsinger evidently felt a little nervous though, for he rode out his mount and took no chances.

Watchgirl Takes Nightcap.

Riding honors went to the veteran jockey, Willie Smith, who brought home the winners in the White Plains and Sunny Maid Purses. Respectively, these winners were Mrs. W. E. Martin's Curator and the Loma Stable's Watchgirl. Watchgirl was the winner of the maiden filly race, which brought the program to an end. She is an On Watch filly, which had been in the money only once in four previous starts.

It was Smith's strong ride at the end which won the race, and here again it was a nose finish, with no one sure of the winner until the judges had posted the numbers. T. M. Cassidy's Bubsy C. was second and Lilly D. a length and a half further back in third position.

Watchgirl did not show in front until the closing stages, but then she came on with enough courage to outlast the others.

Curator won by a length and a half and was a 5-to-1 shot. The entry of Frances St. L. and Princess Henry was held favorite at 7 to 5, and Princess Henry managed to and third, with Frances St. L. seventh.

Curator, taken right to the front by Smith, opened up a long lead. He tired in the stretch, but Smith went to work on him and kept him going fast enough to win by a length from Shasta Grafton.

Macomber's Colt Runs Second In Stand Maiden Plate at Ayr

AYR, England, July 21 (AP).—A. K. Macomber's Bobbie Burns 3d ran second today in the Stand Maiden Plate, finishing half a length behind Sir A. Butt's Broadwalk. S. Darling's Browler was third, two lengths back of Bobbie Burns. The winner was the favorite at 4 to 9, while the American-owned colt was quoted at 6 to 1 and Browler at 4 to 1. The race was at a mile and a quarter.

TYPHOON IS VICTOR OVER ROYAL JULIAN

Harned Brothers' Colt Scores by Two Lengths for Third Triumph at Latonia.

LATONIA, Ky., July 21 (AP).—The Harned brothers' consistent racer, Typhoon, a two-time winner at this meeting, today annexed the Tusculum Heights Handicap, a gallop of a mile and an eighth. Royal Julian ran to the place, while Ben Machree showed. The distance was covered in 1:53 flat and Typhoon paid $4.14 for $2.

Typhoon was the first to show in front at the start and made every post a winning one, getting the decision from Royal Julian by two lengths. Royal Julian followed Typhoon closely throughout but did not threaten the Harned colt.

Ben Machree was slow to find her racing legs, but when the small field of four straightened out for the run to the wire she outdistanced Bell Smith, the other starter, for the show.

NEWTON AND GAVUZZI CAPTURE 55-MILE LAP

SHERBROOKE, Que., July 21 (AP).—The team of Arthur Newton, South African and Peter Gavuzzi of Southampton, England, won the second lap of the international relay race today, the fifty-five-mile jaunt from Granby to Sherbrooke. Their time was 5 hours 15 minutes.

Joie Ray, Chicago veteran, who once starred at one mile, and his partner, John Salo of Passaic, N. J., finished second in 5:32. The teams held the same positions on the basis of elapsed time for the two laps of the race which started yesterday from Montreal. The total elapsed time of Newton and Gavuzzi was 10:38:20 and for Ray and Salo, winners of the first lap, 10:54.

Edouardo Fabre, Montreal, and Ollie Wattinen, Finland, finished fourth today, but retained third place with elapsed time of 11:08:30.

Sports of the Times

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

By JOHN KIERAN.

THE CUBS players were seated in the dugout at the Polo Grounds, taking turns at plunging their arms up to the elbows in a bucket of cracked ice and water. Gabby Hartnett seemed to be trying to comb his hair with a chunk of ice. Manager Joe McCarthy and his assistant, Jimmy Burke, were talking about the weather and one thing and another.

From the conversation, it appeared that Manager McCarthy didn't cling to any belief that the Robins had been killed off for the season because the Cubs took four out of five from them in the recent series.

"No; they're still dangerous," said Joe. "They've got some good hitters and some very good pitchers. They're liable to start another streak at any time. Say, I never felt as sorry for any ball player as I did for DeBerry over there when he threw the ball away. How the fans hopped on him! It was tough. Then they came back and made three runs, and it looked as though DeBerry's throw gave us the game. But that isn't the way I figure it. If we hadn't been ahead, we wouldn't have played the way we did. Anyway, an error is just as much a part of the game as a basehit. You've got to figure on errors every so often."

Sage Observations.

What about the Giants?

"A fine team outside of the box. Everybody knows that. Say, I see where McGraw suggested moving up the pitcher's box to stop the heavy hitting. Why stop the heavy hitting? The fans seem to like it. Yes, sir, what brings them out is the clout that sends the ball out of the park. If they want to stop home runs here, why don't they put a screen in front of the stands as they did in Pittsburgh. I don't like any tinkering with the playing rules."

What about the Cardinals?

"Still dangerous. They've been getting good pitching lately. They've got a couple of good catchers, only one weak spot in the infield, and a fine outfield. Orsatti's good. Douthit is one of the best, and Hafey seems to be back in form again. Yep, it's a good team."

Trade and Barter.

It would appear off-hand that the Cubs made a bad bargain when they traded Walter Berger to the Braves for Lester Bell, who has been out of the game most of this season, but it was Bill Veeck, president of the Cubs, who said:

"Well, where would we put Berger if we had him? We couldn't use him in our outfield. He's a good man in Boston. He's a heavy hitter and a gate attraction. I'm glad he's making good. But I can't say we hurt our chances any by letting him go."

Joe McCarthy explained why he grabbed Doc Farrell when the Cardinals put him on the waiver list.

"Why, it was like a Christmas present," said Joe. "It would be foolish to pass up a player like Farrell. The Giants have Reese and Marshall, haven't they? Well, isn't Farrell a better infielder than Reese? And a better hitter than Marshall?"

Family Talk.

"There's a fellow who's having a great year," said Jimmy Burke, pointing to Kiki Cuyler who was fondling an assortment of bats. "He's hitting the ball and covering plenty of ground in the outfield. Leads the league in stolen bases, too."

Hartnett was mentioned and McCarthy nodded his head with a grin. "Best year Gabby ever had," said Joe. "His arm is all right again and he's hitting harder than ever. Say, have you noticed how English has been putting power into his hits? He slammed one into the open bleachers at Ebbets Field."

Riggs Stephenson came sauntering over with a bat that he got from Bill Terry. He looked over the Chicago lumber. He had to return the favor in kind.

"Pick out the worst one in the rack," advised Gabby Hartnett.

"That's what I'm looking for," said Stevie.

Lumber Deals.

Players often trade bats like that. Once in a while an outright purchase is made. One of the Chicago players paid full price for a bat and struck out three times with the stick on the afternoon of the purchase. The next day one of the pitchers said:

"Whose got an old bat?"

"I've got a new one I'll sell for a dime," said the heavy hitter.

And he sold it for that price, too.

Where the boys are friendly enemies you can often see them inspecting rival bat racks and testing the heft and feel of the war clubs. If they find one that seems to fit, the bargaining chatter starts. Who owns this? What will he take for it? The good hitters are the ones who do most of the trading in woodenware. They fondle a prize bat as lovingly as a violin player would handle a Stradivarius.

Holding Back.

Joe Tinker, the famous Cub shortstop of other days, made a curious observation the other day. He was watching the Brooklyn-Chicago series from a box next to the Cub dugout and he remarked that the pitchers don't "follow through" on the ball as they did years ago.

"They don't go all out," said Joe. "Look at the old pictures of Christy Mathewson and those fellows. When the ball has left their hands, they're leaning way foreward as though they were halfway through a dive. They had a bigger body swing on a pitch. Well, maybe it's the lively ball. Pitchers are afraid to get off-balance like that for fear they'll get killed if the ball comes back at 'em. When they throw these days, they have to be prepared to duck."

"Probably so," said Tinker, "And I'll tell you another thing. This lively ball has the infielders playing away back, almost on the grass. We never played back that far. That's why we weren't pulled out of position if a fellow started to steal. We could wait and see if the batter was going to hit and still have time to cover the bag. But playing where they do now, they have to leave their positions and when the ball is hit through there, why, it just looks foolish, doesn't it?"

It does, especially to a shortstop or second baseman who is standing on the bag and watching an easy hopper moving through the spot he recently vacated.

Scratched—The Freshman.

Moonstruck broke well, was rated for the first half mile, moved up and into the lead in the last three furlongs and won under a drive. Bramabiau broke fast, but dropped back and, nicely rated along, closed with a rush. Sign Off was well up from the start and ran a good race. Tony Joe finished gamely. Star Flyer closed a big gap. Ruby Keller made a dull effort.

Scratched—Dun Ro, Roman Blaze, Devil's Due, Fatigue, McNamee and St. Tuscan.

Rumor had plenty of speed, ran into the lead on the turn, drew out, but tired suddenly and just lasted to win. Oncora was on the extreme outside all the way and finished fast under weak handling. Sturdy as running very fast in the last sixteenth, when he was caught in close quarters and had to take up. Draconis was on the inside in the stretch. Margaret Cal ran a good race.

CALUMET GUY WINS GRAND CIRCUIT TROT

Driven to Victory by Palin in 2:22 Class Event at Fort Miami Park.

NOON STAGES COME-BACK

Takes Second and Third Heats of 2:18 Pace After Being Unplaced in Opener.

TOLEDO, Ohio, July 21 (AP).—A favorite went tumbling in the first event of the opening program of Grand Circuit racing at Fort Miami Park tonight when Calumet Guy, driven by Sep Palin, won the 2:22 class trot. Guy Leaf, in charge of Jake Mahoney, had been installed the favorite, but never figured.

Guy Brewer, driven by Hunter, won the first heat, but Calumet Guy was the best in the other two.

After racing out of the money in the first heat Noon, driven by Charlie Valentine, won the second and third heats and the Maumee 2:18 class pace.

Nora Scott, driven by Earl Pitman, won the 12 class trot in four heats. She paid $387 in the $10 result book. The other heat winners were Calumet Annette and Quality.

Patch Direct, also driven by Pitman, won the fourth event, taking the final two heats after finishing sixth in the first heat which was captured by Margaret Brewer and Ray at the Reins. A heavy shower fell as the final event was raced.

HOPPE LEADING ST. JEAN.

Wins Opening Blocks of 3-Cushion Match, 50-31, 50-34.

Making his first competitive appearance in New York since last Winter, Willie Hoppe defeated Andrew St. Jean in the opening two blocks of their handicap three-cushion match at the Strand Academy yesterday. Hoppe won the afternoon block, 50 to 31, in thirty-two innings, and the evening encounter, 50 to 34, forty-three innings.

Hoppe had a high run of 5 in the first block to one of 4 by St. Jean. Both had clusters of 6 in the evening.

Hoppe now leads, 100 to 65, in a match that has as its objective 700 points for the former champion to 560 for St. Jean. They are playing fourteen blocks of 50 to 40 points each.

Browns Get Metzler.

CHICAGO, July 21 (AP).—Alex Metzler, utility outfielder, today was sent by the Chicago White Sox to the St. Louis Browns for the waiver price. Metzler came to Chicago in 1927 from Wichita Falls, Texas. He batted .319 his first season, dropped to .304 in 1928 and had an average of .275 last season.

Three $20,000 Stakes Listed For Havre de Grace Fall Meet

Three stakes, each carrying $20,000 in added money, will be offered during the Fall meeting at Havre de Grace, scheduled to begin on Sept. 23 and run eleven days. The entry list for these four stakes closes on Aug. 25 with Joseph McLennan, racing secretary. The stakes are the Potomac Handicap, the Havre de Grace Cup and the Eastern Shore Handicap.

JOCK WINS BY NOSE AT ARLINGTON PARK

CHICAGO, July 21 (AP).—E. B. McLean's 6-year-old bay horse Jock, by Colin-Kathleen, won the Lakeville Purse, which featured today's program at Arlington Park. It was his first triumph this year. Hot Toddy from K. E. Hitt's Stable was second, and Canaan from the Le Mar Stock Farm third. Seven horses started.

The event was an allowance affair for 3-year-olds and upward at a mile, out of the chute, and was negotiated in 1:37 1-5. The winner paid $5.74 for $2.

Carrying only 105 pounds, and under a good ride by E. Steffens, Jock was allowed to set his own pace. Entering the stretch the son of Colin shook off Cantankerous, which had been clinging to him from the start, and drew clear in the stretch run, but was hard pressed by Hot Toddy in the final drive and was doing his best to win by a nose.

Hot Toddy was easily second by three lengths, with Canaan, which ran evenly throughout, third by a length and a half over Cantankerous. Boom, Uncommon Gold and Milton Moore finished in the order named.

Cullop on Way to Record.

CHICAGO, July 21 (AP).—If nothing occurs to keep Nick Cullop from playing centre field for Minneapolis in the remaining games this season, one American Association record appears certain to be erased. In eighty-one games the veteran has driven out thirty home runs, leaving him just an even dozen shy of the league record of forty-two set in 1921 by Bunny Brief of Kansas City.

German Relinquishes Ring Title.

BERLIN, July 21 (AP).—Hein Domgoergen has relinquished his German middleweight boxing championship because of dissatisfaction over a $500 purse offered him to defend his title against Erich Beck.

WEIGHTS ARE SET FOR THE WAKEFIELD

VANDER POOL RANKED NEXT

The weights for the Saratoga Handicap and Wakefield Handicap were announced yesterday by Walter S. Vosburgh, Jockey Club handicapper, and disclose the interesting facts that Vosburgh considers Blue Larkspur three pounds better than Sun Beau in the handicap division, and Equipoise a pound better than Vander Pool in the juvenile division.

The Saratoga Handicap is the opening day feature at the forthcoming Spa meeting which will begin on July 30. The Wakefield is one of the few remaining stakes at the waning Empire City meeting and will be run Saturday.

Blue Larkspur is assigned 127 pounds for the mile and a quarter of the Saratoga as against Diavolo's 124. Jack High comes next with 121 and Sun Beau, Petee-Wrack and Sortie are in the same notch at 120 pounds.

Equipoise will not start in the Wakefield, as he is being reserved for Saratoga racing, but Mr. Vosburgh assigns him 129 pounds as against 128 for Vander Pool. Totem, a stablemate of Equipoise's, is next on the list with 120 and then come more than a score, all in at 117 pounds.

THE TREATY RATIFIED.

Ratification of the naval treaty by the Senate has so long been thought of as a foregone conclusion that little excitement will follow the final vote of yesterday. It represents, first of all, a victory for American common sense. Entertaining from the beginning no illusions about the treaty, public opinion in this country has plainly desired its acceptance. But had not the President put his energy and authority behind the drive for ratification, we should not have had it so soon. This makes the event a triumph for Mr. HOOVER, who refused to postpone action till December, and held the Senate to its work even in a special session. Yet the President, we are sure, will not hail the achievement as a partisan success. He could not in the face of the indispensable Democratic aid which he received.

The treaty itself, in the form which was finally given it in London, was the resultant of conflicting forces. In the negotiation, no participating nation scored a diplomatic triumph. All took less than they wanted. All made sacrifices, as they thought, out of willingness to contribute something to the long process of international peace, in which the naval treaty marks but one more stage. That the United States has assented to this step forward will be a source of relief and satisfaction to the great majority of its citizens.

THE GOVERNOR'S POSITION.

Mere partisans and those Republicans seeking office this Fall will not approve of the reasoning in Governor ROOSEVELT'S letter to Senator KNIGHT and Speaker McGINNIES as the basis of his refusal to summon the Legislature in special session for the purpose of ordering an immediate inquiry into New York City affairs. But impartial citizens will be impressed by its soundness. As a statement of the correct attitude of State officials toward "home rule," the following paragraph might well serve as a model:

> The Governor or the Legislature should not step into local governmental units to search for violations of the law or to punish such violations unless some definite presentment is made by a responsible agency not only that the law has been violated but equally that the local officials have failed to do their duty in connection therewith.

Governor ROOSEVELT writes that he has applied this policy to appeals for interference in the affairs of up-State communities, and sees no reason why this city should be an exception. And people of this metropolis who have been struck by the failure of any Democratic leader here to express indignation toward those who have betrayed a public trust will be comforted by these words from the Governor:

> With you I feel deep resentment against those public officials who have proved recreant to their trust. With you I hope that all guilty employes of government will be brought to justice.

Had Mr. ROOSEVELT been Mayor, it is more than probable that those and stronger words would have come from him long ago. As it is, he uttered them as soon as a fitting occasion presented itself. The strength of his position is pointed by the mild and crestfallen manner in which the Republican leaders commented on his letter. Later, according to the rules of politics, they will denounce Mr. ROOSEVELT in his reelection campaign. But they have no evidence of wrongdoing not already exposed and already under action from the city authorities. Like Mr. WILL ROGERS, "all they "know is what they read in the "papers."

BAY STATE HARMONISTS.

There are so many candidates and brabblings among the Massachusetts Democrats that "Honey FITZ," the Sweet Singer of Boston, proposed a harmony conference. After weeks of discussion his plan has been accepted by the Democratic State Committee, which succeeded in being unanimous for once, contrary to good custom. On the hottest day of the year some fifty of the faithful sat and suffered in > an inside room with no windows open. Those at both ends of the room were closed and the transoms were drawn, lest unwelcome intruders listen to the deliberations.

Yet of this majestic adytum reporters give us a glimpse. We see the veteran Warwick, MARTIN LOMASNEY, who consents to the conference but swears he won't be bound by it, making only "verbal passes" at the former Chairman and in vain supporting resolutions against ratification of the London Naval Pact. The conference is to be held in Worcester July 28. Long is the list of the invited: members of the State Committee, almost a gross; the ninety Democratic members of the Legislature; Democratic members of Congress, Councilmen, Aldermen, Selectmen; chairmen of city, town and ward committees. A representative body, too large and various to be manipulated in anybody's interest; perhaps too large for easy concord. The questions of geography and "race" interwoven with the nomination of a Senator and a Governor will be considered at Worcester, not, one hopes, without heat and humor.

Exactly what the soothing effect is expected to be on divers statesmen eager to try their luck in the primaries doesn't appear. The spirit of self-sacrifice for the political benefit of somebody else may not be too strong among the seekers of a place on the ticket. On the day of the committee meeting Mr. THOMAS C. O'BRIEN, MARTIN LOMASNEY'S favorite for Senator, announced his candidacy. He is a Bostonian, pledged to the six-hour day, the five-day week and the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment. Mr. O'CONNELL, likewise of Boston, is likewise for repeal. Why shouldn't a primary be a free-for-all? Yet, with no prejudice against Boston seekers, our heart still beats true to MARCUS AURELIUS COOLIDGE of Fitchburg, whose great name ought to conquer.

Our confidence in Mr. FITZGERALD isn't shaken. To the pleasing instability of the artistic temperament must be attributed his readiness to run for Senator instead of Governor. For the latter honor he recommends former Mayor PETERS of Boston. The prospect of electing a Democratic Governor doesn't seem too brilliant as observed from this latitude. That of electing a Senator looks more reasonable, but so far the proceedings of most of the Massachusetts Democratic leaders, except Senator WALSH, have seemed to be inspired rather by whim and personal considerations than by regard for the unification of the party. At present they are about as harmonious as discord. Let us see if they will bury the hatchet at Worcester, and not in each other's skulls.

OUR LATIN-AMERICAN TRADE.

The analysis of our trade with Latin America, published by the Department of Commerce, naturally stresses the decline this year compared with the recent rapid expansion. As the author of the report, Mr. GEORGE J. EDER, chief of the Latin-American section of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, points out, much of this falling off is due to world-wide business depression in general and to the economic troubles of Latin America in particular. Even though our trade with it has fallen off 20 per cent compared to last year, it is still very large. So are also American investments in Latin America.

It is interesting to compare the respective positions of the trade of the United States and Great Britain. While the department does not publish recent statistics for both countries, it is pertinent to note that since 1912 the rôles of Great Britain and the United States in Latin America have been reversed. In South America proper (i. e., exclusive of Central America, Mexico and Cuba), the United Kingdom during the years 1911-1913 furnished an average of 28.3 per cent of the total imports, whereas the United States did only 14.4 per cent. By 1927 Britain's share had dropped to 19.7 per cent and that of the United States had jumped to 30.8 per cent. In the last two years America's trade grew steadily until the collapse last Autumn, whereas that of Britain showed smaller gains.

Mr. EDER estimates the total amount of American investments in Latin America at about $5,400,000,000 in 1929. In the previous year the figure of English investments in that region was put at about $5,200,000,000. This represents a gain of about 50 per cent for British investments over the year 1912, whereas it shows a fourfold gain for American. The conclusion is inevitable that American economic influence throughout the entire region has increased at a very rapid pace. Furthermore, it has continued since the war at a rate faster than that of the English.

The immediate future does not seem bright. The Department of Commerce notes that American exports to Latin America appear to have been hit harder than have those from European countries. This is expected to continue owing to "various "ous adverse factors which will ap-"ply with particular force against "American products." Yet special American exports are likely to continue to be in demand, except those in the luxury class. New investments in productive enterprises, implying export to Latin America of large volumes of American machinery, may help to improve trade.

It is of particular interest to note that the department is of the opinion that the supposed close relations between investments and trade are not borne out in the case of Latin America. Investments grew more rapidly in the last six years than in the prior ten years, but trade grew faster in the first than in the second period. While this statement is not in itself conclusive, it suggests that the common opinion that trade follows investments in a more or less steady ratio may be, like so many other popular notions of economics, based on incomplete information.

HOT WAVES OF THE PAST.

The present burst of heat in New York does not seem so intolerable when compared with other Summers of high temperatures. There were five fatalities in the greater city on Sunday, when the Weather Bureau maximum was 92 degrees, and three on Saturday, when it was 96. In August, 1896, when New York City consisted only of Manhattan Island and parts of Westchester County, there was a cruel visitation of torrid weather lasting for almost two weeks. During the week Aug. 9 to 15 no less than 651 persons were victims of sunstroke. This was an official statement made by Dr. ROGER S. TRACY, Registrar of Vital Statistics. The number who died in the week from all causes was 1,810, of whom 552 were children under 4.

The death rate was the highest ever recorded for one week in New York. Over the previous week, which was also hot, with temperatures in the nineties, the increase was more than 100 per cent. Comparisons were made with hot spells in the worst week in 1872 and 1892, when the deaths from sunstroke were respectively 212 and 231. During the heat blasts in August, 1896, there was one day when 168 persons were killed by the sun, and on another day the number was 160. In turning to newspaper comment on that terrible ordeal one is struck by the assurance that consequences would have been much worse if pure milk had not been available for the children, if the streets were not being kept clean, and if the tenements had not been made fit to live in.

We know that in all the respects alluded to New York is a safer city to dwell in than it was thirty-four years ago. Hot weather can be confronted, moreover, with the knowledge that education in hygiene and diet, in what clothes to wear, in exercise to be taken, in habits of rest and recreation, has fortified the community against the assaults of temperatures in the nineties. In advising mothers how to take care of their children, the Health Department is always on the job. Hospital and dispensary service is the best in the world. Parks and the seashore are accessible to all.

SOCIALIST PRINCIPLES AND TACTICS.

The Socialist party presumably has no conscientious scruples against exercising the right to conscript, after the practice of the two major parties, when hard beset for a candidate. The Socialists, indeed, are in a better position to commandeer the services of party members averse to public life, in view of the fact that a Socialist nomination carries with it only in the rarest instances the hazard of election. For these reasons we may take it that the Socialist State Convention at Schenectady would not have hesitated to override NORMAN THOMAS'S refusal of the nomination for Governor if the delegates at heart were not agreed with him that his activities as a "perpetual candidate" were not for the best interests of the party. By designating for Governor LOUIS WALDMAN, a lawyer who has rendered his party long service, but whose name, to the public at large, is not so well known as that of other New York Socialists, the convention has obviously been actuated by the desire to make the test of doctrine and principle against personality.

It is a decision which called for moral courage on the part both of Mr. THOMAS and the delegates. The elections are coming off amid circumstances obviously favorable to an excellent showing by the Socialists. Business depression and unemployment can always be counted upon to swell the protest vote. In addition there is the evident growth of popular discontent with conditions in the government of New York City. As a critic of the local administration Mr. THOMAS has been active and effective. The chances would seem to be good that if he ran next November he would add considerably to the 175,000 votes he polled last year for Mayor. To demonstrate once more his hold on a large section of the electorate, to reveal himself as continually growing in stature, is a legitimate ambition that may not have been easy to put aside. Mr. THOMAS has done so.

The Socialist party organization obviously was confronted by the same temptation. In face of the exceptional opportunities offered by the forthcoming election the counsel of practical wisdom would be to avoid every risk and capitalize every chance. Parting company with Mr. THOMAS is an obvious risk. He is admittedly stronger than his party. Last year his vote was very nearly double that of the other Socialist candidates. With him as standard bearer the Socialists might poll a quarter of a million votes in New York City with a resultant gain in party prestige; for not everybody stops to differentiate between Mr. THOMAS and his party. A fine party run would go down on the records as a fine Socialist run. Instead the convention seems to have deliberately chosen to enter the November election without the "adventitious" aid of the attractive Thomas personality. Perhaps this is the higher wisdom. At a moment when the "capitalist system" is not looking at its best, it may be the best Socialist tactics to be anti-capitalist above all things.

PROTECTING SUMMER GUESTS.

When the first Summer visitors appeared years ago among the natives of Maine, Cape Cod or Long Island, the latter did not clap their hands for joy. They had been getting along well enough and it was not in their nature to welcome any kind of intrusion. The city people lived by different standards, and anything different was likely to be inferior. However, time that works changes on the hardest granite has softened the hearts of most of the year-round inhabitants of Summer colonies. If some of the visitors seemed at first to be patronizing, many of them were soon discovered to be as kindly, generous and honest in their queer citified ways as the permanent residents. Strong, lasting friendships have sprung up between members of both groups.

It was the most natural thing in the world that, once the friendliness of the newcomers was discovered, the natives should take them right into the family. The city people were anxious to please. Perhaps the first bazaars they got up for the benefit of local enterprises were not warmly welcomed, but a stream of gold erodes a heart of marble, and stern Selectmen who would never accept a penny for themselves could not well refuse gracious gifts for the needy in their community.

For many years Summer visitors have been conscious of their responsibilities. Their interest in the local Boy Scouts, hospital or nursing association has been taken for granted. They have been made to feel that they are indeed members of the family. Sometimes campaigns for funds which can scarcely benefit them have been pressed rather harder than anything but the closest intimacy should warrant. There are some natives who have observed this sort of high pressure solicitation with misgivings, and a few of them have said so publicly.

Barnstable County in Massachusetts has come forward with a bold bid for the protection of Summer visitors from all such requests, no matter how worthy the cause. A correspondent of The Harwich Independent wrote to that paper: "Let us not continue to bite the hand that is feeding us." The editor of The Falmouth Enterprise agrees with the essence of that urgent message but dislikes the expression. He regards the wealthy Summer residents of Cape Cod as satisfied purchasers of a share in its attractions. They have already proved their genuine desire to promote its welfare, and "this very "open-handedness should inspire us "to be moderate in our demands."

Apparently, it is the campaign against another Summer visitor, the mosquito, which has brought to a head the protest against too much urging. Of all things which the human visitors would be likely to join joyfully, a mosquito war seems the most promising. But for that very reason they may be counted on to come running with open purses without being asked.

GOVERNING BY COMPROMISING.

In the course which Prime Minister MACDONALD has recently been following MACAULAY would have taken satisfaction. He would have seen in it justification of his "stage-coach" theory of government. The passengers simply have to make concessions to each other if they are to keep on traveling together. Mr. MACDONALD has been yielding to his opponents on several questions. One of them related to the coming round-table conference on India. At first the Prime Minister took the position that it must be purely an affair of the Government, which alone would be represented by the British delegates. But after the protests and outcries against this policy had kept up for some time, Mr. MACDONALD announced that he had changed his mind and admitted the propriety of giving all English parties representation. A much sharper issue was raised by the House of Lords in amending the Government's coal bill and doggedly sticking to its point in the face of menaces by the Labor party. Some leaders of that party thought the opportunity would be fine to dissolve Parliament and to go into a general election with a grand shout of "Down with the Lords!" But calmer and probably wiser counsels prevailed. Mr. MACDONALD has arranged a compromise with the Lords, allowing them a partial victory, and himself retreating gracefully with the plea that there is too much of value in the coal bill to sacrifice it just for the sake of making a political drive against the House of Lords.

One man in the Labor Government is supposed never to submit or yield. But even he, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, went so far in an important debate recently as to assure his opponents that his mind was not "closed" against them and that he would consider honestly any proposal which they laid before him in good faith. This occurred in the debate on the finance bill when the MacDonald Government escaped defeat by only three votes. On the matter then in controversy Mr. SNOWDEN refused to budge. Yet Mr. LLOYD GEORGE had to admit that at least ten per cent of the Chancellor of the Exchequer's speech had been conciliatory and gave some hope that he would listen to the Opposition whenever it put forward a plan of constructive legislation. Mr. WINSTON CHURCHILL expressed the hope that hereafter the Chancellor of the Exchequer would talk less like Potsdam and more like Geneva.

Mr. MACDONALD'S readiness to adjust political quarrels may be greater because his Government is in no position to take a high hand. It exists only by sufferance of the Conservatives and Liberals. They have their own troubles. There are divisions within their camp, just as there are in that of the Labor party. Mr. LLOYD GEORGE vowed in the debate that he did not wish to defeat the Government—though he came within a hair's breadth of doing it—because, as he said, no one wanted a "political crisis" at present. It appears to be true that neither of the three parties desires a general election just at this time. That fact gives Mr. MACDONALD a certain tactical advantage. But it also reminds him that he leads a threatened life. He apparently believes that the way to prolong it is to patch up differences with his political enemies.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES.

A Sensible Compromise. The United States Lawn Tennis Association and TILDEN have fought their annual battle and signed their annual peace treaty. Each has given up something. The association has waived its supplemental rule barring a Davis Cup player from writing anything about the series by permitting TILDEN to do some advance articles. He has foregone that part of his writing contract which involved dispatches about games in which he is a contender. The net reaction of public opinion will simply be pleasure that, whatever the conditions, our premier tennis player is to be a member of the team.

Tennis, like golf, and unlike polo, is one of those amateur sports which has a large and devoted adult following here because so many Americans play it. Tennis and golf champions, their records and their controversies, enter prominently into the discussions of the American living room and dining room. Of all our sports champions, not even BOBBY JONES has been so much before the public as Mr. TILDEN. His cause has been championed by Ambassadors. In addition to playing tennis, he writes books and plays. He takes an occasional part in the public life of Philadelphia. His constant search for and patronage of young tennis material have been invaluable in building up a second and future line of defense.

Baths vs. Lawns. It is bad hot-weather news for the people of Brooklyn and Queens that steps are being taken to enforce an almost forgotten ordinance to the effect that lawn sprinklers may not be used without permits.

The reason is not that there is danger of a water famine. The regulation has been invoked in the past in times of stringency. It is familiar to suburban dwellers as well as to those who live in the cities. But the trouble is that the most popular time to use the sprinklers is late afternoon, and that this is also the most popular bathing time. The resulting double demand lowers the pressure to such an extent that many of the bathers find it hard to get a full tub or a really satisfactory shower. As between baths and lawns, the city authorities apparently plump for the former.

The presumption is, however, that a person wishing to use a hose may do so without interference. The automatic sprinkler is allowed to run for a long time, whereas the man with the hose gets tired quickly and, unless he can induce other members of his family to use it, soon shuts off the water.

Tunnels for Sale. The man who has a white elephant on his hands may have a difficult time selling it at a profit, but a firm with a couple of spare tunnels to dispose of faces a far more serious problem. At least the Underground Railway of London is finding it so.

The tunnels in question were part of London's earliest subway system, passing under the Thames River. They are 1,000 feet long, 10 feet 6 inches in diameter. It cost something like $1,500,000 to bore them. They have long been out of use, and the Underground would be glad to sublet them or sell them at a bargain price. But the market for ready-made tunnels seems remarkably slow.

The new tenant would have to do considerable repair work and cleaning. The platforms of the old station at King William Street have disappeared, and the tube is cluttered with rubbish. The empty elevator shaft has shipped a foot or two of water and is partly filled with débris. Old posters with dates in the '90s flutter from the walls.

It is unfortunate that second-hand tunnels cannot be transported and sold as easily as used automobiles. As it is, underground engineers might turn the tunnels to account by tidying them up, installing sidewalk cafés, and offering them as retreats for the weary on hot days. Another hot-weather suggestion is to reclaim them as swimming holes to take care of the overflow from the new Lido pool in London which is proving so popular just now.

The Eternal Boy in a Changing World. Not altogether a modern phenomenon appears the endurance contest fever now ravaging the preadolescent youth of the land and exhibiting itself in bicycle contests, tree perchings and similar feats. These performances are undoubtedly inspired by the profits attendant upon fame. But before going on to deplore the debasing influences of a materialistic age which corrupt even the children, it is well to recall that something of the sort has been known before.

Ten years ago, twenty years ago, forty years and further back, no doubt, the ranks of the very young were often swept by wild rumors of great wealth to be attained in divers ways. Usually it took the form of collecting ten thousand or one hundred thousand or a million objects of some kind. For a million canceled stamps the United States Government stood ready to pay out large sums. For ten thousand pictures of the kind that used to come in cigarette packages some other agency held out dazzling rewards.

Such vast expectations are sending boys into the trees in the year 1930. Besides, it must be admitted that the modern business and machine age has made its contribution. When the local grocer volunteers to feed the endurance bicyclers, and the local department store offers a prize to the tree-sitters, it is the Chamber of Commerce touch applied to boyhood. The instinct for marbles is probably the same in 1930 as it was in 1880, but marble champions who have managers to arrange their contests are modern.

REJOICING IN JERSEY.

Several Mosquitoless Weeks Arouse Mr. Stringer's Enthusiasm.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

May I draw attention, in this year of trial and depression, to one small but silvery rift in the clouds that lower about us? I refer to the once ubiquitous Jersey mosquito, which, for reasons best known to itself, has withdrawn from our midst.

Time was when at eventide we invariably sheltered ourselves behind screens of interwoven wire, heard tales of babies being carried off by some bolder Stegomyia calopus and found the joys of suburban life attenuated by the onslaughts of winged armies. Two years ago, in fact, when our local Dramatic Guild was giving an open-air performance beside Sunset Lake and the professional coach from Broadway, brightening perceptibly, was heard to exclaim, "This show can't possibly be a failure in the face of applause like that," a sad-eyed Mountain Laker was compelled to retort: "That isn't applause, Mr. Smithers; that's the audience slapping mosquitos."

But such a mistake, apparently, can never recur. For the mosquito has gone from New Jersey. It may, of course, be due to weather conditions, or it may be due to the secretive activities of the Mosquito Extermination Commission. But during the last five or six weeks I have hiked and camped and slept in these North Jersey hills, and the only time I was either approached, attacked or bitten by a mosquito was on the occasion when I went urban and spent an evening on a roof garden in New York City.

This desertion may leave the puzzled Jerseyite a little lonesome, a trifle depressed by a sense of something missing. But the fact must be recorded. And I wish some scientific-minded gentleman would explain to us where our old friend of the plaintive wing-drone and the penetrative proboscis has gone, and if some sort of legislative action should not be taken, and taken in time, to protect any lone Culicidaen survivors that may be about, ere they go the way of the dodo and the American bison.

FIRS IN SUMMER.

Firs in Summer bear their Winter with them:
Coolly their needles hold
The frigid splendor and the icy gem,
Immaculate, manifold.

Theirs is the night of pearl and stalactite
Closed in the green cocoon.
Listen! it is the moody voice of night
Under the wintry moon.

It is the wind-song of the whispering
snow
Or star worlds that they hear;
A cosmic music trees of Winter know—
Never in Summer's sphere.

Earth with its vapory tongues of Summer speaks;
Still do firs keep their moan.
Ever the cold year nurtures in their cheeks,
Their roots in the planet stone.

HOWARD McKINLEY CORNING.

A COMPLEX UNDERTAKING.

In Housing Reform We Must Meet Problem of Human Mind.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

THE TIMES editorial "Housing Efforts" again points the lesson which we all must learn that elimination of the slums (so called) and installation of decent housing conditions in a great metropolis are a problem as complex as the human mind itself—equally difficult of solution and control. In an effort to assist the basic understanding of these difficulties may I report briefly on an outstanding activity of ours?

We have a fine hospital in Munich, Germany, where between 3,000 and 4,000 veterans of the great war with the most serious brain lesions, due to wounds inflicted during the war, receive adequate treatment, are enabled to go to work again and generally become useful citizens. Only some fifty of these men are compelled more or less permanently to remain in the institution.

No operations are undertaken. The very wonderful physician and surgeon at the head of the hospital has recently induced me to add a building for a children's and women's clinic, where chiefly children, some thirty of them, are taken, and these are always children that are backward mentally and thus suffer physically.

I cannot do better than quote from a letter just received from my granddaughter, who visited the institution within the last month. She writes:

"There are three or four children who were considered idiots but who have made the most astounding progress. One little boy is deaf, and has had inflammation of the brain, which makes him terribly nervous. So far he is dumb and his speaking apparatus is impaired. Dr. Isserlin has had him only three months, but already he can write fifteen or twenty words and pick out pictures that illustrate the words. The apparatus which Dr. Isserlin uses to help him teach is astounding. It photographs the sound, the pitch, the intonation, the pronunciation and tells immediately where any defect is. Also most interesting were the apparatus for testing memory, quickness of mind and mental endurance."

Readers may not see the connection immediately, but it is direct. These children grow up; many of them are less sadly handicapped, but they are handicapped. In meeting the housing problem we must meet the problem of the human mind, and every human being is a problem different from any other.

POISON IVY IN THE PARKS.

One Finds Fault Also With Scarcity of Drinking Fountains.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Your correspondent's protest about the poison ivy in the Bronx Park is too mild indeed. It is not only in Bronx Park but in most of the other parks in the Bronx that the pest flourishes. Children and grown-ups come in contact with the poison and suffer tortures for weeks.

With all the resources that the city has, to let the poison ivy grow and flourish is a disgrace and should not be tolerated.

Another thing: The inadequacy of drinking water in the Bronx Park is serious. You have to hunt far and wide before you find a drinking fountain. And then you find too many people waiting for a chance to get a drink. Instead of two or three drinking jets to a fountain they have one. The pressure is either too low or too high. The fountains are high and children cannot reach them without aid or they have such contraptions that it is very hard to get a drink without being splashed all over.

I. H. LUTZIN.
New York, July 18, 1930.

In Prospect Park Also.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

To Mr. Hess's letter recently pointing out the danger of poison ivy in Bronx Park, allow me to add the fact of the existence of an extensive patch of this same pest in Prospect Park. The patch borders the walk, from the entrance nearest Lincoln Road, at the foot of the path leading up to the old-fashioned gardens, and crops up in a bed of English ivy. What is more surprising is the fact that all of the ground around is given over to flower beds and lawns and is otherwise exceptionally well kept.

It would seem the park gardeners have to be shown what poison ivy looks like. There is quite a lot of it throughout the wilder sections of the park, but at least it should be removed from the close contact of people using the walks.

Straw Hats and Shoelaces.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

I read in THE TIMES that a movement has been started to free men from the bondage of coat and vest, and I wish it success. But it should not forget to free us also from the stiff straw hat and especially from the bondage of laced shoes. Is there anything more disagreeable than those useless strings that always break or loosen up when we are in the greatest hurry and when renewed are never of the right length?

Low-cut shoes similar to the home shoes are very elegant as well as comfortable and, with the beautiful socks made nowadays, they should make a nice and practical footwear for men.

Kindly Criticism.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

After eight years in America and now on my way back to London I would like to tell Americans some truths.

You Americans are a real fine bunch. You work hard, and smile, and are not too religious; thank God for that. Your womenfolk—well, well, don't let them boss you so much—please. Don't worry about present bad times; you work too hard for them to remain bad long. Prosperity is returning soon with a bump.

As regards charity, don't forget your old men and women; education and children have all your sympathy.

HURLEY SETS FORTH WATERWAY NEEDS

AUXILIARY TO OTHER MODES

He Acclaims Hoover Program as Boon to Farming, Industry and Growing Population.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—Waterway development was presented as "a part of an economic program designed to promote happiness and prosperity for all the people in every part of the nation" by Secretary Hurley tonight in a radio address broadcast over the network of the National Broadcasting Company.

Declaring that President Hoover "has used the full force of his engineering knowledge and executive ability to assure the utilization and expansion of our inland waterways to meet the growing needs of the country," the Secretary of War pointed to the cooperation of Congress through the programs it has authorized and the appropriations it has made.

Five-Point Waterway Program.

He summarized the waterways policy of the administration as follows:

1. The improvement and modernization of our waterways in aid of our farms and industries wherever economic justification can be shown.
2. The completion of the entire Mississippi system within the next five years.
3. Completion within ten years of the intracoastal waterways program.
4. The expediting of the flood control work on the lower Mississippi.
5. The continuing development of our harbors and the littoral waterways which extend inland from them.

Need to Widen Transportation.

"The government is just completing the census of our people," Mr. Hurley said. "The results indicate that the second quarter of the twentieth century will see an increase of forty millions in our population. We are confronted by the great task of providing the intricate transportation system for forty million people, embracing highways, waterways, railways and airways.

"In addition to this, we must realize that our present transportation system is no more than adequate for the present population. Careful planning on a national basis is necessary to solve this great engineering and economic problem without placing an unreasonable burden on our people and without injury to our existing systems of transportation.

"Broad engineering vision and strong executive guidance are necessary in order that the present transportation facilities, rail, water, highway and airway, may be expanded and utilized to meet the needs of a rapidly growing population.

Function of Water Transit.

"To meet the situation by building more trunk line railroads instead of utilizing and improving nature's water routes would be economically unsound. Railroads will be expanded, highways will be multiplied and airways will perform their specialized services.

"Water transportation cannot replace the fast freight service required for certain commodities. Neither can it reach beyond the limits of its geographical location. The railroads will continue to perform the great burden of freight service that waterways cannot undertake.

"The highways will reach into areas that the waterways cannot serve. The airways will more and more serve the need of transportation where time is a vital consideration; but the waterways will perform a special service which is fundamental in assuring minimum cost of transportation.

"Waterways, properly utilized, relieve other forms of transportation by moving the bulk, low-rate commodities which constitute the basic material in many important industries.

"Nature has provided our nation with far-reaching waterways. The complete improvement and the full utilization of waterways for the needs of industry and agriculture is a task that will take ages to complete, but the system can be put in operation in a comparatively few years."

Saving to Farming and Industry.

The money saved as a result of water transportation, Secretary Hurley contended, would be an addition to the farmer's income, while the prosperity of the farmer would be reflected in improved conditions in all forms of industry that serve the farmer.

"The development of waterways will afford relief to our congested industries," he continued. "The waterways penetrating the interior of the country, by lowering transportation costs on raw materials and finished products, will widely extend the areas suitable for the location of industry. There also will be a better and wider distribution of population and industries to the general benefit of the country.

"Except for the present temporary depression, our railroads are in better condition and more prosperous than ever before, excellently managed, reaching every section of our country. The development of water transportation and the consequent industrial opportunities will increase railroad transportation."

LEE SHRINE FUND GROWS.

Virginia Memorial Project Now Has $109,000 Paid on Estate.

Rapid progress in payments on Stratford Hall, old home of General Robert E. Lee, was reported yesterday by Miss Helen Knox, chairman of finance of the Robert E. Lee Memorial Foundation, which is in charge of the movement to preserve and restore the Virginia estate as a national shrine.

A payment of $12,000 was made on the property this month, bringing the total amount paid to $109,000 and leaving a balance due of $131,000. An intensive campaign to complete the fund will be started early in the Fall.

When the purchase is completed the Gardens Clubs of Virginia will restore the grounds of the 1,100-acre estate at a cost of about $50,000, and the Daughters of the Confederacy are expected to spend about the same amount for the restoration of the eighteen-room mansion. The foundation has received $10,000 from the Virginia Legislature.

PLAN NEWPORT TEA FOR MISS M'VICKAR

Special to The New York Times.

NEWPORT, R. I., July 21.—Miss Marjorie McVickar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McVickar of New York and Paris, will be among this season's débutantes in Newport. Miss McVickar is at present the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Claiborne Pell of New York, with whom she came from Paris, and she will be presented by them at a reception and tea to be given at their Summer home on Aug. 2. For that week-end Mr. and Mrs. Pell, the latter godmother of Miss McVickar, will have as their guests Mrs. Pell's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Pell, and Mrs. Nicholas Holmsen.

Thomas Powers, who recently returned from Paris, arrived at his apartment at the Muenchinger-King this morning for the rest of the season. Miss Chrystal Herne, who will appear at the Casino Theatre next week, also arrived at the hotel.

A silver cup has been added to the trophies of the fourth annual Narragansett Bay motor boat regatta to be held this week-end. It is the gift of former Senator and Mrs. Peter Goelet Gerry and is for the stock runabout classes.

Parties at Bailey's Beach.

Among those who entertained at Bailey's Beach today were Miss Roxane Reynal, Miss Mimi Kountze, Mrs. Drexel Dahlgren, Mrs. Anson Bigelow, Miss Lilias Moriarty, Mrs. Malcolm Meacham and Mrs. Lorillard Spencer.

Ma Folie has been selected by Mr. and Mrs. Frederick H. Allen as the name for their new Summer home, which they are having built on the shore of Lily Pond.

John Pelényi, first secretary of the Hungarian Legation, gave a small luncheon at the Muenchinger-King today as did Mrs. Jerome Napoleon Bonaparte.

Among those entertaining at dinner this evening were Mr. and Mrs. Frederick H. Prince at Crossways, Mr. and Mrs. Frederic A. de Peyster, Mrs. George T. Marye and Schuyler Parsons.

Dr. and Mrs. H. E. Marlyn of Washington are guests at the New Cliffs.

Mrs. C. F. Peckham of Providence and Mrs. Ruth G. Bowles of Boston are at The Viking.

Entries in Tennis Tourney.

Ten couples have entered for the women's doubles one-day, one-set tennis tournament starting on the courts of the Casino tomorrow morning. The entries include Mrs. Lorillard Spencer and Miss Symphorosa Bristed, Miss Penelope Winslow and Miss Barbara Bingham, Mrs. Barger Wallach and Mrs. Alice McWilliam, Mrs. Hermann Oelrichs and Miss Florence Michel, Mrs. Lewis G. Morris and Miss Leta Morris, Mrs. Malcolm Meacham and Mrs. R. Livingston Beeckman, Miss Helen de Peyster and Miss Betty Morris, Mrs. Guy Cary and Mrs. George D. Widener, Miss Eileen Burden and Miss Kitty Wickes, Miss Emilie Winslow and partner. A mixed doubles one-day tournament is being arranged for Saturday.

The polo season will be officially opened on Saturday afternoon at Mrs. Moses Taylor's field at Sandy Point Farm. The Westchester Club will meet the Buffalo team that is being brought by Reginald B. Taylor. There will be matches on the field three times a week.

Count Széchényi, Hungarian Minister, will leave tomorrow, and with his daughters Alice and Cornelia, will sail for Europe on Wednesday. Countess Széchényi and her other daughters have joined her mother, Mrs. Vanderbilt, at the Breakers.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney will take possession of their Summer home this week.

The concert at the Art Association drew a very large audience. Those occupying boxes were Count and Countess Széchényi, Mrs. Vanderbilt, Mrs. Arthur Curtiss James, Mrs. Moses Taylor, Mrs. George Mesta, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison S. Morris, Mrs. Robert Gardiner and A. Nelson Lewis.

Among the other patronesses were: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pierrepont Perry, Mrs. Gibson Fahnestock, Colonel and Mrs. T. F. Dwyer, Mrs. E. D. Pearce, Mrs. Richard P. Wetrall, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Washburn Child, Colonel and Mrs. F. L. V. Hoppin, Rear Admiral and Mrs. Cameron McR. Winslow, Mrs. James Stewart Cushman, Mrs. Bradford Norman, Mr. and Mrs. Snowden A. 'LAST MAN' TOASTS COMRADES OF '61

STILLWATER, Minn., July 21 (AP).—A weary, old soldier sipped a toast in bright burgundy today, faithfully filling his covenant with dead and writing the final chapter in the saga of the Last Man's Club.

About the long table, which had Charley Lockwood at its head, stood thirty-three vacant chairs, each with a bow of black, as the 87-year-old veteran of the Civil War drank wine in memory of his comrades, fulfilling a vow of forty-five years standing.

His thin face was touched with an expression of deep solemnity as Lockwood repeated a bit of verse and poured from the bottle set aside at the organization meeting of the club a swallow of the amber liquid. He quaffed it as the members had decreed when they first met on July 21, 1885, to observe the anniversary of the battle of Bull Run, in which they fought together.

Each year there was reunion and each year there were more vacant chairs, but today was the first when only one veteran appeared. With his promise kept, Lockwood closed the records of the club and prepared to return to his home at Chamberlain, S. D., for no longer will there be reunions. The destiny of the organization has been attained.

But Lockwood made an unexpected discovery. The Burgundy tasted as it should. It was neither sour nor vinegar-like, as it was supposed to be. Peter Hall, who was next to the last man, could not restrain his curiosity and sampled the wine three years ago and announced that it had turned to vinegar.

After the ceremony Lockwood said that he found the wine excellent. He turned over the bottle with most of its contents intact to the Stillwater Library for preservation.

Completing the pattern for the ceremony, so carefully laid out long ago, Lockwood addressed his simple toast to "my comrades," and then repeated a verse read at its first meeting, his voice ringing out clearly in the dining room which stands on the site of the banquet hall where the initial meeting was held:

> The camp fire smoulders—ashes fall;
> The clouds are black athwart the sky;
> No tap of drums, no bugle call;
> My comrades, all, good-bye.

Then he took up the bottle and drank as cheers from the roomful of old pioneers, friends, widows of former club members and relatives were given him.

Next to him sat Mrs. Samuel Bloomer, widow of the color bearer of Company B, First Minnesota Volunteer Infantry, of which the club members were all former members.

TRACE AIDE'S INCOME IN SHONGOOD TRIAL

Kathryn J. McGough, who was cashier for Charles Shongood, former United States Auctioneer, increased her income from $1,560 in 1920, to $10,936 in 1928, and during the latter year, received $2,700 in dividends and interest, according to income tax returns produced yesterday by Thomas T. Cooke and Laurence J. Rittenband, Assistant United States Attorneys, who are prosecuting Shongood, Miss McGough and Charles Shongood Jr. for alleged conspiracy to embezzle, falsify accounts and file false returns with receivers in bankruptcy.

The Shongood trial was resumed with the testimony of Frank Sanford, bookkeeper and brother-in-law of the former auctioneer, who swore that he had never made a false entry in his books and that Shongood had never requested him to do so.

Mr. Cooke asked him to explain what he described as erasures from a sales book, which the prosecutor believed to relate to receipts from the sales of merchandise of the defunct fur and coat firm of Gertner & Fleischmann.

The entries in question had been made in November, 1928, one recording the receipt of $330 and the other the receipt of $17,765. In each case the entry recorded over an erasure, read "merchandise," though there was nothing to show in the sales book that the receipts related to those from this concern. Mr. Cooke, however, produced the day book, which showed that the firm's merchandise had been liquidated to the amount of the two entries on the date in question.

An entry, reading "Bandits $250," marked in pencil in a little black book Sanford is said to have used, aroused Mr. Cooke's curiosity. The witness explained that "Bandits" was the name of a customer. The trial will be continued today.

LT. COL. JAMES DIES; BRITISH STATESMAN

Member of Parliament Since 1920 Served With Distinction in Africa and World War.

FIGHT FOR HIS SEAT LOOMS

Empire Tariffs Likely to Be Issue—Once Champion Army and Navy Boxer Was 58.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, July 21.—Lieut. Col. Cuthbert James, Conservative member of Parliament and brother of Lord Northbourne, died today. As a result, another election based on the issue of Empire tariffs will probably be staged, this time in the Conservative stronghold of Bromley, Kent. His seat is expected to be challenged by Colonel H. V. Combs, as independent candidate, with the baking of Lord Beaverbrook and his Empire Free Traders.

Lieut. Col. James was 58 years old. He was heavyweight boxing champion of the army and navy in 1898.

Lieut. Col. James was born on Feb. 29, 1872, the son of the second Lord Northbourne, and was educated at Harrow and at Magdalen College, Oxford. In 1894 he was gazetted to the Second East Surrey Regiment and five years later joined the Egyptian army, serving in the first White Nile expedition against the Khalifa, for which he was decorated.

In 1900 he became administrator of Wadi-Halfa, and from 1901 to 1904 served as deputy Assistant Civil Secretary of the Sudan Government. next year he served in a civil capacity as the assistant financial secretary of the Egyptian army.

When the World War began Lieut. Col. James rejoined the East Surrey Regiment as a major in the Seventh Service Battalion and served in France during 1915 and 1916. In the latter year he transferred to the Royal Marines. He had also served as inspector of admiralty motor transport and as an assistant to the director of personnel and accounts, Ministry of the Interior, for the Egyptian Government.

In 1920 Lieut. Col. James first ran for Parliament as a Unionist and was elected to the House of Commons from Bromley, which he represented from then on. He was made a Commander of the Order of the British Empire in 1919.

PHINEAS A. MATTHEWS DIES.

1861 Veteran, 86, Left Hospital Cot to Lead Memorial Day Parade.

Special to The New York Times.

CALDWELL, N. J., July 21.—Phineas A. Matthews, retired farmer and contractor and a Civil War veteran who had lived here for sixty years at 45 Elm Avenue, died today at Mountainside Hospital, Montclair. He was 86 years old.

Mr. Matthews won the admiration of his friends here on Memorial Day when he insisted on rising from his hospital cot and leading the parade to the G. A. R. cemetery plot in a taxicab. Against the advice of his physicians, he alighted from the cab and stood in the sun with bowed bare head during the exercises in memory of his fellow-soldiers.

He was born at Whippany, N. J., on June 6, 1844. His father died when Mr. Matthews was a child. Until the Civil War he lived at the Roseland Hotel in Whippany, owned by Stephen Condit, his stepfather. He joined Company C of the Seventh New Jersey Regiment and was wounded at Petersburg, Va., on June 16, 1864. He was captured and confined in Libby and Belle Island prisons at Richmond, Va.

After the war he married Emma C. Baldwin. He served on the Board of Education here, but refused other public posts. He is survived by ten children, by a half-brother, Fillmore Condit, who was at one time Mayor of Long Beach, Cal., and by his widow.

With his death there remain only three Caldwell members of the G. A. R. They are William H. H. Condit, Dr. Henry B. Whitehorne and Nicholas Williams.

Funeral services will take place at the residence on Wednesday afternoon.

McENTYRE FUNERAL TODAY.

Divine Office Chanted at St. Patrick's for Catholic Educator.

The divine office was chanted for Mgr. James T. McEntyre, president of St. Joseph's Theological Seminary, Dunwoodie, N. Y., last evening at 8 o'clock in St. Patrick's Cathedral. Mgr. McEntyre died on Friday at Rosary Hill Home, a private hospital at Hawthorne, N. Y., after an illness of many weeks.

About fifty clergymen participated in the service, which was led by the Priests' Choir of the Archdiocese of New York. The body of Mgr. McEntyre arrived at the cathedral at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon and was met by Mgr. Michael J. Lavelle, rector of the cathedral, who returned for the funeral from the Catholic Summer School of America at Cliff Haven, N. Y. The body will lie in state until this morning at 10 o'clock, when the funeral will be held.

Cardinal Hayes, who motored down last evening from his Summer headquarters in the northern part of his archdiocese, will be the celebrant of the high mass of requiem. The Cardinal was accompanied by Mgr. Stephen J. Donahue, his private secretary. They will return to the country this afternoon. Several hundred priests are expected at the funeral. Burial will be in the family plot at Calvary Cemetery.

H. D. Oakes of Vermont Dies at 103.

READSBORO, Vt., July 21 (AP).—Hubbard D. Oakes is dead at his home here. He was 103 years old and never lived more than eighteen miles from his birthplace, Stamford. He lived in his house here for the past seventy-five years. Shortly before his death he declared himself opposed to prohibition, saying it had thrown an inferior grade of liquor on the market and that he had been accustomed to drinking good liquor all his life. Four children, ten grandchildren and a score of great-grandchildren survive him. Nine members of his family, representing three generations, lived with him.

Stephen J. Keating.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., July 21.—Stephen J. Keating, 39, assistant district manager of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, died at his home in Oak Lane yesterday after a heart attack induced by acute indigestion. He was unmarried.

GEORGE T. CUDDIHY DIES.

Boston Man Had Revived Many Apparently Drowned Persons.

Special to The New York Times.

BOSTON, July 21.—George T. Cuddihy, "miracle man" of the L Street municipal baths, who saved 500 persons from drowning and put scores of others on the road to health, died of heart disease today in City Hospital.

The flag on the famous bathhouse was lowered to half staff in his honor.

Mr. Cuddihy was 63 years old and had served at the baths for twenty-five years. For years he had charge of the boys' division of the bathhouse.

He had the reputation of not having failed in any attempt at resuscitation from drowning. In many cases he spent hours of labor in restoring respiration artificially.

One of his greatest achievements was early in his career, when a man was fished from the water at City Point and pronounced dead by a physician. Cuddihy worked over the man for nearly four hours and brought him back to life.

Timothy Healy Funeral Tomorrow.

Funeral services for Timothy Healy, a national leader in labor affairs, who died on Sunday at Asbury Park, N. J., will be held tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock at the Columbus Circle Chapel, 43 West Sixtieth Street. At 10 o'clock there will be a requiem mass at the Church of St. Ignatius Loyola, Eighty-fourth Street and Park Avenue. Burial will follow at St. Joseph's Cemetery.

CORRIGAN TO STUDY ALL GAMING CASES

Orders Court Clerks to Give Him Full Data to Avoid Unjustified Arrests.

CALLS AIDES FOR PARLEY

Attaches in Kings, Queens and Richmond to Hear Talk on Procedure Tomorrow.

The orders sent to judges and chief clerks of the magistrates' courts yesterday by Chief Magistrate Joseph E. Corrigan direct that in the future records be sent to him of all cases involving bookmaking or gambling. The purpose of the innovation is to enable the Chief Magistrate to notify the Police Department of arrests made for these offenses without evidence sufficient to warrant the drawing of a complaint.

At the same time it was announced that chief clerks of the magistrates' courts in Kings, Queens and Richmond have been instructed to appear at the Chief Magistrate's office at 300 Mulberry Street at 2 P. M. tomorrow for a conference on "how the courts are to be conducted." A similar conference with the chief clerks of Manhattan and the Bronx has already been held.

The first of the orders dealt with Form "O-14," long in use in the courts. It is filled out by a clerk in the complaint room when he is in doubt as to whether a complaint is justified or what complaint should be drawn, and is sent to the magistrate on the bench for his advice. The order read:

"Hereafter, when a case involving bookmaking or gambling is sent out to the presiding magistrate on the form known as 'O-14' will you kindly send to this office a copy of the 'O-14,' together with the disposition of the case by the magistrate."

The second order, sent to all magistrates, read:

"Hereafter, when an officer (patrolman) brings out a case involving bookmaking or gambling, will you please swear the officer and have a stenographer take his story and will you please further instruct the stenographer to transcribe the officer's statement and sent it to this office. Of course it is not necessary that the statement be in full as it would be on trial, but I would like to have sufficient on record to show whether there is or not a prima facie case."

In explaining the orders, Chief Magistrate Corrigan said: "If the evidence in any case was not enough for a complaint there was not enough for an arrest. I will call such cases to the attention of the Police Department."

The Chief Magistrate would not say whether or not he is of the opinion that too many bookmaking and gambling arrests are being made. It is known, however, that many such arrests are discharged by magistrates for lack of evidence.

BOYS, 7 AND 9, HELD IN $1,000 PURSE THEFTS

For the past few weeks there has been an epidemic of thefts of purses and handbags reported at the Arsenal police station by mothers and nurse girls who gather at the Heckscher Playground in Central Park at Sixty-third Street on the West Drive. Yesterday the police arraigned two 7-year-old boys and one 9 years old in Children's Court and charged them with the thefts.

Thomas Balducei, the 9-year-old, announced defiantly to Justice Peter B. Hanson that he was the leader of the gang. He said he lived at 338 Eighth Avenue. The two others said they were Michael Morzacco of 344 Eighth Avenue and Louis Bolehos of 341 West Twenty-sixth Street, both of whom are pupils in Public School 33, in West Twenty-seventh Street. Balducei attends Public School 45 in West Twenty-fourth Street.

The police asserted that the boys had stolen a total of $1,000, that all three had been in the hands of the Children's Society and were out on probation from the Children's court after having pleaded guilty to robbing their school teachers.

Their capture was credited to an unidentified taxicab driver whom they hailed at Sixty-third Street and Central Park West on the afternoon of May 19. They told him to take them to Coney Island. The driver demanded to see their money. They flashed such large rolls of bills, according to the police, that the driver became suspicious, and, instead of taking them to Coney Island, took them to the Arsenal station.

WOULD DEPOSE BURKAN.

Sephardic Club, in Resolution, Asks Tammany to Oust Him.

Tammany leader John F. Curry, it was announced yesterday, has been asked to investigate the conduct of the Tammany organization leadership in the Seventeenth Assembly District under Nathan Burkan, the district member of the Tammany Hall Executive Committee who now is abroad. The demand was made by the Sephardic Democratic Club and was signed by Aaron Ganon, as president.

It is not thought that the demand foreshadows a primary fight on Mr. Burkan who is well intrenched. According to Mr. Curry an anonymous demand for the scalp of the Tammany leader was sent to him some weeks ago, in which it was said that the election district captains and workers of the Seventeenth Assembly District were up in arms against the leadership of Mr. Burkan. Within a few days this was followed by a petition signed by the election district captains, expressing confidence in Mr. Burkan, he said.

The latest demand came in the form of a resolution, of which the Sephardic Club was sponsor, stating that under Burkan the district has had what virtually amounts to absentee leadership. The resolution demands the retirement of Mr. Burkan.

REDS IN CAMPS BOO FISH COMMITTEE

Jeers and Denunciation Greet Congressional Investigators at Two Resorts.

CAMPERS BRANDISH FISTS

Ridicule Visitors as "Fascist Fishing Expedition" at Mess Hall Meetings.

MANY "CLAD IN SUNSHINE"

Wearing Only Trunks, Speakers Assail Officials, Who Appear to Enjoy It.

NEWBURGH, N. Y., July 21.—The Congressional committee investigating Communists today visited two Communist camps in this vicinity and, for the first time since the beginning of the inquiry, came in direct contact with the people they are investigating.

At both Camp Nitgedaiget, which means "Don't Worry," some three and a half miles south of here, and at Camp Unity, forty miles to the north, members of the committee, of which Representative Hamilton Fish Jr. is chairman, were met with boos, jeers, catcalls and denunciation as hundreds of Communists staged what they termed "protest demonstrations" against the "Fascist fishing expedition."

"You are here by our sufferance only," the committee members were told by way of preface to the streams of oratory that followed. Chairman Fish was unable to attend the spectacle at Camp Nitgedaiget, where the first visit was made by Representatives John E. Nelson of Maine, Robert S. Hall of Mississippi and Edward Eslick of Tennessee. Mr. Fish met them later at Beacon, the original starting point of the tour of inspection, from where the party proceeded to Camp Unity.

The members of Congress were accompanied by two State troopers and three plain-clothes-men. Sergeant of Arms Rogers of the House of Representatives also was in the party. They listened calmly and with smiles to the Communist orators and seemed to enjoy the experience.

Crowd Ridicules Visitors.

It was at Camp Nitgedaiget that the main demonstration was staged. What followed at Camp Unity was equally noisy but somewhat in the nature of an anti-climax. Here the committee was escorted out of the camp grounds to their automobiles by a crowd of some 300 Communists brandishing fists and singing the International. As a parting shot came the ditty "We Hate to See You Go," as follows:

We hate to see you go.
We hope to heck you never get back;
We hate to see you go.

"Now, this song I understand," said Representative Fish, smiling. "It is the first American song we have heard here."

At Camp Nitgedaiget the committee members were met by a group of Communists headed by Morris Yudin, the manager. As the investigators walked up the steps of the administration building the reception was polite enough, except for sneers perceptible on some faces. After obtaining some information bearing on administrative details and the political complexion of the camp, details which appeared innocent enough to the inquisitors, they made an inspection of the grounds, on which some 300 bungalows are grouped. The thing that seemed to impress the visitors most was, as Representative Eslick put it, that many of the campers were "clad in climate and clothed in sunshine."

The Congressional party was about to leave the grounds when Representative Nelson noticed a crowd in a meadow about half a mile distant. The wail of a siren suddenly resounded through the camp. It sounded suspiciously like an alarm.

Call Meeting at Mess Hall.

"Oh, that's the call for lunch," said Yudin reassuringly. "You see, those people down there are waiting for the mess hall doors to open."

Representative Nelson inquired whether the committee might be permitted to visit the congregation.

"Certainly. Why not?" replied Yudin with an air of genuine hospitality.

The party descended a winding road to the mess hall, and there, in a meadow with an improvised platform, pandemonium broke loose from about 300 Communists in all styles of bathing attire. Many of them wore only short trunks.

"This meeting is called as a protest against the Fascist Fishing Committee," began Jack Perilla, a short, red-haired Communist with drooping shoulders. "I would like to say to the committee, first of all, that they are here by our sufferance, that they are on private property. They ought to understand this, for they are supposed to have respect for private property."

Party Listens to Diatribe.

A hurricane of boos punctuated this preamble. After referring to "the murderers of Levy and Gonzalez," two Communists killed recently by New York policemen, Perilla, who is State campaign manager for the Communist party, charged that "the investigation of the committee was begun because they are preparing an offensive against the working class."

"An attempt is being made to suppress the Communist party and the revolutionary trade unions, because the workers are rallying to their standards more than ever before," Perilla declared as he addressed himself particularly to the Representatives from the South, who took up positions on the edge of the crowd.

"I want the two gentlemen from the South, in particular, to listen to this, the gentlemen from Mississippi and Tennessee, where workers are starved to death in the mills."

Representatives Hall and Eslick listened with solemn faces as Perilla continued the diatribe. Representative Nelson, who seemed to be enjoying the performance, squatted in shirt sleeves in the very middle of the audience. He passed cigarettes to the Communist girls.

The two State Troopers, Corporal A. Silvernale and Trooper H. L. Willard, stood rigid and apparently uninterested.

"The Communist party is the only party that fights against the betrayers of the working class, the Republican party, the Democratic party and the Socialist party," Perilla continued. "This investigation is all part of the capitalist conspiracy against the Soviet Union, the workers' only fatherland. The Soviet Union is the fatherland of all the workers, their beacon light and hope and salvation.

"If you make war on the Soviet Union, we will give our answer to you by civil war against capitalism. Your committee has proposed the suppression of the Communist party. You want to have us outlawed. All you will accomplish will be to get the workers stronger than ever behind the Communist party."

After loud cheers for the Soviet Union and the Communist party, Perilla introduced Richard B. Moore, a Negro, Communist candidate for State Senator, for whom the committee had been looking all last week in an effort to get him to testify at its hearing.

"The gentlemen from the South may be hurt to know that there are no lynchings or pogroms in Soviet Russia," said Perilla, introducing Moore. "Down with lynching; down with Jim Crowism," yelled the Communists, as Moore, also in bathing trunks, took the floor.

Would "Fight for Soviet" Here.

"Well, we have important visitors today," Moore began, as he tried to catch the eyes of the two Representatives from the South. "You workers gathered here should understand the importance of this visit. This Congressional investigation is an expression of the development in the United States of a Fascist Government of repression against the working class. All this talk of democracy is a joke. Democracy in this country is but a brutal capitalistic dictatorship. There are 8,000,000 starving, unemployed workers in the United States. You don't see this committee investigating that, but you see them investigating the militant organization of the working class, which fights against unemployment, lynching and repression. The Communist party in the United States is the only party which represents the interests of the toiling and oppressed workers. We don't care about your investigation.

"We say to you, gentlemen of the investigating committee, you who have been talking about deporting Communist workers, the foreign-born workers, the Negro workers and the American workers aren't going to submit to your tyranny. Nor are they going to fight in the war you are now preparing. Send your effete, parasitic sons to the next war. We are going to organize and fight for our own cause. We have seen the workers' government in Soviet Russia, where there are no lynchings and pogroms. We will work and fight for a Soviet government here. We will turn our guns against our bosses and exploiters. The dikes are broken and the rising tide is already coming in. You stand like King Canute and try to stop the tide, but the waves won't mind you."

"Solidarity Forever," sung to the tune of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," broke forth from the crowd as Moore concluded his address, to be followed by Irving Potash and Sadie Van Veen, two New York Communists.

"You've got to hand it to that Negro as a speaker," commented Representative Eslick as the committee was making its departure. "It has been a great opportunity for Judge Hall and myself to listen to all this. It was a bit seditious, though, wasn't it?"

Visit West Point for Lunch.

From Camp Nitgedaiget the Congressional party drove to West Point, where they were met by Major Gen. William R. Smith, the Commandant. After lunch and a brief stay the committee drove back to Beacon, where they were met by Representative Fish. They were forty minutes behind schedule and hurried to Camp Unity. There the Communists were prepared for them. The entry of the party's automobiles upon the grounds was the signal for a wild beating of the dinner gong. A pack of dogs yowled. From all parts of the camp Communists came running toward the mess hall. The Communists were quite willing to delay their evening meal to greet the investigators. Isidore Smothors, the manager, assembled the Communists on a large porch and there staged the reception.

"Gee, we've caught a Fish," said a Communist girl as Representative Fish passed.

"Slumming, eh?" said another, loud enough for Mr. Fish to hear.

On completing the day's work, Mr. Fish remarked that there appeared to be no flag poles at either of the camps, from which, he had been told in New York, the red flag flew and before which the Communists performed their morning and evening rituals.

EITINGON WOULD TESTIFY.

Fur Merchant Asks Permission to Explain Dealings With Russians.

Motty Eitingon, president of the Eitingon-Schild Company, Inc., fur merchants, announced yesterday that he had telegraphed Representative Hamilton Fish Jr., chairman of the Congressional Committee on Communist Activities, requesting permission to appear before that committee to explain the dealings of his company with the Russian commercial organizations. These dealings, Mr. Eitingon declared, have been a matter of knowledge to the Department of Commerce at Washington. He labeled as "erroneous" statements and inferences involving him with the 1926 fur strike which have been made before the committee.

In his telegram to Representative Fish, Mr. Eitingon said:

"If newspaper reports are correct, your committee has been grossly misinformed concerning the activities of the Eitingon-Schild Company, and myself, as its president, earnestly request an opportunity to lay the truth of the matter before you."

Darrow as an Investigator Buys Ontario Liquor Permit

TORONTO, Ont., July 21 (Canadian Press).—Clarence Darrow, 73, paid his first visit to a liquor store today. Mr. Darrow is here with Dr. Clarence True Wilson, former chairman of the Anti-Saloon League, to investigate from opposite viewpoints the workings of the government control system of handling the liquor question.

Mr. Darrow bought a permit and when leaving the store he said: "I don't feel like a criminal walking about with two bottles of liquor in a brown paper parcel."

The two protagonists on the wet and dry sides of the fence came to interview Premier Ferguson and Sir Henry Drayton, chiarman of the Liquor Control Board, and others about the general liquor situationin Ontario.

BISHOP CANNON WED IN LONDON JULY 15

ROMANCE BEGAN LAST YEAR

LONDON, July 21 (AP).—The marriage of Bishop James Cannon Jr. of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, of the United States to his secretary, Mrs. Helen H. McCallum, a widow, on July 15 was revealed today in the records of Christ Church here.

The ceremony, performed by the Rev. Dr. Farrum, was known to but a few of the most intimate friends of the couple. The Bishop and his bride today were aboard the steamship Arlanza, en route to Madeira and Brazil. The Bishop is 65 and Mrs. Cannon is between 40 and 45. They are due at Madeira Wednesday for a brief stop.

Mrs. McCallum was said to have been the Bishop's secretary for about a year. Coming here recently with him and staying with Sir Henry and Lady Lunn. She had not been well, and their friends, looking forward to a marriage at home, were vastly surprised when the news was made known.

The couple were wedded under a special license issued at the faculty office, and the bride's name was given as Helen Hawley McCallum, a widow, of 210 East Sixty-eighth Street, New York.

Sir Henry Lunn, editor of the Review of the Churches, was instrumental in obtaining the license from the Archbishop of Canterbury.

Cables News to Magazine.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., July 21 (AP).—Bishop James Cannon Jr. today cabled The Christian Advocate, a Methodist publication here, that he was married. The cablegram read: "Bishop James Cannon and Mrs. H. McCallum, widow of H. C. McCallum Jr. of Detroit, Mich., were married on July 15 at Christ Church, London, by Dr. Farrum, pastor of the church. The marriage was private, but Sir Henry Lunn and Dr. MacNeal, pastor of City Road Chapel, friends of Bishop Cannon, were invited to attend and to sign as witnesses. Bishop Cannon is en route to Brazil." The cablegram was signed by Bishop Cannon.

Lawyer Tells of Romance.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., July 21 (AP).—Jake F. Newell, a Charlotte attorney and intimate friend of Bishop James Cannon Jr., revealed today that the prelate's romance with Mrs. Helen Hawley McCallum developed last year during a tour of the Holy Land.

Mr. Newell described Mrs. Cannon as a "very intellectual" woman. She was Bishop Cannon's secretary during the Mediterranean cruise.

"Bishop Cannon is a great student," Mr. Newell said, "and Mrs. McCallum assisted him a great deal in his literary work. She is an extremely alert woman with a splendid wit."

News to Richmond Friends.

RICHMOND, Va., July 21 (AP).—The announcement from London that Bishop James Cannon Jr. was married there last Tuesday to Mrs. McCallum came as a surprise to his associates and friends here today.

The Rev. J. Sydney Peters, a close associate of the veteran churchman and prohibition worker during the anti-Smith campaign of 1928, said he had not heard of the marriage.

Rumors that Bishop Cannon had married were received here on several occasions about six months ago, but investigation revealed they were without foundation. The churchman at that time was abroad on an episcopal mission. He is Bishop of Africa, Brazil, Mexico and Cuba.

Bride Not Known Here.

At an apartment building at 210 East Sixty-eighth Street, the address reported as given by Mrs. Helen H. McCallum in obtaining the license to marry Bishop Cannon, an attendant declared that no one named Mrs. Helen McCallum lived there or had lived there in the past. Records kept of all persons having keys to apartments there failed to show her name, he added.

Bishop Cannon was born at Salisbury, Md., Nov. 13, 1864. He entered the ministry in 1888 and was married that same year to Lura Virginia Bennett of Louisa, Va. The first Mrs. Cannon died about two years ago.

Bishop Cannon lives in Washington, D. C.

TWO KILLED, 7 HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENTS

A young woman and a man were killed and seven persons were injured in automobile accidents in this vicinity yesterday.

Miss Mary Ritormela, 20 years old, of 65 Sixth Avenue, Newark, was killed and six others were hurt when two automobiles were in collision in Montclair yesterday morning. The injured are Miss Angela DeMois, Miss Frances Rebeudo and James Rebeudo, all of the same address as Miss Ritormela and all of whom suffered serious head injuries; Thomas Onofretto of 96 Seventh Avenue, Newark, severe lacerations, and Mrs. Walter Price of 113 Oak Street, Ridgewood, whose lung was punctured by a fractured rib.

Mrs. Price was the driver and only occupant of one of the cars. The others were in a roadster driven by Vincent Inneo, 19 years old, of 94 Cutler Street, Newark, who did not require treatment. Mrs. Price and Inneo were arrested on charges of manslaughter.

George Grundig, 39 years old, of 267 South Broadway, Yonkers, was killed early yesterday morning when a motorcycle he was driving struck a road barrier on Central Avenue, Yonkers. Miss Mary Piasta, 21, of 45 Riverdale Avenue, Yonkers, who was riding on the rear seat of the machine, suffered lacerations and bruises and was taken to Yonkers General Hospital. It is expected that she will recover.

New York Birth Rate Shows Steady Decline; Dr. Wynne Sees Danger in Trend Since 1910

Although New York City had a marked decrease in the difference between the birth and death rate in the last thirty years, it still shows a greater normal gain than any of the leading cities of Europe, according to a statement issued yesterday by Health Commissioner Wynne. The statement said that "startling" decreases in birth rates are shown throughout the civilized world and that a compilation of statistics "upsets the general impression that France leads in the lowest number of annual births and shows that Switzerland and Germany have the low birth records for Europe."

Figures on New York City births show that in 1910 the rate was 26.95 per 1,000 population and that this has gradually declined until in 1929 it was only 18.14.

More important, however, is the decrease in the margin between births and deaths in this city. Twenty years ago the difference between the birth and death rate was 11 per 1,000; in 1915 it was over 12; in 1920 it was 10½; in 1925, it was 9 and last year less than 7 per 1,000. It is pointed out that a continuance of the decline in the birth rate will bring about conditions in New York City not unlike those in German cities, where, in Berlin, for instance, the death rate far exceeds that of births."

Swiss and German towns and cities have extremely low death and birth rates, some of them showing more deaths than births, according to recent compilations made by the statistical bureau of the health section of the League of Nations, according to Dr. Charles F. Bolduan, director of the Bureau of Health Education. The birth rates of French cities, as listed in the League of Nations bulletin, are distinctly higher than those of Switzerland and Germany. Birth rates among the Asiatics and Africans are enormously higher than those of Europe and North America. In Europe and America the great reduction of infant mortality has been the cause for an insufficient appreciation of the decline in birth rates.

Special to The New York Times.

WHITE PLAINS, July 21.—The rate of maternal mortality in Westchester County in 1929 was 66.7 per 10,000 births, a higher rate than any other urban county in New York State, according to Dr. Matthias Nicoll Jr., Westchester County Health Officer, from whose office the figures were made public today.

"This is the first year in the past four," said Dr. Nicoll, "that the rate for Westchester County has not been among the lowest in the group."

Eighty-one per cent of the deaths occurred in hospitals, Dr. Nicoll said, and 39 per cent were from "a definitely preventable cause, puerperal septicimia."

Rates in other urban counties were 37.3 for Oneida; 46.8, Monroe; 52, Albany; 57.4 Onondaga; 60.1, Nassau, and 60.9 Erie.

ARCHDUKE LOSES QUICK TRIAL PLEA

Crain Notifies Him in Tombs Napoleon Gem Case Cannot Be Heard Before Oct. 1.

CHIEF WITNESSES ABSENT

Friends of Nobleman Begin Efforts to Have Him Again Released in Bail.

District Attorney Crain sent word yesterday to Archduke Leopold of Austria in the Tombs that it would not be possible to place him on trial in General Sessions for alleged participation in the theft of the Napoleon diamond necklace until after Oct. 1.

This message was conveyed by Mrs. Alicia Coburn, a friend of the Archduke, who lives in Sutton Place. Mrs. Coburn explained to Mr. Crain that the Archduke had abrogated his $7,500 bail two weeks ago, after which he was committed to the Tombs by Judge Rosalsky in General Sessions, in the hope that his trial would be called more speedily.

She also submitted to the District Attorney a letter written by the Archduke in his cell last Friday, in which he said:

"I desire as a matter of personal pride and family honor to have this case tried on its merits. As it is not possible for me to resume my place in my family with this serious accusation against me, I beg you will extend the courtesy of an immediate trial, that I may return to Europe to take up the various duties that are urgently requiring my presence."

Mr. Crain conferred with Assistant District Attorneys Hasings and McDonald, who had prepared the evidence which resulted in the indictment being returned against the Archduke and two others. They told him that, because of the absence of two important witnesses who are now in Europe, it would not be possible to call the Archduke for trial now.

One of these witnesses is known to be the Baroness Anna Eisenmenger, and it was reported that the other was the Archduchess Marie Therese, aunt of the Archduke, and one of the owners of the necklace, which had an appraised historic value of about $400,000. The Baroness, Mr. Hastings said, was not expected to return to this country from Austria until the middle of October.

When she was leaving the District Attorney's office yesterday Mrs. Coburn gave the impression that friends of the Archduke would arrange to have him released again under bail.

COUPLE TAKE OWN LIVES.

Man, 75, and Wife, 65, Found Dead at Castleton Corners.

The bodies of William Herlihy, 75 years old, and his wife, Kathleen, 65, were found yesterday at their home, 27 Coale Street, Castleton Corners, Staten Island. The husband had been dead for at least twenty-four hours, according to Dr. George Mord, assistant medical examiner. The wife is believed to have died a short time before the bodies were found. Both had committed suicide, according to the police.

Herlihy had taken his life by hanging himself with a clothes line from a rafter in the attic and his wife took hers by inhaling illuminating gas.

Despondency over his inability to get employment is assigned as the cause for Herlihy taking his life, and the wife's act is attributed to the loss of her husband.

Herlihy had been a gardner until a year ago, when he was compelled to give up work on account of illness. Since he recovered he was unable to get employment. The couple left no family.

$300,000 IN LIQUOR SEIZED ON A BARGE

NEW TARIFF ACT INVOKED

Alleged Ring Operating Between Rum Row and Philadelphia Faces Penalties for Smuggling.

Coast Guards captured early yesterday the tug Mercury about twenty-three miles off Sea Girt, N. J., with a liquor-laden oil barge in tow. Prohibition agents will attempt today to find out who are the owners of the cargo, valued at $300,000, which is believed to have been loaded from a ship in rum row.

The vessels, valued at $200,000, which are said to be owned by the Gotham Marine Corporation, a cloaking name, according to Federal authorities, for a ring of bootleggers, were brought into port, with ten members of the crews captured by the men of the cutter Seneca in command of Captain J. J. Huston.

Evidence that the government regards the seizure as unusually important is seen in the fact that the prisoners, all of whom were arraigned before Garrett W. Cotter, United States Commissioner, were held not only on charges of violating the prohibition law, but also on the unusual charge of conspiring to violate the tariff act of 1930.

The basis for this charge is the allegation that the prisoners were arrested in American waters in a vessel which contained foreign goods with no record on their papers to show how they came by their cargo.

Commissioner Cotter held the prisoners in bail for hearing Aug. 4. Davis Straus, 2,208 Surf Avenue, Coney Island, alleged leader of the conspirators, in bail of $10,000; Samuel C. Forde, captain of the tug, in $5,000, and Stanley G. Golden, George I. Holmes, Arthur Monte, Paul Ross, William Coyle, Poge Torgsen, William Anderson and Bernard Stylsman, all members of the crews, in bail of $1,000 each.

The charge against the prisoners relating to violation of the tariff act carries as a penalty in the event of conviction a fine of $5,000 or two years in the penitentiary, or both. The prisoners, who were brought before George Brewer, Assistant Solicitor of Customs, prior to their arraignment, declined to answer questions.

The Gotham Marine Corporation has offices at 17 Cedar Street and 15 Moore Street. Inquiries at these addresses brought replies that the corporation owned the two vessels, but that the man who could give all information "was out."

The liquor seized included 2,700 cases of gin, rye, Scotch, French brandies and champagne of numerous brands, valued at $270,000, as well as 150 cases of whisky malt valued at between $30,000 and $45,000. The barge itself, one of the latest models, 150 feet long, with a 35-foot beam, was valued at more than $100,000 and the tug at $85,000.

The tug and the barge, which is numbered 75 and has no other mark of identification, have been operated by the corporation, according to Coast Guard officials, in a New York-Philadelphia service. But according to information, the source of which was not revealed, for some time it has been suspected that tugs, starting out from New York at night, have picked up cargoes of contraband from rum row and have landed them in Philadelphia.

The Coast Guard Cutter Seneca, patrolling the Jersey Coast, sighted the Mercury and her tow through the haze far at sea, and Captain Huston thought it strange that a barge should be so far from the coast.

He overtook the tug, and hailed her captain to heave to.

All of the liquor was found on the barge.

Superior Sporting News of The New York Times—

HARRY B. SMITH, Sporting Editor of San Francisco Chronicle, writes: "The New York Times has one of the best sporting sections published in this country. It is well written and carefully edited. There is little of that over-emphasis of sports which so many papers apparently feel is necessary; yet the stories not only carry the news, but are interesting. Your writers not only know their subjects, which is so important, but they can write as well. Your field, which is the world, is well covered and the reader who can't find what he wants in The Times sporting section would be hard to please. As nearly as any sporting section can be, you are international in your coverage and I feel you are to be congratulated upon having so capable a sporting staff."

THEATRE LEAGUE BEGINS TICKET PLAN

Heat Cuts Sales During First Day—Real Test Not Likely Until September.

LEGAL FIGHT PROPOSED

30 Brokers Retain Lawyer to Act Against Curb on Allotments—Smith Sees Boon in Plan.

Broadway's latest and most elaborate attempt to curb ticket speculation in the legitimate theatres went into effect yesterday, when, after more than six months of organization work, the League of New York Theatres began to operate in the twelve of its fifty member playhouses now open.

The intense heat, however, had such a paralyzing effect on the theatrical business that the efficacy of the league's regulations could not be estimated during the first day and night. Not until late September, it is expected, when most of the league houses will be open, will the plan receive anything like a real test, although a minor crisis may come with the opening, on Aug. 5, of David Belasco's new play, "Dancing Partner." Mr. Belasco has not yet joined the league, although its officials say they hope that he soon will find his way into the fold.

Fight on League Planned.

Despite the hot weather and the accompanying lethargy at the theatre box offices and ticket agencies, all was not quiet in league circles yesterday. It was learned that a group of thirty agents not accredited by the organization have retained Bernard H. Sandler to take legal steps to restrain the league from cutting off their allotment of seats. Ten of the thirty agents applied for membership in the league, but were refused, according to Mr. Sandler, who said last night that he considered they had "a just grievance" against the organized ticket brokers. Drastic measures will be shaped to fight the league, it was said by the attorney, who will make a statement of his plans today.

Then, too, it was learned that McBride's Ticket Office was not obligated by the provisions of a "buy" to handle seats for "The Green Pastures," one of the two shows now running which are not cooperating with the league. McBride's, the largest of the agencies, has been instrumental in the formation of the league, and should it eliminate "The Green Pastures" from its lists, one of that play's chief agency outlets would be cut off. It was disclosed further that six of the largest accredited agencies are not selling seats for "Flying High," the other current non-league attraction, as only ten of the recognized brokers were under option to renew their "buys" recently.

Smith Lauds League Plan.

Former Governor Smith, the public's representative on the theatre league's board of governors, gave the undertaking his blessing yesterday, with a statement which was made public at the league offices. He said:

"It is my hope that this plan will make theatregoing easier for the mass of people in our city and for the thousands of visitors who come to it. As I see it, the successful operation of this plan can bring only good to the theatre and will promote the welfare of the city by furthering one of its most important industries both artistically and economically."

A canvass of ticket offices, both accredited and unrecognized by the league, yesterday disclosed that the speculation evil had, for the time being, vanished before the heat. As one league broker said: "With this weather, we're lucky to sell any seats at all, and no matter how small our allotment is, it's too much right now."

According to one of the brokers, the league's elimination of "buys" has been a piece of luck for the agents in Summer. He estimated that his office would save $10,000 between now and Sept. 15 through its privilege of returning seats.

Non-League Agents Have Seats.

At the offices of brokers not accredited by the league, seats were on sale for attractions in league houses. One asked $8.80 for fifth-row seats for "Vanities," another $7.70 for fifteenth-row seats for the same attraction. A third non-league agency reported that it was sold out of "Vanities" tickets, but had seats for the non-league "Flying High" at a cost of $7.39, including tax. Other agencies had tickets for attractions in league houses, and although they declined to say through what means they had obtained them, it was assumed that the tickets were brought in by "diggers" at theatre box offices and agencies.

The league's board of governors held what was described as a "regular routine meeting" at the offices in the Paramount Building yesterday afternoon.

After the meeting Harlow D. Savage, executive secretary, said that the Columbia Club had replied favorably to the league's recent request that clubs cooperate with it by putting into effect some machinery for the elimination of ticket speculation.

ROB DAIRYMEN'S LEAGUE.

Six Men Hold Up Brooklyn Office and Escape With $3,500.

Six men, five of them armed with pistols, held up the branch office of the Dairymen's League at 356 De Witt Avenue, in the New Lots section of Brooklyn, early last night, and after locking the manager, Abraham Bennett, of 2,264 Fifty-first Street, and two girl clerks in a rear room, escaped with $1,100 in cash and $2,400 in checks, the day's receipts.

Isaac Held of 446 East Ninety-sixth Street, Brooklyn, another employe of the dairy, saw the robbers drive away in a new sedan. He followed them to Riverdale and Sutter Avenues, where they abandoned their car and boarded a Manhattan-bound B. M. T. subway train. Hoping to pick up a policeman, Held followed them into a train, but they became suspicious and, on reaching Wilson Avenue and Covert Street, left the train and drove away in a taxicab. The sedan, which they abandoned, was pointed out by Held to the police, who said it was probably stolen, and are trying to ascertain the owner.

Mr. Rogers Had an Amendment All Ready to Tack on Treaty

To the Editor of The New York Times:

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., July 21.—After one more day of useless argument, in a useless session, the Senate has passed the Naval Treaty. I wanted to get this amendment in, and I believe if it had been put to a vote of the people it would have gone in:

"We sign this treaty because we sent a fine delegation over and they did the best they could, and we will back 'em up, but this is the last one we will sign.

"While the whole idea sounds fine, it's a lot of hooey in practice. You can no more tell a nation what inch gun he is to shoot you with than you can tell him what he is to wear while shooting you.

"So, we hereby plead with all nations, let's quit holding conferences, stop conferring and just be friends again."

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

FREE YOUTH LAUDED BY GOVERNOR'S WIFE

Mrs. Roosevelt, in Radio Talk, Counsels Modern Parents to Win Children's Trust.

FINDS IDEALS IMPORTANT

Asks Older Generation to Inspire Responsibility and Service Rather Than Dictate Conduct.

Speaking over the radio on "What Is the Matter with American Family Life?" Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, wife of the Governor of New York, declared yesterday afternoon over WJZ's network that the cooperative spirit necessary to make any business enterprise successful has completely gone out of the home. Mrs. Roosevelt was a recent visitor at the Chautauqua Institution's headquarters at Chautauqua Lake, where she was a guest of the Women's Club.

Because of the speed of modern life, families are doing fewer things together, Mrs. Roosevelt said. Among the advantages of the modern American home she placed the greater freedom of young people, saying that where the proper training had been given to develop certain qualities of character, this might lead to happier lives in the end.

"There is at present abroad a spirit of truth which is, I think, a great asset to the real relationship between the generations," said Mrs. Roosevelt, "but which requires the building up of trust between them.

"For this trust the older generation must be mainly responsible. It is very easy to make the younger generation decide that there is no use trying to explain their point of view or problems to people who are evidently only shocked. When youth states things that it observes or feels, and this older generation has apparently no ability to understand or to interpret life in any new way for youth, they naturally feel there is nothing to be gained by frankness.

"We must learn to preserve out of the past some of the things which are good. We must attain a philosophy of life which will bring us peace and the knowledge of the things which are really worth while. If we older people can achieve this we may be able to pass it on to the younger generation. Only in that way can we be of any real value to it.

"One of the difficulties of modern life is lack of discipline. The many things in modern living which take us out from the home reduce the amount of discipline, which came as a matter of course in the old-fashioned homes from the mere fact that people were forced to live together and to get on together; because mere existence was conditioned on the ability to cooperate closely in the daily activities which produced shelter, food and clothing. In some way the parents of today must find a way to instill personal responsibility into their children and give them a zest to fight, that the best may come out on top in the world.

"We older people must not try to make the younger generation do things the way we did them, or see things the way we see them. We must try to give them an ideal and a conception of the type of spirit one must have to live a useful life. If we succeed in doing this, I do not think we need worry as to the future of the American home."

CONSOLIDATED LOWERS ITS RATE FOR FUEL GAS

Customers Using 60 Per Cent of Consumption for Heating After Aug. 1 Benefited.

A lower schedule of gas rates has been filed with the Public Service Commission to become effective on Aug. 1, according to an announcement yesterday by the Consolidated Gas Company and affiliated gas concerns. The new rates are expected to bring a "substantial" saving to customers using gas to heat their homes, it was said.

The new rate is available to every customer whose heating requirements are at least 60 per cent of his total gas consumption. The rate is in two parts, the first being an annual radiation charge payable in six monthly instalments beginning with the Nov. 1 bill. This charge is based on the amount of radiation required for the premises and remains the same in the new rates as in the old—20 cents for each square foot of radiation.

The second part of the rate specifies a straight charge for the gas used as measured by meter. This amounts to 6 cents a hundred cubic feet, or a 20 per cent reduction from the present rate of 7½ cents a hundred cubic feet.

The customer has the privilege of choosing either the new schedule or the so-called "flat" rate now in use for general purposes. The reduction in house heating rates is the third that the Consolidated Gas Company and affiliated gas organizations have made within three years, according to the announcement.

ASKS BAN ON MERGING AMERICAN INSTITUTE

E. E. Murdoch, Its President, Seeks Writ to Prevent Union With Electrical Society.

VOTE PLANNED TOMORROW

Leader Asserts Members of Body, Formed in 1828, Will Not Be Properly Represented.

SAYS SCHISM CAUSED MOVE

Section of Organization Broke Away and Was Incorporated Only Last Month, He Says.

An application for an injunction to restrain the American Institute of the City of New York from taking action at a meeting tomorrow night at its offices in the Fisk Building to combine with the New York Electrical Society, Inc., under the name of the American Institute of Science and Engineering, will be heard in the Supreme Court this morning.

The suit has been filed by Edwin F. Murdoch, a patent attorney, for eight years president of the American Institute of the City of New York, who has been replaced by A. Cressy Morrison after a dispute between the members over the curtailment of the society's activities had resulted in legal action. Mr. Murdoch sues in behalf of himself and other members of the American Institute, naming the organization as defendant.

Mr. Murdoch's affidavit says that he has been a member for twenty years of the defendant organization, which was formed in 1828 under a special act of the Legislature, as the first agricultural society to be created in the State. He said that the New York Electrical Society was incorporated on June 11, 1930, although it has been in existence as a membership organization for many years. He alleges that it was incorporated as an agricultural society, although the law prohibits a charter to more than one society of the kind in each county. He asserted that he is filing a petition with the Attorney General asking that proceedings be brought to revoke the charter of the New York Electrical Society.

Says Merger Failed in 1886.

Mr. Murdoch refers to a previous attempt in 1886 to have an electrical society consolidated with the American Institute, and said that it was a failure, but that letters sent out to the members by Mr. Morrison, as president, and F. M. Delano, as secretary, say that the meeting tomorrow night has been called to consider a somewhat similar consolidation. He declared that for more than 100 years the organization has been a factor in the life of the city and its annual fairs "have been a display of the improvements and accomplishments in agriculture, commerce, manufacturing and the arts."

The petition states that President Morrison's letter says that for more than half a century the New York Electrical Society "has carried on energetically a popularization of science in all its fields in much the same manner as the American Institute," but Mr. Murdoch said this statement overlooks the fact that the defendant society is not primarily a scientific but an agricultural organization. He declares that while the history of the American Institute "has been one of progress for more than 100 years, so far as is known the history of the New York Electrical Society has been wabbly during its entire existence."

The affidavit refers to many prominent men who have been members of the American Institute in the past, including Daniel Webster, Henry Clay, Horace Greeley, William Astor, Cornelius Vanderbilt, A. T. Stewart, S. F. B. Morse, Henry Ward Beecher, Peter Cooper and Whitelaw Reid. Its present membership includes many leading citizens, he said, Chief Justice Hughes of the United States Supreme Court being an honorary member.

Calls Interests Narrow.

Mr. Murdoch declared that the electrical society's "interests are narrow" and that it has "practically no capital," while the American Institute has assets of $135,000 in excess of its liabilities. He said that while the officials of the two organizations, who have carried on the merger negotiations may have become friendly, the rank and file of the membership of the two "have hardly met."

"It would be a tragedy to merge the American Institute in the city of New York," he added, "with any other institution unless an institution of equal standing and dignity could be joined."

The petition declared that the electrical society has 1,150 members and the American Institute only 450, and that if the consolidation is carried out the members of the latter will lose control over their own property. Mr. Murdoch declared that the proposed merger was "merely an attempt to bring about a dissipation of the capital and prestige of the American Institute." He averred that in calling the meeting for July 23, when a majority of the members was out of the city an effort was being made to obtain votes for the merger by proxy and otherwise which, he said, would not be a fair vote of the membership.

Discussing the suit, Mr. Murdoch said yesterday that a schism in the institute resulted in the decision of the electrical section to form its own organization under the name of the New York Electrical Society. Professor H. H. Sheldon, head of the department of physics at New York University is president of the society as incorporated in June.

"The only purpose of this suit is to get a fair vote of the members on the proposed merger," said Mr. Murdoch, "for the movement was started on short notice, and we want the institute membership fully informed as to what the change means. If the majority is in favor of the merger, we will not oppose it. Mr. Morrison, the president, is a fine man and so is the president of the board of trustees. They will act with sound judgment if fully informed, but I cannot help but believe they are misled."

MANY MUSIC LOVERS ARRIVE IN BAIREUTH

Every Performance of Wagner Festival Is Sold Out, Yet Demand for Seats Grows.

TOSCANINI SETS PRECEDENT

At Rehearsal of "Tristan" Prior to Opening Today He Has Orchestra Repeat First Act Passage.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BAIREUTH, Germany, July 21.—The critical illness of Siegfried Wagner has cast a pall of anxiety over this town on the very eve of what, artistically speaking, has been for thirty years the most important day in its annals. Nevertheless, music-lovers continue to pour in with every train, and accommodations are at a premium. Every performance of the festival is sold out, yet the demand for tickets continues unabated. An even larger influx of visitors is expected tomorrow.

Arturo Toscanini, whose advent is hailed as virtually establishing a new Baireuth tradition and régime, has been as stern and unrelenting a taskmaster in the red and yellow brick building on the sacred hill of Wagnerism as he is in worldlier opera houses and concert halls. It is whispered that he administered reproof none too gently at yesterday's dress rehearsal of "Tristan and Isolde" and roundly lectured the chorus of sailors backstage.

Moreover, he shattered a Baireuth precedent by insisting on a repetition of an orchestral passage when the first act was ended, a thing that has never been done here at dress rehearsals.

WAGNER SLIGHTLY BETTER.

Family of Composer's Son Sees Chance for His Recovery.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BAIREUTH, Bavaria, July 21.—Siegfried Wagner, son of the composer, lying in the city hospital gravely ill of heart disease, was reported late today as slightly improved. His sister declared that for the first time since his seizure last week the family dared to hope for his recovery. His wife is in constant attendance at the bedside and he is inaccessible to all outsiders.

The Wagner festival opening tomorrow is unlikely to be delayed by any developments.

SOUTH CAROLINA FACES LOSS OF ONE IN HOUSE

State's Small Gain in Census May Also Give Washington Another Representative.

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP).—Announcement by the Census Bureau today of South Carolina's population as 1,732,271, an increase of 48,547, or 2.9 per cent, indicates that the State may lose one of its delegation of seven Representatives in the reapportionment of the House of Representatives.

This change may result in the State of Washington gaining an additional Representative, as forecast by the House Census Committee, on the basis of estimated populations.

Census figures for cities, issued yesterday by The Associated Press, included:

JERSEY CITY, N. J. (Revised)—315,642; increase 17,539, or 5.8 per cent.
HARRISON, N. J. (Revised)—15,603; decrease 118, or 0.7 per cent.
LEBANON, PA. (Revised)—25,568; increase 925, or 3.7 per cent.
SHENANDOAH, PA.—21,716; decrease 3,010, or 12.2 per cent.
BARRE, VT.—11,211; increase 1,203, or 12 per cent.
CHICAGO (Revised)—3,375,235; increase 673,530, or 24.9 per cent.
GARY, IND. (Revised)—100,749; increase 45,371, or 81.9 per cent.
STEVENS POINT, WIS. (Revised)—13,622; increase 2,251, or 19.1 per cent.

RED BANK REJECTS CENSUS.

Council Holds Federal Figures Are 1,179 Too Low.

Special to The New York Times.

RED BANK, N. J., July 21.—The Mayor and Council of this borough adopted a resolution at tonight's meeting to reject the preliminary statement of the census submitted by Albert Heimroth, census enumerator, because of the recount taken by the Red Bank postmen for the Chamber of Commerce, which showed an increase of 1,179 over the official figures of Mr. Heimroth.

William A. Sweeney, postmaster and president of the chamber, who submitted the recount figures showing a total population of 12,135, against 10,396, which were Heimroth's figures, was requested as chamber head to take the census matter up with Mr. Heimroth and report back to the Mayor and Council at the next meeting.

SCHOFIELD AIDS PRISONER.

Philadelphia Official Pleads for Man Who Sought to Kill Him.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, July 21.—Major Lemuel B. Schofield, Director of Public Safety, today made a personal appeal in Quarter Sessions Court, in behalf of Harry Krein, a former policeman who had admitted having planned to kill him.

Major Schofield said he was convinced the man had been intoxicated and was not serious in his intentions. He ridiculed reports of an organized plot to assassinate him.

Krein was arrested last Thursday night outside Mr. Schofield's home and was indicted on charges of carrying concealed deadly weapons. The prisoner was placed on probation for five years.

GETS 49 MINUTES IN JAIL.

Seaman Sentenced for Possessing a Half Pint in the Canal Zone.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

CRISTOBAL, July 21.—Found guilty of violating the national prohibition act by having in his possession a half-pint of intoxicating liquor in the Canal Zone, Joseph McConnel, a seaman, was sentenced by Judge James J. Lenihan in district court here today to spend forty-nine minutes in Cristobal jail.

McConnell, arrested sixteen days ago, was unable to raise $10 bail and had remained in jail until his trial today.

BYRD EXPEDITION MAN ACCUSED OF BIGAMY

Clair Dietrich, Alias Alexander, Arrested Here, Denies Charge of Reading (Pa.) Wife.

Special to The New York Times.

READING, Pa., July 21.—His photograph printed in the rotogravure section of a New York newspaper led to the identification and arrest of Clair A. Dietrich, alias Clair D. Alexander, in New York, charged with non-support of his family here, and bigamy. The charges were brought by his Reading wife, Mrs. Bertha Dietrich.

Dietrich, a native of Reading, who served as supply officer with the Byrd expedition in the Antarctic under the name of Clair D. Alexander, was arrested on two warrants sworn out here by his wife and sent to New York. He was locked up there to await the arrival of Reading police.

Mrs. Bertha Dietrich today told of the disappearance of her husband nearly eight years ago.

"He left on Aug. 15, 1922, and I never saw him after that nor heard from him," she said. "He told me that he was going to Allentown to get a job.

"We were married in Reading on June 2, 1920, we have two children, Robert, 8 years old, and Rita, 7.

"He gave the name of Clair D. Alexander on the Byrd expedition, but his right name is Clair Alexander Dietrich. He just turned his name around.

"I knew he was on the expedition because, just before the party was ready to sail, I saw a picture of Byrd and his staff in the rotogravure section of a New York newspaper. My husband was among them. I would have had him arrested at that time but I had no money.

"I heard no more about him until last Thursday when I saw an item in a Reading paper saying that Clair D. Alexander had been married in Centralia to an Eleanor MacDonald. Then I swore out the warrants."

POTTSVILLE, Pa., July 21 (AP).—The Rev. Father Melcholr of St. Ignatius Church, Centralia, said today that he officiated at the wedding of Clair Alexander, a member of the Byrd Antarctic Expedition, and Eleanor MacDonald of Centralia on July 14. The girl worked in a Pottsville store.

Clair Dietrich, alias Alexander, was arraigned yesterday before Magistrate De Luca in Jefferson Market Court and held in $1,000 bail for hearing Thursday on a short affidavit charging him with being a fugitive from justice.

Upon his arrest Sunday night he denied the bigamy charge, laying it to spite on the part of his wife, and told the police that he had frequently sent his wife enough money to support the children.

He joined the Byrd expedition March 8, 1928, and sailed for the Antarctic Sept. 25, 1928. He returned with the sledge dogs on the steamer Larsen in April.

PROSECUTOR'S TRIAL TODAY

J. M. Davis of Ocean County, Defendant in Liquor Truck Case.

Special to The New York Times.

TOMS RIVER, N. J., July 21.—The trial of Prosecutor James Mercer Davis of Ocean County on a charge of conspiring to deprive Ocean County of the value of a truck seized while it was transporting liquor to the county, will begin tomorrow morning. Supreme Court Justice Peter F. Baley will preside.

Davis, with his detective, former Sheriff John A. G. Grant, and A. J. Miller, together with Corporal Francis Ruggerio, a State Trooper, were indicted by the grand jury four weeks ago, following the failure of the owners to return the liquor truck. The vehicle was taken on March 13 last and was found to have seventy-two bags of twelve bottles each containing liquor hidden in a compartment back of the driver's seat.

The truck was released on a bond for $2,000 signed by T. E. Trooper. The State maintains that the bond was invalid as the signers neither lived in New Jersey nor held property there. The truck was returned last week voluntarily by the owners and is now in the possession of Joseph H. Holman, sheriff.

Davis in his defense, will declare he had nothing to do with the issuance or signing of the bond, as that duty lay with the State Trooper, who exercises his right. Davis is represented by George Haight, Wilfred H. Jayne, Harry E. Newman and Howard Ewart.

The State will be represented by Robert H. McCarter as special prosecutor, appointed by Attorney General William E. Stevens.

DEATH LAID TO POISON.

Manufacturer Dies Suddenly at Maplewood (N. J.) Home.

Special to The New York Times.

EAST ORANGE, N. J., July 21.—Essex County authorities are investigating the death early today of Clarence P. Brown, 40 years old, who died suddenly at his home, 460 Ridgewood Road, Maplewood. Mr. Brown was president of the Aluminum Alloys Foundry Corporation of Little Falls, N. J. Dr. William M. Brien, assistant medical examiner, who performed an autopsy, declared sodium cyanide poisoning the cause of death.

Mr. Brown, who was in apparent good health, participated in a golf tournament at the Essex Fells County Club during the day. At his home it was stated today that he made no complaint of the intense heat. Mrs. Brown found her husband lying across a bed after he failed to answer her call for breakfast. Mrs. Brown summoned the Maplewood police, who sent the township physician, Dr. Daniel R. Mishell, to the home. Mr. Brown was dead upon his arrival.

Dr. Mishell and Dr. Brien said that according to Mrs. Brown her husband recently had been despondent.

TO RETAIN NEGRO Y. M. C. A.

White Plains Association Will Replace Dismissed Secretary.

Special to The New York Times.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., July 21.—The discharging of Samuel R. Morsell, Negro secretary, at the expiration of his contract in September will not mean the abolition of the Negro branch maintained by the White Plains Young Men's Christian Association. Frank Gardner Smith, general secretary of the local Y. M. C. A., declared today.

Mr. Smith was unable to say who the successor of Mr. Morsell would be. The trouble over Morsell arose from the Negro secretary's residence with Dr. Errold D. Collymore, Negro dentist, who purchased and resided in a house in the highlands of this city, a fashionable residential community. Racial antagonism arose here last Spring over Negroes purchasing homes in this neighborhood.

$2,500,000 BUILDING OPENED BY Y. M. H. A.

12-Story Structure at 92d St. and Lexington Av. Has Many Visitors on First Day.

SWIMMING POOL POPULAR

40 of the 235 Rooms Occupied—All Recreation Facilities in Use—Dedication to Be in Fall.

The new twelve-story building of the Young Men's Hebrew Association at Ninety-second Street and Lexington Avenue was opened yesterday, although formal dedication exercises will not be held until the Fall. The structure, erected at a cost of $2,500,000, replaces the older Y. M. H. A. building which stood on the same site for many years until it was torn down two years ago to make way for the present one. Other local Jewish organizations as well as the Y. M. H. A. will use the new structure.

The administrative offices were busy from early in the morning taking care of more than twenty Y. M. H. A. members who signed up and moved into rooms in the building yesterday. Another score of young men had already moved in Sunday evening and an equal number has already reserved rooms for Aug. 1 occupancy. The library, which has the novel feature of two closed-off rooms where debating teams and other groups that wish to work together are permitted to talk, was also in use.

The building has accommodations for 235 residents, all outside rooms, and indications are, those in charge said, that most of them will soon be occupied.

At 7 o'clock last night, the recreational features of the building were thrown open to the members, many of whom availed themselves of the swimming pool, an immediately popular feature in the prevailing heat. The pool, which is 75 feet long and 30 feet wide, varies in depth from 4 to 9 feet. It has a continuous flow of water. A spectators' gallery running the length of the pool and separated from the swimmers by a low railing provides a dry grandstand for aquatic events.

Other recreational rooms put into service last night included the building's two gymnasiums, the soundproof bowling alleys, the Boy Scout room, bowling and billiard rooms, and the five four-wall handball courts, which are electrically ventilated and lighted with fixtures set in the ceiling.

The Boy Scout room provides a frontier setting. Its walls are made of real, bark-covered logs, with the concrete in which they are set taking the place of the mud that was usually used in early log cabins. The floor is paved with large, flat stones and a huge stone fireplace takes up a large part of one wall. Even the electric lights are hung from fixtures made of split logs. Two moose heads adorn the walls.

Soundproofing was also used in the seven music rooms. There are two auditoriums. The larger, the Theresa Kaufmann Auditorium, which is equipped for sound pictures, has a separate entrance on Ninety-second Street. The smaller auditorium, Buttenweiser Hall, will also be uesd as a synagogue.

During the demolition and reconstruction period, the Y. M. H. A. shared the quarters of the Young Women's Hebrew Association at 31 West 110th Street.

Horse Tramples Boy to Death.

Eugene Deretreir, 4 years old, of 1,679 Lexington Avenue, was trampled and killed yesterday afternoon by a horse drawing a wagon driven by Hyman Weissman, 40, of 110 East 104th Street. The tragedy occurred at Lexington Avenue and 105th Street, where the boy had been playing in the street. Weissman, who, according to the police, admitted that he had been drinking before the accident, was arrested on charges of homicide and reckless driving.

TRIP OF ANCIENT TURK HAS SEVERAL OBJECTS

His Manager Lists Plan to Aid Science, Pleasure Trip for Zaro and a New Book.

In the suite occupied by Zaro Agha in the Commodore Hotel, three different explanations of his trip to America were offered within an hour yesterday by Calvin Harris, his manager, who once managed Thea Rasche, the German flier, and who gives his business as the promotion of newspaper and magazine features. The three explanations created such apparent confusion that Mr. Harris revealed at last there is to be a book.

Zaro Agha had been brought from Istanbul to America at great expense, Mr. Harris, first said yesterday, because he was 156 years old and represented a contribution to scientific knowledge. "There is not a specimen in the world like him," said Mr. Harris.

He had also been brought, according to Mr. Harris, as an ambassador of good will, a sort of Turkish Lindbergh who had achieved a remarkable feat of longevity. "His trip is sponsored by the Turkish Government," said Mr. Harris, "to offset the Armenian and Greek propaganda.

Soon, however, Mr. Harris explained that it was really due to the kindness of Assim Redvan, a small importer of Istanbul, where the age of the doorman of the City Hall has long been a matter of such renown that the city retired him on a special honorary pension ten years ago. "Zaro Agha said he would like to see America," said Mr. Harris, "so Mr. Redvan financed the trip."

"As a matter of fact," said Mr. Harris at last, "we are going to bring out a book about him as told to me, about his life story and system. It is something every man of 50 would want to read: How to live to be 100 years. We have already had four offers from publishers for the manuscript."

NIGHT FLYING CURB ORDERED IN NASSAU

Civilian Flights After 11 P. M. Banned by Airports on Residents' Complaints.

ARMY TO MINIMIZE NOISE

District Attorney Gets Promise of Officials to Reduce Annoyance—Earlier Closing in September.

Special to The New York Times.

MINEOLA, L. I., July 21.—Following a conference with the airport managers of Nassau County, District Attorney Elvin N. Edwards announced today that it had been decided to limit all night flying after 11 o'clock until next Sept. 1, and after that to make 10 o'clock the closing hour for airports.

Concerning the present endurance flight which is being conducted from Roosevelt Field, the District Attorney said the local officials of the Department of Commerce had fixed rigid rules for the flight to protect residents of that area, and if the continuance of the flight became objectionable he would take the matter up with the department officials.

The conference was attended by Major William Ord Ryan, representing Mitchel Field authorities; Walter Avery, manager of the Curtiss-Wright Airport at Valley Stream; George W. Orr, manager of Roosevelt Field; Captain J. Nelson Kelly, operations manager of Roosevelt Flying Service, and Inspector Harold R. King, head of the Nassau County detective division.

As the State has no jurisdiction over the flying operations of a United States Army post, Major Ryan announced on behalf of the commandant of Mitchel Field that he was willing to minimize the annoyance to the community consistent with the orders that require a certain amount of night flying at the post. Major Ryan also informed the District Attorney that most of the noise complained of was caused by the propellers of the planes and not the engines, so that even if the latter were muffled it would give little relief.

"Many of the complaints received from the residents of the county are based upon fear that one of these planes may crash into their houses and do injury to their families," said Mr. Edwards. "The chances of a plane dropping into one of the houses is probably less than lightning striking the same house because the great number of flights indicates that this seldom happens.

"It must also be kept in mind that the private fields are undoubtedly here to stay, with their great investments, and that we, the public, must put up with some degree of annoyance from them. This is particularly true of Mitchel Field, where the government has established a permanent army base for flying, and it is not likely that the army is going to limit its operations merely because they annoy some of our people.

"Another problem that is constantly misunderstood is that much of the low flying complained of is in the vicinity of the airports, where planes arriving at night are required to fly low to make a safe landing. Also, the United States air mail planes are constantly passing across Long Island at night from Boston to Washington and the South and this cannot be controlled or interfered with, it being solely a Federal matter.

"I found at the conference that the managers of the airports, as well as Major Ryan, were more than anxious to cooperate to minimize the annoyance and that Major Ryan offered to reduce the flying time at Mitchel Field beginning Sept. 1 from 11 to 10 o'clock at night.

"People complaining about the airships must keep in mind that the army planes are specially marked, and it is the army planes that have the high-powered motors and make most of the noise and move in groups of three to fifteen; that often the private fields are credited with annoyance in this line when it is the army planes that are guilty, and we have no jurisdiction or control over them."

Fined $30 for Loud Radio.

"It is my purpose to cooperate fully with the Anti-Noise Commission," Magistrate George W. Simpson announced in the Tombs Court yesterday when he fined Joseph Silverstein $30 for operating a radio loud-speaker in front of his store at 80 Cortlandt Street in violation of the recently adopted city ordinance against the use of loud-speakers in public thoroughfares unless under a license.

OLD 'CAPTAIN'S WELL' BECOMES MONUMENT

Sailor's Memorial to His Escape From Desert Will Be Rededicated Thursday at Amesbury.

Special to The New York Times.

AMESBURY, Mass., July 21.—"The Captain's Well," dug by the sailorman Valentine Bagley in 1792 as a symbol of his gratitude for safe return from a waterless Arabian desert, and immortalized by the poem of Whittier, has been restored after years of virtual oblivion. On Thursday afternoon dignitaries of two States will join with the townspeople in its rededication.

The hole which Bagley dug still is there. It has been surmounted and surrounded by sculptured bronze and granite, the gift of Senator and Mrs. James Hume Walker of Amesbury, and the work of the sculptor, Leonard Craske of Boston.

By the Newburyport Road, in a corner of the high school grounds beside the house where Bagley in his old age kept an inn, it stands, a monument to the days when Yankee sailors scoured the seas.

And if ever I reach my home again,
Where earth has springs and the sky has rain,
I will dig a well for the passer-by,
And none shall suffer from thirst as I.

The idea for the restoration of the well was Mrs. Walker's, and the movement toward it began nearly four years ago. Elaborate ceremonies will mark the dedication. The State of Massachusetts will be represented by Secretary of State Frederick W. Cook, New Hampshire by Governor Tobey, and Essex County by Probate Judge Alden P. White. Colonel New Arden Flood of New York will be the orator of the day. Senator Walker will make the formal presentation, and Mrs. Walker will unveil the memorial.

The well itself, gone dry thirty years ago, has been piped and a bubbler now spouts from the centre of a bucket in bronze which rests on a well housing of granite. The windlass and the bucket chain are in bronze. On three sides the well is surrounded by a low wall. Behind is a nine-foot granite wall with a bas relief of the captain and Whittier's verses dealing with his resolve and its fruition in bronze.

Now the Lord be thanked I am back again
Where earth has springs and the skies has rain;
And the well I promised by Oman's Sea
I am digging for him in Amesbury.

There are old people in Amesbury now who knew from childhood the story of the captain's thirst and the details of the wreck of the Commerce of Boston on the Arabian coast, the desperate struggle of the crew across 400 miles of trackless and waterless desert, and the eventual rescue of a handful of them.

One of the chroniclers is Miss Elizabeth Huntington, who conducted a home for aged Quaker women in the old Bagley House. Eighty years old herself, she remembers hearing her father speak of his acquaintance with the captain.

Whittier wrote "The Captain's Well" in 1890, in his eightieth year. The poet was a resident of the town from 1836 until his death in 1892.

50 ARRESTS EXPECTED IN SUFFOLK RUM PLOT

Eight Men, in Addition to Seven Seized in Saturday Raids, Named in Sealed Indictment.

The seven men arrested Saturday by Federal agents in a series of raids on houses in the Summer colonies of Suffolk County have been named in a sealed indictment charging conspiracy to violate the prohibition law, Arthur H. Schwartz, Assistant United States Attorney, announced yesterday.

The indictment, which is still unopened, names eight men, none of whom has been arrested, in addition to the defendants already arrested, Joseph H. Wichert, retired manufacturer, who was arrested at Mattituck in the midst of a dinner party; Peter Wyckoff, Patrick Fitzgerald, Robert Vernocke of North Sea, L. I.; E. J. Blake of Southampton, Alonzo M. Campbell of East Hampton, and Sam Schwartz.

Though the Federal Prosecutor, Mr. Schwartz, declined to comment on the indictment beyond saying that it charged conspiracy to import liquor from Canada and that the alleged liquor ring used three wireless stations, seized in the raids, to facilitate the movements of its ships, it was learned that Federal authorities expect as many as fifty arrests. The seven arrests, it was explained, were made by H. J. Simmons, chief special agent in the new bureau of prohibition, under complaints separate from the indictment.

The men named in the sealed indictment, in addition to the seven already arrested, are said to be distributers of liquors and wines, operating in Manhattan and the Bronx. Four of the arrested men are believed to have been named in a Brooklyn indictment.

RAIDED 11 TIMES IN 17 DAYS.

Malt Shop Entered by Dry Agent, Who Arrests Two.

Two men were arrested last night in the eleventh raid in seventeen days on a malt and hops store at 201 East Forty-fourth Street, which, according to the police, has been running "wide open." Last night's raid, however, was made by a Federal prohibition agent.

The men, who said they were Joseph Bloom, 32 years old, a salesman of 258 West Ninetieth Street, and Louis Stein, 29, of 320 East 173d Street, were charged with violation of the national prohibition act and maintaining a nuisance. They were locked up in the East Fifty-first Street Police Station.

Fished With Cleveland, Weds Here.

Benjamin Fox, 60 years old, of Buzzard's Bay, Mass., who said he often fished there with Grover Cleveland, obtained a marriage license yesterday at the Municipal Building for himself and Florence M. Chambers, 45 years old, of Beaconsfield Bucks, England. They were to be married later in the day at the First Presbyterian Church on Fifth Avenue. Both were born in London. Fox was divorced by his first wife and his second wife died.

OFFICIALS THREATEN ENDURANCE TESTS

Newark Judge Urges Halt on Children's 'Nonsense' at Danger to Youth.

WOMAN JOINS SON IN TREE

Threat of official action against tree-sitters, non-stop bicycle riders and other endurance contest addicts as well as against their parents began to grow all over the country yesterday. Juvenile courts, child welfare societies and the police were combining forces to put to an end what one juvenile court judge called "pure nonsense." All agreed that the epidemic was a menace to the health of its victims.

Meanwhile the Hackensack bicycle team rolled on, completing its fifteenth day at 6 P. M. last night; the Newark boys, still exiled from their city by the police, toiled on in Irvington on their eleventh day, and the New Brunswick team completed its first week. In other communities in New Jersey and on Long Island other boys in their early teens kept up the grind under the broiling sun.

And tree-sitters remained high in the boughs in Camden, Plainfield, Philadelphia, Chicago, in the South and in the West, as well as in Canada and points up-State. In many instances the boys had parental aid, but in most places they were dragged down by the police or agents for children's societies.

Mrs. Edna Knight, 33 years old, of National Park, N. J., was the newest recruit in the tree-sitting contest. She climbed thirty feet into one of twin maples in front of her home at 10:15 A. M. to "keep an eye" on her son, Daniel, 11 years old, who had been perched in one of the maples for 120 hours. She hoisted a galvanized iron tub into the tree after her—to bathe in, she explained to neighbors.

Some one telephoned to her husband, who works in the Philadelphia Navy Yard. He came home, climbed the tree for an interview with Mrs. Knight, and when he came down said:

"O. K. She wants to keep an eye on the boy."

The storm clouds of protest against endurance contests were thickest in Newark, the Oranges, in certain parts of Canada and in Philadelphia. In Newark Judge Joseph Ziegler of the Essex County Juvenile Court, after a conference with Miss Jessie Condit of the Children's Aid Society and Miss T. A. Farrell of the Children's Aid Society of the Oranges, announced that he would entertain complaints under the child welfare act against endurance contest participants under 16 years of age and against their parents.

"These contests," said Judge Ziegler, "are pure nonsense. I do not want to spoil any legitimate activity, but the current craze offers certain dangers to children that we cannot afford to overlook. The parents may be charged with neglect, with exploitation of the children for monetary gain, and where children persist in remaining in the contests despite parental order, we shall pick the children up as incorrigibles."

Vincent Morrisey and Anthony Scotti, the arboreal champions of Camden and vicinity, had been up 167 hours, or little more than a week, striving to pass the 216-hour mark set by Billy Kearney of Kansas City. In Elizabeth, N. J., Charles Henry Stewart, 19 years old, amid the branches in Carteret Park, had completed seventy-five hours. Nick Getty, 14 years old, in Niagara Falls, N. Y., passed his 164th hour of tree-sitting.

BROKER AND WIFE ARRESTED

Staten Island Couple Charged With Larceny in Subleasing Land.

Samuel I. Gross, a real estate broker, residing at 19 Silver Lake Road, Tompkinsville, S. I., and his wife, Regina, were arrested yesterday afternoon by Detective Sergeant Timothy Cotter of the District Attorney's office on bench warrants charging them with grand larceny in connection with a sublease of a portion of Wolff's Pond, at Princes Bay. They furnished bail of $1,000 and will be arraigned for pleading in the Richmond County Court Friday morning. The couple were indicted by the Richmond County grand jury last Friday.

The complainant in the case is Mrs. Bertha Welling, a Brooklyn woman, who planned a camp for poor children on the Wolff property, which was acquired by the State several months ago for park purposes and leased to Gross and his wife. Plans were made by them for camp and bungalow sites, but these were held up because the Health Department refused to grant permits.

Mrs. Welling claims she agreed to take over a part of the tract for the children's camp. She alleges she paid $250 deposit, not being aware that permits for the camp could not be obtained. She says she was unable to get her money back.

DRY AGENT FACES ACTION.

Bystander, Who Says Raider Shot at Him, May Go to Court.

Special to The New York Times.

MAMARONECK, N. Y., July 21.—The shot fired at a bystander by a Federal agent in a raid here Friday night appeared likely today to reach the courts. Paul Will, proprietor of a restaurant next door to a raided place and at whose back the unnamed agent is alleged to have fired, announced that he may retain counsel to file a formal protest and complaint.

Chief of Police Charles Stowell, who said earlier today that he doubted if any shots had been fired in the raids, questioned Mr. Will and then left for New York. He said on Saturday that he would take the matter up with the prohibition authorities there.

Mr. Will today revealed the name of a man who is said to have seen the agent fire pointblank at his back after ordering him into his restaurant. Mr. Will had gone into the street on hearing a shot. The witness is David Leahy.

Many protests against the tactics of the raiders have been voiced in the village. But Mayor William E. Lyon Jr. said he would wait to see whether a protest "is justified" before making any.

ANDING, ILL, ENDS ENDURANCE FLIGHT

Pilot of Stinson Monoplane Is Taken to Hospital From Roosevelt Field.

RED WINGED PAIR STILL UP

Reichers and Black, After Hunter Brothers' Record, Aloft 26 Hours at 10:34 P. M.

Special to The New York Times.

ROOSEVELT FIELD, L. I., July 21.—Of the two Stinson monoplanes which started in the long grind of continuous flying, aiming at the 553-hour record set July 4 in Chicago by the Hunter brothers, only one remained aloft here tonight. The green winged plane came down on this field at 6:55 o'clock tonight when Tex Anding, one of the pilots, became violently ill and had to be taken to Nassau Hospital in Mineola, where his condition was serious enough to cause the hospital to hold him until he recovers.

At 10:34 Lou Reichers and Robert Black droned above the field to pass the twenty-six-hour mark on the start toward a month-long flight. Both pilots insisted that they would not roll the wheels on the ground before Labor Day. The plane was refueled four times during the day by John Donaldson and Philip Watson.

Supplied with newspapers, a radio set, food and two-way radio communication with those on the ground, the red-winged plane had settled down to routine flying for the night. The fliers were warned to remain high enough to conform with the 1,000-foot rule of the Department of Commerce and told of the threat of the Nassau County authorities to prevent the refueling plane from taking off with more gasoline if the flight be adjudged a nuisance from noise and annoyance to residents adjacent to the field.

Aside from the illness of Anding nothing was wrong with the green-winged plane. Jack Charleson, its other pilot, was somewhat downcast that ill-luck should have spoiled their attempt so soon. With another pilot he may take off again to a new start, but at a late hour the matter was undecided.

The two planes went aloft within a minute of each other at 8:34 o'clock last night. Three refueling contacts were made with each before the green plane came down. The red plane has now had 160 gallons transferred to it in addition to other supplies which have been lowered on a rope.

Despite the heat, flying conditions were good all day. The men reported some amount of suffering from the closeness of the cabins, however, and it is feared that the heat may have been a contributory cause of Anding's illness and the failure of his plane to continue. Once every twenty minutes the remaining plane passes directly over the observers on the field as it flies endlessly around its appointed course over the adjacent flying fields in this section.

'FIREBIRD SUITE' PLAYED.

Substitution Is Made at Stadium Concert After Popular Requests.

To one of the smallest audiences that has heard it this season, the New York Philharmonic-Symphony gave its concert last night at the Lewisohn Stadium. After the "Dream Pantomime" from Humperdinck's "Hänsel and Gretel" and Tchaikovsky's "Francesca da Rimini," Willem Van Hoogstraten, the conductor, announced that Stravinsky's "Firebird Suite" would be played instead of excerpts from the same composer's "Petroushka." He added that he hoped this change would not disappoint the auditors. The answering applause assured him that it would not. It was learned later that the change had been made in response to many requests. The remainder of the program proceeded as announced: The Prelude from Wagner's "Lohengrin," Enesco's first Rumanian Rhapsody and Strauss's "Death and Transfiguration."

Beethoven's Ninth Symphony is announced for tonight and tomorrow night. In case of rain the "Choral" Symphony will be postponed and a substitute orchestral program will be given in the Great Hall of City College.

LOPEZ IS GOLDMAN GUEST.

Leads Band in Two Numbers at Central Park Concert.

Vincent Lopez was guest conductor last night at the concert of the Goldman Band on the Mall at Central Park. Mr. Lopez, who was introduced by Mr. Goldman as a personal friend who had done a great deal for music and musicians, conducted a Sousa march and Mr. Goldman's own march, "Onward and Upward." A crowd of about 20,000 gave him an ovation.

Just before the concert about fifty members of the American Federation of Industrial Women, Inc., held their midsummer outing and open-air meeting on the Mall. They brought sandwiches and planned to hold their regular monthly meeting near a fountain, but due to the heat they merely fanned themselves and waited for the music to begin.

The program conducted by Mr. Goldman included several movements from symphonies by Tchaikovsky and part of Haydn's "Farewell Symphony," during which each player leaves his place at the close of his part, until only the conductor is left. The band also played the fantasie "A Soldier's Dream," with a cornet solo by Del Staigers, and the Love Death music from Wagner's "Tristan and Isolde."

MARY GARDEN TO SING JEAN.

Will Appear in "Juggler of Notre Dame" With Philadelphia Opera.

Mary Garden will again be heard in the rôle of Jean, the juggler, when Massenet's "Le Jongleur de Notre Dame" is presented by the Philadelphia Grand Opera Company on Thursday evening, Oct. 23, according to the announcement of Mrs. Mary Louise Curtis Bok, chairman of the company. It will be recalled that Miss Garden sang this rôle last year with the same forces.

It is of great interest that this rôle was sung by a lyric tenor at its premiere in Monte Carlo in 1902 as also in Paris and London. Miss Garden established a feminine interpretation of the rôle as a tradition in this country in 1908. She also created the title rôle in Debussy's "Pélleas and Mélisande" and has specialized in French repertory for many years.

The remainder of the cast will be almost identically that of last year's, and is to include Chief Caupolican as Boniface, Ivan Steschenko as the Prior and Albert Mahler as the Poet-Monk.

GINGER ROGERS TO MARRY.

Dancer Is to Wed John Keating Jr. in New York on Aug. 2.

Special to The New York Times.

BALTIMORE, Md., July 21.—Miss Ginger Rogers, dancer in the movies and on the stage, will become the bride of John Keating Jr. of Cumberland on Aug. 2. She is the daughter of Mrs. Charles David Rodgers of Mexico, Mo., but she dropped the "d" from her surname at the beginning of her career. She was only 14 when she won the Texas State charleston championship. That victory marked the beginning of her career, which also has carried her to a place behind the microphone.

Mr. Keating is a son of the late Colonel John Keating of Western Maryland. He is employed in New York, where he met Miss Rogers. They will be married in New York.

ENTERTAIN FORMER STARS.

Six "Veterans of Variety" Are Hosts at Palace Theatre.

Former stars of the vaudeville and legitimate stage were entertained after the matinee performance yesterday afternoon at the Palace Theatre, where Eddie Dowling, who is featured on this week's program with six "Veterans of Variety," acted as host. Thirty actors and actresses, now under the care of the Actors' Fund of America, were in the audience and went backstage at the conclusion of the performance to greet old friends in Mr. Dowling's act.

Short speeches were delivered by Mr. Dowling, Jefferson De Angelis and Daniel Frohman, president of the Actors' Fund.

Mrs. "Skeets" Gallagher Has a Son.

MALDEN, Mass., July 21 (AP).—Mrs. Joseph Muldoon of this city received a telegram today from "Skeets" Gallagher, vaudeville and screen dancer, telling her that she became a great-grandmother of a baby boy yesterday. Mrs. Muldoon is the grandmother of Pauline Mason, otherwise Mrs. "Skeets" Gallagher, a Malden girl, and Ziegfeld dancer.

THEATRICAL NOTES.

Lenore Ulric, who will appear this Fall in a play by William Du Bois, to be produced by Lewis E. Gensler in association with the Erlanger office, will arrive this morning from Hollywood. John D. Williams, who will direct the play, will also come here from the coast in a few days.

"Luana," the Arthur Hammerstein musical play based on "The Bird of Paradise," went into rehearsal yesterday.

Charles Hopkins has returned from England, where he recently conferred with Benn W. Levy, A. A. Milne and John Galsworthy concerning New York productions of their plays.

David Belasco's new production, "Dancing Partner," opened a tryout engagement last night in Atlantic City.

"Reunion," a new comedy by S. K. Lauren, began its second and last week out of town last night at the Savoy Theatre, Asbury Park. Cora Witherspoon, who has been playing a leading rôle, will not be in the cast in New York, it is announced.

SENATE CONFIRMS ONLY 2 NOMINEES

Hines for Veterans' Bureau and Jardine for Minister to Egypt Approved.

POWER BOARD IS HELD UP

Filipino Protests Also Delay Action on Nicholas Roosevelt's Nomination.

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP).—Before the Senate adjourned today it confirmed Brig. Gen. Frank T. Hines as administrator of the newly organized Bureau of Veterans' Affairs. It also confirmed the nomination of William M. Jardine, former Secretary of Agriculture, to be Minister to Egypt.

The Interstate Commerce Commission today unanimously reported to the Senate the nominations of Claude L. Draper of Wyoming, Ralph B. Williamson of Washington and Marcel Garsaud of Louisiana, to be members of the new Federal power commission, but confirmation was postponed until the Winter session after Senators Walsh, Democrat, of Montana, and McKellar, Democrat, of Tennessee, had objected to their consideration.

Chairman Bingham of the Territories Committee announced that the nomination of Nicholas Roosevelt of New York to be Vice Governor of the Philippines would be laid over until next Winter because of opposition to the nominee in the Philippines.

The Philippine Senate has protested the appointment and several members of the Senate have asked for hearings on the nomination. With the Senate ready to adjourn, Senator Bingham said, there would be no opportunity for the necessary hearings and he would lay the nomination aside.

This will give President Hoover an opportunity to make a recess appointment, which some believe he will do. White House circles indicated considerable concern today when word arrived of the demands for extensive hearings on Mr. Roosevelt.

Pedro Guevara, resident Commissioner of the Philippines, vigorously protested Roosevelt's appointment and opposed confirmation. In a letter to Senator Bingham he included cablegrams of protest from President Quezon of the Philippine Senate and Representative Alas, Acting Speaker of the House, and said Senator Juan Sumulong, president of the Democrat party and minority floor leader in the island Senate, and Manuel Roxas, Speaker of the House and chairman of the mission to this country, also were opposed to Roosevelt.

Guevara listed six reasons for opposing the New Yorker. They follow:

"The attitude of Mr. Roosevelt towards the Filipino people has been one of antagonism rather than of sympathy.

"In his criticism of the Filipino people he is actuated by prejudices against the Filipino people, as a race.

"He expressed himself as out of sympathy with the present policy of the American Government in the Philippines, declaring that "our first quarter of a century in the Philippines has been an experiment in misapplied altruism."

"In his writing on the Philippines Mr. Roosevelt has most unjustly criticized the leaders of the Filipino people, without whose cooperation he could not render useful and constructive service to the government of the Philippines.

"Mr. Roosevelt has also made repeated criticisms of the system of mass education in the Philippines and has shown unconcealed enthusiasm for European colonial systems, especially that of Holland in Java, which he offers to the United States as a model which America should follow in her effort to establish an 'efficient colonial administration, and to develop the vast resources of the islands to the profit of all concerned.'

"The appointment of Mr. Roosevelt will be received in the Philippines as an indication of a change in the policy which the United States has thus far pursued in the Philippines and the initiation of a utilitarian and selfish policy in the Philippines."

Philippine Senate Moved Quickly.

MANILA, July 21 (AP).—The Philippine Senate today unanimously adopted a resolution protesting against the nomination by President Hoover of Nicholas Roosevelt as Vice Governor of the islands.

The resolution cited portions of his book, "The Philippines: A Treasure and a Problem," and charged that Mr. Roosevelt was prejudiced against the Filipinos and Orientals generally.

Quick action was taken by the Senate in an effort to forestall Mr. Roosevelt's confirmation by the United States Senate.

The insular House was expected to adopt the same resolution.

RADIO-CABLE UNION BACKED IN REPORT

Bar Association Committee Advises That Ban on It Be Repealed.

HOLDS CONTROL POSSIBLE

New Jersey Law Requiring State Permits for Stations Assailed as in Conflict With Federal Law.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—A majority of the committee on communications of the American Bar Association recommended today that Section 17 of the Federal radio act of 1927, forbidding the merger of cable and wireless systems in foreign communication, be repealed. A report was filed with the Radio Commission by Louis G. Caldwell, chairman of the committee, and Acting Chairman Lafount of the commission referred it to the legal division for study.

The report also recommended that Section 17 be eliminated from the Couzens bill pending before the Senate Commerce Committee.

If Section 17 is eliminated, the report declared, government control over foreign rates should be effectively assured as completely as possible, either by amendment of the interstate commerce act or by an appropriate provision in the communications law.

Discussing State and municipal regulation of radio, the report made special reference to the law enacted by the New Jersey Legislature in March, forbidding the construction or operation of any broadcasting station in that State without a certificate of public convenience and necessity granted by the State Board of Public Utility Commissioners.

"It seems likely," the report said, "that such legislation will be held unconstitutional if the principles on which the radio act of 1927 has been upheld are valid."

Referring to property in broadcast programs, the committee, while refraining from definite recommendations, expressed the conclusion that there should be protection against "piracy and misappropriation of broadcast programs," and that "either by legislation or extension of common-law principles, recognition should be given to a substantial measure of right, analogous to that of artistic, literary or intellectual property, in broadcast programs sufficient to afford protection to the persons whose investment and ability have made the programs possible."

Because of the controversy during the past year in and out of Congress regarding the proper geographical distribution of broadcasting stations, a substantial portion of the report is devoted to a discussion of the factors involved and of the "inadequacy" of existing and proposed legislation to meet the problem.

LEIPZIG TRADE FAIR

Where American buyers find the world's greatest collection of merchandise

HERE, at the great Leipzig (Germany) Trade Fair, are countless values that attract merchants from all over the world. This year, at the Fall Fair, 8,500 manufacturers from 24 countries will exhibit their newest and finest merchandise.

The Leipzig Trade Fair, now 700 years old, is by far the largest Trade Fair in the world. Last Spring alone, 180,000 buyers from 72 countries bought merchandise valued at many millions of dollars. They also found new ideas and valuable merchandising methods. Plan now to visit the Fall Fair, August 31 to September 5. (The Textile Fair closes September 3; Sporting Goods Fair closes September 4.)

For full data and round-trip cost

Write to the Leipzig Trade Fair, Inc., Dept. N.Y.T., 7-22, 11 W. 42nd St. N. Y. C. We shall gladly tell you of the many special courtesies extended by the Fair to hold your expenses to minimum.

MOTORIST IS HELD FOR TRAIN WRECK

Driver of Car That Derailed Express at Elizabeth, N. J., Is Charged With Manslaughter.

ENGINEER IS EXONERATED

But Prosecutor Seeks Evidence of Criminal Negligence on Part of Railroad.

Special to The New York Times.

ELIZABETH, N. J., July 21.—Arthur Allcroft, local building contractor, who drove his automobile on to the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks at the south end of the South Elizabeth station on Saturday night, causing an express train wreck in which 100 passengers were injured, one fatally, was held on a charge of manslaughter for the grand jury this morning by Police Judge James F. Brown. James Allcroft, his brother, a college professor of Ada, Ohio, and William McNair, also of Elizabeth, who were in the car, were held as material witnesses.

Mr. Allcroft's bail was fixed at $1,500 by Judge Brown. Bail was furnished for him by Tax Assessor Robert McNair, a brother of William McNair. James Allcroft and William McNair were held in $500 bail each, which they furnished themselves.

Arthur Allcroft in Police Court pleaded guilty to a violation of the motor vehicle law and was fined $50. He was charged with having failed to ascertain the extent of the accident, with having failed to render aid to the injured and with having failed to report the accident to the police.

Of the 100 passengers injured in the wreck, 40 remained tonight in Elizabeth hospitals. There were 24 in St. Elizabeth's Hospital and 16 in Elizabeth General Hospital. None was expected to die.

County Prosecutor Abe J. David today exonerated the engineer of the wrecked train, but explained that he was continuing the investigation of the accident to determine whether there was ground for possible criminal negligence on the part of the railroad.

"I find no evidence of criminal negligence against the engineer, Edward Gaffney," said Prosecutor David. "I have not determined as yet about the criminal negligence in the case of the railroad."

"I believe, however, at this point in the investigation, that the railroad did not take sufficient care to guard this spot. There is a small, inadequate, mutilated danger sign near the nitersection of De Hart Place and Burnet Street and the railroad tracks. The light at that point is entirely insufficient. I will call it to the attention of the Pennsylvania Railroad and request that immediate action be taken for improvement. I will also notify the Public Utilities Commission and will lay the matter before the October grand jury."

In view of the statement of residents near the place of the accident that other motorists had accidentally driven their cars onto the tracks at the sharp curve where the dead end of De Hart Place has a connection to the southward with New York Avenue, leading to Bayway, the town council will take steps immediately to have the danger spot protected, according to Mayor John S. Kenah.

The Interstate Commerce Commission, the State Board of Public Utilities Commissioners and legal representatives of the Pennsylvania Railroad held a closed conference in Jersey City yesterday to discuss the wreck and its cause.

WILL HEAR NEW PLEAS FOR BILLINGS PARDON

California High Court, as Well as Governor Young, Will Get MacDonald's Recantation.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 21 (AP).—While John MacDonald, witness in the San Francisco 1916 Preparedness Day bombing, awaited the opportunity to tell Governor Young he had perjured himself, the California Supreme Court today decided to consider a new pardon application of Warren K. Billings, convicted with Thomas Mooney for the outrage.

Governor Young expected to confer with MacDonald's attorneys tomorrow to decide procedure in examining the Baltimore night watchman, who came 3,000 miles to refute testimony which helped send Mooney and Billings to prison for life. It had not been decided whether the Governor would question MacDonald privately or in conjunction with Supreme Court justices.

In connection with their decision to accept Billings's new plea, the seven justices voted unanimously to have MacDonald appear before the court for questioning. The court previously recommended the Governor deny Billings a pardon.

Attorneys Hilary Gans and Charles Ruzicka of Baltimore, representing MacDonald; Frank P. Walsh, attorney for the Mooney Defense Committee, and Edwin McKenzie, attorney for Billings, planned to have MacDonald repeat to the Governor and the court assertions that he had been coached by police to identify Mooney and Billings as the men who planted the bomb which killed ten persons and injured a score.

Tomorrow will be the fourteenth anniversary of the bombing.

P. LA FOLLETTE FOR REPEAL

Candidate for Governor Calls for Dry Referendum in Platform.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 21 (AP).—The announcement of a platform by Philip F. LaFollette, Progressive Republican candidate for Governor, made unanimous today party and factional demands in Wisconsin for a referendum to amend the Constitution and allow State administration of dry laws.

Conservative Republicans, in convention at Oshkosh several weeks ago, inserted such a plank in their platform. Democrats in their convention included the same proposal calling national prohibition a "dismal failure." The Conservative Republicans merely urged congressional speed in calling a national referendum.

Mr. LaFollette's platform held that "if the courts shall decide Congress must first revise the Eighteenth Amendment and submit it to the States in order to restore to the several States effective power to deal with this question, we favor such action." His was the first progressive platform since enactment of the Eighteenth Amendment to go so far.

Army Says Law Prevents Favoring Citizen Labor For Its Construction Work at Mitchel Field

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—Replying to a protest from Representative Robert L. Bacon of New York, that contractors on army construction work at Mitchel Field are recruiting foreigners to the detriment of local American workmen and ex-service men, Acting Secretary of War Payne stated that, while the War Department welcomed suggestions for improvement of the conditions of American labor, new legislation would be necessary to enable the department to exclude alien labor from army construction work.

Mr. Bacon, in his letter to Secretary of War Hurley, had complained that alien labor is imported from New York and elsewhere "at ridiculously low wages, and of course it is out of the question for the local supply to compete."

He sugested that War Department contracts include a clause that the labor to be used shall be citizen labor, and that it is the policy of the department to have contractors give preference to ex-servicemen and citizens of the State or locality where the work is being performed.

The War Department's reply to Mr. Bacon's letter follows:

"In reply to your letter of July 8 regarding construction work now under way and to be done by the War Department at Mitchel Field, N. Y., permit me to inform you that this work is being done in accordance with the form of contract authorized by the President of the United States on Nov. 19, 1926. Under this form the authority of the government over the employes of a contractor is limited to three things:

"1. That no workman can work over eight hours in any one calendar day at the place where the building is being erected.

"2. That no convict labor may be employed; and

"3. That the government reserves the right to dismiss from the job any inefficient or careless workman.

"This department will always regard with favor any plan for improvement in working and living conditions of American labor. However, I am advised that the measures suggested in your letter are not within the competence of an administrative officer but will require the sanction of law."

FIND 'MERCY KILLER' WAS IRRESPONSIBLE

Alienists Recommend That Delhi Man Who Killed Daughter Be Committed to an Asylum.

Special to The New York Times.

DELHI, N. Y., July 21.—A commission which today examined Andrew L. Beers, the so-called mercy killer, who murdered his feeble-minded daughter Frances last Wednesday, pronounced him totally irresponsible at the time that he committed the act, and recommended that he be confined in an asylum.

The commission was composed of Dr. Edward Gillespie, acting superintendent of the Binghamton State Hospital for the Insane, and Dr. Theodore I. Townsend, a former superintendent of that institution. They reported that Beers, who is being held for the grand jury, was suffering from senile insanity with periods of depression and hallucinations as well as fits of confusion. These periods have been recurrent for the past several months.

They recommended that he be committed to a civil rather than a criminal asylum for the insane.

As he is suffering from paralysis agitans, as well as arteriosclerosis, his probability of life is very short. Judge McNaught intimated that he would follow the suggestion of the alienists, and that such a committal would follow in a day or two.

Beers had testified that he killed his daughter to prevent her being committed to an insane asylum after his death.

'STAGGER' LIGHTS' TEST AIDS MID-DAY TRAFFIC

Mulrooney Says New Trial Showed Marked Acceleration on Crosstown Streets.

The progressive or "stagger" system of traffic lights, tried out for the first time in Manhattan last Friday night, were used experimentally a second time yesterday in the mid-day traffic and again with marked success, according to an announcement yesterday afternoon by Police Commissioner Mulrooney.

Commissioner Mulrooney said that, while no formal reports had been made by the police on duty or in control of the system, observations by Deputy Commissioner Philip D. Hoyt and Inspector Byron Sackett, head of the uniformed force, showed beyond doubt that the movement of crosstown traffic had been greatly accelerated by the "stagger" lights. The commissioner said the first two tests had indicated that a motor car traveling at eighteen miles an hour should keep up with the green light as it flashed from block to block and need not necessarily be intercepted by a red light.

In the first experiment with the lights cross-town runs from Second to Tenth Avenues were made in from 6 minutes and 5 seconds to 15 minutes and 42 seconds. With the old system the cross-town run required from 10 minutes to 30 minutes and 20 seconds. In the theatrical district, according to Commissioner Mulrooney, there were some slight retardations of traffic by street excavations or openings.

The tests will be continued until Friday, and after that the police will experiment with progressive control on the north and south highways, Commissioner Mulrooney further announced. Before determining whether the progressive system shall be adopted permanently, and if so, before deciding on what cycles it may be operated, police officials said they would require time to study the results of the series of tests now under way. Yesterday's tests continued from noon until 7 P. M. Last Friday they were made from 9 P. M. to 10:30 P. M.

TIGRESS ENDS FOOD STRIKE

Zoo Beast Nibbles Meat After Refusing All Food for Days.

The heat wave, like the ill wind of the adage, did some good yesterday, hard though it may be to believe. The Malay tigress which has been on a hunger strike in her cage in the Central Park Zoo for ten days perked up considerably as the mercury climbed, and took some nourishment.

The great beast, which comes from a very warm climate, continued to sulk in the back of her cage, as she has done ever since she was brought here two months ago, but she nibbled a small amount of raw meat after days of persistently ignoring the most tempting delicacies her keepers could offer her. They hope now that she will give up her apparent determination on self-starvation and live to be a favorite with youthful visitors to the zoo.

Dives on Swimmer, Breaks Neck.

ANDERSON, S. C., July 21 (AP).—His neck broken when he dived into Lake Boscobel last night and collided with another swimmer, William Obia Cann, 19, of La France, died early today in a hospital here. The other swimmer, C. O. Eddy, a member of the Clemson College faculty, suffered severe lacerations of the head.

JERSEY GIRL OF 14 FEARED KIDNAPPED

Search by Police, Scouts and Residents of West Collingswood Heights Is Abandoned.

Special to The New York Times.

WEST COLLINGSWOOD HEIGHTS, N. J., July 21.—A search by policemen, Boy Scouts and residents of this district for Ruth Kuhnell, 14 years old, missing from her home here since last night, was abandoned tonight after the authorities had decided that the girl may have been kidnapped or may have eloped with Clifford Hemingway, 22, of Merchantville. The searchers earlier in the day had found a garment and a lipstick belonging to the girl.

Elizabeth Zisweiss, 16, of West Collingswood, and the Kuhnell girl went for an automobile ride last night with Paul Somers, 20, and Hemingway. They returned to the Zisweiss home shortly before 11:30 P. M., after which the youths drove away. The girls started to walk to the Kuhnell home but they parted at a ditch running to the Newtown Creek, a block and a half from Ruth's home. Miss Zisweiss said Ruth had expressed some fear about facing her parents because her father had told her to stay out no later than 9 P. M.

A searching party to comb the woods and marshes and drag the Newtown Creek was organized this morning by Sergeant Charles Craig of Haddon Township, after Lewis Kuhnell, the missing girl's father, had become alarmed and reported her disappearance. The party found a garment belonging to the girl at the spot where she had parted from Miss Zisweiss. Near by, also, was a man's notebook.

Young Heminway left his home in Merchantville today telling relatives that he was going "up-State" to seek work. Believing he had gone to Easton, Pa., Lawrence T. Doran, chief of the Camden County detectives, sent Detective Jules Derowski to that city to make inquiries.

The Somers youth told the police he did not think the girl had met with foul play but that she was afraid to face her father and had "planted" the clothing and lipstick to mislead investigators.

SAY OWNER OF PISTOL KILLED MISS BAKER

Capital Police Prepare Murder Charge Against Campbell, Virginia Real Estate Man.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—Virginia authorities and Washington police at midnight tonight were preparing a warrant charging Herbert M. Campbell with the assault and murder of Miss Mary Baker, government clerk, on the night of April 11.

Campbell admitted after hours of questioning, the police said, that the pistol used in the murder had never been out of his possession. An alibi offered by Campbell had broken down, police said.

Some time ago experts of the Bureau of Standards decided that a pistol owned by Campbell was the one used to kill Miss Baker. Her body was found stuffed in a culvert near Arlington National Cemetery.

Herbert N. Barrere, painter, who was located in Montreal recently and brought here for questioning in connection with the case, was under further examination during the day. Lieutenant Edward Kelly of the Washington homicide squad said that Barrere's claims of innocence had not been broken down.

Campbell was one of several witnesses who confronted Barrere, but failed to identify him.

LONG ISLAND COUPLE ELOPE TO CAPITAL

Baldwin Youth and Freeport Girl Held by Police Who Foil Wedding Plans.

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP).—Matrimonial plans of Charlotte Langdon Barker, who said she was the 16-year-old daughter of the assistant postmaster at Freeport, L. I., and David Granger, 18, of Baldwin, L. I., were thwarted today when they were arrested by the police.

They said they came here to get married and were arrested after they had wired home for money. Miss Barker was charged with being a fugitive from her parents while Granger was charged with being a fugitive from justice.

Special to The New York Times.

FREEPORT, L. I., July 21.—Miss Charlotte L. Barker, who is the daughter of Raymond Barker of North Main Street, disappeared Saturday. Her mother today received a telegram from her, the contents of which the family refused to divulge.

David Granger of 306 South Grand Avenue, Baldwin, L. I., who had been employed in a local five-and-ten-cent store until a week ago, also disappeared Saturday. At the same time an automobile belonging to Michael Biano, a Baldwin ice man, was missed, and Granger has been charged with its theft.

County Detective William Vaughn left for Washington today to bring the young couple back. The boy will have to face a charge of grand larceny in connection with the theft of the car, he said.

2 DERBY FLIERS OUT AS 16 LAND HERE

E. B. Todd of Pueblo, Col., Down at Norwich, Conn., Plans to Join Contestants Today.

MUMMERT SMASHES WING

Gehlbach of Detroit, First to Get Here, Leads in Elapsed Time on Second Leg of Race.

Special to The New York Times.

ROOSEVELT FIELD, L. I., July 21.—The All-American Air Derby finished the first two legs of its 7,000-mile race around the United States and into Mexico at this field this afternoon. Sixteen of the eighteen contestants in the first large-scale light sport plane cross-country derby ever to be held in this country came speeding in between 2 and 4 o'clock.

The racers left Detroit this morning, made a stop at Buffalo and came through to Roosevelt Field this afternoon. Although the race has just started, two of the eighteen who took off this morning had not arrived here late tonight.

Edgar B. Todd of Pueblo, Col., flying an Eaglerock sport model, it was learned late tonight, lost his way and landed out of gasoline at Norwich, Conn., shortly after 6 o'clock. He planned to join the others at Roosevelt Field before the take-off time in the morning.

Harvey Mummert, in his own high-wing monoplane, cracked up at Kingsley, Pa., and is out of the race. Mummert telephoned the referee, Lee Schoenhair, that he had made one forced landing because of carburetor trouble. The float in his carburetor went out of commission a second time and in landing without his engine he tore off the right wing of his plane.

"I am definitely out of the race," he telephoned. "Please give my congratulations and regards to the rest of the gang."

The first to arrive at Roosevelt Field and the winner of today's leg was Lee Gehlbach of Detroit, flying a low-wing Commandaire. His time from Buffalo was 1:41. Captain J. R. Wedell of New Orleans, flying a Wedell-Williams special, swooped across the finish line in second place. His time was 1:56. Third place went to Herman Hamer of La Salle, Mich., who flew a Laird and made the hop from Buffalo in 1:59. B. B. Smith of Portland, Ore., flying a Smith special, took fourth place in 2:15.

The other contestants arrived in close order and Schoenhair checked them off as fast as they landed.

All planes in the race are powered with Cirrus four-cylinder-in-line air-cooled engines. The race, which includes Mexico City and Los Angeles in its itinerary, is sponsored by the Cirrus Engine Company of Marysville, Mich., which has offered $25,000 in prizes. Lap prizes to be awarded by various cities along the route bring the total to $37,000.

The fliers will take off for Cincinnati tomorrow at 8 A. M. After their jumps by various stages to the Pacific Coast they will turn East again, and are due back in Detroit on Aug. 2.

A last-minute change in the landing field arrangements here caused some confusion at the New York City Airport in Flushing, where the New York stop was to have been made. Schoenhair, who was substituted for Captain Frank Hawks as referee, decided yesterday that, since many of the planes in the race were built for speed at the sacrifice of safety, it would be better for the pilots to have the wide reaches of Roosevelt Field for landings and take-offs.

PLAN NEW BOULEVARD SKIRTING LAKE GEORGE

Officials Get Blueprints of 50-Foot Highway to Run Along Shore at Head of the Lake.

Special to The New York Times.

LAKE GEORGE, N. Y., July 21.—Blueprint plans have been made for officials of the Village of Lake George fo ra beautiful new fifty-foot boulevard to run along the shore at the head of the lake and be the western end of the proposed Lake George-Brayton highway.

The boulevard would come into Canada Street about fifty feet south of the present Shore Road, the required land for the construction of the highway to be taken from the Fort William Henry Hotel property.

From a point about fifty feet east of the hotel's pergola the proposed road will swing to the north about 100 feet in a big curve, going out around the north side of the Delaware & Hudson railroad station.

More filling for the like is required in building the boulevard from the station to a point about 150 feet west of the Dowling crossing.

From the Dowling crossing eastward the highway will go in back of the Scenic dance pavilion and join with the Shore Road about 500 feet east of the pavilion at a point near a small bridge crossing the lake just east of the Green property.

Under this program the entire beach would be left to the use of the public without any heavy traffic conditions.

WILL SUE TO BAR BASEBALL.

South Orange Resident Objects to Sunday Games There.

Special to The New York Times.

SOUTH ORANGE, N. J., July 21.—Attorneys for William Torrey Baird of South Orange said today they would file suit in a day or two against the South Orange Village Board of Trustees which has refused to interfere with Sunday baseball at Cameron Field, South Orange.

The South Orange baseball team is operated by the South Orange Board of Recreation Commissioners. Joseph A. Carter, acting secretary for the recreation board, said it was maintained because of a demand by residents for wholesome recreation and would continue to play each Sunday afternoon in accordance with the views of the Board of Trustees. Several civic organizations have urged that any action brought to stop the games be fought to a finish.

Mr. Carter stated that Thomas E. Fitzsimmons, village counsel, has advised that opinion given to officials said the laws of 1911 give the recreation commissioners the right to hold such exhibitions and charge an admittance fee on two days a week.

WIFE SLAYS HUSBAND AND SON WITH AXE

Fires Their Beds and Kills Herself With Another Axe at Geneva, Ill.

GENEVA, Ill., July 21 (AP).—Three persons were found slain with axes early today in the home of Charles A. Anderson, a wealthy farmer, one of the victims. His 18-year-old son had also been hacked to death, while his wife, thought by police to have slain her husband and son, was found on the floor with her throat and wrists cut with the sharp edge of a hand axe. The home had been set on fire but the flames were extinguished by neighbors.

The neighbors were aroused by Charles Larsen, a brother of Mrs. Anderson, who had been awakened by smoke, he said, and descending by an outside stairway was breaking in the windows to get at the fire.

Larsen and the neighbors forced an entrance, put out the fire and discovered the bodies of the slain.

The beds of Anderson and his son had been set afire. The flames were put out by the neighbors before they had spread.

Sheriff Urch and the Chief of Police said the position of the bodies and weapons and the manner in which the three were killed indicated that the two men were killed by the woman, who then took her own life. Larsen was held for further questioning.

TWO AT CHATTANOOGA KILLED IN AIR CRASH

Bodies of W. Morris, Pilot, and T. J. May Jr., Passenger, Burned in Plane.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., July 21 (AP).—T. J. May Jr. and William Morris, both of this city, were killed and their bodies burned here late today when their airplane fell from a height of about 300 feet.

Morris was at the controls and May was a passenger. The cause of the crash is undetermined. The plane burst into flames as soon as it struck the ground.

DESTITUTE GROUP IN COURT

Five Children Committed to Charity Following Mother's Illness.

The five children of Mrs. Anna Spefancwitz of 265 East 153d Street, the Bronx, left destitute Sunday when she was taken to Morrisania Hospital because of tuberculosis, were taken before Justice Edward F. Boyle in Bronx Children's Court yesterday. Four of them, including the eldest, Paul, 12 years old, and Adam, 4, who ran away to avoid commitment to a charitable institution, were placed in the custody of the Children's Society. The other two are May, 9, and John, 10.

The fifth child, Joseph, 21 months, who was in the arms of May, was sent to the New York Foundling Hospital. The children will remain in custody until July 30 pending an investigation. Paul told Justice Boyle that he and his brother had gone to St. Mary's Park to earn money at shining shoes, as they had been in the habit of doing in the past, to help support the family. The father of the children, Stephen, is an inmate of the State Hospital for the Insane at Central Islip, L. I.

COOPERATIVE GROUPS MEET.

Annual Institute of League Begins Conferences at Katonah.

Special to The New York Times.

KATONAH, N. Y., July 21.—The annual institute of the Eastern States Cooperative League opened here today at the Brookwood Labor College. Thirty representatives of the Cooperative Trading Association of Brooklyn, the Amalgamated Cooperative of Hartford, Consumers' Service, Inc., of New York City and the United Cooperative Society of Fitchburg, Mass., are here for the week to discuss the organization, administration and history of cooperative organizations.

The principal speakers will be Dr. James P. Warbasse, president of the Cooperative League of America, who will lead the discussion tomorrow, and Professor Leroy Bowman of Columbia University, who will speak on Wednesday. Chairmen of the daily sessions are Edward M. Cohen of New York and Cedric Long, secretary of the Eastern States Cooperative League.

CURRY AND McCOOEY LEAVE.

Will Confer in Buffalo With Other Democratic Leaders.

John F. Curry, Tammany leader, and John H. McCooey, Democratic leader in Brooklyn, started for Buffalo last midnight to confer with other Democratic State leaders on Erie County affairs. Before his departure Mr. Curry presided at a Tammany executive meeting in Tammany Hall.

The annual Tammany meeting to designate officers for the primary elections in September also was held last night with about 1,000 members present. In the absence of David H. Knott, chairman of the county committee, Peter J. Dooling presided. The members voted to congratulate John R. Voorhis, chairman of the Board of Elections, who will celebrate his 101st birthday next Sunday. Mr. Voorhis was not present.

Maine Lumber Mill Burns.

VAN BUREN, Me., July 21 (AP).—The Madawaska lumber mill on the St. John River at Keegan, two miles north of here, was destroyed by fire today with a loss estimated at $500,000 by Edward Lacroix, owner. The mill, which consisted of three buildings, was erected twenty-five years ago and was the last lumber mill of any size remaining in operation on the Maine side of the St. John.

1 Killed in False Alarm at Theatre.

SANTIAGO, Chile, July 21 (AP).—An unidentified person shouted "Fire!" in the Theatre Delicias last night and in the rush for exits one person was killed. Seven persons are known to have been seriously injured. The audience was mainly composed of children, who rushed frantically for the doors on hearing the false alarm.

DEMOCRATS DEPOSE RENDT AS CHAIRMAN

COURT CONTEST TO FOLLOW

Public Works Commissioner to Fight Removal as Leader—Tammany Influence Seen.

David S. Rendt, Commissioner of Public Works in Staten Island, was deposed as chairman of the Richmond County Democratic Committee at a special meeting of that body last night at the Masonic Club at St. George. Borough President John A. Lynch was chosen as his successor.

The meeting was attended by 350, of whom approximately one-third were women. There are 617 members of the committee, but all of the followers of the Rendt faction remained away from the meeting in an attempt to prevent a quorum and thus lay the ground for attacking its action.

The vote to depose Mr. Rendt as Democratic county leader was unanimous and the meeting harmonious except for some interruptions during the early stages by two members of the Rendt faction who did not stay long enough to vote, one of them being ushered out by the police, called in for that purpose.

Joseph P. Mackay, first vice chairman of the committee, and Commissioner of Weights and Measures in the Walker administration, presided. It is contended by followers of Commissioner Rendt that the hold of Tammany Hall on the Democratic organization of Richmond would be more secure with Borough President Lynch exercising the powers of leadership in the borough. They regard the fight on Mr. Rendt as part of the Tammany program to extend its sway beyond the borders of Manhattan.

Before the vote was taken on the proposal to have Borough President Lynch supersede Mr. Rendt in the leadership the meeting adopted two resolutions to clear the way and establish that the requirements of the State election law had been complied with in calling the special meeting, following the refusal of Chairman Rendt to issue the call. The law provides that a special meeting of a county committee can be called upon petition of 51 per cent of the membership. The 350 who attended and voted to depose Rendt, it was pointed out, represented 57 per cent of the membership of the Richmond County Democratic Committee.

Commissioner Rendt, who has been Democratic leader in Richmond since the days of Mayor Hylan, made it known last night that within a week action would be brought in the Supreme Court to contest the action of the special meeting on the ground that he had been elected for a term that does not expire until next year. He also said he would not resign as Commissioner of Public Works, a position he has held for six years.

The open break between Borough President Lynch and his Commissioner of Public Works occurred recently, following the ousting by Mr. Rendt of two members of the executive committee of the Richmond County Democratic Committee, Edward Atwell, secretary to the Borough President, and Robert Lindsay, who was Secretary to Park Commissioner John J. O'Rourke of Richmond, on the ground that they were disloyal to him and to the party. Mr. Lindsay is the representative of the Second Assembly District in Richmond on the Democratic State Committee.

DRYS SEEK CANDIDATE TO OPPOSE MILLARD

Anti-Saloon League Leaders Meet on Choice for House From 25th District.

Special to The New York Times.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., July 21.—The bone dry candidate for Republican nomination for the House of Representatives in the Twenty-fifth District sought by the Anti-Saloon League will come either from Greenburg, home of Supervisor Charles D. Millard, who is running as a wet, or from Rockland County, it appeared today, as Anti-Saloon League leaders began conferences on available men.

Fred A. Victor of Yonkers, State superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, after addressing the old Sing Sing Camp-Meeting Association yesterday at Ossining on prohibition, declared neither Millard nor John M. Holzworth, independent and "wringing wet" candidate, was acceptable to the dry Republicans of the district.

"We will name a man who is well known in the district for his dry propensities," said Mr. Victor. "I am not yet sure from which county, Westchester or Rockland, our candidate will come. At the present time we have our eyes on a man from Tarrytown who, in our opinion, would be an excellent candidate and would be able, we believe, to defeat either one of the two wet candidates. I am not yet ready to disclose his name nor the nature of his work."

Should the Tarrytown man be named by the dry wing of the Republican party, this will bring three Greenburg candidates into the field. Walter Joyce, Greenburg Democratic town leader, is generally expected to win the Democratic nomination.

No activity for Millard was reported today, but Holzworth announced the opening of campaign headquarters in Nyack for Rockland County, where the Republican County Committee meets on Friday night to designate their choice for the nomination.

The Rockland County Evening Journal, a dry newspaper, has endorsed John M. Holzwarth, insurgent wet primary candidate for the Republican nomination for Congress in the Twenty-fifth District.

The newspaper in an editorial admires "his superb courage in defying the will of William L. Ward, venerable boss of Westchester County." Rockland County Republicans should come out for Holzworth as a rebuke to Ward for failing to consult them when he named Supervisor Charles D. Millard of Greenburgh as the regular Republican designee, the editorial contends, calling Millard "hand-picked."

Holzworth declared today he believes he will obtain the endorsement of the Rockland County Republican Committee at its convention this week.

FINANCIAL MARKETS

Stocks React in Dull Trading—Wheat and Cotton Also Decline.

The reactionary trend which became evident at the close of last week governed yesterday's stock market from the start to the finish. During most of the day the decline was accomplished in extremely dull trading but in the last hour, when expectations of a concluding rally were disappointed, selling became more active. The tape, which had been idling along, even with transactions, fell slightly behind and volume increased. Final prices in most cases were at the lowest levels of the day.

The behavior of the stock market was in keeping with the course of the commodity exchanges. Grains slumped in Chicago under the influence of rainfall beneficial to the crops and cotton dropped about $2 a bale on the prospect of an early relief from the heat and drought in the cotton belt. Raw sugar dropped to a record low, as did crude rubber in London.

Domestic bonds sagged in a listless market, while foreign issues were slightly better. Dealings in bonds were even lighter than usual. The money market continued to reveal extreme ease with a rate of 2 per cent for call loans in the Stock Exchange and 1¼ per cent quoted in the outside market. As further earnest of its determination to main ease in credit, the Federal Reserve Bank extended from 45 to 75 days its buying rate of 1⅞ per cent for bankers' bills.

The expected movement of gold to Canada got under way with the shipment of $2,000,000 of the metal. This was the first export of gold from this market to Canada since November, 1928, when $22,000,000 was sent. In the meantime Canada has been forced to stand a severe drain of gold to the United States. During the latter part of 1928 $99,165,000 gold was sent here and in 1929 $47,250,000. The effects of this loss of gold were virtually to remove Canada from the gold basis. Although the Canadian dollar remained below the gold point last year until the collapse of the stock market speculation here put an end to the drawing power of this market, no gold was imported during the latter half of 1929. Local banks were unable to secure the cooperation of their Canadian correspondents in arranging further shipments.

The decline in wheat yesterday extended to 2¾ cents, the July contract closing at 87¾ cents. In addition to the improvement in weather conditions, the market was adversely affected by the increase shown in the report of stocks of the 1929 crop in interior mills and elevators on July 1. According to the Department of Agriculture, such stocks were estimated to be 54,031,000 bushels, compared with an estimate of 41,546,000 bushels on July 1, 1929, 19,277,000 bushels on July 1, 1928, and a five-year average of 26,493,000 bushels.

Cotton prices lost about half of last week's gain in yesterday's market, final quotations showing net losses of from 36 to 48 points. Local spot slumped 50 points to 13.15 cents.

HEAT SLOWS STEEL MILLS.

Production at Youngstown About Half of Capacity.

Special to The New York Times.

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, July 21.—The extremely hot weather is curtailing activities in midwestern steel rolling mills and average production is not above 50 per cent of capacity, though schedules call for 60 per cent. Of 51 independent open hearth furnaces, 28 are active this week, with bessemer plants at 60 per cent. Of 120 Mahoning Valley sheet mills, 50 were scheduled to start the week, but not all will operate through the period. Strip mill operations are at the lowest point of the year, due to reduced buying by the automobile industry.

The Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company's average is 60 per cent and that of the Republic Steel Corporation 65 per cent. The Newton Steel Company, catering almost wholly to the automobile trade, is at 40 per cent, reflecting the decline in such buying.

Several concerns here have cut salaries for their entire official personnel. The Peerless Electric Company has made a 10 per cent reduction in salaries and wages at its Warren plant. Yoho & Hooker, lumber dealers of Youngstown and Akron, have made a 20 per cent reduction.

REORGANIZE EMPIRE STEEL.

Officers Are Headed by C. H. Hinkel, Who Succeeds W. H. Davey.

Special to The New York Times.

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, July 21.—The Empire Steel Corporation, which operates steel plants and rolling mills in Mansfield, Niles, and Ashtabula, Ohio, has been reorganized, following the resignations of the president, W. H. Davey, and several other executives. Mr. Davey has been succeeded by C. H. Hinkel, formerly executive vice president. J. D. Waddell of Niles, becomes treasurer to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of W. R. Jenkins. C. H. Stamm and A. I. Davey continue as vice presidents in charge of sales and operations, respectively. The retiring president continues as a member of the board, to serve in an advisory capacity.

The reorganized executive committee includes Mr. Waddell, W. A. Thomas, Youngstown; A. W. Wheatley, Lima; W. H. Davey, and Mr. Hinkel, both of Mansfield. Members of the finance committee are S. E. Bool, Cleveland; Paul Wick and Charles S. Thomas, Youngstown; Mr. Waddell and C. F. Ackerman, Mansfield.

TOPICS IN WALL STREET.

News, Comment and Incident, On the Stock Exchange and In the Financial Markets.

In what was described in Wall Street as a "corrective reaction" the stock market yesterday lost a good part of the ground that had been recovered in the advance of last week. The selling was not aggressive, except in the last hour when offerings came on the market in good-sized volume. Stocks showed, however, that they were easily susceptible to pressure, and the resultant declines were quite wide in many parts of the list. Transactions on the Stock Exchange fell slightly short of 2,000,000 shares. The reaction extended to all sections of the market, the sharpest losses being recorded in J. I. Case, American Can, Air Reduction, American Water Works, Chesapeake & Ohio, Columbian Carbon, Consolidated Gas, Houston Oil, North American, Radio, Standard Gas, United States Realty, Worthington Pump, Westinghouse Electric and Vanadium. Wall Street ascribed the decline to a mixture of profit taking and short selling. Sentiment, it appeared, was influenced by a fresh break in commodity prices.

A Broker's Complaint.

One broker was complaining yesterday that he had, temporarily at least, more customers' men than customers. Others said they might make the same complaint without great exaggeration. The customers' rooms were deserted, because of both the heat and the lack of interest in the market. "What we need more than anything else is an early Autumn," said a partner in one of the large commission houses.

Pennroad Surprises.

It is apparently difficult for the Pennroad Corporation to make anything but an interesting statement of its activities. Yesterday's statement showed that it had bought into the Delaware & Hudson, thus probably explaining some of the rise which that stock took in recent months, besides Southern Pacific and Missouri-Kansas-Texas. Some thought was given to how L. F. Loree would feel in the event that even partial control of his D. & H. went to the "Pennsy." The earnings of 44 cents a share reported in the first actual operating period of ten and two-third months led to the suggestion that the recent dividend of 20 cents a share was ample in view of circumstances.

Conspiring With the Weather.

Some traders in Wall Street whispered yesterday that those speculating for the decline took advantage of the inertia provoked by the torrid weather to hammer stocks in the last hour. It was a surprise attack, and proved, they contend, that it still required active operation to keep the present market up, and would until a strong buying momentum had been created.

The Gentle Rain From Heaven.

While large numbers of citizens hopefully scanned the skies yesterday for signs of rain clouds, traders in cotton had the experience of watching the price of that commodity crash $2 a bale on the mere prospect of showers in the cotton belt. The cotton-growing area has had high temperatures, unrelieved by rainfall recently, and the crop has reached a critical point. Up to this time the heat is believed to have been beneficial in its checking of the weevil. Further heat might work damage to the crop sufficient to send prices much higher. When it was reported yesterday that to the west and northwest of the cotton belt rain had fallen forecasters predicted thunder showers in Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas, whereupon the bears celebrated the break-up of the drought by selling heavily.

Reassuring the Banks.

The action of the Federal Reserve Bank yesterday in extending its buying rate of 1⅞ per cent for bankers' bills up to seventy-five days offered reassurance to banks, which have lately hesitated to buy any but very short bills for fear of losing an eighth on their purchases. There has been a growing skepticism among the banks as to the permanence of the present low money rates. It is widely believed that the approach of the Fall will bring firmer credit. As matters stood before yesterday's change, banks which purchased ninety-day bills at 1⅞ per cent from the dealers would have had to hold them at least forty-five days before being able to sell them to the Federal Reserve on the same basis as the purchase price. Now, with the 1⅞ per cent buying rate extended to seventy-five days, it will be necessary for the banks to hold a ninety-day bill only fifteen days before it can be sold, should the need arise, to the Reserve Bank.

Troubles of the Bond Market.

Despite the recent activity in high-grade bonds, notably railroad and public utility issues, the market for the lesser issues, even in these categories, is comparatively dull. Many investors are taking their cues from the published lists of bonds that are legal for investments by savings banks and trust funds in this State or are likely to be, and are confining their purchases largely to these issues. The result is that secondary liens and issues glorified merely by the appellation "gold bonds" are having heavy sledding. However, if the leaders are lifted high enough the others are bound to gain to some extent, but this process seems now to be long drawn out.

Hope Not Abandoned.

Remarks that American utility men were transferring their affections to Europe as a soil more fertile for consolidation and expansion elicited the information that the books are not yet closed for developments of this nature in the United States. There are naturally several often-discussed transactions which are likely to be closed in the next year or so, such as a merger of Southern California companies, the fusion of New York State utilities, the expansion of the Byllesby and North American groups and the steady growth of most large systems. But the field for consolidations of nonrelated groups into giant systems appears to have shrunk considerably, due to the drawing of strict spheres of influence. The big systems will grow steadily bigger, it is pointed out, but are not likely to merge one into another under existing banking affiliations.

MONEY.

Monday, July 21, 1930.

There was no feature about the trading in money market, rates and conditions at the resumption of business in the new week paralleling those of last week. Funds were in good supply all around, but demand was light, with the result that turnover was at a minimum. Stock Exchange day loans remained at 2 per cent, while Street funds traded as low as 1¼. Time money ranged from 2¾ to 3½ per cent for the near and distant dates. Commercial paper and acceptances were unchanged.

SHIPPERS' CAR LINE CORPORATION
(Controlled by the American Car and Foundry Company)

To be dated August 1, 1930 and to mature $21,000 each February 1 and August 1, from February 1, 1931, to August 1, 1945, both inclusive. Payable to bearer (with optional registration as to principal) in denomination of $1,000. Certificates and dividend warrants, (February 1 and August 1), payable at the office of the Trustee. Redeemable as a whole or in part at any time, in accordance with the terms under which this trust is issued, at 101% of par and accrued dividends. Both principal and dividends are to be payable without deduction of normal Federal income tax not in excess of 2% per annum. Irving Trust Company, New York, Trustee.

The agreement provides for refunding the Pennsylvania four mills tax upon application as in the agreement provided.

Mr. R. H. Davenport, President of the Shippers' Car Line Corporation, has written us a letter covering the issuance of these Certificates from which we summarize as follows:

These Certificates are to be secured through deposit with the Trustee of title to 412 new all-steel tank cars valued at $787,785, or more than 125% of the total face value of the Certificates to be issued.

Shippers' Car Line Corporation is controlled, through entire ownership of the Class B stock, by the American Car and Foundry Company. It represents the acquisition by the American Car and Foundry interests in 1926 of the Shippers' Car Line, Inc. organized in 1918.

The activities of the Shippers' Car Line Corporation enjoy a wide diversification and permit of an unusual stability of operation. The Corporation is one of the leading lessors of tank cars in the United States owning and operating a fleet of 2,212 steel tank cars having a present depreciated value of more than $2,924,978.

We offer these certificates subject to issuance as planned and subject to the approval of our counsel and to prior sale. It is expected that temporary or definitive Certificates will be delivered on or about August 4, 1930.

AMERICAN SMELTING IN BRITISH CONCERN

Joins With Mining Trust, Ltd., of England to Develop Workings in Australia.

GETS BIG STOCK INTEREST

Will Provide Capital and Technical Resources for Producing Silver, Zinc and Lead.

The American Smelting and Refining Company has joined forces with Mining Trust, Ltd., one of the largest enterpises of its kind in Great Britain, in developing the rich silver, zinc and lead mines at Mount Isa, Australia, it became known here yesterday.

An official of American Smelting confirmed reports from London that his company had acquired a large stock interest in Mining Trust, Ltd. The former company, it was also disclosed, will provide the capital and technical resources necessary to develop the Mount Isa mines, which have been described as being potentially among the great mining properties of the world. Part of the capital will be used in constructing for Mining Trust, Ltd., a new silver-lead bullion refinery.

The technical facilities of American Smelting and Refining will be at the disposal of Mining Trust, Ltd., for a minimum period of ten years. H. A. Guess, a vice president of American Smelting, has been elected vice chairman of Mining Trust, and Preston Locke, resident engineer for American Smelting in London, has been elected a director. It is expected that technical experts will be sent to Australia by American Smelting to advise in the mining development.

Big Holdings of British Company.

Mining Trust, Ltd., in which American Smelting has become a powerful factor, controls, in addition to the Mount Isa properties, the Lawnhills concession in Northern Queensland, the New Guinea Gold Fields, Ltd., and Compagnie Nouvelle des Mines de Villemagne and Mining Trust of Northern Rhodesia, as well as other concessions. The Mount Isa property is owned directly by Mount Isa Mines, Ltd., which in turn is controlled by Mining Trust, Ltd.

According to information from London, Leslie Urquhart, chairman of Mining Trust, has given his stockholders some details of the agreement with American Smelting.

"The advantages of our association with this powerful company from both the technical and financial point of view must be obvious," he said. "This association will insure the continuance of the policy of Mining Trust and will enable it to bring its various enterprises to fruition earlier than otherwise would have been possible.

"The fact that American Smelting and Refining, with its unrivalled experience in mining enterprises, has, after full investigation by its experts, become a large shareholder in this company confirms the high value which your directors have always placed on the properties under the control of the Mining Trust."

Deal on for Several Months.

Mr. Urquhart was in New York several months ago, when he began the negotiations with American Smelting. That company has in the meantime had studies made of the Australian properties and other holdings of Mining Trust.

American Smelting, in which the Guggenheim interests are dominant, is the world's largest refiner and smelter of metals, as well as a heavy producer of copper, lead, zinc, silver and gold. It has mining properties in Mexico, Peru and Newfoundland, in addition to its extensive interests in the United States.

Utility Plans to Add Stock.

The Fall River Gas Works Company has called a special meeting of stockholders for Aug. 18 to consider the issuance of 13,236 additional shares to stockholders at $37.50 a share, to finance a floating debt of $495,000 incurred for additions and improvements.

WESTINGHOUSE SALES KEEP NEAR TO RECORD

Orders Outside of Discontinued Radio Lines Are Only 4% Under 1929 Half Year.

Sales of products outside of radio lines by the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company in the first six months of 1930 declined less than 4 per cent from those of the record-breaking first half year of 1929, it was announced by the company yesterday. The total was $95,338,159, compared with $121,184,546. The latter figures included radio receiving sets, the manufacture of which was transferred on Jan. 1 to the Radio Corporation of America in return for a stock interest in that company.

The following table gives a comparison of the chief items in the operating account of the company for the first six months of this year and of 1929:

	First Half of 1930.	First Half of 1929.
Orders received	$95,338,159	$121,184,546
Sales billed	93,022,036	99,927,790
Net income after depreciations, reserves and taxes	8,359,612	13,382,863
Interest charges	2,250	251,483
Balance available	8,357,362	13,131,380

According to the New York Stock Exchange the company had outstanding yesterday 79,974 shares of 7 per cent preferred stock and 2,589,274 of common. Allowing for preferred dividends, earnings on the common issue were $3.11 a share, against $4.96 in the corresponding period of 1929.

SIERRA PACIFIC ADDS UNIT.

Acquires Nevada Valleys Power Properties, Widening Operations.

All physical properties of the Nevada Valleys Power Company have been purchased by the Sierra Pacific Power Company, which is 90 per cent owned by Stone & Webster, Inc., it was announced yesterday. With this added power-distribution system Sierra Pacific will serve an area extending from the Lake Tahoe Region to Central Nevada.

Nevada Valleys, which has the longest electric transmission line system operating in Nevada, connects with the Sierra Pacific lines at Virginia City. The latter system in turn is interconnected with the Pacific Gas and Electric System, serving all of Central and most of Northern California.

The Stone & Webster Service Corporation, which supervises operations of the Tampa Electric Company and subsidiaries, announced yesterday the purchase for that company of the physical property of the Auburndale Power Company, consisting of a distribution system in Auburndale, Fla.

BIG NATURAL GAS CONTRACT

Southern Corporation to Supply Insull Utilities in Mississippi Towns.

The Southern Natural Gas Corporation, controlled by the Ohrstrom interests, has entered into a long-term contract to supply natural gas to a group of Insull public utility properties operating in Biloxi, Handsboro, Mississippi City, Long Beach and Pass Christian, Miss., where manufactured gas is now in use.

The corporation also announces the singning of a contract with The Masonite Company, at Laurel, Miss., whose natural gas requirements are estimated at 2,500,000 cubic feet daily, and contracts for further substantial quantities are expected to be concluded with other industries in the State.

Telephone Merger Approved.

The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company has been authorized by the Interstate Commerce Commission to acquire the Petersburg Telephone Company by purchase of the capital stock, which consists of 2,937 shares of $100 par value, of which Chesapeake and Potomac owns 978 shares. The latter company recently purchased 581 shares from seven stockholders at $400 a share and offered to buy the remaining stock at the same price within ninety days from the time of the Interstate Commerce Commission's approval.

PENNROAD REPORTS ENLARGED HOLDINGS

Tighter Grip on New Haven Gives Virtual Working Control to Corporation and P. R. R.

44 CENTS A SHARE EARNED

The Pennroad Corporation, investment affiliate of the Pennsylvania Railroad, announced yesterday that it had tightened its grip on the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad and also had acquired holdings in the Delaware & Hudson, the Southern Pacific Company, the Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railroad and the Baltimore & Ohio. With the holdings directly controlled by the Pennsylvania Railroad, the new acquisition gives virtual working control of the New England line.

The report also showed that in the first ten and two-thirds months of actual operation the Pennroad Corporation had a net income of $4,071,512, or 44 cents for each of the 9,090,000 shares outstanding. Gross income totaled $4,806,430 and was derived from $2,848,698 of dividends, $1,090,724 interest on bonds and $867,008 interest from other accounts. Interest paid totaled $287,747; taxes, $195,259, and general expenses, $251,911. The company recently declared a dividend of 20 cents payable on Sept. 30.

Atfer addition of $42,817 profit on securities sold and $3,566,184 bond interest net, less income tax and deduction of $1,818,000 dividend payable on Sept. 15, the profit and loss balance was $5,862,513.

On June 30 the corporation had cash of $2,083,635 and securities that cost $140,601,760. The statement covers the entire period between incorporation on April 24 and June 30. Funds raised through the sale of voting trust certificates were not available for operations in the full period, however.

As of Jan. 27, the Pennroad Corporation held 100,000 shares of New Haven, and the Pennsylvania Railroad held 204,000 shares directly. Yesterday's statement said that increases in the Pennroad's New Haven holdings had been made since March 27. The Katy holdings acquired since that date comprise preferred A stock and the B. & O. holdings comprise 4½ per cent convertible bonds. Holdings in other roads acquired since then consist of common stock. Pennroad had 409,119 shares, or 15 per cent, of Seaboard Air Line stock on Jan. 27, and yesterday's statement said these had been increased.

The corporation has 145,000 holders of its voting trust certificates. Its fiscal year ends on Dec. 31 and a report for the calendar year will be made after that date.

ELECTRIC TRAIN EXHIBITED.

New Suburban Service of the Lackawanna Demonstrated.

An electric train of eight multiple-unit cars was run over a three-mile stretch of track between the Hackensack River and Harrison, N. J., on the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad yesterday as a demonstration to newspaper men.

Enginemen will begin learning the operation of the new equipment on a three-mile track between Bergen Junction and Secaucus today. They will be recruited from the staff now operating the steam equipment. It is planned to begin actual operation of trains on the Montclair branch in September. Electric trains will replace steam equipment gradually on this and other sections of line until full electric operation is reached by Jan. 1.

$1,674,222 Paid for Gas Stock.

The Hamilton Gas Company yesterday received payment for its entire holdings of $1,352,300 par value of West Virginia Gas Corporation 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock, receiving $1,674,222 in cash. The West Virginia company was acquired by Hamilton Gas in May. The purchaser of the preferred stock is the Appalachian Gas Corporation, which owns over 95 per cent of the outstanding common stock of the West Virginia company.

CITES RAILROADS ON EXPLOSIVES RATE

SEEKS COST OF SHIPMENTS

Roads Have Failed to Publish Tariffs as Required by the Commission, Complaint Charges.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—All American railroads except the New York Central were named today as defendants in a complaint by the government, filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission. The complaint, filed through the Coordinator for Traffic of the government, stated that all railroads except the New York Central had failed to publish tariff rates and rate exceptions or freight classifications on shipments of explosives as required by the commission.

Even in the case of the New York Central, the complaint stated, tariff rates were published which were in conflict with official ratings prescribed by law.

The complaint stated that because of the failure of the defendants to publish rates and classifications or exceptions thereto, the government had been unable to determine in advance of shipments what they would cost.

It was stated that the government had been forced to engage in "prolonged negotiations and controversies" with the carriers in order to determine what was a just and reasonable rate on ammunition.

"Great confusion, inconvenience, expenditure and loss of time, the government said, had resulted to it and to the carriers because of their failure to comply with the rule of the commission, and all controversy would be avoided, it was asserted, if the defendants would observe such ruling.

The shipments for which the government wants rates made are explosives used in ammunition for artillery, bombs, grenades and mines.

Implicit Confidence

ONE of America's foremost industrial corporations recently raised thirty-five millions of additional capital. Fifteen millions were put away, as not immediately required, and of these, ten came to us for investment. Only implicit confidence in the investment experience of this Corporation could have brought two-thirds of this reserve to us; only our thorough knowledge could have invested it in the way this confidence demanded. The reserve, placed promptly in U. S. Government and other suitable securities, is now mobile and hard-at-work ready to take instant advantage of any opportunities in the investment field or in the company's business.

YOU won't want to work at 50

Of course you won't. But what are you doing about it? Investing? You have to if you ever want to be free. But do you realize that one of the safest and most profitable kinds of investments is New York real estate? Manhattan will never be any larger and yet every year more and more people come to work here; they have to live somewhere. Real estate values have to go up.

And under the FRENCH PLAN you become an owner and obtain your fair share of profits from income-producing buildings. Over 30,000 people have invested in the FRENCH PLAN. Get all the details—mail the coupon now.

FRENCH STOCKS DECLINE

Volume of Business, However, Is Small—Dull and Lower on German Boerse.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, July 21.—With easier Wall Street advices, renewed French gold demands and the commencement of a twenty-one day account, the stock market opened the week under dull conditions. Today another £250,000 of bar gold was sold to France. Further gold withdrawals were responsible for a fair amount of selling of British securities. The 3½ per cent conversion loan was lower at £78¾ and the war loan eased to £103½.

Industrial stocks and all the internationals showed an easier tendency in sympathy with American prices. Columbia Graphophone fell to £3 13-16 and His Master's Voice Gramophone to £3 5-16. Hydroelectric eased to £40¾ and International Nickel to $25 9-16. Cables and wireless kept steady. Motors lost ground, Ford reacting to £3½ and Leyland to 66s 10½d.

The outstanding features of the market were further declines registered among rubber shares, the commodity falling to a new low record of 5 3-16d a pound, though later improving to 5¼. Oils also were mostly dull. Rhodesians were all lower where many changes were registered.

Conditions remained very comfortable in Lombard Street. Loans overnight were usually at 1¾ per cent and other loans renewed at 1½ to 2 per cent. The discount market again was firm in view of the continued gold efflux. Sterling exchange on New York strengthened to $4.86½—$4.86⅝.

PARIS, July 21.—The Bourse session today was almost completely void of interest or activity. After a few orders, accumulated since Friday, had been disposed of there was practically no trading. Price levels sagged slightly during the day, contrasting with the firmness during the stagnant market at the close of last week.

Contrary to the rest of the market, rentes were steady, closing as follows: The 3 per cent, 89; 1918 4s, 100.85; 1920 amortizable 5s, 134.80; 1928 5s, 103.25; 1920 6s, 102; 1927 amortizable 6s, 105.75.

Declines on Berlin Boerse.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BERLIN, July 21.—The tendency at today's session of the Boerse was still toward weakness, but the volume of offerings was much smaller than on Friday, so that losses remained within rather narrow limits and in no case exceeded three points. Bank shares, electricals, minings and the machinery group were especially offered and eased.

Dye Trust was steady, while the potashes and Siegen-Solingen were slightly improved. The Boerse closed quiet and weak.

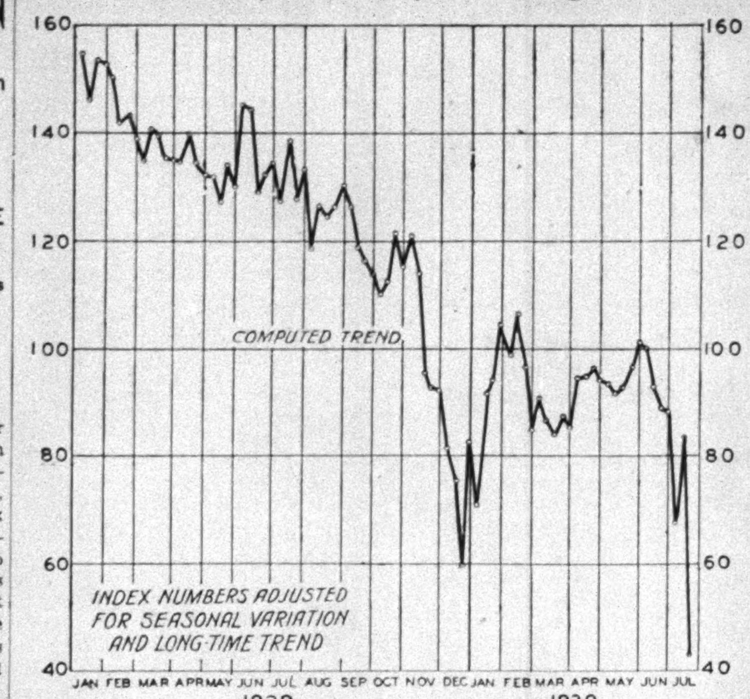
Automobile Index Touches Record Low Point; Suspension by Ford Depresses Figure to 42.9



Last week's sharp decline in automobile production, shown on the chart above by the abrupt fall of the adjusted index from 83.3 to 42.9, records the expected result of the suspension of production by the Ford Company beginning on July 11. It carries the adjusted index to the lowest point since 1926, passing by about 17 points the low of last December. Production of all makes of cars declined last week to 37,586. However, some producers increased their output. Last week showed, for instance, more than a twofold increase by Buick, nearly a doubling of production by Chrysler, some small decreases and one complete suspension. Unless there are increases in production by other makers which are not now clearly forecast, the output of the current week is not likely to increase much above that of last week, with the probability that the index will not show any very considerable rise. Any real gain in output by Chevrolet, however, would give a fairly substantial advance.

An element in the declining activity of the past two months is disclosed in the report of automotive exports for May, which shows a decrease of 8,696 passenger cars and trucks, or 24.7 per cent, from the exports of April. This is only a minor element in the total market for automobiles, but as exports of passenger cars have run on the average at or above 10 per cent of production, it is obvious that exports have been a not unimportant element in the total market. The prospects of revival in the next few weeks are not disclosed by current figures in any striking fashion.

The increased production by Buick and Chrysler, which represents new models, does not clearly indicate that the new-model stimulus will have any pronounced effect on production as a whole. The Ford schedule for the first part of August is nearly 20 per cent lower than the schedule actually in effect in early July, and this drop of about 2,000 cars a day will not be easily balanced by increases from other makers.

$6,500,000 SALE BY DURANT.

Motor Company Disposes of Interest in 3 Auto Parts Concerns.

Durant Motors, Inc., has sold its interest in the New Process Gear Company, the Adams Axle Company and the Warner Corporation, with plants at Syracuse, N. Y., and Muncie, Ind., to A. A. Henninger and associates, it was announced yesterday. It is understood the consideration was around $6,500,000.

Mr. Henninger has been in charge of the operation of these plants for several years. The business, it is stated, will be carried on under the name of the Syracuse Gear Corporation.

Plans Tire Sale in Atlantic States.

The Standard Oil Company of New Jersey has plans under consideration for the sale of automobile tires at its service stations in the Atlantic Coast States, it was reported yesterday. The Colonial Beacon Oil Company, which is controlled by Standard of New Jersey, has for some time been marketing tires at its stations in New York and New England.

Order for Automobile Bodies.

The LeBaron Division of the Briggs Manufacturing Company has received a substantial order for convertible type custom built bodies from the Packard Motor Car Company it was announced yesterday.

Stromberg Motor Devices Wins.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, July 21.—The Stromberg Motor Devices Company, a subsidiary of the Bendix Aviation Corporation, has obtained an award of damages of $261,511, together with part of the costs, in its suit against the receivers of the former Zenith Carburetor Company on a charge of patent infringement. The decision, rendered by the Circuit Court of Appeals, is practically the end of a lawsuit that has lasted sixteen years.

PRICE TREND LOWER IN DOMESTIC BONDS

But Most Changes Are Slight in Dull Trading on the Stock Exchange.

GAINS IN FOREIGN GROUP

French Government and Municipal Issues Strong—South American Loans Irregular.

Dullness permeated the listed bond market yesterday, and although transactions in a few issues were fairly large even these sales failed to lift the market out of its lethargy. The bulk of the net changes in prices were fractional, with only a comparatively few issues recording changes of a point or more. The leading domestic issues closed generally lower for the day, while foreign loans gained slightly.

Routine trading in United States Government obligations resulted in minor changes, ranging from 3-32 point higher to the same amount lower. Cheap money rates failed to whip up any enthusiasm in government issues, as trading in the outside market was as dull in comparison as on the Stock Exchange.

Strength in French Government and municipal issues continued as a feature of the foreign group. The French 7½s and 7s closed at the highs of the day with net gains of ¼ point. Activity in Yugoslav Mortgage 7s resulted in the issue closing at 85½, the high for the year recently recorded. South American issues continued irregular.

The heaviest trading in the rail issues appeared in the convertible issues, notably Baltimore & Ohio 4½s of 1960 and the 4½s of 1933, Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific 4½s of 1960 and Chicago & North Western 4¾s of 1949, resulting, however, in only slight changes. Cleveland Union Terminal 5½s sold off 1⅛ point.

In the industrial group, Vertientes Sugar 7s dropped 2 points to a new low for the year at 39, while Cuba Cane Products 6s moved up 1⅜ points. Transcontinental Oil 6½s moved up fractionally in active trading.

MUNICIPAL LOANS.

Offerings of New Bond Issues to Bankers and the Public Announced.

Essex County, N. J.

Essex County, N. J., awarded yesterday a new issue of $3,877,000 4¼ per cent bonds, maturing serially on July 15, 1931 to 1957, to a syndicate headed by the International Manhattan Company, Inc., and including Darby & Co., Stranahan, Harris & Oatis, Inc.; Stephens & Co. and Schaumberg, Rebhann & Osborne, who outbid five other groups for the issue. The bankers paid a price of 101.35, taking fewer bonds than the amount offered, which was $3,929,100, in lieu of premium.

The second highest bid was that of 101.329 for $3,878,100 of the bonds, made by a group headed by the First National Bank of New York. The third bid was 101.31 for $3,879,100, made by a group composed of the Bankers Company of New York, the National City Company and Harris, Forbes & Co.

The issue will be placed on the market today at prices to yield 3 to 4.05 per cent. The average assessed valuation of the county, which includes the city of Newark, for three years has been $1,328,110,773. The net debt is $37,268,431. The bonds are issued for various permanent improvements.

Schuylkill County, Pa.

Award of a new issue of $1,200,000 Schuylkill County (Pa.) 4¼ per cent bonds, maturing serially on July 1, 1931 to 1955, was made yesterday to a syndicate composed of Harris, Forbes & Co. and the National City Company. The bankers paid 101.22 for the issue. The bonds will be placed on the market today at prices to net 3.25 to 4 per cent.

Pottawattamie County, Iowa.

Pottawattamie County, Iowa, which includes the city of Council Bluffs, will be in the market on Aug. 18 with a new issue of $655,000 road bonds, due on May 1, 1936 to 1945, and callable in 1936. Bidders are asked to name the rate of interest at not to exceed 5 per cent.

Harrison, N. Y.

Offering of a new issue of $549,000 town of Harrison (N. Y.) 4.30 per cent bonds, due on July 15, 1931 to 1945, is announced by Geo. B. Gibbons & Co., Inc. The bonds will be offered at prices to yield 3 to 4.15 per cent.

Dubuque County, Iowa.

Dubuque County, Iowa, plans to open bids on Aug. 11 on a new issue of $465,000 road bonds, maturing serially on May 1, 1936 to 1945, and callable on May 1, 1936. The interest rate, which is to be named by the bidders, is limited to 5 per cent.

Elizabeth, N. J.

A new issue of $350,000 city of Elizabeth (N. J.) 4¼ per cent bonds, due on May 1, 1936, will be placed on the market today by J. S. Rippel & Co. The bonds will be priced to yield 4.05 per cent. The city reports for 1930 an assessed valuation of $148,119,092 and a net debt of $10,235,350.

BOND FLOTATION.

Shippers' Car Line Equipment Trust.

Offering of an issue of $630,000 Shippers' Car Line Equipment Trust 5 per cent equipment trust certificates, Series F, due $21,000 each, on Feb. 1 and Aug. 1 from Feb. 1, 1931, to Aug. 1, 1945, will be made today at prices to yield 4.25 to 5.30 per cent. The issue will be marketed by Freeman & Co. and Stroud & Co., Inc. The certificates will be secured by 412 new all-steel tank cars valued at $787,785. The borrowing company is controlled through stock ownership by the American Car and Foundry Company.

New securities totaling $6,606,000 will be placed on the market today by New York banking houses and syndicates. The amount will consist entirely of bonds.

The new issues are classified as follows:

Municipal	$5,976,000
Industrial	630,000

$2,000,000 IN GOLD SHIPPED TO CANADA

Canadian Bank of Commerce and Undisclosed Consignor Send $1,000,000 Each.

FURTHER EXPORTS LIKELY

Additional Transfers to France Also Expected Tomorrow as Franc Continues at 3.93⅝ Cents.

Gold in the amount of $2,000,000 left New York yesterday for Canada, beginning the second outward movement of the yellow metal from this market in a week. At the close of last week the Canadian dollar reached a premium of 5-32, at which figure, foreign exchange experts calculated, a slight profit could be made in shipping gold to Canada. Yesterday's transactions were arranged on the basis of last week's price and only a reaction in the exchange yesterday prevented a much heavier export. Several banks which had made plans to ship gold postponed the deals when the Canadian dollar dropped 1-64 to a premium of one-eighth. It is expected, however, that the exchange will quickly regain that slight loss and that further transfers will ensue.

First Shipment Since 1928.

Yesterday's shipment was the first movement of gold from the United States to Canada since November, 1928, when $22,000,000 was sent to the Dominion. The Canadian Bank of Commerce sent half of yesterday's consignments, while the other $1,000,000 was dispatched by a shipper not revealed, and was disclosed only by the withdrawals listed in the daily gold statement of the Federal Reserve Bank.

Following the last shipment of gold to Canada in 1928 the exchange turned sharply against that country and in the final weeks of 1928 $99,165,000 in gold was drawn here. This movement continued in the early months of 1929, when $47,250,000 in gold came here from Canada, the last shipment being made in June of that year.

Thereafter, although the Canadian dollar remained below the price at which shipments could profitably be made to New York, there were no further transfers. Local banks reported that they were unable to get the cooperation of their Canadian correspondents in obtaining the gold for export.

Drain of Funds in 1928.

The heavy shipments of the metal to this market at the close of 1928 and in the first half of 1929 were the result of the constant drain of Canadian funds to the New York market in response to the high rates being bid for money in the stock market. Not only did Canadian banks place large sums in the call market here, but there was extensive participation in our stock market by Canadian speculators and investors, necessitating heavy remittances to New York.

The prospect of a substantial flow of gold to Canada is regarded cheerfully by bankers here who believe that trade between the two countries will be benefited by a return to Canada of some of the large amounts of gold shipped here in the last two years.

The French franc continued yesterday unchanged at 3.93⅝ cents for cables, a figure believed to be barely under the gold shipping point. Tomorrow two fast ships, the Europa and the Mauretania, will sail for Europe and it is considered likely that additional gold will be sent to France on one or both of these ships. Thus far, $8,000,000 has gone to that country on the movement which started last week.

J. G. White & Co. to Split Shares.

Stockholders of J. G. White & Co., Inc., approved yesterday a five-for-one split-up of the capital stock of the company through the exchange of five shares of new $20 par value stock for each share of the present $100 par value stock. The Guaranty Trust Company has been appointed transfer agent for the new stock. The Chemical Bank and Trust Company will continue to act as registrar.

Manhattan Company Adds Stock.

Stockholders of the Manhattan Company have approved an increase in the authorized capitalization of the company to $45,000,000 from $40,000,000 of $20 par value common stock. The additional stock, it is stated, will be held for use in the acquisition of interests by the Manhattan Company or for such purposes as directors may have in the future.

FINANCIAL NOTES.

The Guaranty Trust Company will be prepared to deliver on and after Thursday ten-year 5½ per cent sinking fund gold notes of the Pure Oil Company in definitive form in exchange for temporary notes.

Edward F. Caverly is with Orvis Brothers & Co.

The Central Hanover Bank and Trust Company has been appointed registrar for 25,000 shares of common stock of the Saranac Pulp and Paper Company of Plattsburg, N. Y.

Potter & Co. have issued a circular on the American Can Company.

Irving Sumergrade has been made manager of the stock department in the Cleveland office of Hemphill, Noyes & Co.

FEAR WORLD TRUST AFTER OIL MERGER

Government Attorneys Hint That Other Combinations in Country Are Planned.

RETAIL OUTLETS INCREASED

Sheets Says Standard-Vacuum Move Would Serve Only to Pool Resources for Beneficial Effect.

The proposed merger of the Standard Oil Company of New York and the Vacuum Company, if sanctioned by the Federal courts, may result in a combination that would dominate the oil business of the world, it was intimated yesterday at the continuation of the government's suit to restrain the consolidation. The proceedings are before Special Master Fred L. Williams, who is hearing testimony in the Federal judicial chambers in the Woolworth Building.

It was suggested also by government counsel in cross-examination of Harold F. Sheets, a director of the Vacuum Oil Company, sole witness yesterday and Friday, that the merger, if permitted, would be followed by the merger of other important oil concerns in the United States. The witness was asked by Special Assistant United States Attorney General John M. Amen if he had not heard that the Standard of New Jersey and the Standard of California and the Transcontinental Oil and the Ohio Oil companies might not merge. He replied he had heard such rumors, but had no personal knowledge of the fact.

The witness also was asked if the Standard Oil Company of New York and the Vacuum Company would not be able to continue in business in the event the merger was forbidden, and he answered that they would.

Mr. Amen also brought out that the Vacuum Company had spent since 1926 about $36,000,000 in acquiring retail outlets. He was told by Mr. Sheets that the Vacuum Company now is negotiating for two "small companies to furnish more outlets for the specialized products."

At one point in the cross-examination the witness was asked whether, in the event the merger went through, the combination would try to take over the Royal Dutch-Shell group. As he was answering in the negative, various oil executives present laughed loudly. Testimony at the previous sessions was that the Shell group dominates the oil business of the world and is the largest of its kind.

Mr. Sheets denied that the proposed merger would prevent competition in the United States between the Standard Oil Company of New York and the Vacuum Company. He said it would only pool the resources of the two companies so that each could concentrate on the production and sale of its specialized products. He declared the merger would be beneficial to the companies and the consumers.

Mr. Sheets emphasized the point that mergers did not always eliminate competition. He said that in many instances a merger made competition more keen in an industry, although conceding that if the process of merger would be carried to its ultimate conclusion there would not be any competition left.

Mr. Sheets declared that the Vacuum Company, in merging with the Standard Oil Company, desired the services of an integrated company to have all the advantages that go with such a combination. He said the merger would prove of particular advantage in their foreign business.

The hearing will be resumed this morning.

CRUDE OIL PRICES STEADY.

The average price of crude petroleum in ten producing fields was unchanged last week from that of the previous week at $1.497 a barrel, as compared with an average price of $1.727 a barrel in the corresponding week of 1929, according to The Oil, Paint and Drug Reporter. Gasoline at the refineries was 7.09 cents a gallon at four principal refineries, compared with 7.18 cents a gallon in the previous week.

Service station prices at ten leading markets were 20.8 cents a gallon, compared with 19.65 the preceding week. Domestic crude Oil production from Jan. 1 to July 19 was estimated by the magazine at 517,155,000 barrels, compared with 536,465,000 barrels in the corresponding period of 1929.

ARGENTINE OIL YIELD NOW 1,645,358 TONS

NEED FOR LAWS STRESSED

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BUENOS AIRES, July 21.—The oil fields of Argentina produced 1,493,066 cubic meters (about 1,645,358 tons) of crude oil during last year, according to the report of the administration of the national oil fields. The report says the Comodoro Rivadavia oil fields produced 1,297,507,970 litres (about 1,427,258 tons) of crude oil, or a little less than the previous year. From the total production of the Comodoro Rivadavia oil fields, 807,212,954 litres resulted from State exploitation and 490,295,016 litres were obtained by private companies.

The figures for the production and importation of naphtha during the same period show the national production totaled 360,000,000 litres (about 396,000 tons), while the consumption is put at 700,000,000 litres (about 775,000 tons). The output of the State distilleries reached 234,000,000 litres and the remainder was produced by private companies. Three hundred and forty million litres (about 374,000 tons) were obtained through direct importation by private companies.

The report deals extensively with the development of the country's oil production and emphasizes the necessity for adequate legislation concerning this new source of Argentina's wealth. The report says that while the State oil fields sold 17.17 per cent of the total of the country's consumption of naphtha in 1928, the same oil fields sold about 40 per cent of the 1929 consumption.

Regarding the prospects of future production, the report says there is no reason to predict quick exhaustion, as investigations prove the fields are capable of more extensive exploitation.

The report stresses the fact that the cost of naphtha in Argentina is less than in several other large producing countries, such as Venezuela, Colombia and Peru.

Bank Merger Progresses.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, July 21.—The boards of directors of the Bank of Philadelphia and Trust Company and the Bankers Trust Company unanimously approved today the plan for consolidation of the banks worked out Saturday by special committees. Courage in Business

ALL MODERN industrial and mercantile expansion depends upon Courage. It explains progress. It determines the limits of individual success. It is the physical expression of confidence and belief.

Business moves forward only so far as it is led by men with the vision of new conditions, new ideas, new forces, new methods—and the courage to put them through

Companies lacking this leadership are left behind after every period of inflation. Courage is not governed by conditions; it controls conditions. It not only recognizes, but corrects, weak organization, backwardness, inefficiency.

Courage is inspired by knowledge. Knowledge dispels fear. Exact knowledge of one's business comes from the analysis of facts incident to sound planning, and from the frequent comparison of operating results with a well-made Budget. Weaknesses and wastes are made apparent, and knowledge of better ways, with courage, eliminates them.

PREDICTIONS OF RAIN SEND COTTON DOWN

Hopes of Some Relief From Drought and Weakness in Grain and Stocks Cause Selling.

CROP SHOWS NO ADVANCE

Observer Sees Heavy Damage in Central Sections if Adequate Moisture Is Delayed Long.

Showers to the west and northwest of the cotton belt brought predictions yesterday of thunder showers for today in Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas and caused a 35-point decline in prices on the Cotton Exchange. With the most favorable forecast for the drought sections so far this month and weakness in the grain and stock markets, professional interests supplied contracts from the opening of the market.

In the recovery of 80 points last week, the short interest had been reduced considerably, leaving the market with less buying power above the 13c level. Final quotations were off 36 to 48 points, weakness in July being a feature. Certificated stocks now aggregate 794,000 bales Final trading in July contracts is set for noon on Friday.

Private as well as official reports show moisture is needed from Alabama to the westward of the cotton belt.

The weekly summary of the Fossick Bureau says the crop has not improved since July 1 and has barely held its own. Much of the Atlantic section is promising, but the outcome depends on weather and weevil activity. The central belt will be badly hurt if adequate rains are relayed much longer, while without at least average August rains, conditions in both Oklahoma and Texas will deteriorate rapidly.

Yesterday's quotations here follow:

Liverpool cables: Spot cotton quiet at 4 points decline to 7.83d for middling. Sales 2,000 bales, American 1,000. Imports none. Futures opened quiet but steady at 1 to 4 points decline. Closed barely steady at 10 to 11 points lower. Prices: July 7.33d, October 7.04d, December 7.04d, January 7.07d, March 7.15d, May 7.21d.

Manchester: Yarns quiet; cloths in more demand.

London Wool Market.

LONDON, July 21 (AP).—Offerings at the wool auction sales today amounted to 7,208 bales, of which 5,000 were sold. It was a fairly good selection, and competition was keen for the finer sorts of greasy merinos and crossbreds. Home and Continental dealers were the chief buyers. Current rates were maintained. Americans purchased a few lots The sales will close on July 23.

COPPER CUT TO 11c POUND.

Export Price Is Unchanged—Zinc Quotations Advance.

Most of the principal copper producing companies yesterday reduced the price of copper to 11 cents a pound. A few companies, it is understood, are still quoting 11¼ cents to new customers, but are selling at 11 cents to regular buyers. These prices, it is said, are generally quoted for delivery up to September.

Export copper remains unchanged at 11.55 cents c. i. f., Hamburg and a few other European ports. With the domestic price now ¼ cent a pound under parity with European markets, it is believed that within the next day or two the foreign price will be reduced to 11.30 cents.

Zinc prices were moderately stronger yesterday, prime Western being quoted at 4.30 to 4.35 cents a pound at East St. Louis. Ore prices are also slightly higher and something constructive is expected to be done at the zinc cartel meeting next month in Ostend, Belgium.

WHEAT PRICES FALL AS RAINS AID CROP

Moisture Is Believed to Have Checked Deterioration on Both Sides of Line.

RALLY LESSENS CORN'S DIP

Hedging Pressure Helps to Lower Price of Oats—Rye 3 to 4 Cents Off

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, July 21.—Rains over a good part of the Spring Wheat Belt on both sides of the international line brought in much more favorable crop comment today, and it was the general belief of the trade that deterioration had been effectively checked. The dry regions in the prairie provinces of Canada received as much as an inch of rain or more over the week-end. Bullish sentiment on the Chicago Board of Trade received a severe setback as the result of the moisture coming at an opportune time, and the market failed to show much rallying power, with net losses of 2⅜ to 2¾ cents.

Winnipeg was even weaker and closed 2¾ to 2⅞ cents lower. Liverpool was off ⅞ to 1⅜d, although the break there failed to disturb the relative difference between that market and Chicago, with October 15½ cents over Chicago September at the time it closed.

With drought removed from the wheat market as a price-making factor, for the time being, at least, the trade started to pay more attention to the statistical position and the heavy movement. Chicago received 1,230 cars for the day, the largest of the season, and the movement is expected to be heavy from now on.

High Quality Wheat Arrives.

Most of the arrivals were applied on previous contracts, but the quality was about the best known, only fifteen out of 1,120 cars of red and hard Winter, grading No. 3 or lower. Primary arrivals exceeded 8,000,000 bushels, and the trade is looking forward to a big increase in the visible supply in next Monday's statement, although the total has increased nearly 15,000 bushels in the last two weeks. The gain last week was 8,394,000 bushels, making the total 125,191,000, against 116,797,000 in the previous week and 108,308,000 in the week last year.

Hedging sales, which were persistent in the pit, more than offset the buying by the seaboard and by holders of bids and by shorts. Scattered liquidation was in evidence on the way down, and sentiment at the last was generally bearish, although several commission houses were inclined to favor buying on the sharp recessions. Export sales were finally estimated at 1,000,000 bushels or more, France being credited with having taken 500,000 bushels of hard Winter. The basis at the Gulf was lowered ½ cent to 4 cents over Chicago September for No. 1 hard, first half of August shipment.

Primary receipts were 8,282,000 bushels; a week ago 6,040,000 and a year ago 7,420,000. Shipments respectively were 2,078,000, 1,743,000 and 1,939,000 bushels.

Heavy Rains in Corn Belt.

Heavy rains fell over part of the Corn Belt, especially in sections of Nebraska and Kansas. A large area still needs rain, despite lower temperature. Fair support developed on a sharp break, with the finish on a rally, with net losses 1⅞ to 2⅛ cents. Oklahoma sent in bullish reports. The forecast indicated showers over Illinois and other more Eastern States. The visible supply decreased 701,000 bushels for the week to 3,643,000, against 4,344,000 the previous week and 12,085,000 a year ago. Shipping demand improved as the result of the decline, with sales of 197,000 bushels.

An official report said the heat and dry weather in Iowa had reduced the prospect 50,000,000 bushels compared with the July 1 outlook.

Primary receipts were 628,000 bushels; a week ago 891,000 and a year ago 1,106,000. Shipments respectively were 378,000, 495,000 and 528,000 bushels.

Oats closed ⅞ to 1¼ cents lower with other grains and on hedging pressure, the latter making its appearance for the first time in weeks. Commission houses were fair buyers on the way down.

Rye was weak and 3 to 4 cents lower, elevator interests being free sellers. There were 40,000 bushels reported sold for export by the seaboard to Rotterdam, but the price was said to be below a Chicago parity.

Prices for the principal grains were as follows:

LIMITS SUGAR-COST STUDY.

Senate Modifies Request for Survey to Cover Refined Product.

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP).—The Senate today modified its request for a Tariff Commission investigation of costs of production of sugar to cover only the refined product.

The modification was at the request of Senator Copeland, who offered another resolution. It was adopted without discussion.

As a result the Tariff Commission will investigate costs of sugar production here and in Cuba, a subject of controversy for months during the tariff debate.

Mr. Copeland explained, off the floor, that the new tariff act provides a smaller spread between duties on raw and refined than the old Fordney-McCumber law.

COUNTER STOCKS DULL, PRICE TREND LOWER

Lack of Buying Depresses Bank Shares—Insurance Issues Off, Utilities Firm.

Activity in the over-the-counter securities market was reduced yesterday to a minimum, with prices showing a tendency to fall off slightly.

Banks slipped back in the lack of buying to the levels of the first of last week. Declines of from 1 to 12 points were shown by Guaranty, Central Hanover, Bankers, Corn Exchange, Commercial National, County, New York Trust, Continental, Chemical, Brooklyn, Chelsea, Bank of United States, Manhattan, Irving, Chatham-Phenix, Manufacturers and Chase.

Insurance issues also declined generally, with none moving counter to the trend. Utilities held up moderately well and there were a few scattered fractional gains. Industrials remained practically unchanged, while chain stores and communications were dull.

CURB PRICES RECEDE AS VOLUME LESSENS

Declines of 1 to 5 Points Are Recorded—Electric Bond Leads Drop in Utilities.

The trend of prices of securities was lower yesterday on the New York Curb Exchange, with the volume under the average of last week. Most issues were off from 1 to 5 points, with a few exceptions in both directions.

In the utilities group, Electric Bond and Share led the decline. Others that closed lower were American Gas and Electric, American Superpower, Niagara Hudson, Middle West Utilities, United Light and Power and United Gas.

Cities Service was also lower, along with Standard Oil of Indiana, Vacuum, Ohio and Houston Oils. American Cyanamid, Deere & Co., Hygrade Food and St. Regis Paper also closed lower. In the investment trust-holding company group there were declines in Goldman-Sachs, Central States Electric, National Investors' United Founders Transamerica and Pennroad.

AMERICAN VESSELS LEAD IN USING CANAL

Account for 47 Per Cent of 6,185 Transits and 49 Per Cent of Tolls of Year Ending May 31.

OTHER NATIONS SHOW DROP

Only France Sends More Ships Than Previous Year—Post War Recovery Gives Germany Third Place.

Special Correspondence, THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BALBOA HEIGHTS, July 18 (By Air Mail).—American ships numbering 2,885 carried 14,499,233 tons of cargo through the Panama Canal during the fiscal year ended May 31, 1930, and paid $13,220,662 in tolls. American ships accounted for 47 per cent of the 6,185 vessels transiting the canal, carried 48.3 per cent of the 30,030,232 tons of cargo and paid 49 per cent of the $27,076,890 collected in tolls.

Vessels of twenty-four nationalities transited the canal during the fiscal year 1930, however, 90.5 per cent of the total transits, 92.3 per cent of the net tonnage and 92.2 per cent of the tolls were made up by vessels of seven nationalities. The other nations in this group were Great Britain, Germany, Norway, Japan, Holland and Sweden.

American vessels, largely in the coastwise trade, increased 185 in number, carried 423,502 tons more cargo and paid $921,078 more tolls in 1930 than in 1929, when they made up 42.1 per cent of total transits, 46.4 per cent of tolls and carried 45.5 per cent of the total cargo.

British ships, ranking second, made up 25 per cent of the total transits, as compared to 27.8 per cent in 1929; paid 26.6 per cent of tolls, as compared to 29.6, and carried 25.2 per cent of the cargo, as compared to 27.2 in 1929. There was a decrease of 247 in the number of British ships using the canal in 1930 as compared to 1929. British ships to the number of 1,536 transited the canal in 1930, carried 7,572,969 tons of cargo and paid $7,197,979 in tolls.

Until 1919 more British ships used the canal than any other nationality, exceeding the United States by 316 vessels in 1917 and by 71 vessels in 1918. The following year American vessels took the lead by 184 vessels, which increased to 376 in 1920 but dropped to 160 in 1922. The high mark was made by American ships in 1924, with 1,682 more than Great Britain. British shipping through the canal reached its high mark in 1928 with 1,842 vessels.

German shipping has risen from zero at the end of the World War to third place in 1930. During the past five years cargo passing through the canal in German ships has increased from 830,512 tons in 1925 to 1,388,022 tons in 1930. Although 377 German ships transited the canal in 1930, compared to 371 Norwegian, the latter carried 1,808,278 tons of cargo and paid $1,410,130 tolls, compared to $1,388,022 tons of cargo and $1,236,213 tolls for the former.

Japanese ships, making 163 transits, transported 1,009,735 tons of cargo and paid $851,013 tolls; Dutch ships made 141 transits, transported 618,718 tons of cargo and paid $571,860 tolls, and Swedish vessels' transits numbered 125, transporting 832,273 tons of cargo and paying $473,278 in tolls. Only French vessels with 124 transits, transporting 576,753 tons of cargo and paying $583,153 tolls, and vessels of the United States showed increases in 1930 over 1929, all others showing slight declines.

NEW BRIDGE CLUB BARS WOMEN AS GAMBLERS

Fear for Domestic Tranquillity Keeps Lawrence Play 'Stag,' President Explains.

Special to The New York Times.

LAWRENCE, L. I., July 21.—Because the tendency of women to play bridge for high stakes might jeopardize the domestic tranquillity of the community, the Peninsula Bridge Club, Inc., of Lawrence, L. I., will have no female members, Dr. Leonard Rau, president of the club, declared today. Women, however, were admitted to the formal opening which was held tonight, and will be allowed in the club from time to time on specially designated evenings as guests, under the watchful eyes of the house committee, he explained.

The club, which has been organized by forty-six prominent residents of Rockaway Branch villages, held its housewarming in elaborately furnished clubrooms in the Lawrence Court Apartments at Central Avenue and the Jamaica Rockaway Turnpike. Hugh Perrin, a bridge expert, will act as manager. Play for money is strictly forbidden by the rules of the club. It is believed to be the first "stag" organization of its kind on Long Island.

Dr. Rau explained that the members held no animus against the women of the neighborhood.

"We merely feel that if they were accepted they would have a tendency to gamble for high stakes in the afternoon and evening and that the husbands would object," he said.

"We therefore have founded a club with only male members, and any play for money will be strictly forbidden. In this way we run no risk of disturbing the domestic tranquillity of our households. Special evenings will be set aside to receive the wives and sweethearts of the members as guests. Such evenings, however, will be under the supervision of the house committee."

Other officers of the club are: Edward Wolff, Woodmere, vice president; Charles A. Jacobson Jr., Lawrence, secretary; John Rau, Lawrence, treasurer. Mr. Rau, son of the president, was a member of the Columbia University Club bridge team, which reached the semi-final round in the recent tournament held at Asbury Park.

RADIOES FROM AUSTRALIA.

Amateur With 2½-Watt Tube Sends Messages to Brooklyn.

After several unsuccessful attempts, an amateur radio operator in Canterbury, Australia, has succeeded in sending wireless messages direct to Brooklyn, using a radio tube giving hardly two and a half watts power, according to Eric Palmer of 305 Avenue C, Brooklyn, recipient of the messages.

Mr. Palmer said he received a letter yesterday from C. C. Waring of 80 Baldwin Road, Canterbury, Victoria, Australia, saying that his interchange of forty-meter messages with Palmer on June 12 was the first and only time he had established contact with the United States on such feeble power, although he "had been calling for weeks and never got across." Mr. Palmer said that wireless conditions were favorable that week and he received cards from L. J. Kermond of Victoria, and S. R. Coleston of Melbourne testifying to the strength of the signals. He also said that L. G. Windom of Columbus, Ohio, once "worked" Australia on one and a half watts, the world's record, but under the best atmospheric conditions from fifty to a hundred times that power is the least required.

"CORPSE" COMES TO LIFE.

Chinese Wakes Up in Undertaker's—Taken to Hospital, Dies.

Lum Gin's body was awaiting preparations for burial in the Cheung Sang Funeral Parlor at 22 Mulberry Street yesterday. Bert V. Eutelmy, undertaker in charge, was discussing funeral arrangements with Lum Puck Yim. Lum Puck Yim and Lum Gin had been partners in a laundry business at 470 East Houston Street. Suddenly the body of Lum Gin assumed a sitting position and the "corpse" demanded a glass of water. As soon as Lum Puck Yim and Mr. Eutelmy recovered from their astonishment they got him one.

Then Lum Gin wanted to know where he was. Told he was at the undertaker's, he grew angry. "What," he demanded, "is the rush?" Lum Puck Yim apologized. So did Mr. Eutelmy. They telephoned for an ambulance and sent him to Bellevue Hospital. Lum Puck Yim told the doctors there that Lum Gin had been ill for a year and that, if he was not dead, he certainly had appeared to be. Lum Gin really died last night. This time doctors said there was no doube about it. They sent his body to the morgue.

TRAIN ROBBED IN RUMANIA.

Bandits Shoot Guard and Wound Passengers Near Constanza.

VIENNA, July 21 (AP).—One guard was shot and many passengers reported wounded when brigands held up a train near Constanza, reports from that town today stated.

The bandits boarded the train while it was traveling slowly up a grade, cowed the first-class passengers with revolvers and took their money and jewels. After going through the coaches the bandit leaders ordered the train halted and the band escaped.

One of the guards who tried to overpower a brigand was shot down, the report said, adding that troops and detachments of police had been sent on the trail ofthe train robbers.

CANARIES DIE, SUIT WON.

ATLANTA, July 21 (AP).—T. J. Monroe installed a heating apparatus in the home of S. E. Guess, who loves birds so much that he kept eighty-eight canaries.

Something went wrong with the heating outfit, and gas fumes were generated that killed or injured all of Mr. Guess's canaries. The bird-lover brought suit, seeking damages from Monroe to compensate him both for actual loss and bereavement.

The Georgia Court of Appeals awarded $500 to him today.

POUND IS NOMINATED FOR THE WORLD COURT

Third American Supported for Nine-Year Term—Others Are Kellogg and Scott.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

GENEVA, July 21.—Roscoe Pound of Harvard has been nominated for the World Court by the national group of Siam, it was divulged here today. This makes three Americans nominated for the full nine-year term, the others being Frank B. Kellogg by Denmark and James Brown Scott by Cuba. Charles Cheney Hyde of Columbia also has been nominated by Holland to fill the short vacancy which Charles E. Hughes left.

Nominations, which must be in by Aug. 1, so far have been received from only a few national groups, not including the American. Gustavo Guerrero, former Foreign Minister of Salvador and president of the 1929 League Assembly, has the most backing of any candidate at present, having been nominated by Estonia, Rumania and Yugoslavia as well as Salvador. It is expected that the new bench, like the present one, will include two Latin-American jurists.

Aside from Señor Guerrero, the candidates who seem now to have the best chances are Miguel Cruchaga Tocornal of Chile and Francisco Urrutia of Colombia, especially if, as expected, the present judges, Antonio S. de Bustamente of Cuba and Epitacio de Silva Pessoa of Brazil, are not candidates for re-election.

It is announced that the Spanish and Swiss Governments have ratified the Root protocol for the American adhesion to the World Court and the protocol for the revised court statute, bringing ratifications of the former to eleven and of the latter to twelve. South Africa, Austria, Denmark, Britain, India, New Zealand, Norway, Poland, Portugal, Siam and Sweden have already ratified both but Belgium has ratified only the revision protocol.

FOUR DIE IN KOREAN RIOT.

Mob of 2,000 With Clubs and Spears Battles With Police.

TOKYO, July 21 (AP).—Rengo News Agency dispatches today reported four Korean peasants killed and twenty-six peasants and nine Japanese policemen wounded in rioting at Tansen, Kankyonando Province, Korea, last night.

The clash grew out of the arrest of peasants in connection with alleged violations of the forestry laws. A mob of 2,000, armed with clubs and bamboo spears, seized the town office and police station. The police called reinforcements and fired on the mob, which dispersed.

The company has added six new lines of fancy tropical worsteds, priced from $1.29 to $1.60.

LIVE STOCK IN CHICAGO.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, July 21.—Despite smaller receipts than were expected, hog prices broke 10 to 25 cents here today and the finish was at the bottom, with large packers refusing to pay above $9.10 for choice lightweights after shippers and smaller packers had filled their orders. The top was off 25 cents to $9.75, while the day's average was 25 cents lower at $8.90. Most sales were at $8.10 to $9.65, with heavyweights quoted at $8.40 to $9.15, medium weights at $9 to $9.75 and lightweights at $9.40 to $9.75. Packers bought 31,000 and shippers 8,000, with 7,000 left over. Receipts were 45,000, with 23,000 estimated for tomorrow.

A curtailed movement of cattle failed to bring any improvement in the price in the local market, and most sales were at last week's full decline. The best yearlings sold at $10.85, but there were few sales above $10 and most beef cattle brought $8 to $9.75. Receipts were 13,000.

Native lambs sold 50 cents lower, with most sales at $9.25 to $9.50, while Westerns sold at $10 and under. Sheep were steady at $2.23 to $3.75. Receipts were 15,000.

REALTY SECURITIES

Twenty-three bonds were sold yesterday on the Real Estate Securities Exchange, the largest turnover in several weeks. Prices in each case were unchanged from previous sales. A 100-share block of stock also was sold.

Boys' Wear Buyers Here Today.

The National Boys' Buyers' convention will open today at the Hotel New Yorker and continue until Friday night, when it will be closed by a banquet. Today's schedule includes an exhibit of boys' clothing, open to buyers only, from 9 A. M. to 7 P. M. on the seventh floor of the hotel. At 2 P. M. in the north ballroom, there will be addresses by A. F. Allison, secretary of the International Association of Garment Manufacturers, who will talk on standardization in garment sizes; Robert Winternitz, president of Winternitz & Bissel, who will discuss the relations between the advertising manager and the buyer, and Ben Markowitz of the Outlet Company, Providence.

Garment Trade Prices Hold.

A survey of the activities of the 300 members of the Industrial Council of Cloak, Suit and Skirt Manufacturers, Inc., just completed, reveals that there has been no weakening of prices in that group, Samuel Greenberg, acting president of the organization stated yesterday. Manufacturers are not doing the volume of business which they enjoyed a year ago, he said, but they have been proceeding so cautiously in all their commitments that there is no danger of any recession. He has advised members of the organization to continue this policy, which he thinks will be the strongest possible defense against any assault upon the price structure.

Buyers Inspect New Wall Papers.

A normal attendance of buyers was reported by wall paper manufacturers who opened their fifteenth annual display of new patterns at the Hotel Commodore yesterday. The substantial increase in washable papers and widespread adoption of "color fast" papers brought out the most comment among both jobbers and retailers who inspected the new lines. Producers expect to start booking orders today. They anticipate a normal business, it was stated, in spite of the fact that most of the lines are offered at last year's price levels. Improvements in quality, they claim, will offset the demand for lower level. Pastel shades and metal are important in the backgrounds of the new papers.

Sees Demand for Dress Coats.

Women's dress coats will enjoy their most favorable season in years this Fall, it was stated yesterday by the executive of a local firm. The radical lengthening of dresses last year made the coat styles current at that time look ridiculous, with the result that women decided to wear their old coats until such time as the dress length was stabilized and new coats adapted to this length. This has now been done and the American interpretation of the European styles is firmly established. A greater majority of women need coats this Fall than ever before, it was said. Black continues to be the predominating tone.

Delay Action on Food Storage Plan.

Meeting at the Hotel Roosevelt yesterday, the warehousing committee of the Associated Grocery Manufacturers of America, Inc., deferred final action on its central warehousing plan to be launched shortly in Philadelphia. The delay was necessary, it was explained, pending the settlement of final details in connection with the project. James F. Brownlee, of the General Food Corp., chairman of the committee, presided at the meeting. A detailed announcement of the plan, together with the date when it will be put into operation, will be made within a short time, it was stated, following the conference.

Curtains in Demand for Sales.

Buyers in search of merchandise for August sales have brought a sudden rush of business to manufacturers of popular priced curtains. The unexpected call has found most of the producers with limited stocks of goods available and difficulties over making deliveries have resulted. Purchases for future delivery continue in limited volume. Buyers, however, have indicated that they will centre their orders on nets, filet nets and marquisettes. Converters report a slight pick-up in export sales during the last two weeks.

Greeting Card Orders Up Slightly.

A slight improvement in sale of holiday greeting cards to retailers was reported in the trade here yesterday. Some of the largest of the department stores here and in the Middle West placed preliminary orders of normal size last week and inquiries from a number of smaller establishments were received yesterday. The recent purchases are for delivery in the late Fall. Art calendars are still far behind the normal sales for this season, however, and no indications of a pick-up are seen.

⁂

Seasonal Slump Hits Hardware.

The regular midsummer decline now in progress in the hardware trade has been considerably aggravated this year by the unwillingness of wholesalers or retailers to place orders for Fall merchandise. Jobbers' circulars and prices on Fall items are usually in the hands of retailers by this time, it was pointed out yesterday, but few wholesalers have even started this work yet. Virtually no orders have been placed by the jobbers and retailers are merely filling in on goods for immediate sale. The demand for building builders' hardware also continues slack.

Fine Goods Sales Hold Up.

Sales of fine goods during last week were on a par with the previous weeks of the month, being confined to small orders, some strike-offs and sizable contracts for later deliveries, the Berkshire Fine Spinning Association, Inc., reported yesterday. Interest is reported in group deliveries beginning in the early Fall, mainly for the inferior grades of rayon. Broadcloths continue to be the most unstable group of fabrics, with qualities continually changing and prices being indicative only of the product of an individual mill, rather than of any given construction. There has been some inquiry for sateens and reasonable contracts on pongees for later deliveries have been made.

Gray Goods Fairly Active.

The gray goods market opened the week with a fair amount of business being transacted and prices holding firm. Buyers are still operating on a restricted scale, but inquiry continues to be good. Standard printcloths are in fair demand with 38½-inch 60-48s quoted at 4⅞ cents and reports of slightly higher prices in some quarters appearing. In 38½-inch 64-60s, sales are holding up at 5½ cents. Orders for 39-inch 68-72s continue to be filled at 6¼ cents, and for 39-inch 80 squares at 7¾ cents on contract purchases. Sheetings remain quiet, but inquiry has improved. Some business is being done in 36-inch 5.50-yard at 4½ cents and in 40-inch 2.85-yard at 8¼ cents.

SUGAR, COFFEE, COCOA.

Sugar.

There was again a small interest in buying in the New York raw sugar market and two transactions were reported one in Cuban, ex-stores, at 3.26 and the other, also Cuban, at 1.14 f. o. b. Cuba, the latter price being equivalent to 1.25 cost and freight.

Refined sugar remained unchanged with refiners quoting 4.70 and second-hand refined practically out of the market. In the futures markets September established a new old time low when it touched 1.17. Sales were 39,700 tons.

CELANESE
TRADE MARK REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.
Gros de Londres

An Impressive Addition to the CELANESE Taffeta Group

Celanese Gros de Londres—a crisp ribbed texture of fashion importance—adds a new distinction to the special group of Celanese Taffeta weaves for fall. Its finely ribbed surface—which sets it apart in the taffeta field—is considered ideal for evening fashions. Unusual beauty of surface combines with the supple, softly draping quality sought by dress designers.

Celanese Gros de Londres has exceptional firmness—a highly significant feature in a ribbed weave designed for fitted lines. The practical qualities unique with Celanese are embodied in this smart taffeta weave: It will not shrink or stretch ... it dry-cleans perfectly, retaining its full beauty and fine hand ... it is free from all artificial loading ... and the colors are unusually fast.

THE WEATHER.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 21.—The Northeastern disturbance is centred north of New Foundland, the disturbance that was over Wisconsin Sunday night has moved rapidly eastward to Southern New England with a trough extending west-southwestward to Western Texas and pressure remains relatively low over the upper lake region.

An area of high pressure is moving east-southeastward over the Rocky Mountain region and the plain States and pressure remains relatively high off the North Pacific coast.

The weather is still abnormally warm in sections farther east and south except along the Gulf Coast. Many stations again report maximum of 100 degrees or slightly higher in Ohio, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, New York, Connecticut, the Middle Atlantic States, Arkansas and Oklahoma, the highest being 104 degrees at Baltimore, Md., which is the highest ever registered at that place in July. The following cities also broke the July high temperature record: Philadelphia, Pa., 103 degrees; Atlantic City, N. J., and Richmond and Cape Henry, Va., 102 degrees. At New York, the previous July record of 99 degrees was equaled.

The indications are for local thunder showers within the next twenty-four hours in the Ohio Valley, Tennessee, the lower lake region and the Middle Atlantic and North Atlantic States and scattered thunder showers are probable during Wednesday in the northern portion of the South Atlantic States.

There will be a break in the heat wave Tuesday as far east as the Appalachian Mountains and by or during Tuesday night in the Middle Atlantic and North Atlantic States and moderate temperature will likely prevail Wednesday from the Ohio Valley and lower lake region eastward to the Atlantic Coast.

COUNTRY-WIDE WEATHER CONDITIONS.

In the following record of observations at United States Weather Bureau Stations yesterday the temperatures given are the highest during the twelve hours from 8 A. M. to 8 P. M. and the lowest during the preceding twelve hours, from 8 P. M. to 8 A. M.; the barometer reading and condition of weather are those recorded at 8 P. M. and the rainfall is for the twenty-four hours ended at 8 P. M.

LATEST DEALINGS IN REALTY

REVIEW OF THE DAY IN THE REALTY FIELD

Operator Buys Six Houses on 25th Street Plot in Old Chelsea Section.

FIFTH AV. APARTMENT SOLD

East 48th Street Site Adjoining the Hotel Lexington Is Leased for a New Building.

Hot weather conditions evidently had a quieting effect upon realty activity in the metropolitan area yesterday and the week opened with very light trading.

The Chelsea region provided an interesting transaction in the sale of the property at 245-259 West Twenty-fifth Street, between Seventh and Eighth Avenues. The plot contains six old houses and two vacant plots adjoining on the east, the property of the West Side Lumber Company. The frontage is 151 feet by 98.9 feet in depth.

The plot was purchased by the 1-2-3 Realty Corporation, Horace Kiple, president, from the Erdna Holding Corporation. It is said that Mr. Kiple will eventually improve the property unless a resale is made. The broker in the transaction was the firm of Malcolm E. Smith. The big Mandel apartment house operation is just to the west in the block bounded by Ninth and Tenth Avenues, Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Streets.

Mrs. Winchester Fitch, wife of Winchester Fitch, retired lawyer, has purchased an apartment of thirteen rooms and five baths on the third floor of 1,040 Fifth Avenue, a 100 per cent cooperative apartment building being erected by Anthony A. Paterno. Douglas L. Elliman & Co. acted as brokers. This is the second cooperative apartment bought by Mrs. Fitch, the other being a suite of twelve rooms and five baths in 1,040 Park Avenues, northwest corner of Eighty-sixth Street.

A sixteen-story apartment hotel will be erected on the plot fronting 100.5 feet at 144-152 East Forty-eighth Street, between Lexington and Third Avenues, as the result of a twenty-one year lease taken on the property by the 150 East Forty-eighth Street Corporation, H. Lane Ogle, president, from the Shelton Holding Corporation, James T. Lee, president. The lease dates from June 6, 1930, the rental to be $11,366.27 for the period ending Aug. 1, 1931, with taxes, &c., and thereafter $37,000 per year, the lessee paying all expenses of operating the new structure. The new hotel is to be completed by Aug. 1 next year.

A first mortgage building loan was given by the Sheldon Corporation to the lessee for $900,000. For this amount a mortgage for $610,000 was given to the Continental Mortgage Guarantee Company which was combined with another mortgage held by the latter to make the $900,000 loan. The new building to be erected adjoins the Hotel Lexington on the Lexington Avenue corner and the new Buchanan apartment, covering the Third Avenue block front from Forty-seventh to Forty-eighth Street.

The twenty-one-year lease held by Herman Walter on the property at 1,190 Lexington Avenue, northwest corner of Eighty-first Street, fronting 17.2 feet by 45 feet, has been sold by him to David Finkle.

AID FOR THE UNEMPLOYED.

White Plains Chamber Registers Fifty-eight Seeking Work.

Special to The New York Times.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., July 21.—Within two hours after the doors of the White Plains Chamber of Commerce had been opened today as a temporary agency to aid in giving work to relieve the unemployment situation, fifty-eight applicants had filed information, but no requests for workers had been received, it was said by Wells S. Wise, secretary of the chamber.

Unless requests for workers reach the chamber during the week, it is possible that some sort of a campaign to bring the existence of the chamber's bureau to the attention of employers may have to be resorted to, Mr. Wise declared.

The classifications of workers which have been registered thus far include electricians, plasterers, carpenters, plumbers, master mechanics, chauffeurs, one poultry man, porters, clerical workers, dishwashers, house cleaners, cooks, housekeepers and children's nurses. Of the fifty-eight applicants fifty-four were men and four were women.

SEWER PROJECT APPROVED.

Work on $1,000,000 Plant at Princeton to Start Soon.

Special to The New York Times.

PRINCETON, N. J., July 21.—The State Board of Health has approved the proposed site for the $1,000,000 sewer project planned jointly by Princeton University, Princeton Borough and Princeton Township, it was announced today. Plans for the new plant, which will be located at Kingston, near here, are to be filed with the board within the new few weeks, and it is expected that construction will begin soon thereafter.

The new plant, which will serve the community of Princeton and the university, was demanded by the State board which called the present plant a menace to health, and threatened a fine of $100 a week if some immediate action were not taken.

The cost is to be met in fair proportions among the three parties, it was said today, and the assessment to residents willl be on a basis of water consumption, thus insuring a fair distribution of cost among all householders rather than among landowners alone.

MISHAP DELAYS COMMUTERS

Short Circuit on Long Island Road Halts Rush-Hour Traffic.

Thousands of Manhattan-bound commuters were delayed from five to twenty-five minutes yesterday at the height of the morning rush-hour on the Long Island Railroad when a short circuit tied up traffic on the Atlantic division east of the East New York station. A collision between a contact shoe of an inbound Babylon train and an approach board on the third rail caused the short circuit.

A defective signal in the East River tube of the Lexington Avenue subway at 9:25 A. M. caused rerouting of trains and delays of ten minutes or more to both northbound and southbound traffic.

George E. Coleman Acquires Block Front in Sixth Av.

The Coleman Holding Corporation, representing George E. Coleman, yesterday acquired from the Alkov Realty Corporation the easterly Sixth Avenue block front between Twenty-fifth and Twenty-sixth Streets, a parcel of 25,000 square feet, which, with 17,000 square feet adjoining previously acquired, gives Mr. Coleman a plot of 42,000.

The property just purchased includes fourteen houses of three to five stories at 756-72 Sixth Avenue, 53-55 West Twenty-fifth Street and 52-56 West Twenty-sixth Street. The adjoining parcel, at 39-51 West Twenty-fifth Street, is improved with two eleven-story loft structures and a four-story house.

Mr. Coleman's plans for the property are indefinite, according to Adams & Co., the brokers.

PLANS HOME ON DRIVE.

S. S. Unz to Erect Single-Family House at Riverside and 82d St.

Plans for one of the few private dwellings to be erected in Manhattan this year were filed yesterday with the Bureau of Buildings for S. S. Unz of 307 West Eightieth Street, who will build a three-story brick home, with garage, for his own occupancy at the northeast corner of Riverside Drive and Eighty-second Street.

The house will cost about $25,000, Mr. Unz said. It will cover a space 28 by 19.2 feet. Plans were drawn by the Lockwood Greene Engineers, Inc.

The only other private home plan filed in recent weeks was that for a six-story house to be erected for Herbert N. Straus, secretary-treasurer of R. H. Macy & Co., at 9 East Seventy-first Street.

BUY 7 ISLANDS OFF MAINE.

Fish Packers Get New York Company's Property Near Rockland.

Seven islands in the Atlantic Ocean about two miles out from Rockland, Me., have been sold by the Dix Island Granite Company, of New York, to the Underwood Company, makers of deviled fish products.

The islands are well known to the granite trade. Stone quarried there was used in the construction of the Postoffice Building in City Hall Park and other large buildings here. The new owners will use the property in their business. They will construct fishing piers and erect buildings for packing and shipping fish.

The deal involved the transfer of $300,000 in stock of the Underwood Company for an all-cash consideration. James R. Murphy was the broker.

BALTIMORE PIER BURNED.

P. R. R. Structure Takes Fire Again After First Blaze Was Put Out.

BALTIMORE, July 21 (AP).—A 150-foot pier of the Pennsylvania Railroad was destroyed by fire which broke out this afternoon after an earlier blaze in the structure was thought to have been extinguished. Officials could not make an immediate estimate of the damage pending a check on the merchandise destroyed by the flames.

Fire boats and land apparatus responding to two alarms kept the flames from spreading to adjoining waterfront property, including a plant of the Standard Oil Company. Several barges moored alongside the pier were cut away by firemen and towed out of range of the flames.

STRIKE IN BUTTE ENDS.

1,500 Employes Go Back to Work as Agreement Is Reached.

BUTTE, Mont., July 21 (AP).—Normal business was resumed in Butte today with 1,500 employes returning to work under terms of a secret agreement which ended a week-long general strike.

The strike started with the refusal of union teamsters to accept a wage reduction of 25 to 50 cents a day. Machinists joined them upon announcement of a proposed reduction of $1 a day.

Because of their refusal to handle goods delivered by non-union teamsters, clerks were locked out a week ago, virtually suspending all business.

Animal Painter Gets 56th St. Studio

Charles Knight, painter of murals, has leased from the E. A. Haaseman Galleries, Inc., the top floor studio in 146-48 East Fifty-sixth Street. Mr. Knight is well known for his work for the Museum of Natural History in this city and for the Field Museum in Chicago, his specialty being the depiction of the life and evolution of prehistoric animals.

REAL ESTATE NOTES.

George B. McGahan, formerly with the real estate department of the United Cigar Company, is now in the renting and sales department of Tankoos, Smith & Co.

Leon S. Altmayer, as broker, obtained a $9,000 first mortgage loan for five years at 6 per cent. on the three-story building at 265 West 121st Street.

J. J. Brooke, realty brokerage, leased offices on the fortieth floor of the Chanin Building, Lexington Avenue and Forty-second Street.

PARK AV. COOPERATIVE PLANNED BY PATERNO

Builder Gets Site at Northeast Corner of Seventy-first Street From Ellery S. James.

The northeast corner of Park Avenue and Seventy-first Street has been purchased by Michael E. Paterno from Ellery S. James for improvement with a seventeen-story and penthouse, 100 per cent cooperative apartment house, it was announced yesterday. The site, which includes two four-story and basement structures at 735 Park Avenue and 101-03 East Seventy-first Street, is 102.2 by 40 feet.

The structure is to be taken over by a group of persons who will have the apartments built to their order, it was said. The same group has bought the four-story and basement house at 109 East Seventy-first Street from Mrs. Mary L. Sanford to insure light and air protection on the east. The two intervening six-story structures at 105-07 East Seventy-first Street, on a plot 40 by 102.2 feet, have been owned and occupied since 1911 by Hiram S. Sibley and Ruth S. Gade, respectively.

The proposed cooperative will contain on the first two floors a duplex maisonette apartment with a private Park Avenue entrance. From the third to fifteenth floors, inclusive, there will be duplex apartments. A triplex penthouse apartment will occupy the space above and have a private elevator.

F. V. Calder & Co., Inc., acted as brokers, with Brown, Wheelock: Harris, Vought & Co., Inc., associated in the corner purchase.

BAIL REALTY AUCTION OFF.

Some Owners Settle for Forfeited Bonds, Others Obtain a Stay.

District Attorney Crain's order for the sale of six pieces of real estate pledged as collateral for forfeited bail bonds brought settlement of most of the claims prior to the time set for the auction of the property yesterday by Henry Brady, auctioneer for Sheriff Farley.

Three of the six owners, it was announced, had cleared up their accounts and the other three made arrangements which resulted in the postponement of the auction of their property until Aug. 21. The properties for which settlement was made included 358 West Twenty-eighth Street, reported owned by James Brown; 234 Eighth Avenue, owned by John Jones, and 108 Avenue B, listed in the name of August Vazac. The total assessed value of the six parcels was given as $250,000, against which bonds amounted to $31,650. The proposed sale was said to have been the first of its kind ever ordered by a prosecutor here.

RAILROAD SUES ASTOR.

New York Central Starts Property Condemnation Proceedings.

The filing of a lis pendens yesterday revealed that the New York Central Railroad Company has started a court action against William Vincent Astor and others to condemn the property, 103.3 by 150 feet, at the southwest corner of Washington and Thirteenth Streets.

The property, known as 846-856 Washington Street and 448-450 West Thirteenth Street and improved with lofts and a garage, is wanted by the railroad in connection with its proposed West Side improvements.

J. Aronson, attorney filed the lis pendens.

New Garage in Brooklyn Rented.

A garage just completed at East Ninety-eighth and Union Streets, Brooklyn, has been leased by the Braunkatz Corporation for eighteen years to the Epstein Brothers, operating a chain of garages in the vicinity. The structure, designed by H. J. Nurick, is in modernistic style. The plot is 200 by 100 feet. Plonsky & Weiss, Inc., were the brokers.

Part of Stern Brothers' Property Transferred in $5,000,000 Deal

Subject to mortgages of $3,850,000, the easterly portion of Stern Brothers' department store building, on Forty-second Street, was transferred yesterday to the General Realty and Utilities Corporation of 285 Madison Avenue.

The transaction is said to involve about $5,000,000.

The plot has a frontage of 130 feet on both Forty-second and Forty-third Streets, being 35-43 West Forty-second Street and 36-48 West Forty-third Street.

It was sold subject to the lease held by Stern Brothers, with a twenty-year renewal option on May 1, 1933, when the present lease expires.

This is the third transfer of the property in a few years. In 1927 it was sold to the Schulte interests by Henry Mandel and his associates of the 1 Park Avenue Corporation, who acquired it from the Hoagland Corporation.

SALES IN NEW JERSEY.

Corner in Union City Is Leased With Purchase Option.

I. G. S., Inc., Joseph Kaminsky, president, leased to E. Allen Watson the one-story brick garage with five stores, covering a plot 102 by 214 feet at the northwest corner of Park Avenue and Weehawken Street, Union City, for ten years, at a rental totaling $156,000. Under the lease the tenant has the option to purchase the property for $150,000.

The Bronxhattan Realty Company bought the four-story brick flat with stores at 450 First Street, corner of Adams Street, Hoboken, on a plot 31 by 73 feet, from the Jefferson Trust Company of Hoboken.

Mrs. Sophie Bell sold the two-story brick dwelling at 645 Harrison Place, near Sixteenth Street, West New York, to Morris R. Kurlansky.

The two-story brick taxpayer at 874 Bergenline Avenue, near Forty-fourth Street, Union City, has been sold by Paul A. Hansen of Cliffside Park to Ernest R. Hensen of North Bergen.

Frederick J. Chipman of New Milford, Conn., bought the two-story brick taxpayer on a lot 25 by 86 feet at 961 Park Avenue, corner of Forty-seventh Street, Union City, from Charles Van Schalscha of West New York.

Mrs. Cecelia Borrelli sold the two-story frame store and dwelling and nine one-car garages on a plot 50 by 94 feet at the northwest corner of Twenty-second Street and Kerrigan Avenue, Union City, to Robert Eovino of New York.

Hoboken Theatre Leased.

The Bishop Theatre on First Street, near Bloomfield Street, Hoboken, N. J., has been leased for a period of twenty-one years by Henry Botjer, theatre operator, to the Essbee Amusement Corporation. J. I. Kislak acted as broker in the deal.

RECORDED MORTGAGES.

A mortgage for $1,000,000, due July 1, 1935, at 6 per cent, was given by Sherman Square Apartments, Inc., James B. Field, president, to the Prudence Company, Inc., on the northeast corner of Amsterdam Avenue and Seventy-third Street, 97 feet 8 inches by 118 feet, the mortgagor to pay off $12,500 of the principal semi-annually, beginning Jan. 1, next.

The Jetmore Realty Company, Inc., William Bachrach, president, gave a mortgage to the New York Title and Mortgage Company for $14,000, due five years hence, at 6 per cent, on 134 West 139th Street, a five-story tenement.

The Bowery Savings Bank lent $47,000 more to F. D'Onofrio, Inc., on 55 and 57 West 125th Street, between Lenox and Fifth Avenues, this being combined with another mortgage owned by the bank to make one lien for $97,000, payable July 18, 1935, at 6 per cent.

When John H. Carpenter sold to the Hargrave Company, Inc., George Haven Abbott, president, the property at 219 East Sixty-second Street, the former took back a purchase money mortgage for $14,000, due Jan. 2, 1935, at 6 per cent, this being subordinate to a first mortgage for $12,500 and to a second for $13,500.

The Title Guarantee and Trust Company took a mortgage for $240,000, due May 1, 1936, at 6 per cent, from the 97 Arden Corporation, Jacob Bashein, president, on an irregular plot fronting 150 feet on the north side of Arden Street, about 110 feet east of Broadway, abutting the rear of the Church of Our Lady Queen of Martyrs. The sum of $2,400 is to be paid on the principal of the mortgage half yearly.

A mortgage for $20,000 given by Matilde W. B. Schoen to the Central Savings Bank on 10 East Seventy-fifth Street has been consolidated with another mortgage to make one lien of $100,000, due July 15, 1931, at 6 per cent.

The Central Savings Bank lent $82,000 additional to the Ninety-fourth Street Holding Corporation, Jack Gordon, president, this being combined with another lien held by the bank to make one mortgage for $160,000 on 312-20 East Ninety-fourth Street, 200 feet east of Second Avenue. The mortgage, payable July 18, 1935, at 6 per cent, is to be amortized $2,000 semi-annually.

On 623 West 113th Street the Title Guarantee and Trust Company lent $6,000 more to the Houston Properties Corporation, Alfred B. Jones, president, this being consolidated with another lien held by the title company to make one mortgage for $22,000, due according to the bond.

The Union Dime Savings Bank has agreed to extend to May 1, 1935, at 5½ per cent, a mortgage for $340,000 which it holds on 20-26 West Thirty-sixth Street, now owned by the G. O. F. Realty Corporation, Alexander Ginsburg, vice president, with $5,000 to be paid off half yearly. Benjamin, Alfred and George Frankenthaler, who hold a mortgage for $175,000, and the Commerce Corporation of America, holding a mortgage for $50,000 on these premises, consent to the extension.

The Orphan Asylum Society in the City of New York took another mortgage for $3,000 from Harold M. Dryer on the five-story structure at 427-29 West Thirty-sixth Street, consolidating this with another mortgage held by the society to make a joint first lien of $28,000, due May 1, 1933, at 5½ per cent.

The executors and trustees of the will of James J. Riordan obtained from the Emigrant Industrial Savings Bank an extension to July 11, 1933, at 6 per cent for the first year and 5½ per cent for the following two years, of a mortgage for $95,000 which the bank holds on the southwest corner of Hudson and Perry Streets, 83 by 96 feet. The sum of $950 is to be paid off half yearly.

A $5,000 mortgage which Mamie E. Grotheer gave to the Emigrant Industrial Savings Bank on the southwest corner of Audubon Avenue and 183d Street, 25 feet by 104 feet 11 inches, has been consolidated with another mortgage to make one first lien of $25,000, payable July 11, 1935, at 5½ per cent.

FIND SEATS FOR ALL IN SUMMER SCHOOLS

Institutions in All Boroughs Now Place Pupils Crowded Out at Opening.

TOTAL ENROLMENT 57,064

Junior High Registration Has Biggest Increase—Cost to City Is $5.85 for Each Student.

A record registration of 57,064 pupils in the city's Summer elementary, junior, and senior high schools was reported yesterday by Robert J. Hubbard, assistant director of extension activities in charge of vacation schools.

The largest enrolment increase over the 1929 Summer session was reported by the junior high schools, whose subject enrolment, placed by Mr. Hubbard at 13,980 subjects taken by 5,315 pupils, shows an increase of 85 per cent over the corresponding figure of a year ago.

The secondary school subject enrolment has increased more than 13 per cent and the number of elementary vacation school pupils has risen by a similar ratio.

The pupil registrations are:

Elementary schools	18,334
Junior high schools	5,315
Senior high schools	33,415

The pupils who could not gain admission to secondary schools at the opening of the vacation term because of insufficient budgetary appropriations all have been accommodated, it was reported.

The largest enrolment was reached by the Erasmus Hall High School in Brooklyn, where 4,319 students are taking 6,504 subjects. However, George Washington High School, with an enrolment of only 3,947 pupils, is giving them instruction in 6,629 subjects.

The teaching staff of the senior high schools, of which there are ten this Summer as compared to nine operated last vacation, was increased from the 408 provided for by the budget to 434 instructors to take care of the unexpected enrolment rise.

The high school teachers are carrying the heaviest pupil load, 40.9 pupils per instructor, on the average. In the junior high schools the average is 35.66 and in the elementary schools 33.2 pupils per period per teacher.

The registration in the ten high schools and one annex follows:

School.	Pupil Register.	Subject Register.
MANHATTAN.
George Washington	3,947	6,629
Washington Irving	3,973	6,478
Curtis Annex	805	1,427
BRONX.
Morris	3,711	5,962
Monroe	3,149	5,097
BROOKLYN.
Boys'	3,220	5,357
Erasmus	4,319	6,504
T. Jefferson	3,344	5,135
Eastern District	1,699	2,636
New Utrecht	2,885	4,318
QUEENS.
Jamaica	2,423	3,840
Total	33,475	53,392

The Summer academic activities will cost the city $333,948.50, of which $318,130.50 will be disbursed in teachers' salaries and the remainder will be spent for supplies. These figures do not include the additional expenditure necessitated by the overflow registration in the secondary schools. The instruction of each pupil will cost the city $5.85, on the average.

QUITS OFFICE IN COLOMBIA.

Cortes, Second Vice President, Out—Restrepo, First, Also to Resign.

BOGOTA, Colombia, July 21 (AP).—Felix Cortes, Second Vice President of the republic and head of the State Council, resigned today and announced that he would resume private occupations after a year in office.

An hour after Señor Cortes had announced his resignation Camilo Restrepo, First Vice President and Governor of Antioquia, handed in his resignation as Governor. It is believed he will also resign the Vice Presidency in a few days, leaving the way clear for the election by Congress of two new Vice Presidents.

DRY RAIDERS SEIZE ELEVEN.

Pick Up Two Men Who, They Say, Rolled Barrels From Auto.

Prohibition agents under Andrew McCampbell, dry administrator of this district, arrested eleven persons in seven raids yesterday. The largest seizure of alleged liquor was made at 502 East 156th Street, where agents said they found 130 quarts of liquor and fifty pints of beer. At this address they arrested Peter Keegan, as the owner.

One raid was made when by chance, the agents said, they saw Frank McCarton of 67 West 106th Street, and Thomas Reilly, 300 West 106th Street, roll two barrels of beer from an automobile parked in front of a private house at 116 West Ninety-fourth Street. The agents arrested McCarton and Reilly. In the basement of the house they said they found two more barrels of beer and arrested James O'Brien.

Other arrests were as follows: Anthony Odesth, at 323 East Sixty-second Street; Charles Mills, 254 Nagel Avenue; William Deledo, at 390 East 161st Street, the Bronx; Louis Horowitz, Rose Horowitz and Michael Liebel at 83 East 113th Street and Louis Stein at 201 East Forty-fourth Street.

SHIPPERS CAUTIONED ON BILLS OF LADING

Merchants' Association Calls Attention to New Rule Against Carbon Copies.

The Merchants' Association of New York issued a statement yesterday calling to the attention of its members the fact that the Interstate Commerce Commission has warned shippers against accepting bills of lading where carbon copies have been substituted for the originals or have been so arranged or reduced in size as to make difficult the reading of terms and conditions which appear thereon.

Many shippers have made a practice of using bills of lading which fail to conform to the law, the Merchants' Association declared, and shippers in general have not been apprised of the stand now taken by the Interstate Commerce Commission whose notice is as follows:

"Our attention has been directed to the practice indulged in by many shippers of carbonizing the backs of bills of lading for the purpose of making inter-office memoranda, receipts, &c. In order to accomplish this purpose the terms and conditions of the bills of lading have been rearranged and reduced in size to such an extent as to require the use of a magnifying glass to read them.

"In other instances the 'original' bill of lading is a carbon copy. Such radical departures from the forms of bills of lading in general use are disapproved by us, and the use of such bills is not a compliance with the act. The carriers should reject all such bills of lading when tendered. Nothing should be done to interfere with the legibility of the terms and conditions of the contract of carriage or the continuity of arrangement thereof, or to vary any of the terms and conditions of the regular bills of lading."

GAS KILLS SHIP CAPTAIN.

Mate Finds Master Dead in Hold of Oil Tanker at Sewaren Pier.

Special to The New York Times.

SEWAREN, N. J., July 21.—Captain Enfredd Kronenn, 33 years old, of the oil tanker General Markham of the Shell, was asphyxiated by gas in the hold of the ship here at 12:30 A. M. today.

The tanker, owned by the Continental Oil Company of Baltimore, carried a cargo of gasoline. Some time after midnight a leak was discovered in the gas line and brought to the attention of the captain. He is said to have gone to the hold of the ship to investigate and to supervise repairs. He was overcome and fell unconscious. A second mate of the ship, M. W. Colena, 30 years old, of Marlboro, Mass., went into the hold. The captain's position was such that it was difficult to lift him out.

While seeking to save the captain, Colena was overcome. He was taken to the Perth Amboy City Hospital. After a few hours' rest he was found to be well enough to leave the institution.

STRIKE IN MONTEVIDEO.

Buses and Taxis in 24-Hour Protest Against Arrest of Anarchists.

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, July 21 (AP).—A twenty-four-hour general strike, with the city's normal facilities paralyzed except for the operation of street cars, is under way here as a protest against the imprisonment of various anarchists.

Taxicabs and buses ceased operation at midnight. News vendors decided to strike also, with the result that newspapers will not be published this morning.

The imprisoned anarchists are accused of attacking a bus and killing a guard as a consequence of a conflict between chauffeurs' unions.

ROBBERS BIND FIVE, TAKE $12,000 FURS

Four Men Raid West 26th St. Factory in Daylight and Truck Loot Away.

CROWD SEES THIEVES FLEE

Girl and Mail Man Among Those Tied and Gagged—Three Other Witnesses Menaced.

Binding and gagging a 20-year-old girl, her employer, a fellow employe, a mail carrier and an elevator operator, four armed, unmasked bandits escaped yesterday with fur coats and skins valued at $12,000 from the factory of Chaitman & Cooperman, furriers, on the fifth floor of 165 West Twenty-sixth Street. The robbery was described as one of the most daring perpetrated in some time.

The robbery occurred in broad daylight, and hundreds passing in the street below saw the robbers carry out the loot and yet did not realize that anything was wrong.

Shortly after 10 o'clock a truck pulled up in front of the building and four men, coatless and hatless, alighted. One of them carried a number of cloth bags under his arm. They ignored the elevator and walked up five flights to the floor occupied by Chaitman & Cooperman. There they found Morris Cooperman of 3,091 Darby Court, Brighton Beach, Brooklyn; Miss Ray Kohl, 20, of 1,330 Franklin Avenue, the Bronx, a fur finisher, and Carl Lieberman of 1,686 Clay Avenue, the Bronx, an operator. They were preparing to meet the Winter trade orders.

The four men entered, told the three to put up their hands and explained the purpose of their visit. "We don't want to kill anybody; just do as you're told," said the smallest and leader of the quartet. Motioning Miss Kohl and Lieberman to a corner, they ordered them to lie down. One of the men bound their hands and feet, placed gags in their mouths and kept them in position by putting adhesive plaster across their faces.

Cooperman's hands were tied and he was similarly gagged. He was then taken to the rear of the factory and instructed to point out the best of his stock. Apparently not satisfied with the quality of the furs, the robbers marched him to the front again and told him to lie down beside his employes. His feet were then tied.

Then the robbers began scooping all available raw skins into their bags, as well as fifty-four finished raccoon coats, most of which had been sold. Trimmings and linings were added to the loot.

Their task completed, the four men dragged the bags to the elevator and rang the bell. In the elevator, in addition to Frank Saldie of 220 East Twelfth Street, the operator, was a mail carrier making deliveries. The two were told to get out. The mail man complied, but Saldie failed to notice a pistol pointed at him and hesitated. Struck on the arm with the butt of a pistol held by another bandit, he obeyed. Saldie and the mail man were led into the room where the three others lay and were similarly tied and gagged.

The bandits then proceeded downstairs in the car. On the ground floor they met J. Kossoff, owner of the building; Richard Gaedicke of 517 West Forty-eighth Street and Samuel Adler, a furrier, who occupies the fourth floor of the building.

One of the bandits drew a pistol and kept the three men covered while the loot was placed on the truck. Then, telling the three to go to the fifth floor, he joined his companions and all escaped.

Later in the day Cooperman went to the Rogues Gallery in Police Headquarters but was unable to identify any of the robbers, all of whom spoke Italian, he said. All his skins and coats were secretly marked and he would be able to identify any of them, he told Detective Peter Corcoran of the West Twentieth Street station.

CONEY LITTER DRIVE TAKES NEW COURSE

Hand to Confine Efforts Mainly to Educating Masses on Care of Beach.

56 MEN TO WORK EACH DAY

Dr. Nash of Resorts' Committee Is Certain Forty Blocks of Shorefront Can Be Made "Spotless."

The mystery of what happened to the Sanitary Commission's crack anti-litter patrol at Coney Island on Sunday was cleared up yesterday, but the problem of teaching a million pleasure-seekers not to throw bottles and paper on the beach remained to perplex a dozen officials here and in Brooklyn.

Commissioner Charles S. Hand, after half a dozen conferences and a worried perusal of a report from the island, which revealed that considerably more than a million picnickers had jammed the resort again yesterday, announced that he had abandoned any hope of clearing the shorefront of broken glass and rubbish this year and would spend the remainder of the Summer trying to "educate" the populace in the proper disposal of litter.

Late in the afternoon the commissioner received his first news of the brave band from its leader, Deputy Commissioner Frank A. Heshmann. Mr. Heshmann brought back a story of failure and hardship, of unsympathetic crowds who never even noticed the efforts of crusaders. The men worked in two shifts, twenty-five in the morning and an equal number in the afternoon. They labored faithfully at the litter but it accumulated faster than it could be picked up. The glass presented another hopeless problem. All the big pieces were in the water, Mr. Heshmann said, and the hard earth beach had ground the little pieces into minute fragments.

Commissoner Hand conferred with his deputies for several hours and finally announced that a force of fifty-six men would be sent out every day for an indefinite period. He said he would ask the Board of Estimate for an appropriation with which to hire more men, but added that "2,000 men could not remedy the situation."

Meanwhile the power behind the drive, Dr. Philip I. Nash, president of the Coney Island Chamber of Commerce, announced that he had not given up hope of ultimately making the forty blocks of shorefront as spotless as a number of other beaches he said he could name.

"Our biggest obstacle," he said, "is the horde of peddlers who solicit the crowds on the beaches with pop corn, ice cream and other eatables. This is illegal and with a little cooperation from the magistrate's court they could be driven from the shorefront."

It was pointed out that while Borough President Hesterberg has added a number of conspicuous warning signs to those now on the beach, the crowds could not find receptacles for their waste even if they were inclined to dispose of it properly.

YOUTH, ON BEAR HUNT, HELD

3 White Plains Lads Run Afoul Law on Sullivan Act Charge.

Special to The New York Times.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., July 21.—Armed with revolvers, hunting knives and enough extra clothing to outfit a regiment, three White Plains lads, ranging in age from 13 to 18 years, started on an expedition to hunt bears last night, but ran afoul of the law.

Dominick Mazola, 18, of 34 Fulton Street, is being held without bail while the police check State and national document records to learn if he has a criminal record. The lad faces a heavy fine or jail sentence under the terms of the Sullivan law. the two others, whose names are withheld because of their youth, were arraigned before Judge George H. Smyth in Children's court this morning on charges of juvenile delinquency. They will be paroled, it was indicated.

GENERAL SUMMERALL VISITS CAMP SMITH

Army Chief of Staff Watches Brigade in Training—Roosevelt to Review Troops in August.

Special to The New York Times.

PEEKSKILL, N. Y., July 21.—General Charles P. Summerall, chief of staff of the United States Army, and his aide, Major Davidson, visited Camp Smith today and saw the troops of Brig. Gen. George R. Dyer's infantry brigade in training.

This brigade is composed of the Seventy-first Regiment of Manhattan, under Colonel Walter Delamater, and the 174th of Buffalo, under Colonel William R. Pooley. Major Gen. William N. Haskell, commanding general of the New York National Guard; Colonel W. R. Wright, chief of division staff; Brig. Gen. Dyer and a number of other officers of the guard escorted General Summerall through the various departments. He spent two hours in camp. The Seventy-first Regiment was taking rifle and revolver practice, and the 174th working out field problems during his visit and inspection. The troops will be reviewed by Adjt. Gen. Franklin Ward, N. Y. N. G., tomorrow.

Governor Roosevelt will pay a formal visit to inspect the camp and review troops sometime in August, it was learned today. While no definite date has been fixed, it is likely that he will call during the encampment of the Ninety-third Infantry Brigade, made up of the Fourteenth Infantry of Brooklyn, and the 165th Infantry of Manhattan. This brigade will open its encampment on Sunday, Aug. 10, and remain in the field two weeks under Brig. Gen. John J. Phelan.

To Inspect New York Artillery.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—Major Gen. Harry G. Bishop, Chief of Field Artillery, will visit Fort Ethan Allen, Madison Barracks, N. Y., and Pine Camp, N. Y., tomorrow and Wednesday in an inspection trip. He will visit Governors Island, on Friday.
